OVERALL ROUTE DETAIL 55

CONCLUSION 58

BACKGROUND

Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) is facing a significant operating deficit – largely a result of increased costs, rising inflation, lower ridership and fare revenue collected in the wake of the Covid-19 pandemic, and state operating assistance not increasing in proportion to these increased costs.

This deficit – $100 million in Fiscal Year 2026 and growing each year – would essentially bankrupt the agency by 2028 after PRT spends down the remaining funds in its reserve account.

With no new financial support, PRT proposed one of the most drastic service reductions and fare increases in its history to stabilize service and sustain reliable - albeit significantly reduced - operations for the next decade. PRT is proposing a 35% reduction in bus and rail service and a 9% fare increase.

Despite PRT's intention to maintain a system that attempts to serve and support the people and businesses of Allegheny County, these cuts would create significant hardships and reduce, limit, or cut off access to thousands of people. The cuts would substantially reduce PRT's service footprint and make public transit less desirable, usable, and accessible.

These cuts would eliminate more than 40 bus routes and the Silver Line light rail line leaving dozens of communities without any public transit options and thousands of people without the ability to get to work, school, doctor's appointments, and more.

The impact of these cuts will not be limited to riders. Even those who don't use public transit benefit from it by taking cars off the road, reducing parking demand, and improving air quality, to name a few. The converse is also true: Decreased access to public transit would increase air pollution, the demand for parking, and put more cars on the road.

Moreover, those of us who don't use transit often rely on others who do. Fewer transit options would mean that the people we count on every day: dental hygienists, baristas, janitors, teachers, and so many others would have a diminished ability to get to work, reducing our ability to count on the services they provide.

This funding issue is not unique to Pittsburgh. It is similarly being felt in communities across Pennsylvania and in cities across the country – from San Francisco to Chicago.

Meanwhile, this crisis comes at a time when PRT has made meaningful progress in planning and developing a new bus network that would serve more people and jobs without any additional extra operational costs.

The Bus Line Redesign project, planning for which began in Fall 2023, would improve access throughout Allegheny County by adding new routes, new one-seat rides to top destinations, improve reliability by shortening route length and adjusting schedules, improve access to jobs, healthcare facilities, and grocery stores, and make better use of the busways by eliminating stop restrictions.

In Draft 1.0 of the redesigned network released in fall 2024, more than 400,000 residents (a 27% improvement) and nearly 340,000 job locations (a 10% improvement) would have access to 30-minute-or-better service. These improvements, and many others, position PRT for a more accessible, equitable, and sustainable future, but only if the funding crisis is resolved.

PRT supports a long-term solution that provides dedicated, reliable, and growing state funding for public transit across Pennsylvania. The agency has done its part: Since 2007, PRT has reduced annual operating expenses by more than $50 million and increased non-fare revenue by over $15 million.

Unfortunately, no amount of local reform or efficiency can replace the scale of funding at risk today.

The service reductions and fare increases are a last resort to preserve core service.

Without a sustainable solution from Harrisburg, Allegheny County's transit future – and that of communities across Pennsylvania – is in jeopardy.

It is our hope that a statewide solution is reached that helps maintain an adequate amount of transit service across Allegheny County for many years.

Public Hearings & Comment Period for Proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions

Absent additional state funding via a new statewide transportation funding bill, Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) is facing a severe operating budget deficit in the amount of approximately $100 million for its Fiscal Year 2026 beginning on July 1, 2025 and ending on June 30, 2026 (FY 2026).

To balance its FY 2026 operating budget, as required by law, PRT is proposing a major reduction in its bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments, along with fare increases that would take effect on February 1, 2026. Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit and broader scope of PRT's proposed service reductions, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand-response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County. A summary of the proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions is provided below, and additional information is available on PRT's website at: www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

The public comment period for the purpose of PRT receiving public comment regarding this proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions began at 8 a.m. EST on Monday, March 31, 2025, and will conclude at 5 p.m EST on Wednesday, June 18, 2025. Bringing Black women together rier's Fab 40 Under 40 "Class of 2022," and her team are making preparations for the third "Ieshia Inspires" event, to be held at a yet-to-be-determined date in June.

'Ieshia Inspires' events succeeding in real unity

But no matter what date it is, one thing's for sure —Black women will leave from the event with more knowledge and more connections.

About 30 Black women showed up, invite only, to Hearn's second event, called, "An Ieshia Inspires Production Sip N' Style: Hats Off To You," Feb. 7, at Emerald City, the second-floor space inside the Black-owned The Pitt Building, Downtown Pittsburgh. That's where Black women heard from others like Robyn Greer, who's had a beauty and stylist career in Pittsburgh for some 40 years. They heard from Veniecia Robinson, who dared not to let her growing up in public housing in Northview Heights stop her from becoming a huge success. She's spent time as a Chief Financial Officer, family therapist, and a mentor to other Black women in the city.

"How do you balance being a wife, a mom, a partner, a sister, an entrepreneur at the same time while also showing up being stylish, being yourself and showing all of your personality?" was the main theme of the event, Hearn told the Courier. "How do you do all of those things and maintain the success you want to have?"

IESHIA NICOLE HEARN, JUNE SEALE

VENIECIA RS ROBINSON WAS A PANELIST DURING THE EVENT...

As the Trump Administration tries to eliminate Diversity, Equity and Inclusion from the U.S., including pressuring private companies to do the same, Black women coming together to learn from each other and inspire each other is needed, maybe more now than ever.

Hearn told the Courier she wants these events to occur at least quarterly, and has formed a Board of Directors to more formalize the organization. The members are, in addition to Hearn: Reesha Jackson, Monique Smith, Shaquala Swinton-Betts and Brandon J. Clay.

"My main goal is to create an exclusive, empowering space where fashion and networking collide," Hearn told the Courier. "I want to connect professional women and entrepreneurs through curated experiences that foster confidence, collaboration and community."

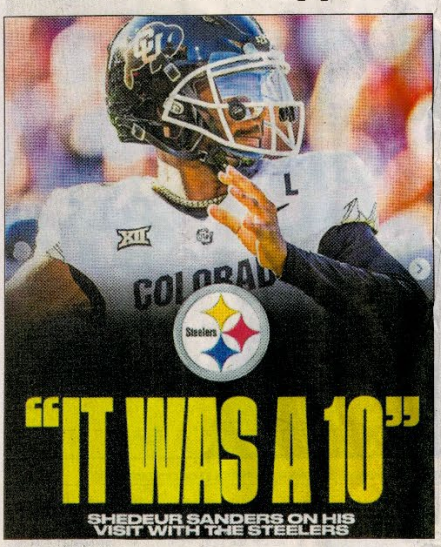
Shedeur Sanders to the Steelers? It...could...happen



Get ready, boys and girls. The 2025 NFL Draft is scheduled to begin on Thursday, April 24, 2025, and will conclude on Saturday, April 26. The Draft is supposed to be an analysis, almost a prophesy regarding the heralded success of players coming out of college football. One of the standout quarterbacks who currently performed at a high level in college is Shedeur Sanders, the son of NFL Hall-of-Fame defensive back, Deion Sanders.

Many folks, pundits and peons alike, have made the pilgrimage to the shrine of ESPN NFL guru Mel Kiper Jr., seeking guidance and clarity regarding the NFL Draft since 1984. But the picks of Kiper have been far more wrong than right. However, folks continue to honor his picks as if they are scriptures from the bible of the NFL.

According to ask.com: "When it comes to evaluating the accuracy of any mock draft analyst, it is essential to understand that predicting the outcome of an NFL Draft is an incredibly challenging task. With numerous variables such as team needs, trades, and unexpected surprises on draft day itself, no one can claim 100 percent accuracy.

"That being said, Mel Kiper Jr. has had his fair share of successes and misses throughout his career. He has correctly predicted some early-round selections accurately while also missing on others. It is important to remember that even if a player is projected to be selected in a specific spot but ends up being chosen by another team earlier or later than anticipated does not necessarily mean the analyst was wrong about their talent evaluation."

Kiper recently scored a 4.5 out of 32 teams' success rate. Make sure that the success rate of your Primary Care Physician is at least 16 out of 32 success rate. Even at that rate, your doctor has graveside manner 50 percent of the time as well as bedside manner.

On March 11, 2025, writer Andrew Hughes posted an article on sportingnews.com: "Colorado's Shedeur Sanders falling down NFL Draft boards for unrighteous reason, according to surprising source."

The following is an excerpt from that article. "Colorado's Shedeur Sanders could see a major Draft-night slide according to Urban Meyer, who shared on 'The Herd' what he heard about the 'Crown QB' ahead of the 2025 NFL Draft."

League sources allegedly told Meyer that Shedeur's Big 12 schedule in 2024, and apparently his Pac-12 schedule in 2023, wasn't strong enough competition to inspire confidence in Deion Sanders' youngest son under center.

"I called a GM friend of mine, and he's (Sanders) slipped a little bit here, and the reason he's slipping is they're looking at the competition that he played. I don't know if I necessarily agree with that because what I saw is a guy that's athletic enough to get out of trouble, a live arm, stays alive, competes his butt off, and he's always on the run because his offensive line struggled. And this year, they were a little bit better on the offensive line at Colorado but not much. But I understand throughout the NFL there's a concern about if he can make the throws in the tight windows because in the Big 12 Conference he didn't have to do that very much," Meyer said to Colin Cowherd.

INSIDE CONDITIONS

AUBREY BRUCE

"You look at his big plays, a lot of them were on the run, and that's not necessarily what they're looking for in the NFL. They want a guy that can drop back and make that tight window throw. There's some question marks if he can do that," Meyer continued.

Wha, wha, what? That's called extending the play, duh? There they go again, slicing and dicing the value of a young quarterback of color.

First and foremost, Shedeur Sanders did not make up the schedule. Second, "they want a guy that can drop back and make that tight window throw. There's some question marks if he can do that." Pardon the interruption. Get the tractor ready because it's starting to become a little smelly out here in the pasture.

More than likely, Shedeur Sanders had a football, put in his hands shortly after he entered this world. His father, Deion, was brilliant because he tutored his sons Shilo and Shedeur about the intricacies of football, one on the offensive side of the ball and the other on the defensive side of the ball. They say many negative things about Shedeur Sanders, but the one thing that they dare not say is that Shedeur Sanders lacks football intellect.

In the past, there have been additional family-centered NFL careers as well. Bob and Brian Griese; Archie, Peyton and Eli Manning; Emery and Kent Nix; Phil, Chris and Matt Simms; David and Charlie Whitehurst; and Oliver and Andrew Luck. All of these family-connected careers have been celebrated with zeal by the National Football League. Let's take a glance in our rearview mirrors at 10 of the less-than-stellar careers of over-hyped quarterbacks drafted in the first round. 10. Christian Ponder, 9. Paxton Lynch, 8. Brandon Weeden, 7. Josh Rosen, 6. Jake Locker, 5. Dwayne Haskins, 4. Mitch Trubisky, 3. Tim Tebow, 2. Johnny Manziel, 1. JaMarcus Russell. Those are just of a few QBs listed that are certified draft pick "duds" that have fleeced the NFL during the recent past of "draft-mania." The two players who failed miserably as far as I am concerned are Johnny Manziel and Tim Tebow. After the failures of Tim Tebow, the sports public tried to use his religion as a smokescreen to cover his athletic shortcomings by anointing him for sainthood. Johnny Manziel created a brand of hype-ball titled: "Johnny Football." It should have been named "Johnny fools-ball" because Manziel fooled everyone, and got paid, along with his possible 'secretary of hype, Mel Kiper Jr.

Get ready for the 2025 NFL Draft. Hopefully, the selections will be more geared toward truth and reality.

Public Hearings & Comment Period for Proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions

Absent additional state funding via a new statewide transportation funding bill, Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) is facing a severe operating budget deficit in the amount of approximately $100 million for its Fiscal Year 2026 beginning on July 1, 2025 and ending on June 30, 2026 (FY 2026).

To balance its FY 2026 operating budget, as required by law, PRT is proposing a major reduction in its bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments, along with fare increases that would take effect on February 1, 2026. Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit and broader scope of PRT's proposed service reductions, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand-response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County. A summary of the proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions is provided below, and additional information is available on PRT's website at: www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

The public comment period for the purpose of PRT receiving public comment regarding this proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions begins at 8 a.m. EST on Monday, March 31, 2025, and will conclude at 5 p.m. EST on Wednesday, June 18, 2025. Public comment will be accepted via any of the following ways:

1) Written comments submitted online at www.rideprt.org/2025-funding-crisis/make-your-voice-heard; or
2) Written comment sent by U.S. mail or hand delivery to:
   Pittsburgh Regional Transit
   Attn: Funding Crisis
   Heinz 57 Center, 345 Sixth Avenue, Third Floor, Pittsburgh PA 15222; or
3) Oral comment by calling 412.566.5525 and leaving a message on a recorded line; or
4) PRT will also hold a series of three (3) public hearings to receive oral public comment regarding these proposed fare increases and service reductions.

For the public hearings, registrants are asked to only sign up for one time slot at one meeting to allow time for others' comments to be heard. Pre-registration is strongly encouraged and recommended. Walk-in speakers will be accepted as speaking times become available in the main testimony room or the auxiliary overflow testimony room. Individuals cannot donate or delegate their time to another individual interest in speaking. Oral testimony will be limited to three minutes per speaker. All hearings will be recorded and transcribed by a court reporter and made part of PRT's official records. Registration for each public hearing will close at 5 p.m. EST on the last business day before the scheduled hearing. If any of the hearings complete all receipt of public comment prior to the scheduled hearing end time, the hearing may be terminated early in PRT's sole discretion. In the case of inclement weather or other emergency situations that requires cancellation of an in-person public hearing, PRT will contact in- person registrants to move them to an online, phone, or other alternative method of providing public comment, as applicable.

Currently, trips for riders in the PwD program are treated as ADA eligible regardless of whether their trip begins or ends within PRT's ADA service area. With this change, only trips both beginning and ending in the ADA service area – a .75 airline mile buffer around PRT's non-commuter fixed bus routes and rail stations by time of day and day of week) – will be considered protected ADA eligible trips. Gov. Shapiro in Pittsburgh for first time since arson attack by Rob Taylor Jr.

Courier Staff Writer

Lori Williams wanted to be a firefighter since she was 4 years old.

And she's currently "living out my dream and I love it," she told the New Pittsburgh Courier on April 21. "It's so much fun."

Imagine the thoughts going through her head when she learned that an alleged arsonist tried to burn down the Governor's mansion in Harrisburg in the early morning hours of April 13—with the Governor, Josh Shapiro, and his family, inside.

The alleged suspect—Cody A. Balmer, actually called 9-1-1 hours after the fire was set and basically confessed to setting the blaze. Officers arrested him shortly thereafter.

Thankfully, Gov. Shapiro, his wife and children were unharmed in the fire, as state police and firefighters rushed to their aid.

On Monday, April 21, Gov. Shapiro made his first trip to the Pittsburgh area since the fire, as he toured the Mt. Lebanon Fire Department facility and then announced he was placing in his upcoming budget proposal $30 million in grants to support the state's firefighters.

Williams, a Black woman, is currently a volunteer firefighter with the Castle Shannon Volunteer Fire Department. She's been there for two years, and before that, volunteered with the Dormont Volunteer Fire Department for three years. It's hard to find a Black woman fighting fires.

"It's difficult and being a woman, it's even more difficult," Williams said, "but always support us."

She was right there in the crowd to see Gov. Shapiro on April 21, who again expressed his gratitude for the firefighters who rushed to his home and stopped the fire from harming anyone. "He does so much to support us, and he fights so hard," Williams said of the governor, "and I truly appreciate that."

'It's A Shame' if you don't see the Spinners, May 2

SPINNERS FROM A1

When Pervis Jackson (the Spinners' bass singer and one of the group's original and founding members who died in 2008) did his famous 12:45 line, the crowd screamed and I realized I wanted that."

The Spinners got their start in Michigan in 1954 and had hit singles and albums in the 1960s and 1970s. The group was inducted into the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame as part of the 2023 class.

"The group was inducted while the last surviving member of the original group, Henry, was still alive. They received their due and that was awesome. I was grateful for that," Peck said.

The Spinners will be bringing their velvety-smooth rhythms to the O'Reilly Theater on Friday, May 2, 2025, at 7:30 p.m. as the main stage act for New Horizon Theater Inc's Annual Black Tie Special Event.

Individual ticket prices range from $70 to $100; the reception package and main level are $125; and $60-$100 for groups of 10 or more. For tickets, call 412-431-0773, email newhorizontheater@yahoo.com or visit Dorsey's Imaging on Frankstown Avenue in Homewood.

"We've never had the Spinners here in Pittsburgh. We had discussed it years ago, but it never happened. I'd been listening to their music online. I liked their choreography and they sounded good. New Horizon Theater is excited to bring them here," explained New Horizon Theater Inc., Chairperson Joyce Meggerson-Moore. "People will experience a great evening of entertainment. Their performance will be great for Pittsburgh."

Attendees will also get a taste of the high-caliber theater that New Horizon Theater provides with a scene from one of this season's plays before the concert begins. "It's our annual event and it's always an exciting time that leads to our last play of the season. We need to get people out to support us," said Meggerson-Moore.

Although New Horizon has never brought the Spinners to Pittsburgh, the group has numerous Steel City connections. The group's well-known hit, "Could It Be I'm Falling In Love," was written by Aliquippa-born twins Melvin and Mervin Steals. Braddock native Syreeta Wright co-wrote "It's A Shame." The Spinners' bumping riff "The Rubberband Man" featured Pittsburgh funkster Bob Babbitt.

"The relationship the Spinners have with Pittsburgh is quite symbolic," said Tanisha Jackson, Spinners' publicist and Donora native. "To be able to pour back into the city's community in this way is just a continuation of a longstanding relationship."

The current configuration of the Spinners, in addition to Peck, includes Marvin Taylor, Ronnie Moss and CJ Jefferson.

When Peck, who was born in New York, raised in Detroit and currently resides in Houston, isn't traveling the world performing as a member of the Spinners, he enjoys spending time with his family, customizing remote control cars, martial arts, karaoke and poetry. In addition to singing, he does voice-over work, which includes voicing commercials. In August, he will begin filming "The Jessie Peck Show," an "Arsenio Hall Show" type program that will have Peck interviewing many of entertainment's top celebrities.

But for now, he is focused on giving Pittsburghers an unforgettable night of music. "When we show up, the O'Reilly Theater is going to be turned upside down," Peck said. "Our concert is a celebration of ultimate, nostalgic music."

Public Hearings & Comment Period for Proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions

Absent additional state funding via a new statewide transportation funding bill, Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) is facing a severe operating budget deficit in the amount of approximately $100 million for its Fiscal Year 2026 beginning on July 1, 2025 and ending on June 30, 2026 (FY 2026).

To balance its FY 2026 operating budget, as required by law, PRT is proposing a major reduction in its bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments, along with fare increases that would take effect on February 1, 2026. Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit and broader scope of PRT's proposed service reductions, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. IDAHO QUADRUPLE MURDER TRIAL

Hearing could set rules for evidence, other details

By Rebecca Boone
Associated Press

Kohberger

BOISE, Idaho — Prosecutors and attorneys for a man charged in the killings of four University of Idaho students in 2022 argued some of the final ground rules they want for Bryan Kohberger's trial in a Wednesday morning hearing.

Mr. Kohberger, 30, is charged with murder in the stabbing deaths of Ethan Chapin, Xana Kernodle, Madison Mogen and Kaylee Goncalves at a rental home near campus in Moscow, Idaho.

Mr. Kohberger, then a criminal justice graduate student at Washington State University, was arrested in Pennsylvania weeks after the November 2002 killings. Investigators said they matched his DNA to genetic material recovered from a knife sheath found at the crime scene.

When asked to enter a plea to the charges, Mr. Kohberger stood silent, prompting the judge to enter a not guilty plea on his behalf.

Jury selection in the case is expected to begin July 30, with the trial starting Aug. 11. The trial is expected to take nearly three months to complete.

Attorneys on both sides of the case have filed hundreds of pages of legal motions, including whether Mr. Kohberger should face the death penalty if he is convicted, whether witnesses should be allowed to testify about things like "touch DNA," and who should be allowed in the courtroom during the trial.

The prosecution has listed Mr. Kohberger's family as potential witnesses. Typically, witnesses are excluded from trials until after they have testified so their testimony isn't influenced by other evidence they may see.

But the defense team says Mr. Kohberger's family should be able to attend because it is the humane thing to do and Mr. Kohberger relies on their support.

Prosecutor Ashley Jennings told 4th District Judge Steven Hippler that the defense shouldn't be able to dictate how the prosecution presents its case. She says putting the family members on the witness stand early in the trial would make the testimony out of context and out of order.

"This is like a gumbo," Judge Hippler replied. "You all are going to put all the pieces you need into a pot, and at the end of the day, the jury is going to decide if it's a good soup or not."

He said he would take the matter under advisement and issue a ruling later.

"I can only imagine that the family of Mr. Kohberger is devastated by these things. It's nothing that they did, and their ability to be here to see the trial is important," Judge Hippler said.

If the jury finds Mr. Kohberger guilty, the defense team plans to submit evidence about his autism spectrum diagnosis as a "mitigating factor" that he should not be sentenced to death.

The purpose is to show jurors that some of his behaviors are a product of autism, defense attorney Anne Taylor said.

For instance, Mr. Kohberger tends to be stoic and can sit very still for long periods of time, she said, and sometimes talks longer than other people might want him to talk.

Ms. Taylor asked the judge to issue an order that says Mr. Kohberger's autism-related characteristics can't be used by prosecutors as "aggravating factors," or reasons that he should get the death penalty.

The prosecution team countered that they have much better aggravating factors to present and don't plan to use Mr. Kohberger's autism spectrum condition if the case reaches the penalty phase. But they also don't want the defense to be able to chalk up anything as being related to autism.

The judge said he will issue a detailed ruling later, but for now is issuing a general ruling that the state can't use autism as an aggravating factor.

The defense team says they plan to present evidence of "alternate perpetrators," and their investigation into that is still underway.

But prosecutors want the judge to issue an order preventing defense attorneys from using a "shotgun approach" by throwing a bunch of names at the jury without offering substantiating evidence tying those people to the crime.

Defense attorney Elisa Massoth told the judge that there's a lot of evidence to support alternate perpetrators in the case.

Woman can testify Weinstein used force to rape, judge rules

By Michael R. Sisak
Associated Press

Jefferson Siegel/The New York Times via AP
Harvey Weinstein appears in State Supreme Court for a hearing in his sexual assault case on Wednesday in New York.

NEW YORK — A woman who says Harvey Weinstein trapped her in a Manhattan hotel room and raped her in 2013 can use the word "force" when she testifies at his retrial even though the disgraced movie mogul was acquitted of using physical force against her, a judge ruled Wednesday.

Judge Curtis Farber reversed his earlier decision to forbid Jessica Mann from telling jurors that Weinstein used force against her, explaining that after a review of case law he decided it would be unreasonable to put limits on how the former aspiring actor describes what she says happened.

Ms. Mann is one of three accusers whose allegations form the basis of the charges in Weinstein's trial. Nearly a year ago, New York's highest court overturned his 2020 convictions. Jury selection is set to begin next Tuesday.

Weinstein may appeal Judge Farber's ruling, his lawyer, Arthur Aidala, said Wednesday.

Jurors acquitted Weinstein of first-degree rape in Ms. Mann's case, a charge that requires proof of "forcible compulsion," but convicted him of third-degree rape, which involves a lack of consent. The conviction was overturned, but the acquittal still stands.

"It does fly in the face of common sense that the first trial was all about force and he was found not guilty of force," Mr. Aidala told reporters during a break in a pretrial hearing. "So now, why are they allowed to relitigate that?"

Weinstein has denied that he raped or sexually assaulted anyone.

Weinstein's lawyers argued that letting Ms. Mann testify that he used physical force against her at a Manhattan hotel would open the door to telling jurors about his first-degree rape acquittal.

But Judge Farber said that isn't necessarily the case. He said Weinstein's lawyers are free to challenge Ms. Mann's version of events on cross examination and he suggested that they could add a jury instruction to clear up any confusion.

The Manhattan district attorney's office has wanted to prevent jurors from hearing any mention of Weinstein's acquittals and vacated conviction.

Weinstein, 73, is being retried on a sex crime charge as well as third-degree rape. Authorities said he forcibly performed oral sex on a TV and film production assistant in 2006, and raped Ms. Mann in 2013.

Weinstein is also being tried on an additional charge based on a woman whose rape allegation was added to the case last year. That charge, filed last September, alleges he forced oral sex on her at a Manhattan hotel in 2006.

At Weinstein's 2020 trial, Ms. Mann alleged the studio boss trapped her in a New York hotel room in March 2013, angrily ordered her to undress as he loomed over her, and then raped her. She alleges Weinstein raped her again eight months later at a Beverly Hills hotel, where she worked as a hairdresser.

"I want the jury to know that he is my rapist," she told jurors in 2020.

The trial's April 15 start time was thrown into doubt Wednesday as Weinstein's lawyers and prosecutors wrangled over notes that an assistant district attorney on the case took during a 2020 interview with the accuser who was not part of the first case.

Weinstein's lawyers said they may seek to call the note-taking assistant district attorney as a witness, disqualifying her from working on the case, as they seek to undermine the accuser's credibility. The defense contends the woman's grand jury testimony last year about Weinstein using physical force on her was inconsistent with what she said in the 2020 interview.

Prosecutors said they would seek to delay the trial by 60 days if they can't reach an agreement with Weinstein's lawyers on the note dispute.

In vacating Weinstein's conviction, the state Court of Appeals ruled that the trial judge, James M. Burke, unfairly allowed testimony against him based on allegations from other women that were not part of the case. Judge Burke is no longer on the bench and such testimony won't be part of the retrial.

Judge Farber ruled Wednesday that if Weinstein were to testify at his retrial, prosecutors can ask him if he has a felony conviction in California, but not the nature of the crimes or underlying facts.

Public Hearings & Comment Period for Proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions

Absent additional state funding via a new statewide transportation funding bill, Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) is facing a severe operating budget deficit in the amount of approximately $100 million for its Fiscal Year 2026 beginning on July 1, 2025 and ending on June 30, 2026 (FY 2026).

To balance its FY 2026 operating budget, as required by law, PRT is proposing a major reduction in its bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments, along with fare increases that would take effect on February 1, 2026. Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit and broader scope of PRT's proposed service reductions, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand-response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County. A summary of the proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions is provided below, and additional information is available on PRT's website at: www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

The public comment period for the purpose of PRT receiving public comment regarding this proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions begins at 8 a.m. EST on Monday, March 31, 2025, and will conclude at 5 p.m. EST on Wednesday, June 18, 2025. Public comment will be accepted via any of the following ways:

1) Written comments submitted online at www.rideprt.org/2025-funding-crisis/make-your-voice-heard; or
2) Written comment sent by U.S. mail or hand delivery to:

Pittsburgh Regional Transit
Attn: Funding Crisis
Heinz 57 Center, 345 Sixth Avenue, Third Floor, Pittsburgh PA 15222; or

3) Oral comment by calling 412.566.5525 and leaving a message on a recorded line, or
4) PRT will also hold a series of three (3) public hearings to receive oral public comment regarding these proposed fare increases and service reductions.

For the public hearings, registrants are asked to only sign up for one time slot at one meeting to allow time for others' comments to be heard. Pre-registration is strongly encouraged and recommended. Walk-in speakers will be accepted as speaking times become available in the main testimony room or the auxiliary overflow testimony room. Individuals cannot donate or delegate their time to another individual interest in speaking. Oral testimony will be limited to three minutes per speaker. All hearings will be recorded and transcribed by a court reporter and made part of PRT's official records. Registration for each public hearing will close at 5 p.m. EST on the last business day before the scheduled hearing. If any of the hearings complete all receipt of public comment prior to the scheduled hearing end time, the hearing may be terminated early in PRT's sole discretion. In the case of inclement weather or other emergency situations that requires cancellation of an in-person public hearing, PRT will contact in-person registrants to move them to an online, phone, or other alternative method of providing public comment, as applicable.

Officials report bond sale, boast about fiscal health

PROJECTS, FROM A-1

The city issues bonds annually and typically pre-selects a bank to sell bonds at an interest rate determined during the sale process, said Jen Gula, city treasurer and director of finance.

But this year, financial advisers pushed officials to let banks compete and offer up different interest rates — a test of faith in the city's ability to repay its debt, according to city officials.

"[PNC's] investment is more than a financial transaction," Mr. Gainey said. "It's a resounding show of confidence in Pittsburgh's direction and future."

Revenue projections in late 2024 indicated the city could be headed toward a financial reckoning after assessment cuts to multiple Downtown buildings dealt major blows to the property tax base and federal COVID-19 relief funds began to lapse.

Still, two credit rating agencies assigned the city a "stable" outlook and boosted its rating within the last year, city officials said Wednesday.

Deputy Mayor Jake Pawlak cited job growth and increased construction activity over the past few years as reasons for the city's improved credit rating. In 2024, commercial construction permits issued by the city reached a record value of $1.6 billion, according to city officials. And Pittsburgh has added over 50,000 new jobs since 2020, outpacing growth in the surrounding region, officials said Wednesday.

In turn, Pittsburgh's wage tax revenue has doubled since 2010 and has now eclipsed property tax revenue as the city's leading source of income, Mr. Pawlak said.

Still, declining property values have played into that, the deputy mayor acknowledged. The county, city and Pittsburgh School District are paying the price for over half a billion dollars in assessment rollbacks over the past seven years — to the tune of more than $11 million in lost revenue.

Nonetheless, officials maintained on Wednesday that job growth and a building surge indicate the city's finances are in good shape.

"These two trends really are the things that the ratings agencies and the buyers of our bond — the investors — are looking at most closely to understand the state of the regional economy and how that will support our ability to repay the debt that we're issuing," Mr. Pawlak said.

Money from this bond issuance will fund the renovation of two fire stations, Warrington Recreation Center and Spring Hill Park, as well as bridge upgrades, street paving, landslide remediation and more, Ms. Gula said.

But concerns about the city's finances remain — even during an event in which officials were determined to emphasize the positive.

City Council members on Tuesday received a report from City Controller Rachael Heisler that showed that the Public Works Department, Emergency Medical Services and Public Safety Administration have already used much of their premium pay for 2025 in just the first four months of the year.

Mr. Gainey in his 2025 budget lowered the amount of overtime pay allocated to police officers, EMTs and public works employees — departments that have all faced recent staff shortages.

Asked about the spending Wednesday, Mr. Pawlak said the city is currently reviewing the report and believes calculations may erroneously include an additional pay period. In addition, he noted that events that traditionally drive overtime costs, such as the St. Patrick's Day Parade, fall within the first quarter of the year.

"It does appear that we spent a significant portion of our overtime budget in the first quarter," Mr. Pawlak said. "It's not unusual, between the winter and significant portion of that overtime spending happening in the Department of Public Works, whose overtime is fairly seasonal."

The city is "continuing to monitor this" and feels confident they can manage the cost of overtime through the end of the year, he added.

Moving forward, city officials said they hope to eventually issue bonds every other year rather than annually as they continue to complete planned infrastructure projects.

People line up outside the PennDOT driver's license center in Duncan Manor Plaza in McCandless on Wednesday. PennDOT is receiving between 7,000 to 9,000 applications per day for Real IDs.

With deadline looming, people seeking a Real ID face long lines

REAL ID, FROM A-1

An elementary school teacher, she used her spring break week as an opportunity to squeeze in the visit, after struggling to find child care for her children, ages 1 and 5. The center opened at 8:30 a.m., and Ms. Hohman got there an hour later.

"I did think getting there earlier would decrease my wait time," she said.

Starting May 7, all travelers age 18 and older will need a Real ID-compliant driver's license, photo ID or other federally accepted form of identification, like a valid passport, to board a domestic airline flight, enter a federal building or military base. The IDs will feature a small gold star.

The Real ID Act, passed by Congress in 2005 as a post-Sept. 11 security measure, establishes stricter requirements for state issued identification used for federal purposes. Applicants are required to provide multiple documents to prove identity, address and legal status and pay a $30 fee.

Travelers who show up at an airport security checkpoint without one may face delays, extra screening or be denied entry, according to TSA officials.

"The countdown is on," Gerado Spero, TSA's federal security director for Pennsylvania, said in a statement. "Getting your Real ID before the deadline is more than just a suggestion — it's a game-changer for your travel plans."

> "I didn't have any expectations, but I knew this was a possibility with the deadline so close. If you wait until the last minute, you might get flustered — and that'll be on you."
> Julian Craig

As of the start of April, only 26% of Pennsylvanians had obtained a Real ID, according to PennDOT, meaning about three out of four residents may still need one.

PennDOT is receiving between 7,000 to 9,000 applications per day, and spokesperson Aimee Inama said that number is expected to increase as the deadline grows closer.

"Real IDs have been available in Pennsylvania since March 2019, and the fact that volumes are increasing as we approach the deadline is not surprising," she said.

Wait times for Real ID services statewide average about an hour during regular driver's license center business hours, Ms. Inama said. Centers seeing the highest volume of traffic are in Bridgeville and King of Prussia in Montgomery County.

Many of those walking in and out of the Duncan Manor office on Wednesday carried folders of documents in one hand, and a cup of coffee or book in the other. One man sat on a chair outside, enjoying a bowl of soup as he waited for his turn.

One woman in line on Wednesday returned to her car after hearing the wait time was about 2½ hours; another stayed put, saying her first attempt to secure a Real ID was at that same location on Monday, "and the line wrapped around the strip."

In March, April and into May, PennDOT is hosting "Real ID Days," on Mondays at license centers across the state, when those offices are normally closed, to help alleviate the demand. All centers will be closed on Monday for the Easter holiday, according to PennDOT.

"I didn't have any expectations, but I knew this was a possibility with the deadline so close," said Julian Craig, 46, who got to the center at 9:30 a.m. "If you wait until the last minute, you might get flustered — and that'll be on you."

Some customers are eligible to apply for a Real ID online. Anyone who obtained their first Pennsylvania driver's license, permit or photo ID after September 2003 is encouraged to check their status on PennDOT's website, as their required documentation may already be on file.

For the public hearings, registrants are asked to only sign up for one time slot at one meeting to allow time for others' comments to be heard. Pre-registration is strongly encouraged and recommended. Walk-in speakers will be accepted as speaking times become available in the main testimony room or the auxiliary overflow testimony room. Individuals cannot donate or delegate their time to another individual interest in speaking. Oral testimony will be limited to three minutes per speaker. All hearings will be recorded and transcribed by a court reporter and made a part of PRT's official records. Registration for each public hearing will close at 4 p.m. EST on the last business day before the scheduled hearing. If any of the hearings complete all review of public comment prior to the scheduled hearing end time, the hearing may be terminated early in PRT's sole discretion. In the case of inclement weather or other emergency situations that requires cancellation of an in-person public hearing, PRT will contact in-person registrants to move them to an online, phone, or other alternative method of providing public comment, as applicable.

ACCESS PARATRANSIT FARE INCREASE PROPOSAL

BASE PARATRANSIT FARES

Trip Distance	Current General Public Fare	Proposed General Public Fare	Eligible Rider Current Fare	Eligible Rider Proposed Fare	Change in Eligible Rider Fare	Percent Change in Eligible Rider Fare
Shorter	$21.00	$26.00	$3.15	$3.90	$0.75	24%
Medium	$26.00	$30.00	$3.90	$4.50	$0.60	15%
Longer	$36.00	$40.00	$5.25	$6.00	$0.75	14%

ACCESS PARATRANSIT SERVICE CHANGE PROPOSALS

1. ACCESS Paratransit, sponsored by Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT), proposes to change the current Persons with Disabilities (PwD) Program to no longer treat trips originating or ending outside of the Americans with Disabilities (ADA) service area as ADA eligible trips. Currently, trips for riders in the PwD program are treated as ADA eligible regardless of whether their trip begins or ends within PRT's ADA service area. With this change, only trips both beginning and ending in the ADA service area – i.e. 3/4 of a mile buffer around PRT's non-commuter fixed guideways and rail stations by time of day and day of week) – will be considered protected ADA eligible trips. Trips beginning or ending outside the ADA service area may experience trip denials and trip time changes if ADA or otherwise protected trips must be served and resources are not available to serve all trips.
2. ACCESS Paratransit proposes to no longer service any trips starting past 11 p.m. concurrent with the proposed changes in PRT's fixed bus and rail route service changes.

Pope Francis • 1936–2025

Pope Francis releases a dove as a symbol of peace during a meeting with the Chaldean community at the Catholic Church of St. Simon Bar Sabbae in Tbilisi, Georgia, on Sept. 30, 2016. Earlier that day, Pope Francis set off for Georgia and Azerbaijan on what Vatican officials billed as a mission to promote peace in a troubled part of the world, three months after he visited neighboring Armenia.

Catholics expected a revolution from Pope Francis, just not the one he gave them

By Jason Horowitz
The New York Times

VATICAN CITY — When Pope Francis convened Catholic bishops at the Vatican in 2019 to discuss the ordination of married men in remote parts of South America, the meeting raised expectations about the possibility of revolutionizing the celibate priesthood.

The bishops recommended he do it, and Pope Francis himself had long said he wanted change in the church to come from the bottom up.

But Pope Francis ultimately balked, deciding that the church wasn't yet ready to lift a roughly 1,000-year-old restriction. Many of his supporters, who expected him to be a pope of radical change, felt let down.

It was a salient example of how Pope Francis, who died Monday at 88, was a pope of great, often outsized, expectations. His revolutionary and freewheeling style led Catholics across the spectrum to invest him with their most ambitious — at times unrealistic — hopes and fears, sometimes independent of what he said or did.

Some liberal Catholics, forgetting Pope Francis was the leader of a deeply conservative institution, expected him to make women priests, change teaching on birth control or throw his weight behind same sex unions and even marriage. Some conservatives, including a few who convinced themselves that the Argentine pope was a secret Communist, worried he would torch the church doctrine, even though he never touched it.

Transparency advocates appreciated the increased clarity he brought to the Vatican Bank, but wanted more financial reforms. Advocates for victims of clerical sex abuse appreciated new protection measures, but wanted universal zero tolerance measures.

"If you are a left-wing Catholic you may think the pope talked a great game but didn't deliver as much change as you would like," said John L. Allen Jr., a longtime Vatican analyst and the editor of Crux, a publication specializing in the Catholic Church. "For every one of those, there's a conservative Catholic that thinks the pope went way too far."

Now, as cardinals descend on Rome to discuss the church's challenges, they will soon choose from their ranks a successor to Pope Francis who will carry a whole new array of expectations — about whether he will breathe life into a certain region of the globe, work to reform or restore, follow through on Pope Francis' promised upheavals or roll them back.

"There's a lot of unfinished business that whoever comes next is going to have to pick up," Mr. Allen said.

But Pope Francis' supporters, detractors and Vatican analysts agree that there was also a lot that Pope Francis did do.

"He has fundamentally changed the culture of the church. Without really touching any doctrine," said the Rev. Thomas J. Reese, a prominent Vatican analyst who in 2005 was forced out by the future Benedict XVI as editor of a Catholic magazine.

Pope Francis, he said, allowed an "openness for discussion and debate that freed theologians to once again talk and write about things, because he believed that this is the way theology grows, to figure out how to preach the gospel in the 21st century without just repeating 13th century formulas that nobody understands. So these are revolutionary changes."

But there were concrete changes, too. Pope Francis cracked the door open for divorced and remarried Catholics to receive communion by giving more latitude to local priests and bishops. But instead of changing church law, he encouraged people to engage in the process of praying over the issue with their priests.

He opened up major meetings of bishops — his preferred decision-making body — to laypeople and women, and he put women in big jobs within the powerful Roman bureaucracy that governed the church.

He suppressed the Latin Mass beloved by traditionalists who wanted to restore old ways, made liturgical changes intended to make the church's prayers more accessible to people in local languages, and allowed priests to bless same-sex couples. But he also allowed African priests who revolted against the blessings to essentially ignore the rule.

The cardinals who elected Pope Francis in 2013 did so with a clear desire that he reform the Curia, and he introduced a new Vatican Constitution, streamlined its departments to avoid repetition and waste and introduced cultural changes.

"Everyone was forced to really look outside, to have a dialogue and language suited for the outside world; this was the change," said Cardinal Gianfranco Ravasi, who used to run the Vatican's culture department.

Some Vatican officials said significant resistance slowed Pope Francis, and that changes he made were more incremental than revolutionary. But Cardinal Ravasi believed the changes to the Curia were permanent, and "not just cosmetic."

Supporters of Pope Francis in the church hierarchy and veteran Vatican analysts say Pope Francis' effect on the church was more complicated, and in some ways deeper, than policy changes or specific reforms. He sought to change the way the church saw itself, incessantly haranguing his hierarchy against acting like princes above their flock.

"Change of process is more important than the change of product. It's deeper. It's more important. It's more long-lasting," Cardinal Michael Czerny, who was a close aide to Pope Francis, said of the meetings. "The topics are secondary."

But he said that the more collegial, bottom-up process would ultimately be better to take on difficult topics, and make progressive decisions with sticking power. Concerns about the process being rolled back were misplaced, he said, because a new pope could decide to do anything.

"There is nothing that we have done over 2,000 years that couldn't be rolled back," he said, but undoing such a deep change in process would be a radical, and difficult, reversal.

On the world stage, Pope Francis' changes may be equally lasting. He sought to bring the church out into the world. He appointed cardinals all around the globe, often passing over traditional centers of Catholicism for far-flung places to increase the church's global footprint.

After Benedict had inadvertently damaged relations with the Muslim world by delivering a speech that insulted Islam early in his pontificate, Pope Francis set about improving the relationship, often in lands where Catholics lived in danger.

"He has pushed the boundaries," said Archbishop Paul Gallagher, the Vatican's foreign minister.

But perhaps his most consequential change for the church will be seen in coming weeks.

Pope Francis appointed a large majority of the College of Cardinals that will now pick his successor.

Public Hearings & Comment Period for Proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions

Absent additional state funding via a new statewide transportation funding bill, Port Authority of Allegheny County d/b/a Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) is facing a severe operating budget deficit in the amount of approximately $100 million for its Fiscal Year 2026 beginning on July 1, 2025 and ending on June 30, 2026 (FY 2026).

To balance its FY 2026 operating budget, as required by law, PRT is proposing a major reduction in its bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments, along with fare increases that would take effect on February 1, 2026. Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit and broader scope of PRT's proposed service reductions, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand-response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County. A summary of the proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions is provided below, and additional information is available on PRT's website at: www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

The public comment period for the purpose of PRT receiving public comment regarding this proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions began at 8 a.m. EST on Monday, March 31, 2025, and will conclude at 5 p.m. EST on Wednesday, June 18, 2025. Public comment will be accepted via any of the following ways:

1) Written comments submitted online at www.rideprt.org/2025-funding-crisis/make-your-voice-heard; or
2) Written comment sent by U.S. mail or hand delivery to:

Pittsburgh Regional Transit
Attn: Funding Crisis
Heinz 57 Center, 345 Sixth Avenue, Third Floor, Pittsburgh PA 15222; or

3) Oral comment by calling 412.566.5525 and leaving a message on a recorded line, or
4) PRT will also hold a series of three (3) public hearings to receive oral public comment regarding these proposed fare increases and service reductions.

For the public hearings, registrants are asked to only sign up for one time slot at one meeting to allow time for others' comments to be heard. Pre-registration is strongly encouraged and recommended. Walk-in speakers will be accepted as speaking times become available in the main testimony room or the auxiliary overflow testimony room. Individuals cannot donate or delegate their time to another individual interest in speaking. Oral testimony will be limited to three minutes per speaker. All hearings will be recorded and transcribed by a court reporter and made part of PRT's official records. Registration for each public hearing will close at 5 p.m EST on the last business day before the scheduled hearing. If any of the hearings complete all receipt of public comment prior to the scheduled hearing end time, the hearing may be terminated early in PRT's sole discretion. In the case of inclement weather or other emergency situations that requires cancellation of an in-person public hearing, PRT will contact in-person registrants to move them to an online, phone, or other alternative method of providing public comment, as applicable.

PRT issued a press release announcing the hearings on March 28. PRT sent the release to regional news media, numerous community groups, employers, public officials, and other stakeholders, and posted it to the agency's website. The press release generated numerous media stories and is shown below.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE (March 20, 2025) - With state funding no longer able to meet the needs of Pennsylvania's second-largest transit agency, Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) today announced a 35% service cut that would go into effect in February 2026.

The cuts would be paired with a 25-cent fare increase to help close a projected $100 million budget deficit. ACCESS, PRT's contracted paratransit service, would see a 62% reduction in its service area and a 20% increase in fares.

The impact of these changes would be felt across our region:

40 bus routes and the Silver Line would be eliminated completely.
Service frequency on 53 bus routes and the Red Line would be reduced.
19 municipalities and three Pittsburgh neighborhoods would lose service completely.
No service after 11 p.m.
Funding to support extra service for sporting events, concerts, and the 2026 NFL Draft would not exist.
"This truly is a sad day for our region. Public transit is a lifeline for communities throughout and we are not taking this proposal lightly. We have warned that we would face service cuts and fare increases without new funding for the past year, and we remain committed to continuing to fight for the service Allegheny County deserves," said PRT CEO Katharine Kelleman. "This isn't just a Pittsburgh problem. This is an issue facing transit agencies across the Commonwealth. We are not asking Harrisburg to bail us out. We're asking state lawmakers to ensure that the taxes they receive from Allegheny County come back to Allegheny County."

If approved by PRT's Board next Friday, the agency would begin soliciting public feedback on March 31 and hold three public hearings in April, May, and June before the Board adopts next year's budget, which begins in July.

"We started this process early to make sure riders have a voice and a say on these service cuts and fare increases," Kelleman said. "Our hearts break today knowing there could be significantly less service that connects people to their world. We know these cuts are devastating and we plan to do everything in our power to prevent them from happening."

In addition to eliminating 40 bus routes and the Silver Line, PRT would be forced to reduce service by at least 30% on 33 bus routes and the Red Line and make smaller cuts to 20 additional routes.

Nineteen municipalities in Allegheny, Beaver, and Westmoreland counties — including Ambridge, Ben Avon, East McKeesport, Glenfield, and Trafford — and the Pittsburgh neighborhoods of Banksville, Ridgemont, and Swisshelm Park — would lose service altogether. The 28X-Airport Flyer would terminate in Carnegie.

PRT would also close two bus garages, the Wabash Tunnel, and 10 park-and-ride lots. The Bus Line Redesign, which PRT had hoped would increase transit access and improve efficiency, would not be implemented.

Despite efforts to preserve service for high-ridership and transit-dependent areas, cuts of this scale would inevitably harm vulnerable communities, said PRT's Chief Development Officer Amy Silbermann.

Describing the cuts as “brutal,” Silbermann acknowledged they would affect more than just transit riders.

"Less public transit means less access to jobs, schools, and businesses, and more traffic, demand for parking, and pollution caused by more cars on the road," Silbermann said.

The proposed fare increase of 25 cents would raise the base fare to $3, making it among the most expensive in the country.

PRT filled a $50 million budget gap this year using its reserve fund, but with the agency’s deficit expected to grow to $100 million in FY26 and increase every year without a new source of state funding, even the agency’s reserves are not enough.

And although Act 89 of 2013 provided a long-term funding solution for Pennsylvania transportation programs (highways, bridges and mass transit), PRT’s share has not increased in over a decade. Rising costs due to inflation, healthcare, and other operational expenses have widened the gap. Federal COVID-19 relief funding temporarily delayed the crisis, but those funds have now been exhausted.

Even Governor Shapiro’s proposal to increase the public transit share of the state sales tax, which could generate an additional $40 million for PRT, would fall short of what PRT needs to maintain current service.

"This is a crisis, not just for PRT, but for people across Allegheny County. Even if you don’t ride public transit, you likely know and rely on someone who does,” Kelleman said, encouraging all riders and stakeholders to participate in the public comment process. "We hope that our voices are heard in the state Capital and we're able to bring greater investment to public transit back home.”

Details on the proposed changes are available at www.ridePRT.org/funding-crisis.

Information regarding the hearing was posted on PRT's website at www.rideprt.org during the weeks prior to the hearing and a website banner on the homepage linked directly to information about the hearing.

PRT promoted the hearings on its social media sites, including Twitter, Facebook, and Instagram. Further, PRT worked with third-party groups to publicize the hearings on their websites and newsletters, and through email blasts. PRT developed a series of web pages on its own website detailing the potential service changes and ways to provide feedback: https://www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

PRT also created and distributed printed brochures outlining the proposed changes. PDF versions of these brochures can be found in the 'Materials Available at Public Hearing' section of this document.

More than 4,800 individuals commented on the proposals through multiple sources.

PRT's staff reviewed all public comments, summarized and evaluated the comments and produced a second public document included in the appendix.

In addition to the public process documents, all materials received after the closing date of the public process were forwarded to the appropriate departments for review and consideration in changes to service, operations and/or fare structure.

BOARD CHAIR, KATHARINE OR A DESIGNED BOARD MEMBER OR SENIOR TEAM MEMBER PRESIDING OVER HEARING –

Thank you, Laura.

Absent additional state funding, PRT is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately $100 million for its Fiscal Year 2026.

PRT is required by law to pass a balanced budget, and with so many fixed costs, we are proposing a 35% reduction in bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments, along with a 25-cent fare increase.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's-sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand-response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County.

A summary of the proposed Funding Crisis-Related FY 2026 Fare Increases and Service Reductions is provided below, and additional information is available on PRT's website at: www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

We will now begin to receive public comment. [HEARING MODERATOR TO CALL ON FIRST SPEAKER AND CONTINUE TO CALL ON SPEAKERS.]

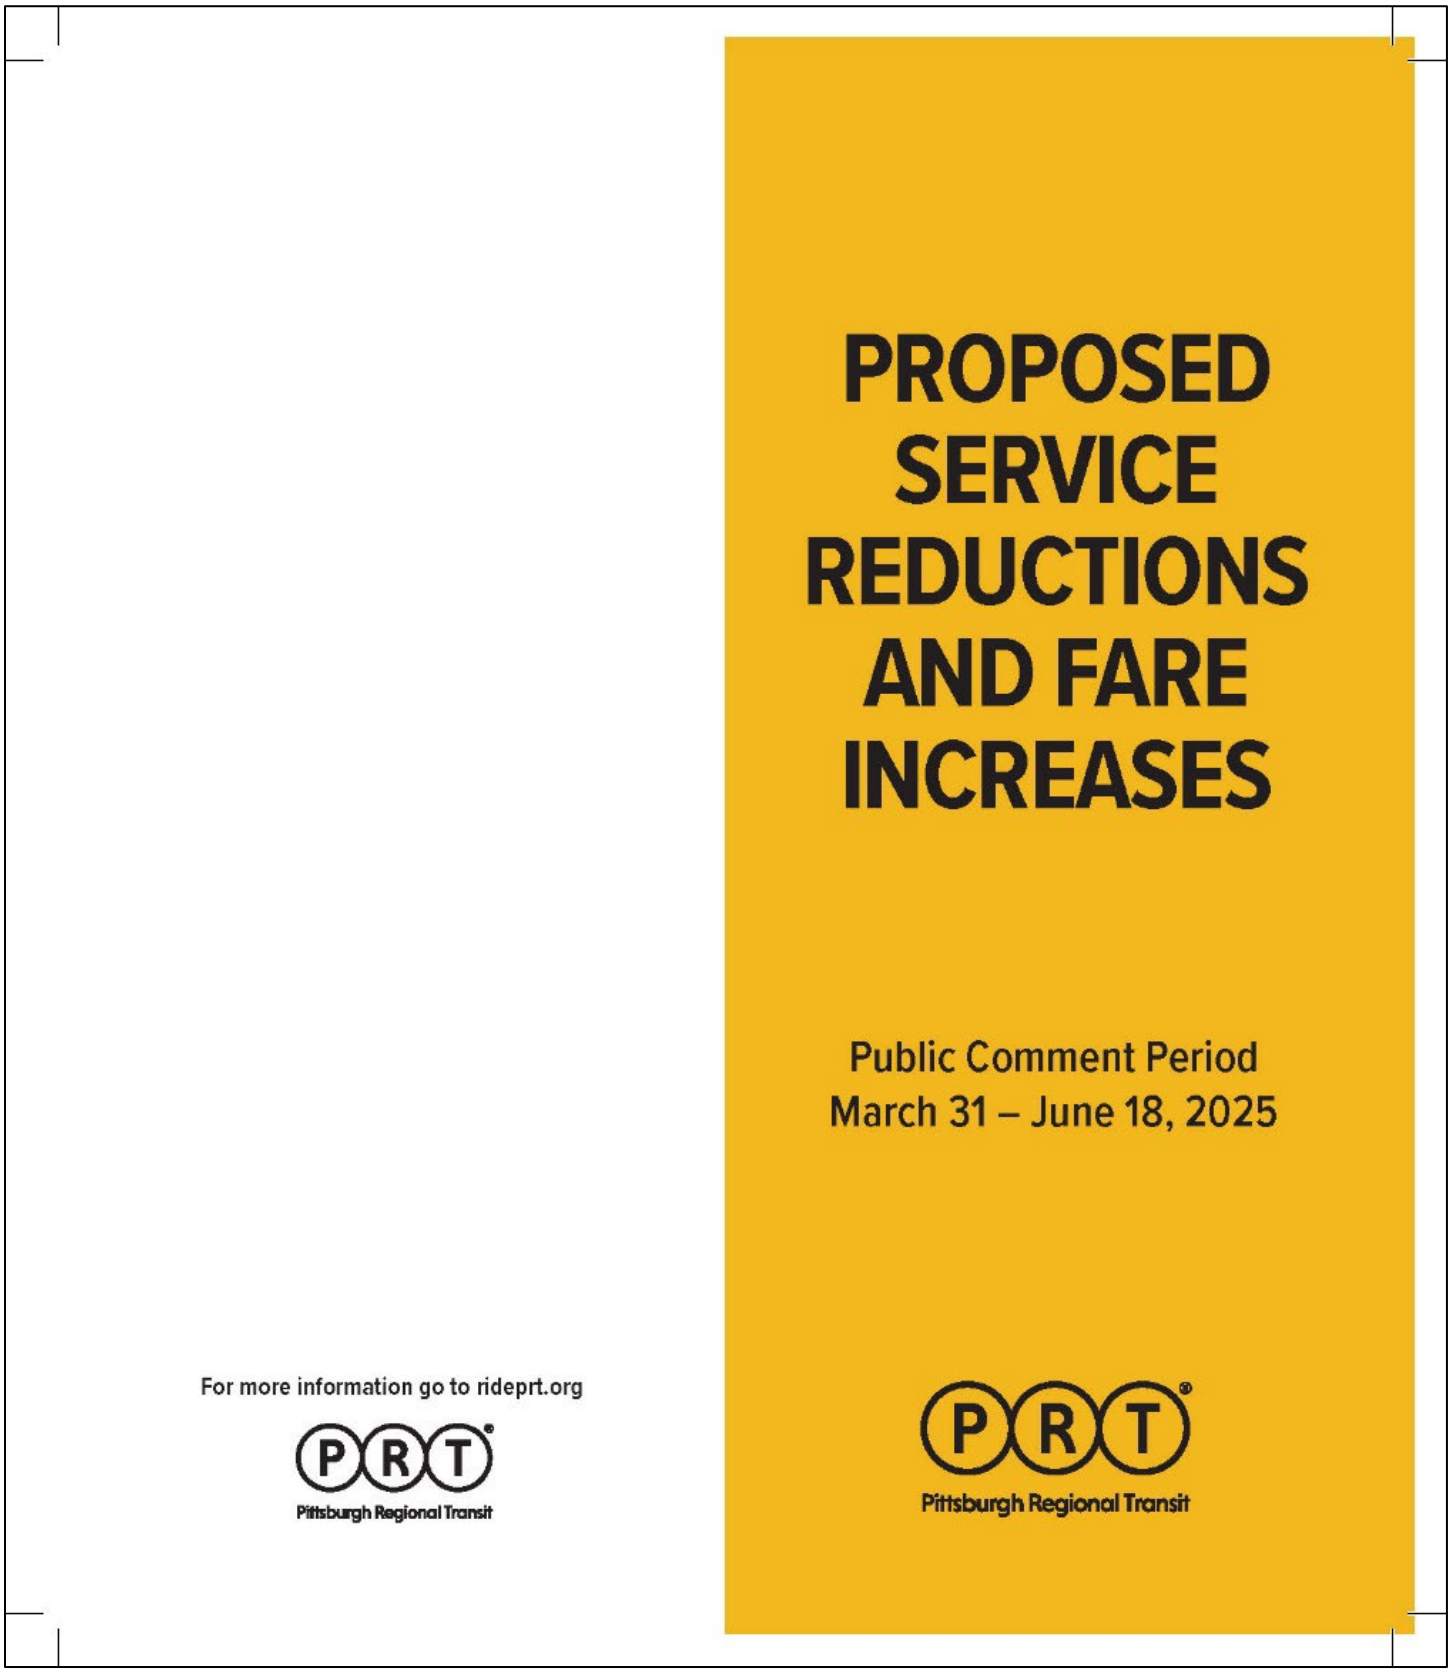
Proposed Fare and Service Changes Brochure/Board (English and Spanish)



HELP US MAKE A DIFFERENCE

State funding has not kept up with the public transportation needs of Allegheny County, causing Pittsburgh Regional Transit to have a structural budget deficit that will continue to grow year after year without additional investment. A public comment period will make sure our riders' voices are heard before our board approves our budget in June. Our hope is that the voices of thousands of riders who rely on buses, the T, and the incline will bring greater attention and investment to the critical role public transit serves in Allegheny County.

A key part of this process is to hold a public hearing and public comment period on the proposed fare and service changes. The proposed fare and service changes would be implemented with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments along with fare increases that would take effect February 1, 2026.

PRT will hold three public hearings:

Tuesday, April 29, 2025
David L. Lawrence Convention Center
Pittsburgh Ballroom, 3rd Floor
1000 Ft. Duquesne Blvd., Pittsburgh, PA 15222

REDUCCIONES DE SERVICIO Y AUMENTOS DE TARIFAS PROPUESTOS

Período de comentarios públicos
31 de marzo al
18 de junio de 2025

PRT®
Pittsburgh Regional Transit

AYÚDENOS A MARCAR LA DIFERENCIA

El financiamiento estatal no se mantuvo a la par de las necesidades de transporte público del Condado de Allegheny, por lo que Pittsburgh Regional Transit tiene un déficit presupuestario estructural que continuará creciendo año a año sin hacer inversiones adicionales. Un período de comentarios públicos garantizará que se oigan las voces de nuestros pasajeros antes de que la junta apruebe nuestro presupuesto en junio. Esperamos que las voces de miles de pasajeros, que confían en los autobuses, el T y el funicular generen más atención e inversiones al rol crítico que el transporte público juega en el Condado de Allegheny.

Una parte clave de este proceso es realizar una audiencia pública y tener un período de comentarios públicos sobre las propuestas en cuanto a tarifas y cambios en los servicios.
La tarifa y los cambios en los servicios propuestos se implementarían con los ajustes a los servicios de PRT de febrero de 2026, junto con los aumentos en las tarifas, que entrarían en vigencia el 1 de febrero de 2026.

PRT realizará tres audiencias públicas:

Martes 29 de abril de 2025
David L. Lawrence Convention Center
Pittsburgh Ballroom, 3.er piso
1000 Ft. Duquesne Blvd., Pittsburgh, PA 15222

Jueves 12 de junio de 2025

1000 Ft. Duquesne Blvd., Pittsburgh, PA 15222

Las personas que deseen ofrecer su comentario pueden registrarse previamente en línea en https://linktr.ee/PRTpublichearings o llamando al 412.566.5187 (TTY 412.231.7007) los días de semana de 9 a. m. a 3 p. m. Las intervenciones de los oradores o miembros del público estarán limitadas a tres minutos por orador.

Quienes no se hayan registrado previamente, pueden hacerlo en la audiencia y serán invitados a participar a medida que haya franjas horarias disponibles. PRT proporcionará un intérprete de lengua de señas en cada audiencia, así como copias en braille de los documentos informativos.

El período de comentarios públicos comenzará el 31 de marzo de 2025. Se aceptarán comentarios sobre las propuestas por correo a:

Pittsburgh Regional Transit
Attn: Funding Crisis
345 Sixth Ave. 3rd Floor
Pittsburgh, PA 15222

También se podrán enviar comentarios en línea, a rideprt.org/funding-crisis y por teléfono al 412.566.5525.

PROPOSED SERVICE REDUCTIONS AND FARE INCREASES

Public Comment Period
March 31 – June 18, 2025

ACCESS

YOU CAN HELP US MAKE A DIFFERENCE

State funding has not kept up with the public transportation needs of Allegheny County, causing Pittsburgh Regional Transit to have a structural budget deficit that will continue to grow year after year without additional investment. A public comment period will make sure our riders' voices are heard before our board approves our budget in June. Our hope is that the voices of thousands of riders who rely on buses, the T, ACCESS, and the incline will bring greater attention and investment to the critical role public transit serves in Allegheny County.

The public comment period will begin March 31, 2025. Comments on the proposals will be accepted by mail at:

Pittsburgh Regional Transit
Attn: Funding Crisis
345 Sixth Ave. 3rd Floor
Pittsburgh, PA 15222

Comments may also be submitted online via rideprt.org/funding-crisis and by phone at 412.566.5525. The deadline for receipt of public comments is June 18, at 5 p.m.

For more information, including directions to the hearing, call Customer Service at 412.442.2000 (TTY 412.231.7007) or visit rideprt.org

PROPOSED CHANGES TO ACCESS SERVICE

Proposed service reductions and fare increases to Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) transit service will impact ACCESS paratransit as well.

Fares will increase for riders who are covered under the 65 Plus and ADA Eligible services. The last ACCESS fare increase was in 2013. Since that time, costs have risen in every area and there are no other cost-savings measures available to maintain service at the current level. ACCESS fares are based on distance traveled and under this proposal, the increase would be highest at the minimum level in an effort to maintain the affordability of longer trips.

Additionally ACCESS Paratransit, would no longer serve trips starting past 11 p.m. to coincide with the proposed changes in PRT's fixed bus and rail route service changes.

Under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA), transit agencies are required to provide paratransit, such as ACCESS, along with regular fixed route service. PRT currently provides a much higher level of paratransit service than is required by law. Without sufficient state funding, PRT must scale back the level of service it can provide through ACCESS.

Riders covered under the ADA Eligible service would see changes to the eligibility of their trips based on their pick-up and drop-off locations.

All changes would go into effect February 2026.

PROPOSED ACCESS 65 PLUS PROGRAM CHANGES

Proposed Fare Changes: Effective February 2026

Current One-Way Fare	Proposed One-Way Fare
$3.15	$3.90
$3.90	$4.50
$5.25	$6.00
Under-65 escort: $2.50	Under-65 escort: $2.50

Customers will continue to pay fares using a personal account called an electronic purse (E-Purse). There will be no changes in the way in which fares are paid.

Days and Hours of Service: ACCESS 65 Plus service is currently provided between the hours of 6 a.m. and midnight. The new proposed service hours would be 6 a.m. to 11 p.m.

PROPOSED ACCESS/ADA-ELIGIBLE PROGRAM CHANGES

Proposed Fare Changes: Effective February 2026

Current One-Way Fare	Proposed One-Way Fare
$3.15	$3.90
$3.90	$4.50
$5.25	$6.00
Eligible personal assistant: No Charge	No Change
Companion: Same fare as eligible rider	No Change
Convenience fare: Twice base ACCESS fare	No Change

The Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) permits PRT to charge ACCESS ADA-eligible riders up to twice the base fixed-route bus fare. That would make the one-way fare $6.00 at the minimum level. The proposed fare increase is far less than the maximum the law allows.

Proposed ACCESS/ADA Service Changes: Effective February 2026

ADA law requires transit authorities to offer complementary paratransit service (ACCESS) alongside fixed route service (PRT bus and T) to eligible individuals, but only in those places and at those times when fixed route service is available. The ADA defines the service area for complementary paratransit as any location within three-fourths of a mile on each side of an operating non-commuter fixed route or rail station. Currently, ADA Eligible riders can travel to or from locations outside of the ADA service area and still receive the ADA protections that accompany trips within the service area. Under this proposal, those protections will be scaled back to the minimum required by law. This means that trips where either the pick-up or drop-off location are outside of the service area will be subject to trip denials, time changes, and standing order restrictions. The proposed PRT service reduction will also reduce the size of the ACCESS ADA service area.

Days and Hours of Service: ACCESS ADA service is currently available throughout Allegheny County between 6 a.m. and midnight, and even earlier or later if there is fixed route service operating. Like PRT, under this proposal there will be no ACCESS service after 11 p.m.

Proposed Service Changes to ACCESS 65 Plus Program

The Crisis

State funding has not kept up with the public transportation funding needs, resulting in a budget deficit for Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) of over $100 million next year, and increasing every year following. Without additional state funding, PRT is no longer able to provide the current level of ACCESS 65 Plus Program service. PRT bus and light rail service would be reduced by up to 35%.

Proposed service changes to take effect February 2026 include:

Decreased Hours of Access Service. No Service after 11 p.m.

ACCESS 65 Plus Fare Increases

Current One-Way Fare	Proposed One-Way Fare	Changes to PRT Service
$3.15	$3.90	• Increase in fare from $2.75 to $3.00
$3.90	$4.50	• Elimination of 40 bus routes and the Silver Line
$5.25	$6.00	• Reduction in service frequency on 53 routes and the Red Line
		• No Service after 11 p.m.

Proposed Service Changes to ACCESS ADA Program

The Crisis

State funding has not kept up with the public transportation funding needs, resulting in a budget deficit for Pittsburgh Regional Transit (PRT) of over $100 million next year, and increasing every year following. Without additional state funding, PRT is no longer able to provide the current level of ACCESS ADA Program service. PRT bus and light rail service would be reduced by up to 35%.

Proposed service changes to be effective February, 2026 include:

Decreased Hours of ACCESS Service: No ACCESS or PRT Service after 11 p.m.

ADA Fare Increases

Current One-Way Fare	Proposed One-Way Fare
$3.15	$3.90
$3.90	$4.50
$5.25	$6.00

ADA Service Area Changes

What is required

ADA law requires transit authorities to offer complementary paratransit service (ACCESS) alongside fixed route service (PRT bus and T) to ADA-eligible individuals, but only in those places and at those times when fixed route service is available. The ADA defines the service area for complementary paratransit as any location within three-fourths of a mile on each side of an operating non-commuter fixed route or rail station. PRT's ACCESS service currently exceeds the minimum requirements for the service area.

Current level of ACCESS ADA Service

Currently ADA eligible riders can travel to and from locations outside the ADA service area, to and from any location in Allegheny County and still receive the ADA protections of requested trips guaranteed within an hour of the time requested.

What will Change

Under this proposal, the ACCESS ADA service area will be scaled back to the minimum required by law. This means that trips where either the pick-up or drop-off location are outside the ADA service area will be subject to trip denials, time changes, and standing order restrictions. Coupled with PRT's proposed fixed route reductions, this will leave about 62% of Allegheny County outside of the ACCESS ADA service area, and therefore without ADA guarantees.

You can view an interactive map of the proposed ADA service area changes at rideprt.org/funding-crisis, or call the ACCESS main office at 412.562.5353 or (TTY 711) for more information.

Changes to PRT Service

- Increase in fare from $2.75 to $3.00
- Elimination of 40 bus routes and the Silver Line
- Reduction in service frequency on 53 bus routes and the Red Line
- No service after 11 p.m.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Good morning. Thank you, way in the back. Thank you very much. Good morning. My name is Katherine Kelleman for Pittsburgh Regional Transit. PRT is conducting this public hearing as part of a public comment period that began at 8:00 a.m. on Monday, March 31st, 2025. The period will conclude on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025 at 5:00 p.m., to receive public input on PRT's proposed funding crisis, related fare increases, and service reductions.

Before we begin to receive public comment, our hearing moderator, Laura Santos, will go over some housekeeping information. Okay, we don't have a mic.

MS. SANTOS:

Good morning, everyone. This hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a Court Reporter. If you do not want to be recorded, we please ask that you exit the hearing room at this time. Please note that we have American Sign Language and Spanish language interpreters to provide translation services during the hearing. For participants who registered to provide public comment at today's hearing, you'll be called up to speak at your designated time, though you may be called up as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak. For participants who did not preregister, you have been placed into an open time slot to speak and will be called up to speak at your designated time, though you may also be called up as much as 15 minutes early to speak if you --- if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide their public comment. When called upon, please clearly state your name and spell it and then speak clearly. The hearing timekeeper will alert you when you have one minute remaining. If your three minutes is up and you want to provide further comment, you can do so via telephone, regular mail, or online until 5:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025. Additional details on these other methods to submit public comment to PRT regarding the proposed funding crisis related fiscal year 2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at www.rightprt.org/funding-crisis. Speakers cannot donate or delegate their allotted time to another individual interested in speaking, but speakers may read in written comments they may have brought in with them on behalf of another individual during this scheduled comment time.

The purpose of this public hearing is for PRT to receive public comment only. Participating PRT Board members and/or staff members will not respond to public comment provided during this hearing, but all comments will be recorded and analyzed as part of the public comment collection process.

Additionally, there's an information table set up outside the hearing room where there are PRT staff that can answer questions. Both PRT Board members and senior management will be listening to public comments during this public hearing. At this time, I would ask PRT Board members who are in attendance to identify themselves.

MR. BURGUNDER:

I will now ask PRT senior management who are in attendance to identify themselves.

MR. REEVES:

This public hearing was scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m., and 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. with a two hour break from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.,

and PRT intends to conduct a public hearing for the entire advertised time periods to ensure members of the public who did not preregister but appear today and sign up to speak have an opportunity to do so. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Laura.

Absent additional state funding, PRT is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately $100 million in fiscal year 2026. PRT is required by law to pass a balanced budget, and with so many fixed costs, we are proposing a 35 percent reduction in bus, light rail, and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments along with the $0.25 cent fare increase.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program ACCESS. This program provides demand response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County. And today, we are joined by Karen Hoesch from ACCESS. Good Morning, Karen.

A summary of the proposed funding crisis related fiscal '26 fare increases and service reductions is provided below, and with --- and additional information is available on PRT's website at www.rideprt.org/fundingcrisis.

We will now begin to hear public --- to receive public comment.

MS. SANTOS:

The first speaker is Lloyd Knight. Knight, are you here today again? Again, that is Lloyd Knight. Okay.

We will move on to the next scheduled speaker, Stefan Wuchana (phonetic). Okay.

Moving on to the next speaker, Mark A. Schramm. All right. Okay.

Moving on, Roxanne Huber. Okay, thank you. You will have three minutes to speak, and we will let you know when you have one minute remaining. Thank you.

MS. HUBER:

Can you all hear me?

MS. SANTOS:

Yes.

MS. HUBER:

Okay.

So, my name is Roxanne Huber. To spell that for the record, it's R-O-X-A-N-N-E H-U-B-E-R.

So first off, I know you guys know how important public transit is, so thank you for taking this time to listen to the public today. So a little bit more about myself. I work with the Teen Outreach to Promote Safety, or TOPS program. We work with three pediatric forensic psych clinics, Juvenile Probation, and Children Youth and Family Services. Together, all of us serve those in a community that most community organizations don't want to work with, are marginalized, and live in lower socioeconomic statuses.

When I first heard of the proposed funding crisis and the proposed budget cuts, my first thought did not go to my use of public transit, but to the clients that we serve. And as I looked further into the proposed budget cuts and transit cuts, I saw that there was going to be an immediate concern because public transit is essential for our families due to the inaccessibility to telehealth and the inability to benefit from telehealth and the in person requirements that they have.

If transit is cut and these people who cannot use telehealth cannot complete treatment, they will land in residential facilities, which leads to increased trauma, separated families, continued generational struggles, and higher state costs in general as outpatient treatments are more successful and more cost effective in that capacity.

From there, I think of our community's impact. If transit is cut, people are going to lose their jobs because they use transit to get to those jobs, which adds unnecessary costs to our already struggling economy, which I know all of you are feeling. In turn, people are also going to miss essential preventative medical appointments such as dental hygiene appointments and their yearly checkup and screenings. In turn, this is going to create worse health outcomes and apply more pressure to a collapsing medical system.

On a more positive note, public transit reduces our carbon footprint in general, which provides cleaner air, lets more people be outside and in our communities, and it helps prevent an environmental catastrophe that we are running into. In general, as you know, public transit makes the world accessible and is essential for all people. Reducing the routes that are being proposed or removing them from the budget is going to be detrimental to our clients, our clinics, and our society.

So with this in mind, as you guys are already doing, please keep advocating for your budget, and I do urge you to consider revamping your bus routes to continue making public transit equitable for all. Thank you so much.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you.

MR. BURGUNDER:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Next speaker is Nicholas Kyriazi. Again, that is Nicholas Kyriazi. Gabrielle Green. Okay. Again, Gabrielle Green. Valerie Smith.

Benjamin John Chiszar.

Okay, thank you. Again, you have three minutes to speak and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. CHISZAR:

Benjamin John Chiszar.

Transit is life.

Personal mobility is freedom. Public transit should be seen as a public good. All public transit should be free. Fares are user fees for a system we already paid for. This constitutes double taxation. As a veteran of the elite military intelligence corps, this will not stand with me.

The cost for transit should be borne by government revenues, not the riders. A dedicated transit sales tax would make the most sense. If public transit was free and efficient, more people would use it.

PRT is an embarrassment. An expensive embarrassment. There's a reason why more people don't use it. They don't want to. It's slow and inefficient. The bus stops are worse than a third world country. The vehicles are too large and expensive. Why pay more?

And let us agree on a harsh standard on ridership. All routes less than half full for more than half the day should be terminated. By such a harsh standard, most of the routes will be closed tomorrow. The fleecing of the taxpayers must stop. And as proof, nobody uses PRT.

So why are we really here today? Because of failed leadership and gross mismanagement? We just raised taxes 40 percent on everyone in the county. Now PRT needs a bailout? When you already waste $500 million a year? Now you have a $100 million deficit? Most of the money goes to staff, not the riders. Why don't you cut salaries and benefits? I hope the entire leadership team has resigned in shame.

Harrisburg? That's who you're counting on? The do nothing legislature and the worthless governor who the media seems to be in love with? They don't care about PRT. They're just going to point to the ridership. Where are all the loud, white progressives who care about the environment? Why aren't they using the system? Because they don't want to, or have to. They like their cars and their all white neighborhoods even though many of the older neighborhoods lack parking infrastructure for every domicile to have a vehicle. And everyone in this community knows it.

I believe we can dramatically increase ridership by banning on street parking in the densely populated neighborhoods. Banning driver's licenses for foreigners. And if we really want to be evil, let's ban all school buses, forcing kids as young as five to navigate PRT.

We could provide alternative transportation to all those low income who rely on PRT via private drivers and jitney vans and still save money. I believe we should put a sales tax on all sin, alcohol, marijuana, gambling, tobacco, meat, sugar, salt, processed food to fund roads, bridges, sidewalks, and public transit.

Make the system free. It will be good for the economy. Do not raise the fares. Shame on PRT for raising fares on the backs of the poorest amongst us. Thank you kindly. May God bless Allegheny County and all who call her home.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. Thank you. The next speaker is Maria Napolitano. Maria Napolitano? Next speaker, Chris Sandvig. All right. Okay.

We're going to hold off on the next speakers. The next one, it's at 10:00 in the morning. All right.

If there's anyone in the room that would like to speak, but hasn't signed up to speak, you can sign up in the back in --- in the desks that are out in the lobby. You can sign up there, or to speak earlier. Also, if anyone arrived late to their scheduled time, but was scheduled to talk between 9:00 to 10:00 in the morning, you can please raise your hand and I can --- can let me know what your name is. Yes, what is your name?

MR. HERZER:

David Herzer.

MS. SANTOS:

David Herzer, okay.

I don't have you scheduled from 9:00 to 10:00, but could we ask you to --- to go schedule yourself to --- to speak?

MR. HERZER:

Sure.

MS. SANTOS:

Okay.

Thank you. Yeah, I think they want them to register. Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

So confirming that the moderator will be announcing. Anyone who's here who would like to speak now, we'd like to ask you to register, but then you're more than welcome to come speak. So register outside and come back and talk to us.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. Can you state your name for the record? And you have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. HERZER:

David Herzer.

MS. SANTOS:

David Herzer, okay.

MR. HERZER:

Thank you for letting me speak today. I'd like to speak on behalf of those who work at the Amazon Sort Center out in Crafton. Many of them rely on transit. At present, I have three buses that I can use. The 29, the 27, and the 26. Soon, it's going to be just the 27.

That is ridiculous. And not only that, but there are a lot of elderly people who can't even drive to begin with. There are people on wheelchairs. Access costs a fortune, and soon the buses are going to be too darn crowded to put the wheelchairs on to begin with. I've already seen it. Drivers can't put them on because the front part's too crowded. That is absurd. That is the most ridiculous thing I've ever seen in my life.

How can you possibly take it out on us? This is ridiculous. What kind of excuse do you people have for this? And let's tell the people in Harrisburg that the voters are a lot like elephants. They have long memories, and they better not be running for incumbency because they're going to remember and they're going to get rid of the people who tried to pass this garbage and they're going to put somebody in who's going to finally fix it.

And not only that, the buses, like I said, are going to be a lot more crowded. They're going to run a lot less often, too. So if I miss one, it's probably going to be an hour before the next one comes. That's ridiculous. And cab fare is unbelievable. Even just to get to downtown to the Sorts Center costs almost $20, and that's without tip. And 29 is the one that's supposed to be cut, correct? Guess what? There's a lot of people who have to go out to the --- the CCAC out there. Do you have any idea how much a cab fare's going to be just to get out there to begin with? And you want these people to do this, what? Five days a week?

Sorry, that's inexcusable. That's unacceptable. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

MR. BURGUNDER:

Why don't we give it five minutes or so and see if somebody shows up? And then we can.

MS. SANTOS:

Anyone in the room registered to speak and would like to speak earlier? Okay.

Thank you. You have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute to speak. Thank you. Okay.

MR. WILLIAMS:

Greetings board. My name is Wyndell Williams. I'm representing the riders of the 52 --- 52L Homeville, 53 Lincoln Place, 14 Ohio River --- Ohio Valley, the 012 McKnight Road, and the two, the Mount Royal.

Those buses are planned to be cut off. You're leaving complete bus deserts. Allegheny County was --- came out with a clean air report the other week. We have bad air. You're going to be putting more cars on the bus. I mean on the road, less buses. How's that going to settle this? You're leaving bus deserts.

Saturdays, my bus doesn't run. I have to walk two miles to Homestead to catch a 53. You're cutting my bus off, so I'm going to be --- I'll have to do that with a couple other people.

A lot of people work depending on PAT Transit. Some of them do have cars. They choose to ride the bus because it's more efficient and it's more cost efficient for them. Now you're going to --- again, you'll be putting more cars on the road, more stress on our bridges. Bad enough we had a bridge collapse a couple years ago in --- over in the park over there. We got a couple bridges you can't even drive across right now.

Buses made it easier for people to get to work. I've been riding PAT bus, PAT buses, PRT buses since 1973 when I was 13 years old.

I've seen routes cut. Nothing added. Everything is cut. I've seen pay --- I've seen fares go up. Realistically, hey, that's the cost of doing business a lot of time with fares going up. But to just eliminate a lot of buses, you're going to hurt elderly people who need to get on buses to go to the supermarket, especially to the waterfront down at Homestead where I do a lot of my shopping and I see a lot of elderly people getting on a bus for that.

I mean, where do we go from here? You're depending on Harrisburg. Guess what? All of Harrisburg's money is going to Philadelphia, which it always has been going to Philadelphia. Nothing has changed in this state. Guys, and I have. I called my state representative and state senator. They need to get off their butts and find a good solution for this because there's a lot of people who depend on buses and some don't have cars. So now, they're going to be unemployed. And guess what? No jobs are coming into Allegheny County. I don't see them. None are coming into Pittsburgh. I don't see them. We better hold on to what we have, or guess what? We'll become a big ghetto. Worse than Detroit without this public transportation.

Thank you very much. I appreciate you guys for listening to me, and have a good day.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. Is there anyone else that was scheduled to speak that would like to go ahead? Thank you. Yes. Okay, yes.

What is your name? Okay. Okay. Thank you, Nick. You can go ahead and speak now. You have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. KYRIAZI:

My name's Nick Kyriazi.

I have lived on the north side since 1976. I moved to the north side so I would not need to own a car. I have used public transit my entire working life, including 37 years of taking the 46D Curry to the Bruceton Research Center in South Park Township.

Now retired, I take PRT vehicles for free. I am also a libertarian, and I feel guilty that even when I was paying for my annual transit passes, I was not paying the full cost of the, my transportation.

When PRT gets money from state government, that means that taxpayers in Franklin, Pennsylvania, are forced to pay for my transportation needs. I don't think that's right. And I --- I'm wondering, why is local public transit anything but a local issue?

I suggest that PRT begin charging the true cost for transportation. Some riders can afford it. I'm sure it's cheaper than owning a car. And for those who can't, I suggest creating a charitable organizational fund that low income people can apply to for their transit needs. As evidenced by the mainly go --- the many go fund me appeals, there are many people anxious to help others who have financial need. That way, no coercion is involved in providing transit for Pittsburgh.

And while I'm here and you're here, I wanted to suggest that in the summer when it's 90 degrees outside and we're all walking around in sandals and shorts and you get on a bus and it's 64 degrees, I'm wondering who sets these temperatures and why? Because it's, you have to carry a light jacket with you at all times if you want to ride a bus.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. Is there anyone here that was scheduled to speak between 9:00 to 10:00 that would like to speak now? Thank you.

lease state your name. You have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. HARTZELL:

My name is Megan Hartzell. Good morning. I have been a transit rider for as long as I can remember, and I've relied on using public transit to commute to work since high school.

We live in the second largest metropolitan area in the state, and it's a shame that we have to beg our government to help fund our transit system. Public transit is a right for every citizen. We should be able to use it to get to work, for grocery shopping, and for going out on the weekends. Many of the riders that use public transit use it to commute downtown to work. I am one of those riders. I cannot afford to pay $300 a month to park downtown and then $30 every week for gas for the commute.

And quite frankly, I don't want to. I like being able to relax on my way to and from work. I like not having to worry about the traffic and the extra wear and tear on a car.

Decreasing public transit means more people may start driving into town to work, which means more inexperienced drivers will be driving into town to work, which will cause an increase in traffic and an increase in accidents.

Almost all of the South Hills routes are being eliminated. One of those routes being eliminated is the 39 Brookline. This bus is always packed, and PRT is doing these residents at vast disservice in eliminating the route. Not everyone in Brookline can walk to McNeilly Station, South Bank, or Potomac to get to T. So what are these residents supposed to do? Can any of you answer me that?

You cannot expect residents to have to walk a mile to get a bus, especially if that walk includes a lot of hills and no sidewalks. That can be dangerous for residents to have to walk on the side of Pioneer Avenue to get to the south busway in the morning to get a bus.

With service being cut at 11:00 p.m. for all routes, how will individuals like nurses working the night shift get to or from work? How will individuals who go out on the north side get home after a night out from a concert with no service past 11:00 p.m.? What about a late Penguin or Steeler game with no service past 11:00 p.m.? What about when the city hosts a draft next year? What are we going to do with no service past 11:00 p.m.? This will hurt the service economy downtown and the north side because individuals will be able to get down there, but not home. And not everyone wants to or can afford to pay a surge priced to Uber after a game or a concert or just a night out on the weekend. Less people going to these areas means less money going to those restaurants.

With the increase in fare price, we will have the fifth highest fares in the nation, and for what? There will hardly be any service. Yet, routes are not being cut on buses that will use the University line to go out to Oakland. But almost all public transit is being cut in the South Hills.

PRT keeps saying this is a funding deficit that was a long time coming. So was this project really needed? Is it really going to save time to get to Oakland?

Why is the CEO getting a bonus more than my yearly salary during a funding crisis? Why are there signs saying that they're hiring drivers when in a few months, most of these routes are getting eliminated or reduced? There is no fiscal accountability and no forward thinking at PRT to avoid this problem that they knew was coming. They are relying on residents to help save it, and that's not fair.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Is there anyone registered --- registered to speak that would like to go earlier than their registered time? Thank you. Please state your name, and you will have three minutes, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. SANDVIG:

Thank you. Good morning, Chris Sandvig. Good to see you all today. I am the Founder and Executive Director of Mobilify Southwestern Pennsylvania. I'm also a proud regular rider of PRT for well over a decade.

I'll leave it to others to talk about their particular routes, their time of day, that sort of thing. I am a proud rider of the 87, 75, P1, 28X, 71A, B, C, and so I have a bit of experience with the system.

I am also a veteran leader of transit funding crisis fights past. And while Act 89 was monumental, all of us back then knew that its shelf life was about ten years. Even so, I have to say, this current fiscal cliff scares me more than that one did. The cuts that PRT is forced to propose aren't just another roadblock to our economy's --- region's economic recovery. They send us backwards, and we least can afford it.

Sustainable long term investment in public transit is essential to ensure our region remains accessible and equitable for all, to say nothing of remaining economically viable and competitive on the world stage.

The coalition that I co-led culminated in Act 89, the landmark legislation that saved PA transit, and our roads and bridges. We all knew back then that the law had a ten year shelf life. Many of us, including PRT, rang this alarm in 2019. We've made it four years longer than expected, and PRT should be commended for its fiscal stewardship and rewarded for it. Except it, and we, face the opposite.

These financial decisions do have real world consequences. People are not parcels. Employers, doctors, and many others can't just wait a little longer for folks to show up like they would their Amazon order. Our most vulnerable neighbors rely on transit to get and keep that job, make it to the doctor and grocery store, visit friends and family, and basically have a meaningful, dignified life that supports the lives of people like me and you.

I want to be very clear. While not quite on par with the collapse of steel, the collapse of transit will be disastrous for the Pittsburgh region. Workers and employers alike in all sectors seek out places that invest in transit. Will they come? Would they stay? Would your kids want to live in that kind of Pittsburgh, and would you? I don't see this as hyperbole, personally.

Act 89 was passed with a Republican House, Republican Senate, and a Republican Governor. Cities in progressive states like Utah, Tennessee, and Ohio are investing in more transit, more active transportation, more economic opportunity and growth. Here in Pennsylvania, we've been --- we're --- we're hanging on by our fingernails and continually falling behind. We can talk all we want about reforms that are likely necessary, but at the end of the day, we still need buses and trains, more of them, not less.

We can do our part, but it's time for Harrisburg to put forth a real funding package, not a month's allowance, and keep Pennsylvania moving for good this time. More transit, not less. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

The next speaker is William Young. Please state your name. You will have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. YOUNG:

Thank you. My name is William Young. I've been coming to the past few Board meetings. All good to see you again. But as you've said, Katherine, the time for talk and empty promises is over. Harrisburg needs to step up and do their job or we, the voters, will vote you out.

And the time for action is now. We need our public transit, more of it, not less. We have these big plans for the NFL draft next year, and we need transit to get these fans, people to where they need to go, whether it be Acrisure Stadium, PNC Park, the North Shore, Point State Park, all of our many attractions.

I work with the Pirates and Acrisure Stadium, and I don't even know how I'm even going to get home in Sheridan without the Route 26. The G2 will still be around, the 27 will still be around. And I must commend all of the Board members. Katherine, I have to commend you for your stewardship of our tax dollars and thank you. Therefore, I yield my time.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. The next speaker is Augustus Knox. If you're not registered to speak, but you would like to speak, we'll --- we'll take your testimony.

MR. KNOX:

How y'all doing?

MS. SANTOS:

You'll have ---.

MR. KNOX:

How y'all doing? Yeah, I hope the state give them its money about these buses. Let this money go. I hope the state give them its money.

We got to keep these buses --- got to keep these buses rolling. We --- we need them. We need these buses bad. We need them.

I hope the state let that money go. Don't --- let the money go --- state give them its money and let this money go. The state give them its money, I don't know how much, and we can keep these buses rolling. Yeah, we got to keep --- we need them. We need these buses bad. We need them. We need these buses bad. We need them. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

MR. KNOX:

My name is Augustus Knox. My name is Augustus Knox. We need these buses bad. We need them bad. Augustus Knox. We need them. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. If anyone registered to speak between 9:00 to 10:00, but didn't make it here earlier, please raise your hand and we'll take you now.

Thank you. You can walk to the podium. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. NAPOLITANO:

My name is Maria Napolitano. I am the Council President from the Borough of Leetsdale, and I would like to convey to you the importance of PRT Line 14 for our community.

Leetsdale is a small municipality of about 1,162 residents. We are located in the northwest suburb of Pittsburgh at the very edge of Allegheny County, bordering Beaver County. In my community, pretty much everybody who makes a wage commutes to Pittsburgh. And of those people, 25 to 50 percent, according to our comprehensive planning studies, use public transportation, many on a regular basis. And those include my own daughter, actually. So these people choose to move to Leetsdale to be able to access the bus line so they could make a living.

Public transport also is important for over 2,000 people who commute to work at the Leetsdale Industrial Park, which is home to a variety of industries. Many companies there give special opportunities to people who fell on hard times and maybe cannot obtain a driver's license or pass background checks. We know for sure that those workers commute on line 14, disembark on Beaver Street, and walk down to the industrial park so they can make an honest living.

And finally, the elderly. Every fourth household in Leetsdale has an elderly living alone. Many of them do not drive, over --- but about 160 people in Leetsdale are disabled. And those include mobility challenges, visual challenges. Many of those residents reside in Leetsdale Manor, low income high rise. And those are the residents that I see on a regular basis throughout the day taking a bus to access the necessities of their daily living. Going to grocery store, going to farmer's market, going to the library, going to doctor's appointments, visiting family which lives in a neighborhood.

Again, this is a big reason why the elderly choose to stay in Leetsdale and move to Leetsdale to be closer to their families in the area or stay in Leetsdale to age in place the access to public transportation.

I'd like to emphasize that we are the community that is farthest away on this line in Allegheny County. Beaver County, just a little bit out, has their own bus service. We will not if our --- this line number 14 is impacted. I very, very strongly urge you to consider the importance of line 14 specifically for the northwest edges of Allegheny County. I know you have to --- you are facing tough decisions, but please understand how important this line is for our community and it will devastate the community and remove many reasons for people to actually live in my small town if this life is --- if line is not available.

You know, creating downstream impacts which is honestly hard to comprehend at this time. As we're looking at the state of our, you know, local tax base, the state of our revitalization of our properties, the state of community spirit in my town. Honestly, it's hard to complicate --- to comprehend the possible impacts. Please consider keeping line 14 and serving our area. Thank you very much.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Is there anyone else scheduled from 9:00 to 10:00 that would like to speak now? Okay.

Anyone scheduled to speak today that would like to go earlier? You can raise your hand and you can walk towards the podium. Thank you. Yeah. Please state your name, and you'll have three minutes to speak and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. WEHE:

My name is Nancy Wehe, N-A-N-C-Y. Last name W-E-H-E.

I enjoy riding the PRT buses, and sometimes I have an app on my cell phone that I use and it tells me what time the buses are coming. And I enjoy riding the bus. Even though you have to wait, but I don't know, because I take the 86 --- I live in Bloomfield. I take the 86 to shopping. I --- I take the 54C Charlie bus to the --- to the Wilson's drugstore. And I don't know if that's going to be affected, of the 86 or the 54C. I don't know if those routes are going to be a little later in time. If I have to wait longer for those buses. I am not sure because I didn't hear much about it, so.

But I enjoy taking the bus and the bus drivers are so nice. You know, they're very helpful. And I said, are you stopping it? You know, so and so. Like, one day I had left my bag on the bus, and it was so nice. The dispatcher had paged the 54C. And --- and I waited, they said in a couple hours. But I was very patient about it, and they gave me the bus number and I recommend they, in my --- they --- the driver had got my bag, I left groceries and that was so nice.

I --- but I enjoy, even though if the time's going to be less, but I still --- I still enjoy taking the bus. Because the bus drivers are so nice, and I wanted to state that they're very generous.

But I think that's all I have to say. Thank you very much for letting me speak. Bye bye, I'll.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Anyone else registered to speak that would like to go earlier? Okay, thank you. We are still taking people to register to speak. So if you're here today and have not registered, you can do so at one of the tables in the lobby.

Sonia, next speaker. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. KAIL:

Right here?

MS. SANTOS:

The podium, thank you.

MS. KAIL:

Hi. I'm Sonia Kail. I live in Mount Lebanon, and nice to meet everybody.

The 41 Bower Hill, the 38 Green Tree says eliminated. I depend on a few of those buses to get to work. I have no other way to get to work. I got no family. I got no friends. This will take a major impact in my life.

It deeply affects me. It really does. Please don't cut these buses. How would a person like me and other people who work --- who work along those, like, on Bower Hill Road, like at the hospital in Asbury Heights, Kane Center. How would all those people get to work? They'll be impacted, too. We need these buses in the South Hills.

This is very shocking. I don't understand how you can all do this to us in the South Hills. I don't. It hurts. It hurts. I don't know what else to say, but please don't cut them or my life will be ruined. It will. I'm not going to go look for another job. I can't go look for another job. I can't. My job in Bridgeville, I love that job. It's the only job I know how to do. In this 31, Bridgeville, I --- it'll be a very long way to get to work, and that's a major reduction. Please don't cut the 41 and the 38. I don't ride the 36. That's for other people, but don't cut those buses and let us suffer in the South Hills. Please don't. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you, Sonia. We have Brian.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

I'm right here. You talking to me or? Hatgelakas?

BEN:

Yes, sir. Brian.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Okay.

BEN:

Darcy will take your hand. You can have a seat.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Could I leave my cane on my seat? I'll be listening to more, too. What's your name again, ma'am?

MS. CLEAVER:

Darcy.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Thank you. Nice to meet you.

MS. CLEAVER:

Nice to meet you, too. Right here.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Okay.

Hello. Good --- is this mic on? Yes. Hello, good morning. My name is Brian Hatgelakas. I live in the South Hills of Pittsburgh as well. And if --- if you do any cuts to the ACCESS system, that would be very devastating to me.

That would erase the independence that I learned as a kid, and it would erase basically a life. Also, I --- also, if you make us pay more for subpar service, that's not good either. I --- I know people who ride the 41 and 38 as well in my area. I --- I have a --- I have a friend that works downtown that uses the 41 and relies on it to get to work. And her coworker also uses that as well. And they both have mobility issues, unfortunately. That where --- where it's hard for them to walk from, down to the trolley line at Dormont.

Please think of them when you're looking into all these cuts and stuff. For a city that's supposed to be on the rise and up and coming, service cuts, in my opinion, would make Pittsburgh sink way to the bottom and the whole State of Pennsylvania, for goodness sakes. PA needs to get with the times and expand service. Not cut. Because cutting service would --- would only force people out of Pennsylvania and out of Pittsburgh, and it would force people to look for other work in more expensive states.

Pittsburgh, come on Allegheny County, we're not like this. And PRT and Port Authority, we need to do what we need to do to get rolling with these things. So, I'm begging you, please, please, please get some funding. Get Harrisburg to do their job and get some funding. Thank you very much, and hopefully everything's will work out. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you. Thank you, Brian. Next up, we could have Josie Badger. Do we have Josie Badger?

Amy Zaiss? Is Amy Zaiss?

We'll take a small break until about 10:10 to give a couple people a chance to see if they show up so we don't get too far ahead. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS TAKEN DURING THE PROCEEDING.)

MODERATOR:

Okay.

We're going to go back on the record and resume receiving public comment.

BEN:

Thank you, everybody. We're going to resume comments with Josie Badger. Thank you, Josie. You will have three minutes. We will let you know when there is one minute remaining.

AUDIENCE MEMBER:

Mic assistance, please.

MS. BADGER:

Hi. Can you hear me?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Yes.

MS. BADGER:

Great. So good morning, friends. I am here today as Dr. Josie Badger, owner of J. Badger Consulting and PEACOCK Consulting Services.

I was brought into this discussion because our business and my heart and family consists of people with disabilities. One in four individuals have a disability. And as both an individual who's had a disability and somebody that worked with young adults with disabilities, we are constantly working to ensure that these individuals are able to get jobs. If you didn't know, Pennsylvania is an employment first state, and I am the chair of the Pennsylvania Employment First Oversight Commission.

And what that means is that Pennsylvania strives to make sure that the first option for folks with disabilities is paid, integrated employment. The only way that that is possible for a vast majority of individuals with disabilities is through public transportation. There was a recent report by Disability Rights Pennsylvania that stated that due to unreliable transportation, and that is when transportation's available, there was $100 million of money lost in healthcare systems due to missing appointments.

When you're working with young adults with disabilities, you're thinking about how do we get this kid a job? How do we make sure that their skills are built up? But without transportation, we're not even thinking that far down the road. We need to ensure that all individuals have the right to work, right to provide for their families, and right to live independently.

However, when the possibility of 62 percent of paratransit rides is on the cutting block, we know that these are pipe dreams. That we are setting ourselves back to the 1980s, before the ADA, before ADAPT, which was one of the major movements to get accessible transportation. We can't go backwards.

And so, I ask all of you to please help us protect paratransit and to protect the success and eliminate or limit the vulnerability of people with disabilities. We know when transportation's not available, we are not available. We are not at the table, and we are limiting our voice and our power. So please help us not go backwards. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you, Josie. Next, we would call Amy Zaiss. Do we have Amy here? Robin Strickler? Would Robin Strickler like to come up? Colleen Dearolf?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Brian, when is our next speaker registered? Or Ben, I should say. I'm sorry.

BEN:

Amy was at 10:15. Robin is at 10:20. Colleen was brought to me to put in when we had a spot here. I didn't want to get ahead of the time we're at.

MS. KELLEMAN:

That's okay. Do we have --- thank you, Ben. Do we have anyone else who is registered in the ten o'clock hour who would like to speak early? Are you with this big class? I want to hear all of you. You're all coming up for three minutes. Not really, but we do want to hear from everybody. So why don't you come on up and tell us your name, sir?

BEN:

Come up. Please let everybody know what your name is. You'll have three minutes. We will let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. KELLEMAN:

And excuse me for going off script. For this big class, who has been to a public hearing before? Who has not? Oh, well, this looks exciting. Anyone who speaks to us, we're going to ask you to register so we can get your name and address, or --- you're going to give us your name when you come to talk. You get three minutes. It's not because we don't love you, but it's to make sure everybody gets time, okay? And if you have questions, just let us know.

And you are up, my friend. Give us your name and let's talk. Your turn.

MR. MORRIS:

Okay.

Test, test. There we go. Hello. My name is Alexander Morris, A-L-E-X-A-N-D-E-R. Morris, common spelling. And I am a student at City Charter High School. And like many others in Pittsburgh, I rely on public transportation, sorry, every single day to get to school, go to work, and engage in all other sorts of activities.

And from what I understand, these proposed cuts to our transit system are largely due to a projected $100 million deficit. But as I continued my research, I found something confusing and also concerning. At the same time that PRT is facing this crisis, parking rates downtown have gone up. Meter prices across the City have also increased, and bus fares expected to rise to $3, making ours one of the most expensive base fares in the entire country.

All this means one thing to me. People are being pushed out of public transit, and into their cars where they'll have no choice but to pay more. More for gas, more for parking, more just to live their lives in general. And while that may bring short term revenue to curb this issue, I have to ask, at what cost? And how long will this go on before we see things return to normal, if they ever do? Because the fact is that this situation isn't merely about budgets. It's about the people as well. Students like myself, teachers we have here, elderly, workers, lower income residents, people who don't have another option. People who feel like they're being left behind by decisions they have little to no voice in.

I'm not here just to raise concerns, though. I am here to ask for alternatives. Can we look to contributions from large profit --- large nonprofits, sorry, or fair taxation on things such as vacant land and luxury developments? Can we consider how to make the burden more equitable instead of putting it on those with the least?

Seeing as Mayor Gainey often --- often mentions investing into the future, be that through plans of the --- plans through the younger generation or his own, it'd be contradictory to leave the people behind. I asked you not to consider just the bottom line, but the lives behind the numbers as well. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Morris.

Just a point of order for our students. When we do a public hearing, we hear from you up here, it's not a back and forth, but some of us will come around and talk to you as we get time. Okay? So if we don't answer, I promise we're not that mean. It's just the process that we have.

Yes, sir. Are you registered? You want to come up and speak to us? You're going to give us your name, and then when you're done, you're going to make sure that we get you registered.

Okay?

MR. TURNER:

Okay. Testing. All right, that works. All right.

My name's Tristan Turner, T-R-I-S-T-A-N T-U-R-N-E-R. And I just wanted to think about the future, I guess you would say, the next generation of people who are supposed to keep this downtown economy running. Downtown Pittsburgh is one of the Pittsburgh's, like, main attractions. The city, the view, the Overlook, obviously. And I think PRT plays, obviously, a huge part in that. They play, I mean, I can't take a guess at the percentage of people who come downtown in business suits and ties I see every single morning for the past four years who keep this economy running, especially in times now where things are increasing, everything, every price is increasing. Obviously, PRT is struggling with that as we see now.

But I think it would make Pittsburgh as a place worse to live in, obviously for the people in it. But the economy itself would just, especially downtown, would just fall. I think all these businesses, every restaurant you see downtown, I mean, I can't think the amount of times after school I went to go get something to eat. Oh, nervous. And --- and I don't think kids now would have the opportunity. I don't think they would even have the opportunity to go to school down here.

I live in Carrick. I would have to go to Carrick High School. My mom did not want me going there. She didn't want me having that type of education. I go to City High, where the education there I think, they teach a completely different curriculum than anywhere else in the City of Pittsburgh. Not having the opportunity to learn the things I've learned here, it's very diverse. Kappa is very diverse. There's so many schools downtown that have such diversity and introduce new ideas and cultures and things like that to students who've never experienced.

I've never had 80 percent of the experiences I have now. Before I went to City High, I would never learn things about culture, the City of Pittsburgh itself just being in the downtown environment teaches you so much about life and prepares you for life and the next generation, I think. They should have the opportunity that everybody else has had to be able to have a career down here, to be able to become successful in what they want to. I mean, the people now who come down here may lose jobs. Bus workers, bus drivers, themselves. It's people who, kids that go to our school, their dad's a bus driver, their mom's a bus driver. They might not have a home, they might have to move. They'll --- they'll lose this chance to be able to learn and educate themselves and keep this economy running.

I think Pittsburgh itself would just, that's just downtown, but everywhere. I mean, people work in all sorts of different places and rely on the T or any bus, especially people who are disabled mentally or physically. Can't get a job. And they can't --- they can't drive, they physically can't drive, or they're just not allowed to. How are they supposed to get to where they want to get? Imagine if you were them and you're stuck in the house and you have to get downtown and you live five miles away. I mean, the closest thing would be a bus stop five minutes away or you now have to walk or buy an Uber. Who has money for Uber now? The economy --- it's just everything's getting worse. I don't understand why, in a time of crisis, this also happens. I mean, I get why, but I think this is just make everything ten times worse than what it is.

So five, ten years down the line, if this actually goes through and happens, I think we'd regret every part of the situation. That's it.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Turner.

BEN:

Thank you, Tristan. We have a spot for another student before our next registered speaker can come up. Do --- any students registered? Make sure you do afterwards. Make sure you state your name, and you'll have three minutes

MS. KELLEMAN:

Watch out for Dr. Ben.

BEN:

We'll let you know when you have one left.

MR. FOWLER:

Test. Okay.

Hello, everyone. Good morning. My name is Robert Fowler, R-O-B-E-R-T F-O-W-L-E-R.

You see, I work with many daycares. And with the daycares, I'm somewhat of a teacher. I help out, and I mainly help out with the older kids because I'm more. I'm old enough to, like, more be able to relate to them. And then, you see, over the summer, I'll be working with them more since we --- we won't have school at all. And with that, I'll be needing the buses a lot because there will be a lot of field trips. And then also as well, with many of the parents that actually works at the day --- and many of the parents that takes their kids to the daycares, I've seen a good lot of them take buses to get to the daycares.

And if we start to eliminate the buses, that will become a major problem because there will be no daycares in their area and will make the parents as well be forced to stay home and watch their children. And that, with that it will be a problem with their jobs and everything because they could either get fired or just let go, or even worse.

So with that, with City High as well, I just did my grad project a few weeks ago. With that, I was researching about climate change, of how millions of years ago climate change was around, more richer, the air was more better for the dinosaurs that have lived in that time period. But now, since human --- humanity has been on the planet for years as well, and over just a span of a hundred years, climate change has even gotten worse and worse. And it's all because of us, because of the fact that we are leaving because of the factories, the cars and everything.

You see with buses, they help out many times. To make people get to their places easier. But if we start to eliminate the buses, it will make people use more cars, and with more cars it will release more things into the air. And will make the --- will make the air worse for, and will make the air quality worse.

I have siblings as well, and I --- and I've been teaching them of how to get on the buses a lot. And with that, I can just see --- and if we start eliminating buses, we ought to, I don't know what I'll be able to do to even get them to school at all.

But what I'm trying to say is that eliminating these buses will become a problem. Not even for me, but for the homeless, the poor, and everything else to go in Pittsburgh. And all I just want to say is that can we just try to find a different solution to make everything better and more reasonable for this economy? Economy.

That's all. Thank you for having the meeting.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Fowler.

BEN:

Thank you, Robert. Billy Su. Billy, please come up. State your name in the mic, and you will have three minutes. We will let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. SU:

Good morning. My name is Billy Su, B-I-L-L-Y S-U.

I am a student at the University of Pittsburgh, and my fellow college students are not here today because they're taking final exam and preparing for the summer move out. On top of that, they don't believe our voice can make a difference, but I do believe that.

It is devastating seeing sudden mass service reduction where there has been all the advertisement about transit improvement and the university line project. Now even the airport flyer will be cut, leaving airport access impossible from Oakland for early morning flights. We're broke college student, and we can't afford to pay $8,200 to just get an Uber or Lyft to go to the airport. That's half of my airplane ticket.

I use PRT buses multiple times a day to get around, to go to my classes, get groceries, as well as different parts of the county for cultural leisure activities and visiting friends, which includes rural routes with low riderships.

With the cuts, all these connections are impossible and us college students cannot go anywhere besides Oakland that's 20, 30 minutes away by bus. This transit cut proposed by PRT is like a burger place, telling me that they will no longer serve fries to save money.

A public transit system should not only rely --- should not only serve the routes in densely populated corridors, but more importantly the last mile connections that that --- for those people who needs it.

Before this, I thought the entire county is under the 15 minutes walking shift, and I am very wrong. With these cuts, even more parts of the county will be inaccessible to us who solely rely on the public transit, and I am deeply disappointed to see PRT officials even considering cutting routes for the budget's sake.

I encourage PRT to look at other transit companies in Asia who serve the community without reducing service, but also debt free. I doubt this transit cut can actually save PRT from the entire financial black hole. Moreover, the cut will likely result in a snowball of even lower ridership due to inaccessibility. I urge PRT officials to optimize routings before eliminating. Consider making windy routes, such as 58, 59, into services that have less turns so transits are more efficient and on time.

Please also consider providing more crosstown services rather than having effectually every route to turn around in downtown because that makes transit inconvenient and very time consuming. After all, transit should be designed for everyone, even though only some use it.

While adjustments are inevitable, vital routes, particularly the 28X which provides the gateway to the airport, should be kept at current frequency and ran with larger buses. PRT, please continue to be the reliable backbone of our daily commute and the safe ride home from anywhere in the county. Thank you so much.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. The next speaker is Ross Mitchell.

MS. KELLEMAN:

He's been waiting.

Ralph, you have been waiting all morning.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you for your patience.

MS. SANTOS:

You have three minutes, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining. Thank you.

MR. MITCHELL:

Good morning. R-O-S-S M-I-T-C-H-E-L-L.

Noticing there are a lot of people who have signed up who weren't here when they were called. I hope that's not a reflection of them thinking that it didn't matter.

I'm retired, security worker, and also a member in good standing, but retired member of the Musicians Union. Service after --- no service after 11 o'clock, no. No, no. There's an old adage that was in this town, a lot of local media heads would say that downtown after five o'clock, yeah, closes up. We have to have service after 11 o'clock. That --- that's just not going to work.

This young gentleman, Mr. Su, mentioned that the 28X. Why do we have a vaunted coming of a new airport and the renaming? Pittsburgh Regional Transit is not going to go there. That, no. makes no sense.

As someone who used to, with one of my security jobs, pick up your money within an armored car company, I've seen a different side of things. A public transit system is not meant to generate revenue --- it's not a profit generating entity. It's a public service entity. Now this may be hard to stomach for some folks here, and I'm going to sit down and listen to a few more comments.

But if the $0.25 cent proposed fare raise could be $0.35 cent, in the event that we continue service after 11 o'clock, that's a twisting of my budget I have to go for. Because again, sorry to repeat myself, no service after 11 o'clock? You're economically strangling, are already difficulties in that category of economics. So I'm not going to talk politics. No.

The state legislature has policies and issues that Pittsburgh needs to go to them for, and any local politician who says so and so needs to do whatever monetarily, and it's the legislature. What you have control of is asking the legislature to increase transit funding for all the transit systems in the state, and we must have service to our new airport and most definitely after 11:00 p.m. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

And Mr. Mitchell, I had your first name incorrect. I apologize, Ross Mitchell. Thank you.

And thank you for waiting all morning.

MR. MITCHELL:

No problem.

MS. SANTOS:

We have an opening right now if a student would like to speak. Okay, thank you. Please --- okay. Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

So we have an opening for two students. Because if this young lady waits any longer, thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one.

MS. HARRIS:

Okay.

My name is Veshae Harris, V-E-S-H-A-E H-A-R-R-I-S. And I am a student at City Charter High School.

First, I want to say City High is a school that changes student's lives. I can say me personally, it has changed my life. I came from, like, a rough, you know, school before. You know, I had like a lot of stuff going on. And if I wasn't able to come to City High, I wouldn't be the student I am today. I'm a student that works a part time job which, you know, not too many part time jobs pay that much. And you know, with the --- if they raise the prices on buses or if they take, like, some of the lines away, I wouldn't be able to get to where I need to go or, like, get a better job once I'm done with high school and get there.

Also, I live in an area where not too many younger students can get, like, jobs and stuff because the hire --- the age is, like, 16 and up to get, like, a part time job or, like, even just that fast food. And there's not too many 14 and 15 year olds who parents can just give them money to get on a bus. And there's not too many younger kids who have the money to get to where they want to go to see, like, other friends or just to go out and stuff like that. There's also so many students who come from rough backgrounds, whose parents use the bus to get to work, to even pay the bills.

That's all. That's all I got to say. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Ms. Harris.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. We can take another student. Thank you. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. TAYLOR:

Hello, my name is Cameron Taylor, C-A-M-E-R-O-N T-A-Y-L-O-R.

So I'm not going to bore you with any statistics or anything like that. I just want to paint the picture for what it is. I live in Wilkinsburg, which is very underfunded neighborhood. And aside from the P16 and the P67, which only run during rush hour, I can only take the 67, which only comes once an hour and is very unreliable. So that in itself is a struggle. So, thinking about if funding is cut and if lines are cut, the 67 is going to become even more unreliable. And I know I'm not the only person who writes the 67 because there are tons of college students, tons of elderly people, tons of kids like me who get on the bus. It is completely packed, and I can't even ration to think about how if we cut the funding for the 67 even more and not even just my bus, all the buses, it will just continue to get worse.

So, I have noticed that some people have mentioned that if they do not have access to Port Authority, we will have to go to our home schools. Wilkinsburg does not have a home school. So I will be forced to go out of my way to find a different school to go to, which is so --- so many people are going to have to go through the same thing. And it is just so unrationable, it is so just --- it's horrible. Like, I just --- I don't know how else to paint the picture for you is that my mom, I live with my mom.

She lives in Wilkinsburg, and she has to balance the needs of multiple kids at once. We cannot afford Ubers, we can't afford any of that. So we have to rely on Port Authority to get me to school, to work, to wherever. If we take that option away from me, and not only just me, the many kids that are struggling right now, we have no other option. My mom is going to have to work multiple jobs just to feed us and put food on the table. So it's horrible that we're proposing to do this when there are people who can't even afford to put food on the table.

And getting to work and getting to school should be just a basic necessity and a human right that we should have. So the fact that we're taking this away, it's just mind blowing. So I'm --- I'm asking you, please reconsider because this will be detrimental to so many people and I wouldn't have to. I wouldn't want to have to go and negotiate, you know, having a job or even going to school just for the sake of not being able to pay $3 to go back and forth to school and to work. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Ms. Taylor.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. We'll take another student. Thank you. Please state your name, and you'll have three minutes to speak.

MR. AQRA:

My name is Zane Aqra, Z-A-N-E A-Q-R-A.

During the pandemic, there was a 75 percent cut in ridership caused by COVID. Relief funds then were put in place, helping stabilize the transit system here. But those are now gone.

We know that any mass transit system does not rely on ridership fees. We see this with our friends in Philly and New York, where ongoing investment keeps systems running, even when ridership is low. That is why we need state funding. Our --- our legislators in Harrisburg need to make themselves aware that Pennsylvania cannot rely on single vehicle infrastructure. We already feel the effects, inflating parking costs, common hour congestion that makes our short trips even miserable. And that a worsening lack of access for those without personal vehicles.

As a youth member of our City, I see that very plainly that City culture is deeply restrained or --- sorry, deeply reliant on busing. Less and less in our youth are getting our licenses, let alone purchasing cars, which means our reliance on public transit is even higher measurably. Is high, if not higher measurably, than a corporate commuter. City Charter High School sees that 95 percent of our students rely on transit. Most of those are on routes that are being cut.

This is not just a transit issue. It is a question of whether young people, working people, and communities without cars will continue to see a future in the city. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

We can take another student. Thank you. State your name, and you have three minutes to speak.

MR. ELLSWORTH:

My name is Alex Ellsworth, A-L-E-X E-L-L-S-W-O-R-T-H. I won't be long.

Thousands of people across the city, including myself, will be heavily impacted by the proposed changes to PRT. I rely on public transit on a daily basis. I use it to get to school every day, and I also use it to get to work. And with the proposed changes, it would take me nearly double the amount of time to get there and cost double the price. For others, they may not be able to get to work at all.

There are only two bus lines in the entire city that will remain unaffected by this change. Every other line is either being reduced or eliminated. Something must be done. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

The next speaker is Richard Walter. Okay, thank you. You have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. WALTER:

Yeah. My name is Richard

Walter, and I live in Bethel Park and I'm on dialysis three days a week. And I have to depend on the Silver line, and then I have doctor's appointments. I have to depend on, like, other routes and other places I go and other things I do in my life. So I have to have public transportation to get around.

And I --- I go visit friends and if I don't have that, I can't even go to see them. And it just makes it unreasonable. If you don't have transportation, how are you supposed to get around? So, I don't know what else to say, but I hope they --- they don't take off the Silver line like I said, because how am I supposed to get the dialysis, you know? So. But thank you for letting me speak for a couple of minutes. So, thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Next speaker is Stuart Strickland. Thank you. Please state your name. You have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. STRICKLAND:

My name is Stuart Strickland, McCandless Township, spelled S-T-U-A-R-T. Last name S-T-R-I-C-K-L-A-N-D.

Good morning, Ms. Kelleman.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Good morning.

MR. STRICKLAND:

Members of the Board and other elected officials and dignitaries present. I cannot be the only person in this situation. Yes, I have a reliable car, a clean license, and can afford to drive and pay to park downtown. But I don't want to. Why should I be forced to part with over $30 a day just to keep my car close to where I work and be forced to get stuck in traffic both directions? That's nuts.

Let me put it simply. I take the bus by choice. I do not want that choice removed. Thirty-five (35) years ago, I had four cars and put 60,000 miles on the fleet each year. But a temporary move made a transit commute possible, and I found I liked it. On our next permanent move, 1991, we chose to live near a bus line. In three short years, we retired three of those cars and lived with only one for the next 18 years. The money we saved not keeping multiple cars on the road, allowed us to pay off the mortgage eight years early, paid for my master's degree, allowed us to live one moderate income, and we still became debt free by our 50s. All because I could use the transit system for over 90 percent of my travel needs.

In 1995, I was only making $36,000 a year. I don't know what that is in today's money, but it sure wasn't six digit territory. Using the bus saved my family $12,000 a year in today's money, 18 years in a row.

That $12,000 is AAA's estimate of what it costs to run a car for a year.

I want everyone to have the same opportunities I had. I ask everyone here, what would you do with an extra $12 grand a year? Pay off debt? Get out from under that college loan or that second mortgage? Go back to school, take a vacation, start a business? My wife and I not only paid off the mortgage early, we also put both of our kids through college. Further still, not keeping two or three or four cars running helped us keep the one older car running longer. So we were able to put off its replacement by five years, and then pay cash in full when we did replace it.

In short, transit is not a government handout for the poor. For those of us a little higher in the ladder, it meant major quality of life improvements all because I chose to use transit.

To reiterate, I do not want only to avoid these cuts. I also want the 2011 cuts restored. I also want the 2007 cuts restored. I also want the 2002 cuts restored so that everyone can have the same opportunities that I had. Thank you for giving me the opportunity to speak.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Stuart.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. The next speaker is Marla Bird. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. BIRD:

Marla Bird, M-A-R-L-A B-I-R-D.

I'm here to speak on behalf of my son and the other 13 tenants in his building. These young adults are all physically handicapped and fully depend on the paratransit access services. There are no other transportation services in the area for them.

There are several in the building who work, including my son. He has worked at PNC Park for the past 17 years. He will have no way to get to and from work if the access trips to their destination are discontinued. Also, he works after 11:00 p.m. he takes the last access at 11:45 out of town from PNC Park many nights when they have evening games. If these are stopped, I'm not sure how he's going to get home from work.

These 14 tenants in his building will have no access to get anywhere for doctors, groceries, church activities, work, or anything. They will be absolutely stranded because there is no bus lines or anything in their area.

Maybe some of these free trips for the elderly to go to the casinos and that should be cut back to save on money. And I have sat many a night at a hospital in North Hills and watched at 2:00 and 3:00 in the morning a bus come and go, there's nobody on the bus but the driver. Nobody gets off, nobody gets on. I think that is a lot of waste.

And to leave these 14 young adults who want to work and want to be participating in society, stranded in their apartments with no way to get around, I think is very, very unfair to them and to other people in this 60 plus areas, percentage areas that you want to cut the ADA paratransit rides. It's just very sad because they have no other options to call to get a ride that are reliable. If they do call and they're told there's a ride the day that they're to go to work, they call and say we don't have a ride for you. Well then, what do they do? They get fired from work because they never have a ride? That's not fair.

Access is the only reliable transportation they have, and

I beg you to please find some other way than to cut this route for these people who don't have a choice. They can't drive, they can't call an Uber, they can't call a taxi. It's just out of their realm to be able to pay for that. So if you could find any other way to not cut these routes for these people who really desperately need it, I beg you to try to find it. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. We can take any student comments if anyone would like to. Thank you. Please state your name, you'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

CHASE:

Hello, I am Chase, C-H-A-S-E. I'm a senior in City High Charter School.

I take the P76 to school every day. I graduate in June, but these transit cuts will --- will hurt many other students, coworkers, and local businesses. They could also limit access to schools like mine. And with the Pittsburgh --- with Pittsburgh hosting the NFL draft next year, now is the worst time to cut transit. Thank you for your time.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. Any other student that's interested in speaking? Okay, thank you. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. DAVIS:

Hi. My name's Iklas Davis, I-K-L-A-S D-A-V-I-S.

One thing I'll say is that I'm not going to make it as personal, because I know that you all have to do what you all have to do. But one thing that I'll have to say is that looking at it economically, one thing I'll say is that yes, the NFL draft is coming. That's more and more people coming to Pittsburgh to come look at the draft, look at all the drafts, and that's more money going into y'all due to the transit.

I'll also say that personally, I'll say it takes me an hour to get to school and it --- no, my bad. It takes me an hour to get to school on one bus, and it takes me 30 minutes to get to school on a different bus. Cutting --- cutting buses will also have a effect to a lot of students because no matter what, again, not a lot of people are able to pay for Ubers and the disabled are going to be out without, like, getting help and stuff.

I'll also say that at the end of the day, no matter what, cutting --- cutting buses will also limit ways to get to places like Kennywood, that is one of the famous attractions to Pittsburgh, to PNC Stadium, to the --- to the Pirates, to the Steelers, and to Penguins the game as well. That's also a lot of money going into, getting to there and back home. And I'll do --- I will say, due to traffic, it will be less on traffic if a lot of people have to drive their cars in to go see these games.

And that's all. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. We can take another student. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak.

MR. SINDLER:

Hi, my name is Noah Sindler, N-O-A-H S-I-N-D-L-E-R. And I'm really just going to reiterate some of the things that other people have said in the past --- in the past 30 minutes or so.

We have people who need to take transportation to get dialysis. We have people that need to take transportation to get to the airport. And how are they going to be able to pay for Uber rides or Lyft rides when they are half as expensive as their airplane tickets? How do you expect people to get to where they need to be when they don't have the ability to get there when you are cutting these bus lines?

I just don't get it. You have the NFL draft coming up. That's going to be hundreds of thousands of people coming here. How are they going to get to wherever it's going to be hosted, either at Acrisure or at the Point or wherever? How do you expect people to get there? Because sure as hell they are not going to walk from however far their hotel is because all the hotels are going to be booked.

And the last thing that I want to say, if you are getting rid of, if there's going to be an 11:00 p.m. curfew because there's no need for it, or if it's because people are unwilling to drive at that time, I would. I would. Because all these people need these buses to get around, and I'd be perfectly fine with stepping up and doing that. Because clearly, you guys can't. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. We can take one more student right now.

MR. SHAFFER:

Do you have to be a student? I'm scheduled for 11:30.

MS. SANTOS:

11:30? Yes.

MR. SHAFFER:

You have one, you have one.

MS. SANTOS:

Yes, we're just going to --- we're trying to fill in the gaps until we get to your scheduled time.

MR. SHAFFER:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

But we'll get to you. Thank you. Please state your name. You have three minutes to speak.

MS. ALALI:

Hi, my name is Marah, M-A-R-A-H.

I'm here to talk about the cutting buses of the City of Pittsburgh. I have so many reasons why this would affect a lot of people of the City of Pittsburgh. People who --- it will make it harder for people who get to work, school, doctor's appointments, and especially where I live. I live in Crafton High. There is a lot of people who are coming new to the U.S., and they use the buses, doctor's appointments, work, and other stuff. And it will make it harder for them.

And coming to school will take an hour for me to get it. And I have to leave early from home to go to the bus because it takes an hour to 30 minute, or 40 minutes maximum. And it will affect people who are, I cannot say the word. People who are special needs and stuff.

That's it. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. Okay.

We'll take one more student.

MS. WELCH:

Hi. I'm not a student, clearly, but my students were speaking earlier. I'm Angela Welch, and I am one of the assistant principals at City Charter High School. And my name is spelled A-N-G-E-L-A W-E-L-C-H.

So I've been working at City High for over 20 years, and I've used public transit to get to work every day. Right now, I am taking the, either the G2 or the G31. But most importantly, I'm not worried about myself because I can figure that out. I'm worried about the 600 kids that come into the City every day that we educate at City High.

And so, we rely on the buses. If students have --- don't have access to public transportation, they can't get to school. Our school prides itself on preparing students for life after high school. And so, that includes coming into the City, being a professional, going to work. If we limit these buses, we're going to limit their education and they will not be able to come to City High.

They will have to go to their home schools, and some of their home schools are considered unsafe or don't have high academic, rigorous expectations for them. And so, it is important for you to think about this. Our school, which has been here in downtown Pittsburgh for over 20 years, will no longer be able to serve students. And also, we have 100 employees that also take public transportation.

It's really important that these cuts are not made, because at this point, there are students and families who have said to us, if these cuts are made, next year, we can no longer come to your school. And at this point, it is a serious concern and we're worried about our student population.

On a personal note, I will tell you that my mom is full time in a wheelchair, and she directly relies, and I rely, on access for her. We cannot transport without ACCESS because she's in a wheelchair full time. And so, I would hate to see cuts for that, for the ACCESS system because we would not be able to take her to doctor's appointments or to wherever she would like to go. And so, that would be a huge detriment to her also.

I thank you for your time, and please reconsider on making those cuts so that we can function as a successful high school for our students, who are awesome, by the way. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Do we have anyone here who was registered to speak in the ten o'clock hour? I didn't forget you. You're almost there. I could --- we could not. Anyone who was registered to speak in the ten o'clock hour that you did not get your opportunity to speak?

And I apologize for jumping in, Laura. I've made it a mess.

MS. SANTOS:

It's okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

All right.

You're back in charge.

MS. SANTOS:

All right.

The next speaker is Olivia Sylvester. Okay, thank you. You have three minutes to speak. Oh, you have --- oh, no, it's okay. Thank you.

MS. SYLVESTER:

Good morning. My name is Olivia Sylvester, and I am a graduate student in mathematics at the University of Pittsburgh. I moved here in August, and will continue to live here in Pittsburgh for the next four years of my PhD program.

One of my favorite things about the City is the bus system. My student ID acts as a bus pass, and I don't have a car, and I never felt like I needed one. I recognize the budget crisis requires cuts to the bus lines, but --- but I urge you to rethink the areas which are being cut.

Public transportation isn't just about providing a service. It provides public safety. I'm specifically referring to the buses that run until 2:00 a.m. having their times cut to stop running at 11:00 p.m., such as the 61s, 71s, 54s, and 82. I'm aware that there are fewer riders, and running during these times costs money, the same way funding firefighters and police officers to keep the city safe costs money as well.

Pittsburgh, and especially the neighborhoods around Oakland, are largely student populations, which means thousands of young women like me, who may fear walking home alone at night after a study session runs longer than anticipated, or a night hanging out with my friends in Southside, where I prefer to spend $25 on local bars and restaurants than on the Uber app to take me home.

With the buses past 11:00 p.m. gone, so much money that could be going into the local economy will instead be going to an app that takes anywhere from 50 percent to 80 percent from the drivers who actually did the work. Me and many others would gladly pay increased fares past 11:00 p.m. if it's still cheaper and safer than the alternatives. And while I'd like all the buses to stay running past 11:00 p.m., if I could only save one, it would be the 54. It connects Southside to Oakland to the strip district. It's how the young college students on Carson Street who may now have made the best decisions that night, can get home safely because they deserve safety, too. It is my ride home after supporting the local music scene at Thunderbird Cafe in Lawrenceville or Bottle Rocket in Southside. Most importantly, it connects my friends to me, and as I suppose, is the case for so many others.

This is why I fight to save it and why I urge you to fight to save it as well. Thank you for your time.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. The next speaker is Wyndell Williams. Again, that is Wyndell Williams. Next speaker, Nancy Wehe. Oh, okay, thank you. Next Speaker, Sonia Kail. Oh,

yes. Okay.

Sir, what time are you speaking?

MR. NEAL:

I believe 11:30.

MS. SANTOS:

Would you like to go ahead of time?

MR. NEAL:

Beg your pardon?

MS. SANTOS:

Would you like to go earlier? Yes. You can take the podium if you wish. Thank you. You have three minutes to speak.

MR. NEAL:

Thank you very much. Hello. It's very --- I'm very pleased to see you here, Senator.

PUBLIC MEMBER:

What's your name?

MR. NEAL:

I'm sorry, allow me to --- well, my name's Terry Neal, N-E-A-L. and I'm a retired Navy veteran. I relocated to Pittsburgh, made this my home four years ago. I lived on the north side, but I just recently, in the last year, relocated to Penn Hills.

I want to speak specifically about one route. It affects a lot of people in my church, and there's a lot of conversation going on about this particular route and a lot of the other cancellations. This is the 77 that actually is being canceled. That would take people from downtown all the way out to Penn Hills. You're going through Homewood, East Liberty, entire neighborhoods. The conversations that are being had is one of disenfranchisement. You have a lot of people who are poor and feel that people don't care about them. You're going to have people that aren't going to be able to go to work, along with their daycare. Now, the expense of Uber or other transportations that they're going to have to take on.

It --- it's ridiculous, and people are afraid because it's going to change people's lives totally. I know that's a consideration that you put into your decisions, and business is one of the primary things that you have to look at. And cost is something that doesn't go away, and that's appreciated and respected.

But we have communities of people, and I'm new to Pittsburgh, but I sense communities because I do a lot of activities. There's a lot of communities that feel that people just don't care about them. You know, unless you've done something wrong, unless you actually draw some attention to yourself in some other kind of ridiculous way. You have people who believe in this City. This is a great City. I --- I compliment the transfer system. I've lived in a lot of major cities. I grew up in South Chicago. Your busway rivals the metro in D.C. So you guys have a lot of things to be proud about.

But the major component, the people, seem to be one of the least considerations. They should be the primary consideration. You're going to have neighborhoods that aren't going to be able to go anywhere. There are members at my church who can't even go anywhere on the weekends because the buses doesn't --- don't ride in their neighborhood on the weekends already. So now they're talking about eliminating an entire route. Frankstown Road, we're talking about.

Thank you --- a major route in this city. It goes all through --- many neighborhoods, and it's talking about eliminating it totally. Thank you for listening.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. We can take a student speaker. The next speaker would be Karen Smith. Thank you. You have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. SALVADEO:

Great, thank you. I'm actually a teacher that was with the student group. My name is Alicia Salvadeo, A-L-I-C-I-A S-A-L-V-A-D-E-O.

As I said, I'm a teacher with City Charter High School. I've been a bus rider for 17 years, since I first came here to attend Pitt. I do rely it to go to work every day. One of my lines, the two, would be cut. Another would be partially eliminated. I only live four miles from the school, but I spend about an hour commuting every day because of times, walking, et cetera. I have a young son who was born last year. That's time cutting into time with my son, right?

I'm also here because I think he deserves clean air. More cars on the road because of fewer buses is a step in the opposite direction for him and a lot of other young people and older people who struggle with asthma, like myself.

I have well over 100 other reasons to be here, and you've already heard from a lot of our students, so I'm here on their behalf as well. We looked at the lists together in my class. We took a look and a lot shared how it would impact them getting to and from school. It would impact their younger siblings, who they're often responsible for getting to school or daycare before they even hit our rooms. And some of them, I have to keep awake during the day because they work late hours, often past 11:00 p.m., at which point they might not be able to get a bus home. So this would impact them greatly, not to mention 180,000 other workers, drivers, people getting to and from hospitals, healthcare, et cetera.

Finally, I'll just say, I understand this is a state budget issue. Sometimes, we hear that it's a matter of, you know, urban versus rural when making these decisions. And I understand that people in rural communities need and deserve a lot as well. But a lot of people, as it is in Pittsburgh, and in Philadelphia, can't pay their rent, can't make their gas bills, can't buy these groceries that might be grown in Pennsylvania or elsewhere, pay their gas bills that maybe, you know, some of these communities, you know, help get our gas in terms of. Yeah, our electric infrastructure, gas infrastructure.

So a lot of this is interconnected, and rural and city residents need to rely on each other. I think this is a priorities issue. And buses, mass transit, sustainable transit absolutely has to be a priority for our entire state. We should evaluate, you know, what large companies are getting tax breaks and consider making sure that they're paying their fair share. And I know a lot of other students have had excellent ideas. I know Pittsburghers for Public Transit have had ideas in terms of where we can make up those dollars as well.

Thank you very much for giving myself and my students the time this morning.

MS. KELLEMAN:

And I see some signs over there. Are there other students with signs that you want to show? Oh, okay. Well, we'll wait for everybody to get the contingent held. Oh, there we --- thank you, thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. The next speaker is Karen Smith. Okay. If any students would like to speak, we can take you now. Oh, hello. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak.

MS. TURK:

Good morning, everyone. My name is Kelly Turk. I am a science teacher at City Charter High School, and I'd use public transit in the morning and in the afternoon. I take the 01 and the 012, which will both be eliminated routes. Now, I'm not so much worried about myself as I am about my students. I will make it work.

So, this is a very serious impact on our students, staff, families, and the broader community, and the consequences extend beyond mere inconvenience. Many of our students depend on public transportation to attend school, work, part time jobs, and access to essential services like healthcare. Reduced service means more cars on the road, longer commutes, and increased traffic congestion. Families will face higher costs as they become more reliant on personal vehicles or ride shares like Uber.

Opportunities for field trips and enrichment --- enrichment activities may decline unless schools can absorb those extra expense of private transportation. Limited bus options could drive up parking prices due to simple supply and demand. And with more cars on the road, we'll see the rise in carbon emissions, worsening the air quality for everyone, especially those with asthma or other respiratory conditions. You may think this won't affect you personally, but it will affect our future. It affects our students, and you should probably think about how we can put this into their hands. Instead of saying we're going to eliminate and reduce bus routes, what if you pose the question, students, how can we fix this problem? They have come up with some brilliant out of the box ideas that we as adults don't always think of, and we keep ourselves boxed in.

Please post the question. Our students are brilliant. Thank you for your time.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. If you registered to speak between 11:00 to 12:00, we can take you now if you just raise your hand. Yes, go --- go ahead, ma'am. You have three minutes --- you'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. SAGE:

My name is Sharon Sage, S-H-A-R-O-N S-A-G-E. I'm a diabetic and cancer survivor. I used ACCESS to get to and from my radiation and --- and brachytherapy sessions, 25 of them outside of the hospital.

Two years ago, I rode the regular Port Authority buses with cataracts. I was almost blind. I used the mail box as a marker one stop before coming back. One stop before my stop. Coming back from Oakland, I used the lighted kiosk as a marker one stop before getting off the bus. I then walked the eight to nine blocks to my sister's house where I paid half the household expenses. I fell into a pothole one time. I was that blind.

My sister occasionally drives me places, but she's in physical rehab and hospitals off and on since June, and I can't carry her oxygen tanks when she comes home. I take the ACCESS van because I have bandages on my legs due to swelling from diabetes. I am unable to walk the eight to nine blocks to the bus stop. In fact, I use the ACCESS van's lift a lot because of the swelling, or the front seat of a ACCESS cab.

The van allows me to go grocery shopping, make doctor and other medical appointments, to attend church, and go to library functions. Soon I'd like to go to Vintage Senior Services recommended by medical staff for exercise. Next year, I'd like to go to Cancer Survivors for a nine week session for survivors. I'd like to attend theater productions in the cultural district and attend a movie at the waterfront.

I'm not sure if, you're going to cut off these buses at 11:00,

I'll be able to get home after such endeavors. I am dependent on public transportation, but this zTrip and Uber are too expensive to use a lot. For the number of doctor visits I have, the cost would be prohibitive. Should I have to be independent living next year, I'm not sure which location would have public transportation, especially ACCESS to get to and from places if you cut it.

Thank you for hearing my story. Don't cut ACCESS opportunities too much. I'm dependent on it. And a number of seniors, especially those in wheelchairs, personally need the ACCESS. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Anyone else scheduled between 11:00 to 12:00 to speak, we can take you now. Any students that would like to speak, we can also take you now.

Yes. Yes, you can go ahead. Can you please state ---?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Are you double dipping? Iklas, right?

MS. DAVIS:

Yes, ma'am.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Good to see you again.

MR. DAVIS:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Please state your name again, and we'll have --- you'll have three minutes to speak.

MR. DAVIS:

Yes, ma'am. Hi, my name's Iklas Davis. I was up here a couple minutes ago.

There's a couple solutions that can help, sorry. There's a couple solutions that's able to help Port Authority with --- with funding and stuff. There's sponsors. There's also certain types of ways.

A teacher told --- a teacher told us in class, go by Ms. Turk, says something about how the T is also free going to, I forget the destinations, but it's --- it's free to get there. There's other --- there's other certain ways to, like, put funding and put money into Port Authority's pockets, like a quarter. A quarter to --- to take the T. Like, no one will really be like, okay, it's a quarter.

But at the end of the day, every quarter that's proposed and put into every single stop, it's $0.50 cents each day and no matter what, the --- the money will go up.

What I'm asking is that, why not ask the people? What are some solutions to be able to help out, to help put money into the Port Authority's? Yes, there are some cons when --- when it comes to buses, like the --- some people that don't pay or how there's elderly, but that's not a con. The elderly need to get to place by place each and every day. At the end of the day, no matter what, we need to help out the future. And what we're not --- what we're doing now is not helping the future.

Again, with climate change, there's also a lot of pollution. There's a lot of carbon dioxide going into the air. With every single car in traffic, and we can all say traffic in Pittsburgh sucks no matter what. It's not going to be able to --- it's not going to help out. There's going to be more and more traffic each and every day. More carbonation in the air, and it's not going to do nothing but set us back a couple of years back then.

All I am proposing is that at the end of the day, we have --- we have electric stuff. We have --- we have solar powers. We have so many other things. Why not ask the people what can we do to provide for Port Authority instead of cutting all these bus lines and making it more difficult to understand that we're --- we're all human? We need to go place by place.

Thank you for letting me speak.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Davis.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Is there anyone else scheduled between 11:00 to 12:00? Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Michael, did you want to speak to us again?

MS. SANTOS:

Yeah.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Brian.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Brian, I am so sorry.

MS. SANTOS:

Brian.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Brian.

MS. SANTOS:

Okay.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Yes.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Brian from the South Hills.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Thank you. Sorry --- sorry about that. Thank you. Who's that, Darcy? Thank you, sir.

Good morning again. My name is Brian. I was thinking of ideas while I was listening to people talk here this morning. And what about having some of our sports teams help fund the Port Authority and fund different places? Like, you have the 71 that goes downtown and you have other routes that go downtown towards the arena. Why not put sponsorships on those routes, like the Penguins route, the Pirates route, and the Steelers route, of course. You know, that way they could fund money and raise money to help better service because we, as the people who are fans of the sports, take the --- can take the service to see the games. If --- you get what I'm talking about?

And also, my question is, wasn't casino money supposed to go help the Port Authority in a long term crunch? Because I remember back when the casinos were being. When the casinos were being thought of, and I --- I remember they were. When the casinos were being --- the casinos were being public transit and --- and funding was a yes vote on --- on why I wanted them in --- in this state.

So we --- we have to think outside the box. Not just students, but everybody needs to to help save our services. And there's a lot of stuff we could do. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Brian.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you. Is there anyone here that's scheduled to speak between 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. that would like to go earlier? I know that's ahead, but we have some room.

Okay. Okay.

Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. DEAROLF:

Hello, my name is Colleen Dearolf. And I live in Allentown near Mount Oliver and Mount Washington. And I depend on the buses to get to the store, to my appointments, and other things. So, I wanted just to say that please don't cut the funding. Okay?

I'm short and sweet, to the point. Okay? Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Okay. Okay.

We do have time, so if you would like to speak again, sir. Yes, go ahead.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Mr. Ross Mitchell.

MS. SANTOS:

Okay.

We'll take --- we'll take you, sir, first, and then we'll take you.

MR. MITCHELL:

Hi, Ross Mitchell again.

I just wanted to give some encouragement. Not just to the Board, but to all of us who are here. And hopefully, however you guys had your sign, this may be transmitted otherwise.

Several years ago, Port Authority was having public hearings. This one was held at your downtown headquarters. They do listen to us. I made a suggestion that there should be pay enter system wide. Pay enter system wide. Because at that time, it wasn't. It had a lot of shenanigans going on, but they actually implemented that.

So when we speak, they do hear us. And they also been hearing us a lot on, we must have service after 11:00. So, I'm hoping something can be worked out where we can, even if you pick certain routes that have high --- high need for the workers, entertainment, service after 11:00. And like I said, you took on the pay enter system and it seemed to work. And I'm glad I was able to suggest that.

So, thanks for the extra time.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

We'll take you, ma'am. Thank you. Again, you only have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining. Thank you.

MS. WEHE:

Hello, I'm Nancy. I was just up before.

I would like to make a comment. I hope they do not, because I take ACCESS to the bingo. I go, like, a couple times a month. And I usually have a pickup like, you know, they --- they call you prior to your pickup. And then they usually pick you up like 10:15. I do not hope they don't alleviate the ACCESS van because it takes me to the bingo, and I enjoy that. That's an activity.

So, I wanted to comment about that. I know they're going to increase the ACCESS fare because I had a flyer. So, I wanted to tell you. I wanted to tell you that --- that I enjoy taking ACCESS, and it --- and it --- and it gets me to the. That's the only place I can go. So, I enjoy taking ACCESS, too. Okay, thank you very much.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Okay.

There's, yes, go ahead. There's a --- yes, go ahead. You can go ahead. Thank you. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. GLYMOUR:

Thank you. My name is Madelyn Glymour. I am a lifelong Pittsburgher, and the daughter of a lifelong Pittsburgher, and we both take the bus nearly every day. I'm also a person who deeply misses the 500 route, if anybody here remembers that one.

Pittsburgh is a city of industry, supposedly. Whether that industry is steel, healthcare, or technology. Pittsburgh is a city that has prided itself on building the future. It's easy to think that the future now is entirely built by and on computers, but it's people who make healthcare decisions and people who create technology. Not just doctors and software engineers, but nurses, physical therapists, aides, technicians, IT workers, cooks, janitors, security, secretaries, and countless others are necessary to make Pittsburgh's industry work.

These people, whether they live in Squirrel Hill, Penn Hills, or the Hill District, need transportation to connect them to the places where they work, often well after 11:00 p.m., especially in healthcare care. Many of them do not have or cannot afford cars, but they still need a way to be connected to the places that they work and live their lives.

Public transportation is the lifeblood of the City and the engine that drives us into the future. It makes Pittsburgh closer, safer, more productive, and more connected. It is not an optional part of our city, and it must be funded. Thank you very much.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for your time.

Is there anyone here scheduled between 11:00 to 12:00 p.m. that would like to speak? Anyone here from 12:00 p.m. to 1:00 p.m. that would like to speak? That's scheduled for 11:00 to 12:00 p.m.? Yes, sir, we can take you.

Can you please state your name? Gentleman with the blue.

MR. NEAL:

Can I ask a question?

MS. SANTOS:

So, this is only --- we're only taking public hearing comments. The Board members would not be able to answer the questions.

MS. KELLEMAN:

But Mr. Neal, if we take a break shortly, we're happy to come talk to you.

MR. NEAL:

I'll speak with my

Senator.

SENATOR WILLIAMS:

I --- I'm happy to speak to you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Oh, my goodness.

SENATOR WILLIAMS:

Got it.

MS. SANTOS:

If you would like to speak, but have not registered to speak, we encourage you to go register outside at one of the tables in the lobby.

Has Terry Neal spoken? Okay, sorry, sir. You were scheduled for 11:30, and it showed up again. We can also take Jeremy Shaffer. Okay, thank you. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MR. SHAFFER:

All right.

Greetings. Thank you for doing this public hearing. My name is Jeremy Shaffer. I live in Gibsonia in the North Hills. So, I am the represent --- State Representative for the 28th Legislative District, which covers Marshall, Bradford, Woods, Pine, Richland, West Deer, and most of Hampton Township.

So, my district is actually a transit desert I like to say. We do not have any bus lines that come up into my area. Myself and my legislative assistant, we just took the 12. We drove to the McKnight Road Park and Ride, took the 12 down. Pretty seamless, but it still took us about an hour and 15 minutes to get from the McKnight Road parking lot to downtown Pittsburgh.

I would like to encourage you at the PRT to actually take the R, regional part of the name, and to make that a reality. People in my district are just as likely to go from Wexford to Cranberry as they are to go from Wexford to downtown or increasingly more so Wexford to Oakland, Wexford to the airport, Gibsonia. There --- there's lots of different points that people go to increasingly because of the hybrid work environment and work centers that are developing out by the airport or in South Point, different places around the whole region. Those trips take people further and further away.

I think, as we all know, the City of Pittsburgh's lost over 50 percent of its population in the past 50 or 60 years. So we have seen, while our region has basically stagnated in terms of population, it's actually spread out more throughout the county and throughout the region. So I would encourage PRT to think big, to look out as a ten year plan that takes account of the technologies that we have coming. We have a lot of very smart people, a lot of great companies here in Pittsburgh with autonomous vehicles.

You can see, I --- I, when I went to Carnegie Mellon, I extensively used Port Authority at the time, utilizing things like the 61C to be able to get from Squirrel Hill down to Carnegie Mellon. And so, I see there's a real value, especially in the high density areas, for public transit. And for the City of Pittsburgh, for our region to truly live up to its potential to be a world class region, we need a good transportation system. And when I say transportation system, I'm referring to roads, bridges, airport, transit, ports to be able to have that. So you all are a key part of helping our region reach its potential, and I encourage you to think big and truly embrace the whole region. Because those of us, especially on the periphery of Allegheny County, lack critical service that we need. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. We'll now take a ten minute break. So we will return at 11:42 --- let's make it 11:45, round number. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS TAKEN DURING THE PROCEEDING.)

BEN:

Okay.

so next up we have Cocoa Lindley.

MS. LINDLEY:

My name is Cocoa Lindley. I am a nurse who works throughout the Allegheny County and the outer counties. I depend on transit, normally work night shift, but also work second shift at times.

The service reductions would be very detrimental to most shift workers such as myself. I already often walk two to three miles to places where, had it been 15 years ago, I could have front door service. For example, in Plum Boro, Oakmont, I have to walk all the way up Halton Road to work overnight at the nursing facilities up there, which I'm willing to do. It's much safer for me to ride the bus after an overnight shift than to attempt to drive.

I am a choice rider, have CDL holder, very capable of driving. But as a night shift worker and as a woman, I just would rather take the bus overnight. And I would hope that there would be some sort of funding stream to at least retain service, if not grow our service. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you. Next we have Nate Budziszewski. Nate, you have three minutes. We'll let you know with one minute left.

MR. BUDZISZEWSKI:

Hi. I live in Bethel Park. I've worked as a teacher at City Charter High School downtown for the last 15 years. A major part of why we moved to Bethel was to have access to the light rail and the trolley. Traffic's never an issue. And not having to rely on a car and all the costs and maintenance that go with that has been a big part of our life.

It's also been a source of pride where friends who live in other parts of town only wish they could have that kind of asset in their neighborhoods and that kind of access to downtown, sporting events, just anything. So it's really unfortunate to even hear talks about making these cuts when, if anything, we should be looking at ways to expand its services.

I've already seen how, like, the recent maintenance on the lines can have a big impact on services. My commute's longer. It impacts what time I can get to school, what time I can leave. I have two little girls at home. I have to leave earlier, which I miss them in the mornings. I arrive later, which impacts their after school and extracurricular sports. Everything like that. That puts a hardship on my wife, who now is their primary person to drive around. And, you know, I'll make it when I can.

And so, I hope a solution can be found that doesn't involve cutting these routes, cutting these services, and if anything, like was said earlier, expanding it or bringing back prior lines that are a necessary lifeline for students, workers, families, everybody. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you. Next up, we have four just entries for City Charter. I don't have a name for them. Do we have a registered member for City Charter? Okay, thank you very much.

Do we have anybody else that is registered to speak before noon? If we have nobody else before noon, at noon we have Chloe Isabella. Is she present yet? Is there anybody else in the 12 o'clock hour registered that would like to go early?

While we're waiting on our next speakers, if anybody has not registered and would like to speak, you can come up and do that and register. Register afterwards in the lobby.

So, please state your name. I wasn't here for the first time. And again, you have three minutes. We'll let you know with one minute remaining.

MR. ELLSWORTH:

Okay.

My name is Alex Ellsworth, A-L-E-X E-L-L-S-W-O-R-T-H.

And while I've been listening to some of these people speak, I've been thinking of some solutions, and one I thought of is having on vehicle tap to pay. So let's say, for example, you're going on to the T. You have three options to pay. You have the option where you can have the app on your phone and then you scan the actual code, which requires additional setup. You can have a connect card or a ticket, or you can have cash.

Now if --- main method that a lot of people use is cash. And if you don't have cash, what happens? Well, you don't pay. You get a ride, and obviously that's not a good thing for the company. So if you have on vehicle tap to pay with, like, Apple Pay and Google Pay, it doesn't require any additional setup. It's as easy as taking your phone out of your pocket, putting it on, and then you've already paid. So that makes it a lot easier for people to pay if they don't have cash or a connect card already. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you. We have a few more minutes 'till our next registered speakers. So I'll give everyone another round of, if there's anybody in the 12 o'clock hour that is registered that would like to go early, can come up.

So we have a new registrant, Chris Rieger. That's who just walked in. You can come down. Please state your name on the mic, and you will have three minutes. We'll let you know when one minute's remaining.

MR. RIEGER:

Thank you very much. That was quick. Thank you, and good afternoon. My name again is Chris Rieger. I reside in Dormont. I currently sit on Dormont Borough Council.

Our municipality of 8,200 people sits in the South Hills, nestled just south of Beechview in just three quarters of a square mile. We are the fourth most densely populated municipality in the entire Commonwealth, more so than Philadelphia. We are serviced currently by the 41 bus route as well as not one, not two, but three T stations.

Needless to say, the proposed service cuts and rate hikes will be nothing short of devastating, both for our community as well as our neighbors in the South Hills. You can literally throw a baseball from my front porch to the tracks and platform at Potomac Station. I see multiple times daily how foot traffic going to and from our stop indicates just how vital and essential public transit is to our Borough and so many other communities.

Half of our residents are renters, and as such, many rely on public transit for basic living. Going to and from work, accompanying their children to extracurricular activities, grocery shopping, you name it. But to be clear, service reduction doesn't just affect renters or those living close to a light rail station or a bus stop. Many from outside our community utilize these services to take advantage of amenities in and around the City. Attending concerts and sporting events on the North Shore, going to a show in the cultural district, whatever.

Moreover, service reduction does not even just affect those who even use it sparingly. Service cuts and rate hikes mean businesses in and around the city hurt. It means increased commute times for those living in the suburbs who think these cuts will not affect them. It means more hazardous traffic. And believe me when I say that more treacherous and congested traffic on West Liberty Avenue and Banksville Road is the last thing that our area wants.

Service cuts can also affect public policy, critical issues like housing. I saw a couple of weeks ago that you sent out a press release regarding our TOD location at Dormont Junction, part of the culmination of our Borough's zoning rewrite a few years ago. Service cuts may very well affect the viability of that project, which would further stunt the development of additional affordable housing.

And to those who say restoration of funding to pre-pandemic levels is not justified because of a reduction in ridership, I'm of the mindset that the more adequately you fund public services and public amenities, the more people will use them. Our reps in Harrisburg need to understand this, and if the political will in Harrisburg is not there to find a solution, then our policymakers at the county level need to get back to the table and find creative ways to fund the gap and deliver on essential public service that directly and indirectly affects us all, whether we realize it or not. Thank you very much.

BEN:

Thank you, Chris. Looks like we've gotten the four speakers registered for City Charter. I don't have specific names, so if the group from City Charter has organized, we'll take the first speaker.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

Good afternoon, City Charter students. How you guys doing? You're so quiet, you're killing me. Who has been to a public hearing before? Well, a couple of you. Okay, great.

So, the purpose of this hearing is you come up, you get a three minute window. We don't talk to you. It's not because we don't want to. It's because the point of this is to give --- to get your --- your comments on the record. We can come talk to you separately, but we'll ask you to come up. You're going to state your name. You can spell it if you want to, for the record. And then you get three minutes to talk. And then your friends will clap and wave your signs, which are really great.

So, Ms. Welch, do you have anyone who would like to go first?

BEN:

When you come up, if you could state your name?

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're at the podium, Leah.

BEN:

Wait, no you're --- you're good. Relax. At the podium, state your name. You'll have three minutes, and we'll let you know when you have one minute left.

MS. PARTRIDGE:

Okay.

Hi, my name's Leah Partridge, L-E-A-H-P A-R-T-R-I-D-G-E.

My name is Leah. I'm a student at City Charter High School. With the PRT bus changes, I would no longer be able to easily attend high school, cosmetology school, work part time, or attend things like athletics, religious activities, or socialize outdoors with friends, or be able to afford public transit. With the delays in time schedule, I also will have to cut my working and socialization hours drastically. That's all I have. Thank you for your time.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you.

MR. JAMES:

Hello. My name is Avontay James, A-V-O-N-T-A-Y, and I am a senior student from City Charter High School. And I would like to talk about the potentiality of the public transit system getting cut off or limited.

Firstly, I would like to wonder, do any of you guys use public transit? Do any of you have loved family members or anybody you care about or love that rides the buses in general? Because I do. Have you waited in the cold for extremely unfair amounts of time to get home? You know, I have and so have many of my family members.

So I would like --- I'm wondering how any of this affects any of you guys at all. And I would like to say, the state's budget is handled poorly and it's shown clearly by the lack of time put into this choice and decision.

BEN:

Thank you. Do we have another student?

MS. PETERS:

Hello, my name's Aniyah, Peters, A-N-I-Y-A-H P-E-T-E-R-S.

My name is Aniyah Peters, and I go to City Charter High school. Public transit is important to me because it is an affordable system that helps me get around the city. Without transit, it will be harder to get where I need to be, such as school and work. Without a ride, I would not be able to get to school, work, and will have to find my own transportation, which can take time and sometimes money.

Money that I don't have. More money than you would usually use to get on a bus. No public transit can cause people to be late to jobs, to lose their jobs, and just sometimes just might not make it to their destination. How am I going to get to work? How am I going to get to school? We need public transportation so we can get to our destination.

That's it. Thank you.

MR. MONTOYA:

Hello. My name is Joshua Montoya, but you can literally just call me Josh. It's a lot shorter. And I am a student at City Charter High School for talking about public transportation.

And why I think public transportation is important because it could be helpful for me and to you. Why? Because --- because if we don't own our own personal vehicles, we can literally be having trouble getting --- getting to our homes, into our job, places that --- that we work at. And it could be having trouble for you with our lives, just like for me or for you if you're having this trouble kind of --- kind of situation that you're having. And that's mostly it for me also.

BEN:

Thank you, Josh. We have some more time between our --- oh, that's exactly what I was just about to ask for.

MS. CHAPMAN:

Hi. I'm sorry, this was very, like, last minute, but hi, my name is Zahara Chapman, Z-A-H-A-R-A. Chapman, C-H-A-P-M-A-N. I'm a senior at City Charter High School, and I've been attending there for four years. For those four years, I have been taking public transportation and I've relied on public transportation to get around for those four years and many to come, depending on, you know, money.

But to add on, a lot of people use the bus. From tourists to people who work and along with children just learning their way around the city. I feel as if this cuts --- this gets cut and the buses take longer to get there, people's time would have to be cut in severe amounts, and that could really be detrimental to the working class considering they have to be there at a very strict time. So, I would just like to say just think about the working class, considering that they all have a role in how we operate to our day-to-day lives. That'll be it. Thank you.

BEN:

Okay.

Before we move on, I would like to go back to see if we have Chloe Isabella present? She was registered at noon. If we don't have Chloe, are there any more students from City Charter? We don't have any more students from City Charter. We can move on.

This is a little early, but is Libby Powers ready to speak? Do we have anybody else in the 12 o'clock hour that would be --- like to speak early? If you could please let us know your name, you will have three minutes. We'll let you know with one minute to go. Thank you.

MS. ENGLAND:

Certainly. Hi, I am Jennifer England, Vice President of External Affairs at 412 Food Rescue.

We believe that good food belongs to people, not landfills. And we rescue food from businesses that would otherwise go to waste and deliver it to people facing food insecurity. Eighty (80) to 90 percent of the food that we rescue is fresh. Therefore, we work with organizations outside the traditional charitable food system of food banks and pantries, like job training programs and Head Start locations, in order to get fresh food where it can be used quickly.

In 2024 alone, our organization delivered 4.7 million pounds of food and recovered that food to over 500 nonprofit locations. Most of those were non-traditional access points that help us bring food within reach for many people in Allegheny County. However, food is only in reach if people can get there.

A key pillar of our mission is partnering with --- with non-charitable food system organizations and food apartheid in low income communities to increase access to fresh food. And these are the very areas impacted by the proposed cuts. Our on staff data scientists analyzed the impact of these route cuts, and found that approximately 22,000 people live within a walkshed of these routes. Nearly 10,000 of those live within a tract that's considered to be a food apartheid or food desert tract. And a third of those are combined --- living in combined low income and low access areas.

Public transit isn't just a commuting concern. It is also a serious food security issue. A significant portion of our partner locations rely on public transit for both distributing food donations and client access. The proposed transit cuts jeopardize the flow of food into those communities by restricting the ability of clients to reach these nonprofit sites, amplifying existing barriers to food security.

A shocking number of our distribution partners are directly along the routes slated for elimination. Again, looking at the impacted service area in 2024, 171 of our nonprofit partner organizations are in those areas. Twenty-nine (29) would be completely inaccessible via bus, and 142 of them would become significantly less accessible.

These organizations represent nearly a quarter of our distribution with over 1.2 million pounds of food distributed in those areas, and about 200,000 pounds of food, or 166,000 meals, were distributed by those organizations that would become inaccessible with these transit cuts.

As a side note, our partners in Philadelphia Philly Food Rescue are facing similar catastrophic impacts due to service cuts. So we urge the Pennsylvania legislator --- legislature to take steps to ensure that access to food, medical care, jobs, and other critical services are kept intact. Transportation is literally the first step for residents of Allegheny County and the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania on a path to basic sustenance, good health, and prosperity.

Thank you. I rushed. I have a written copy of that that also includes the GIS charts that we assembled.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you. Take care. Thank you very much. We'll go back and check. Is Chloe, would Chloe like to speak? Chloe Isabella? Okay.

We'll move on to Libby Powers. Is Libby Powers checked in, like to speak? Jay Walker?

Ma'am, would you like?

MS. SAGE:

I was here before, but I had an idea that's creative. I was thinking, I told several people, but I've added on. So it might get lost in the computer used, but the idea is to have a competition with the high school students because the teachers have said they came up with ideas and/or a competition with the college students. And have the --- have the sports teams sponsor the prize so that a scholarship could be raised for one of the prize winners.

Maybe you come up with other ideas for the prizes, but with the incentive you might come up with some really creative ideas outside the box. I thought you guys were sitting here bored waiting for people, so I thought I'd just tell you that idea.

BEN:

Can we have your name again, ma'am?

MS. KELLEMAN:

And Ms. Sage, correct? So we have your name for the record, Ms. Sage?

MS. SAGE:

My name's Sharon Sage.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Sharon Sage. Yes, ma'am. Thank you.

BEN:

Yeah. We'll check with Libby Powers again. Do we have Libby Powers? Jay Walker? Giovanni

Montagnino? Kelda Gorman? Gentlemen with the sound, can we have the mic at the table? Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Great. Thank you, Darcy.

MS. GORMAN:

My name is Kelda Gorman. I'm a disabled Allegheny County resident. And these cuts would impact everything from my ability to access food, medical care, religious services, pretty much everything. Because I'm not medically allowed to obtain a license. And I don't really, can't really mentally or physically afford medically to not have access to those things.

So, that's what I'm here to try to fight for. So we can stop these cuts. Thank you.

BEN:

All right.

We'll run through starting from, back from noon again. Chloe? Libby? Libby Powers? Jay Walker? Giovanni Montagnino? Amy Zaiss?

Is anybody present who would like to speak registered so you can speak early? Or if not, we'd ask you that you would just register after you speak.

Good afternoon. If you could please state your name at the microphone. We will give you three, and we'll have a sign over here to let you know when you have one minute left.

MS. POWERS:

My name is Libby Powers, and I am from Sewickley, Pennsylvania, where I take the Ohio Valley number 14 route. And that is one of the routes that is proposed to be completely eliminated.

To eliminate this route would drastically impact my life because I work and enjoy going out into the community and want to be able to do that freely and unrestricted. I moved back to my hometown of Sewickley specifically to be able to be on the bus line. So I was able to independently navigate the community on my own without the restrictions of scheduling, such as with individuals have with paratransit. And so, to remove this route would drastically impact my ability to navigate my own community, which I feel is unfair and also unrealistic because it is the only route that goes up and down one way, and only goes. Is the only route that goes through town on a regular, timed basis.

We do have the Route 21 bus, but that is more infrequent and does not go all the way to downtown. It goes to Stanwix Street. So, I would need the number 14 because the number 14 opens my world and allows me to experience and enjoy things and to be a part of a community and be a fully active member of my community. And to have that taken away is scary because that would leave me, and among others, many others, stranded and without a way to get around the community on our own schedules. And that is, to me, very frustrating and frightening because I don't have any other means of being able to get other places without public transit.

And I took public transit, for instance, today down here to speak with you all. And so, it is vitally important that we keep the number 14 route in service because if you take it away, you take me away. And that is not fair and is not reasonable. Because I am an active person who loves to be outside and in her own community and experiencing things downtown, like things at the cultural district and different events in other locations. So, I reason with you that I understand that the budget is important and is vitally the way that individuals and services function, and stay and function. But there has to be another way to maximize service without stripping people away of their right to transportation. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you very much. Do we have Kevin Cash? Kevin Cash, if you could state your name at the microphone, you will have three minutes. You can go to the podium if you'd like.

MR. CASH:

Do I repeat my name that you just stated?

BEN:

Yes. Just for the record, please. And you will have three minutes, and we'll have a sign over here to let you know with one minute left.

MR. CASH:

Okay.

Again, Kevin Cash, just for the record.

I understand one, if I am not mistaken, the P7 is eliminated or will be eliminated, which is the express and is very convenient for transport from McKeesport into the City, downtown Pittsburgh. Why the total elimination? Is my question.

MS. KELLEMAN:

So sorry, Mister --- with public hearings, we take your comment at this point. We can come around --- yeah.

MR. CASH:

Oh, okay.

Just comments?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Yeah, yeah. But we can come around and talk to you. I don't want you to think that we.

MR. CASH:

I don't have time.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

MR. CASH:

So I'll just make comments.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Good, good, good.

MR. CASH:

I'm not good with that at this point because I spoke of the convenience into the City first thing in the morning, and then later in the day into, yeah. Early evening as well. Inbound, both inbound and outbound.

I also notice that changes will be made where the 55 Glassport, the 56 Lincoln Place, and the 58. No, and the 59 Mon Valley are concerned. What I noticed --- I'm surprised, with the Lincoln Place, there's a major reduction. But with the 59 Mon Valley and as well as the 55 Glassport, the --- the changes are minor. Those two are minor, but the 56 is major. And that's a concern because a lot of residents, myself included, in McKeesport ride the 56. That's the other option as far as transportation into downtown Pittsburgh, into the City. Whereas with the 59 and --- and the 55, the reductions are minor.

And then there's a concern about the increased wait times. There's, I mean that's, it's vague. And that's another concern. We need --- I need, but I speak of course in, as an advocate for other riders in my area, in the McKeesport area.

Just need clarity. We need specifics. You know, it's, this is vague. Everything's being proposed now, and then to cut the fares as well as --- I mean cut the --- cut the service, but at the same time increase the fare. We need more clarity where that is concerned as well.

I'm curious about the spending as well. I --- is there public record of --- of the spending, how managed --- how day-to-day management is --- is facilitated, initiated where spending is concerned? Do we have access to that information as well as riders? In order to ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

I'll talk to you --- do you have a minute after you're done with your comment?

MR. CASH:

Sure, sure.

MS. KELLEMAN:

I'll come talk to you.

MR. CASH:

Okay, go ahead.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

Let's go. Mr. Cash, right?

MR. CASH:

Yes.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

Let's talk.

MR. CASH:

Oh, okay.

Wait. How much time do I have?

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're done, three minutes.

MR. CASH:

It's timeout?

BEN:

Yeah.

MR. CASH:

Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

But we got your comment, so let's chitchat. Ms. Brown, can you join ---?

BEN:

Thank you, Mr. Cash. Let's --- is Chloe present? Dan Tracy? Dan Tracy, if you could come up. If you say your name in the mic, and you will have three minutes. We'll let you know with the sign when one minute remaining.

MR. TRACY:

Oh, okay.

BEN:

Thank you.

MR. TRACY:

Hi, good afternoon. I'm Dan Tracy. Just had a couple questions, more than anything. I was wondering how long y'all have known about the shortfall in the budget?

BEN:

So sir, I will reiterate. Katherine said right now is just time to take statements from you. If there's a question that they can address, they can come with you on the side. But for up here, if we could just have statements for you, they'll listen.

MR. TRACY:

Sure.

BEN:

Listen to whatever you have to say.

MR. TRACY:

Yes.

MODERATOR:

And sir, we also have staff outside that can answer questions as well.

MR. TRACY:

Yes. I --- I already spoke with them. But the issue I have is that it seems that a lot of money was spent on renaming from PAT to PRT. I'm sure that wasn't cheap. I see all the signage, the paint jobs. And if anybody foreseeing a budget would, why they would do something like that if they know they're running low on funds. I mean, I've known it as PAT for years, and I mean, why change it if it's going to cost you a fortune?

My second question is, why the need for your own police force when we have Pittsburgh police? I don't believe crime is different on a bus than it is on the street, in an Uber, or your home. A crime is a crime. I don't know --- I don't understand why I constantly see Ford Explorers idling all day on a street corner with a paid officer sitting in them. And I just see money wasted everywhere.

And before I am forced at gunpoint to pay taxes to support public transit, why they're not doing their part and, you know, working within a budget, that's about all I can say. Thank you.

BEN:

Thank you. Jay Walker. If you could restate your name in the mic, and you will have three minutes. There will be a sign over here letting you know when you have one minute left.

MR. WALKER:

Right. Hello. Good afternoon, my name is Jay Ting Walker, and I'm an outreach coordinator of the Clean Air Council, a nonprofit environmental health organization with offices in Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

As an environmental health organization, Clean Air Council advocates for policy and infrastructure that improve air quality by promoting sustainable modes of transportation. Well-funded, efficient, and equipped public transit --- transportation is necessary in the move towards greener and healthier communities.

We urge you today to stop the fare hikes, stop the service cuts, and approve the necessary funds to save Pittsburgh's public transit. The 20 percent cuts that have already been instituted have left transit riders with gaps in their service. As the agency works to get its rider numbers back up to 2019 levels, additional cuts of the proposed drastic amounts would halt progress and sink the agency further.

The state has not increased funding in a decade. It is time for Harrisburg to recognize the importance of reliable service and prioritize PRT. The plan to cut the bus and T service by 35 percent and ACCESS services by 62 percent will have devastating consequences for all, especially the most vulnerable communities that rely on affordable and accessible public transit to get to schools, groceries, hospitals, and work each and every day.

It is imperative that the State legislature step up and close the public transit deficit, and invest in the wellbeing of its constituents. The people of Pittsburgh and across the Commonwealth deserve a healthy environment where they can thrive. Sustainable transportation is vital to making that happen. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking. You can hand it to them. Thank you. The next speaker, Giovanni Montagnino. Oh, thank you. Yes, we'll take you now. Okay.

You will have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when you have one minute remaining.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Good to see you again, Giovanni.

MR. MONTAGNINO:

Hi. My name is Giovanni

Montagnino. I live in Heidelberg, Pennsylvania. I have autism, and I --- and I relied on PRT buses for so many years.

The bus routes are --- I take are the 31, G2, 91, inbound 28X, and the 61C. I rely on the bus to go to work, go to the train station, airport, Kennywood, Sandcastle, more importantly, Pirate games. That's my only means of transportation --- only means of transportation to get around Pittsburgh. It saves energy and the environment.

When I first heard about PRT's service cuts, I was very shocked and devastated. Devastated. Ending service at 11 o'clock daily? Not fair. Closing the Collier and Ross garages --- garages and eliminating special event services, like Pirate games and the NFL draft next year. Many Pirate fans who attend games only rely on the bus. If a game ends around 10:00 p.m. hour on 7:05 games or 6:40 games, they have to catch the last bus possible. Possible to head back home. If after 11 o'clock if there's no more bus, they have to get an Uber or Lyft, which costs around $15 to $30 bucks each way. That's not fair.

Same it goes --- same it goes to Kennywood or Sandcastle. And people and disabilities --- have autism and disabilities or seniors, like me, rely on the bus. I can't --- not everyone drives a car. I can't afford parking fees. I can't afford Uber or a Lyft. I can't afford to sit in heavy traffic. I can't afford a lot of gas. 28X inbound, very popular alternative to the G2, will no longer go around downtown or Oakland. Bus that only travels between Carnegie and the airport, which have very long travel and wait times.

I hope --- hope the government can get us to $117 million we need to save --- to save PRT, or else I --- I will have to take the very unexpected way. Cutting my work days, reducing my Pirate games, and --- and going to the days at Kennywood. I hope this --- I hope we get the proper funding we need. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Next speaker, Amy Zaiss. Anyone who is --- else who is registered to speak that would like to speak now? Okay.

Our next speaker is at 12:55. Just to go over the schedule, our next speaker is at 12:55. And then at 1:00 p.m., we will break from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m., and we'll begin speakers again at 3:00 p.m.

Hello. Okay. Please state your name. You'll have three minutes to speak, and we'll let you know when we --- you have one minute remaining.

MR. PASTOR:

Shawn Pastor, Castle Shannon, Mount Lebanon.

I'm actually here to help fight this funding crisis. This is, this ain't good. I don't know what --- I don't know what's going on. Like I said, I'm really. You guys are trying to cut the 38, the 36, 38, 41. I don't feel --- I don't think that's --- that's a good thing to do. That's a good --- that's a smart thing to do.

Because I utilize that service literally every day. There's people that I know that use that service, that use the 36 lot. And if you do this, it is --- that is going to devastate the whole entire community of Mount Lebanon. It's not in good standing. It's not good. We got to get this money. We got to get this money right now. Because if not, we're going to be screwed.

There's a lot of --- there's a lot of people that utilize that service. Not only me, but there are people that utilize that service. That you are going to --- that you are going to devastate.

And the, like I said the fares, that's another issue. The passes, $106? No, I can't afford that. The passes need to be at least $100, at least a $3 increase. Not a freaking almost $10 increase. That's --- that right there tells me that it's at the brink of this. The brink of elimination, everything. I don't want that.

That $10 --- that almost $10 increase? I don't want that. I want the passes to at least be a $4 increase. Not --- not almost a $10 increase. Because that's --- that's really dipping into my budget. It's not --- I won't be able to ride. I won't be able to go anywhere because I won't be able to afford it.

It's not, like I said, you can't --- you can't expect people almost a $10 --- almost $10 increase on these passes on the monthlies when I can't even afford the $97.50 to begin with because everything's so high. I don't know why that was proposed, but like I said, it shouldn't have been. And the cuts? That's another issue. You can't do that to people. You can't screw them over. You can't screw everybody over in Mount Lebanon because people are going to fight back and say, no, enough's enough. Thank you.

MS. SANTOS:

Thank you for speaking.

Okay. Okay.

The next speaker, again, Amy? No? Okay. All right. That is our last speaker scheduled from 12:00 to1:00 p.m. until we resume again at 3:00 p.m.

Each speaker has up to three minutes to provide public comment and should come up to the speaker's table when called upon, table or podium, and state their name clearly and spell it for the court reporter before beginning to provide your public comment.

Just a reminder, this is a public hearing, so when you speak, the intent here is for you to speak onto the record for three minutes. There won't be dialogue coming back from us here up at the dais. We can come down and talk to you separately, but when you're up here, your official comments are just dialogue up to us. So it's not that we're ignoring you, we're collecting comment right now.

And I will turn it back over to our moderators. So Lexi and Odessa. Or Odessa or Melissa.

MODERATOR:

Kimberly Bennett?

MS. BENNETT:

Hello. Kimberly Bennett. That's K-I-M-B-E-R-L-Y, B-E-N-N-E-T-T.

Hi, so I'm Kimberly Bennett. I'm a PRT rider. I live in Mount Washington, which by the way is one of the neighborhoods that is going to be losing its public transportation if the proposed cuts happen.

I am upset about the plan for a number of reasons that I think all of the residents living in the city should be upset about. I mean, for one, this would be, you know, a huge cut to the gains that we've made on climate change. Our infrastructure certainly cannot support any more cars on the road. Traffic obviously will increase and it will decimate the city, these cuts.

If you think homelessness is bad now, just wait until people can't get to their jobs. Kids aren't going to be able to get to school. People aren't going to be able to get to local businesses to spend money. If you think that downtown Pittsburgh looks bad now, wait until people can't get to downtown Pittsburgh.

The other thing is, I'm livid about what appears to be a lack of forethought. I looked at your prior fiscal year revenue reports and in the past two revenue reports I see a reference to the fiscal cliff that PRT is facing, but I didn't see that phrase used in the prior reports.

In the fiscal year 2020 report, it mentions that PRT is cognizant of Act 89 sunsetting, but that seems a little late to be worrying about an act that would be sunsetting in three years.

It seems like in the past few years, other than, you know, the two reports that I mentioned that mentioned the fiscal cliff, that PRT was Happy to be receiving COVID money and kind of had lost sight of the budgetary crisis that was upcoming.

It doesn't look like anything's really been done to change the revenue stream. In the past fiscal year report, 81 percent of your funding comes from state funding. So it seems like this was a foreseeable problem and I don't see any efforts to fix the problem.

So even if a miracle happens, what then? Are we going to wait for another ten year act to expire and then face this all over again? Because you're not going to be able to rehire those bus drivers that you're going to have to lay off. You're going to face the same crisis that airlines had found themselves after COVID.

So this is all to say I'm deeply disappointed. I hope that these cuts don't happen. Thank you for your time.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Laura Tompkins?

MR. TOMPKINS:

Thanks y'all. My name is Laura Tompkins, L-A-U-R-A, T-O-M-P-K-I-N-S. I was hoping y'all would introduce yourselves. I guess that's not happening. So I kind of don't know what I'm trying to do, but if anyone ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Ms. Tompkins, Ms. Tompkins, hold on. Start with Karen.

Okay.

MR. RITCHIE:

I'm Jim Ritchie. I'm

the Chief Communications Officer for PRT.

MS. BROWN:

Hi, I'm Donminika Brown, I'm the Chief Financial Officer here at PRT.

MS. KELLEMAN:

And you should know who you're talking to. I'm Katharine Kelleman. I'm the CEO. Thank you.

MR. CETRA:

I'm Mike Cetra, Chief Legal Officer for PRT.

SENATOR WILLIAMS:

Senator Lindsey Williams, Board Member.

MS. SILBERMANN:

Any Silbermann, Chief Development Officer.

MS. COLON:

Inez Colon, Chief Human Resources Officer.

MR. RIVETTI:

I'm Don Rivetti, Chief Maintenance Officer.

MS. TOMPKINS:

Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

So let's start your clock over again. And Missy, let me know when she's good to go.

MODERATOR:

We're ready.

MS. KELLEMAN:

All right.

Thank you, Ms. Tompkins.

MS. TOMPKINS:

Thanks.

I live at 422 Winton Street. If anybody knows me in the audience --- they probably don't, but I'm a longtime union member. Casino workers, what's up? These are my roots. I started as a union slot tenant in Columbus, Ohio, but I now staff at a downtown labor union here in Pittsburgh.

In other folks' eyes, they might see me as a little bit of a yuppie. I came --- I have a good income and I moved here for work opportunities. So in that sense, I'm the kind of person Pittsburgh has tried hard to attract to our city. My husband also followed me here. He continues to work by car in Washington, PA, but we spend a lot of our money in the city.

My concerns are as follows. So number one, we live in a Mount Washington zip code but are closest to and spend most of our time in Allentown. We have a one car household because our neighborhood wasn't built for so many cars and cannot fit a second. The narrow roads and alleys are absolutely clogged with cars and people frequently experience sideswipes and lost mirrors from their on street parking spots. Public transit is vital to alleviate this.

We can't afford a second car anyway, let alone fit one on our street. As a result, we split car access between us. I frequently ride the 43 and the 44 in a pinch to and from work, to my downtown dentist and other downtown activities. I enjoy these rides very much. The staff is professional and friendly and I like being surrounded by neighbors.

I literally met my best friend in Pittsburgh as a new Pittsburgh resident at the bus stop in a snowstorm. She helped me get to the 44 when down the 43 couldn't make it down the hill and was delayed. We live two blocks from each other and she's become an important part of me family at home in my new city.

My neighborhood is income diverse and I like that about it. While I have 50 percent access to a car, many of my neighbors have little or no access. One of my neighbors uses disabled transport for his child. I care about these folks and how this will impact their lives. I don't want people to lose jobs or move out because they lose public transport access and I don't know how I would get to and from work half the days myself.

I don't want the composition of my neighborhood to change. I want to integrate myself into it. This isn't just bad for me, it's bad for my neighbors and bad for the fabric of our communities.

I just want to say shame on whoever stingy state politicians are responsible for these cuts. That's how I feel. I'm here because I'm mad but I'm looking for solutions and I'm ready to do whatever is needed.

So thank you for taking my testimony.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

James Love?

MR. LOVE:

Good afternoon, my name is James Love. I am once again here in Allegheny County. I am shocked at our legislative Republicans on their negligence completely on how they mainly are attacking Class 1 SEPTA Philadelphia and Class 2 Port Authority Allegheny County.

I am shocked on how --- I'm sorry, I am shocked on how the class three, four and five systems out there are not coming out with their financial information. With Westmoreland Transit, Mignon Valley, Washington Freedom Transit, Newcastle and the other systems that are coming into downtown Pittsburgh.

Since the pre birthing at the Port Authority Allegheny County, and I will always call it the Port Authority Allegheny County. I refuse to call it Pittsburgh Regional Transit because whoever put PRT is pocketing their pocket just like Mr. Skendales (phonetic) did.

Which is partly why we are in the position where we are in with the way this Republicans are against funding Class 1 SEPTA and Class 2 Port Authority. So whoever is enjoying their money, I hope you're enjoying it in your paychecks.

Ms. Kathleen, I respect you, but I have not heard once --- although I don't have money to pay for cable right now as I'm back on disability. That's when my daughter was wrongly adopted out.

I have not heard once you offering to take any of your pay back. Yes, it's in your contract to work for Port Authority to get regular increases in your pay. You work hard. You deserve it. But in a situation like we are in right now, it is time that you give up some of that money.

As far as where I was in the past feeding you, clothing you, electronics out east in Ridge Forest area of Rabbit York, Rabbit Regional Capital District, I was able to help him get the argument with PennDOT get the Hanover Gettysburg connector running, but he took almost 15 years and I don't know what it was that I said that he was able that running to connect with his Gettysburg work and his Hanover York work. And now since then he's taken over capital area transit in the capital where they're in Harrisburg.

It is time that our Republicans understand that they may not want to support funding for SEPTA and Port Authority, but there are other areas that Rich could take off of his 28 exit crosses the Appalachian Trail in Duncannon to take over Huntington, Bedford, Fulton County to come over to connect with his money that he took over paratransit for Rabbit Indigo Indiana County. And he needs to take over the outline of transit systems from Erie all the way down to Newcastle all the way across 22, 322, 422, U.S. 30 and in between.

It is time that Rabbit expands and have Rich that knows what he's doing that replaced Steve Bland as CEO of Rabbit when Steve Bland was right over here to destroy our system at PRT.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Love, it's time. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Alisa?

MS. GRISHMAN:

Okay, is this close enough? Can you hear me?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Yes.

MS. GRISHMAN:

Hi, I'm Alisa Grishman, A-L-I-S-A, G-R-I-S-H-M-A-N. I live in Uptown and I am one of 25 percent of Americans who lives with a disability and 30 percent who do not drive.

Many other people have come up today to give statistics and facts and figures. I am here to talk about me.

I went to a concert last week. It ended at 11:30. There's an antiquated notion that when you become disabled, your life ends, that you sit at home all day, every day, only leaving your house to go to medical appointments.

Nothing could be further from the truth. I have a vibrant, beautiful life. I go to concerts. I sit in coffee shops with friends. I go to museums and libraries and movies and stores. The thought of being stuck at home, unable to go out and socialize feels like death. Feels worse than death because at least if you're dead, you can't be bored.

If the state does not come through to support transit agencies like PRT, and if there have to be drastic cuts to transit like what has been proposed, I won't be able to go to concert because they end after 11:00. I won't be able to meet my friends for coffee because the buses will no longer run to their neighborhoods. Traveling outside of my house to shop, to go to medical appointments, to see a glimmer of life outside of my four walls would be made extremely difficult, if not impossible, because of the severe cuts to transit routes.

It's not just about my ability to get out that will be affected by these cuts, too. The only way I am able to live independently in my house that I own is through receiving in home services several times a week from aides who help me cook, clean, pick up groceries and do laundry.

Some of these aides rely on public transit, and if their routes are cut, I will lose a significant portion of my access to services and risk having to be put into a nursing home. Not to mention that they'll be out of the job.

I know that in the end, all of your decisions will come down to those statistics and facts and figures. But I want both PRT and the state to remember that this isn't about numbers. This is about people who go to concerts, who hang out with friends, who live independently and who go to work using transit.

This is about me, Alisa Grishman, a living, breathing transit user with a vibrant, beautiful life. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

We now have time slots for City Charter School.

MS. KELLEMAN:

And whoever's coming up, remember, you're going to give us your name and spell it, and you have three minutes to talk.

MS. WALLS:

Hi.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Hello.

MS. WALLS:

My name is Daeonna Walls, D-A-E-O-N-N-A. And as you know, I attend the City Charter High School.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're doing great. Deep breath, you got this. It's good. It's good. We're friends.

MS. WALLS:

Okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Well, we're friendly. leave. You might not be our friend, but that's okay.

MS. WALLS:

Okay, okay.

To deny people their human rights is to challenge their very humanity. Words by Nelson Mandela. I go to City High and I don't think, I know that continuing to fund these buses is crucial to PA citizens and whoever else is being affected by this cut.

Transportation is a necessity and essential factor to people's livelihood and is a fundamental right we are all obligated to. Cutting these bus routes is going to affect those with disabilities, those struggling to make ends meet financially and just everyone as a whole in general, no matter your identity.

Removing these bus fares equals crushing our economy and considering the new unjust laws that we have to become accustomed to, the least we as citizens can have access to is getting to and from work and/or school.

Do not cut transportation for PA citizens because it is going to create a disaster such as more people losing jobs and buses that no longer run are prone to creating more drunk drivers and those that just don't need nor know how to drive resulting into mine, yours and your children's lives at stake.

Eliminating these bus fares, you are putting us all in jeopardy. Whether this is a fund issue, it can and should be resolved. Even if you think you're not affected, mine and your transportation equal fair human right. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

Do we have anyone else from City High?

MR. BLAIR:

My name is Jaylyn Blair from City Center High School.

Cutting --- for public transit in Pittsburgh would have significant and far reaching consequences for various groups of people including students, disabled individuals and the general public.

For students, public transit is essential for accessing education, interns and campus jobs. According to the Pittsburgh Regional Transit, approximately 14 percent of Pittsburgh residents rely on public transportation to get to work with a similar precedence of college students depending on public transit for commuting.

A reduction in the service or an increasing in fares would raise transportation costs, making it harder and difficult for students to afford to commute to school, especially considering that Pittsburgh's average cost of public transit is already higher than the national average at $2.75 per ride.

These changes could lead to a longer wait time and less reliable service and a more difficult commute, ultimately impacting academic performance and extracurricular engagement and social participation.

For disabled individuals, a public transit is not just a convenience but a critical part of daily life. Over 20 percent of Pittsburgh's population is disabled and many of them rely on public transit or paratransit services to access medical care, groceries and employment. According to the National Organization of Disability, 33 percent of people with disabilities in Pittsburgh report that transportation is --- to participating in daily life.

Budget cuts can lead to reductions in paratransit services, longer wait times or less frequent routes, severely impacting the independence of and mobility of disabled residents. For example, the paratransit services were reduced just by ten percent, this could leave thousands of disabled residents stranded, unable to attend medical appointments or work, significantly impacting their quality of life.

The loss of accessible public transit options could lead to a decreasing employment opportunities for individuals with disabilities who face a bare to finding accessible transit for work.

Beyond students and disabled individuals, the general public in Pittsburgh could also bear the burn of reduced public transit funding. According to the Allegheny Conference on community development, nearly 20 percent of Pittsburgh residents rely on public transit to get to work, with many of them working in low wage jobs where the ability to afford a car is not feasible.

With fewer buses and longer wait times, it will become more difficult for these residents to get to work for access and essential services. In fact, studies show that 60 percent of workers in Pittsburgh who use public transit earn less than $30,000 a year and for many of them public transit is their only option for commuting.

Additionally, a reduction in transit service will likely push to rely on cars, exacerbating Pittsburgh already problematic traffic congestion. Pittsburgh ranks 35th in the world --- in the country for the worst traffic congestion with an average commuter spending 37 hours per year stuck in traffic.

If more people would turn to cars due to limited transit options, this will increase congesting leading to longer --- times, more air pollution. Pittsburgh already struggles with high levels of air pollution and increased car use will worsen the issue impacting public health and the environment.

The economic effects of cutting transit buses will also ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You can finish your sentence.

MR. BLAIR:

Oh. Businesses located near transit routes depending on foot traffic and accessibility that public transit provides.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Ashley Blye-Teimbers.

MS. TEIMBERS:

Hi, my name is Ashley Blye-Teimbers. Ashley spelled the regular way, A-S-H-L-E-Y, Blye, B-L-Y-E, hyphen Teimbers, T-E-I-M-B-E-R-S.

My name is Ashley Blye-Teimbers and I ride public transit almost every day. When I was diagnosed with epilepsy at 16, the system has gotten me to work, the college, to church, my whole life since then. It's brought me home late hours at night when I couldn't afford an Uber, it's taken me to the hospital when I needed care into my grandma's side when she was sick. Public transit isn't just a ride, it's how I live my life.

So when you talk about cutting our buses services by up to 35 percent and slashing our access service by over 60 percent, what's really being cut is our freedom, our dignity, our ability to survive. Because let's be honest, if these cuts happen, it won't be the wealthy people who expect to feel it. It'll be the students, the workers, the seniors, people with disabilities like myself. It'll be the low income communities like mine left stranded.

Transit is not a luxury. It is a lifeline. And I'm here to say we will not let anyone cut our lifeline without a fight. We need the legislature to step up and fund our future because we do deserve better. Pittsburgh deserves better. To move freely, safely and with dignity. Save our services, save our communities, save our jobs and fund public transit. It's not a want, it's a need. I'm done.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Zachary Andrews?

MR. ANDREWS:

I'm Zach and I --- okay, you want me to read this on the phone or just say something original?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Your choice.

MR. ANDREWS:

Okay, fine. I'm a CCAC student. Mom works in the city 'cause we live in Ambridge. If she ain't taking the 14, she's taking Lyft. If I ain't taking BCTA, I'm taking the 14. Honestly, I'm just going to read some of this. Who cares?

Yeah, I go back and forth between BCTA route one and 14 for economic reasons because --- reason. And when I heard that y'all are planning on cutting the 14, it's like oh, you're isolating the people.

Here's a better idea. Either keep the 14, bring the 21 or the proposed D23 up to Ambridge or reduce all the restrictions y'all have on BCTA. Yeesh.

And then there's a bunch of routes I probably don't --- and then there's neighborhoods I don't go to but it would affect everyone anyway. Instead of cutting the silver line, just cut the blue line. That goes to different --- that goes --- because the blue line goes to the same neighborhoods at both area --- both routes go to anyway. You're connecting people and saving money at the same time. Yeesh. Jagoffs. Sorry for the language. Circular language. At least it's more tamed.

Honestly, and the Moon Flyer, why you want to cut that? There's college students. You're cutting access to college students. I like that proposed plan that ya'll had with connecting the Moon Flyer with Robinson Mall on the way to and from the city, but cutting that thing all together, you're making it hard for college students to get to their jobs.

Honestly. I'm just going to end it here. Cutting BCTA access --- no, cutting --- no wait, cutting Pittsburgh Transit access to Ambridge while keeping BCTA under the same restrictions, it's like Hopewell --- it's like Hopewell refusing to let Quip merge with them. Think about that one. I'm done here.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Karen Smith.

MS. SMITH:

My name is Karen Smith, K-A-R-E-N, S-M-I-T-H, and no I'm not that type of Karen. I'm another type of Karen. The advocate type. I'm from Carnegie PA and I take several buses, one of which would actually be cut to the Hospital, St. Clair, which I would be traveling from one third all the way to St. Clair Hospital without the bus.

Well, anyway. Okay, first off, who are you? I am an advocate. I am a bus rider as well as many people here in this room and those who are not in this room, future as well as past and present.

Why are you here? To advocate for reliable dedicated funding. Transportation funding. What's at stake? The lives of many who depend on public transportation now and well into the future.

What is the ask? Please say you --- please say yes to reliable dedicated transit funding so that we all can stay connected to and with each other and the many other services that the buses provide us access to.

Don't let our lifeline go flat line. Because if we do, we will not be able to get to the hospitals. They will not be able to get to us. The many people that have home care services will not be able to have their caregivers who take buses come to them. And they will not be able to go out to their appointment, get groceries or get where they need to be and they will not be able --- and you will have a ghost city. Not a ghost town, a ghost City. Ghost City is not as --- you think ghost city is not as bad as ghost town. Well yeah, it's worse. It's bigger. It's a bigger issue.

But you know, instead of creating a problem, how about fixing the one that's now? Instead of putting more on the plate, finish what you got on here now that way we can nip it in the bud, cut it where it needs to be. But apparently you're cutting it where it's not needed to be.

We need the dedicated funding. It needs to be reliable, it needs to be dependable and it needs to be permanent and forever.

As well as the funding, we also need buses that will run properly along with --- everybody that needs the bus, they need a bus that does not have issues. The blood's running out. We need to --- we need dedicated funding. Dedicated funding is going to be a bloodline. Don't let our buses go flat lined. Think transportation. Think us. The world needs it. We all need it.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

Kristen Greene?

You got this Kristen.

MS. GREENE:

Hi, my name is Kristen Greene, K-R-I-S-T-E-N, G-R-E-E-N-E. I have been a transit user since I was 14 years old.

Over the years, transit services has declined for regular users. Recently the Port Authority of Pittsburgh proposed closing 40 additional routes due to lack of funds. This concerns me deeply as I depend on the buses to take me where I need to go.

Additionally, these closures will negatively affect communities. Many people depend on mass transit to get to work, school and doctor's appointments. How do you expect these residents to get where they need to go with no bus services? What about people who leave work late at night and our do not have a safe way home? What about people who work overnight? You can't be serious. Please take their safety into consideration.

Port Authority workers would also be negatively affected by these budget cuts. There will be layoffs. What will you do about that?

Something needs to be done to prevent these closures. The Port Authority needs to work with state and local organizations and government and as a team come up with a solution. Pittsburghers need mass transit. It is already difficult to get around the city with the current services, let alone closing additional routes.

In addition to fare increases, these proposed routes changes will negatively affect the residents of our city. I'm asking the leaders of the Port Authority to re think these proposed changes. We need to keep the buses running. Pittsburghers depend on this, on public transportation. Listen to your employees, especially the bus operators as they have a stake as well in these changes. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Judith Vanderbeck.

MS. VANDERBECK:

My name is Judith Vanderbeck, J-U-D-I-T-H, V-A-N-D-E-R-B-E-C-K. I live in the city of Pittsburgh Shadyside area. I'm a non driver. I'm visually impaired and I'm also self employed.

So taking Uber is not an option.

What I would like to talk about is the proposed cuts to regularity of bus service, cutting the frequency and limiting buses after 11:00 p.m. These are the biggest issues that affect me.

I am able to walk to my job fortunately, but the biggest risk to me is having customers not being able to get to me. I have customers who come to me from all over the city and although living right in the middle of the city, the buses I depend on may not be the ones that are completely cut, but the fact that they would be limited with much more time between buses running, may deter customers get into me.

I spent 30 years building my business. Since I'm visually impaired, traditional jobs have not --- I have not been able to find job security with traditional jobs. So I'm very proud of the fact that I have built a very successful business for 30 years and I do not want to experience catastrophic effect on my business due to customers not getting to me because they've depended on bus service that is no longer accessible on a regular basis.

In addition, I depend on Port Authority to take me to all the social activities I do. And I do get around. I take the P1, the P3, the P78, the 75, the 64, the 86, the 71B, the 71D, the 71C, the 1, 6, 15, and the T to North Shore and South Hills. Cutting service and especially service after 11:00 p.m. will take a catastrophic hit to my social activity and all of the things that I support in the city.

What I ask is that funding be provided to Pennsylvania to support our public service system. Thank you.

MR. HUSEIN:

Good evening. I wasn't sure if I was actually going to speak, but hey, some of your peers pressured me into it. So here we are.

This is going to be a little bit off the cuff, but to start with, this is kind of going to be a little bit of a story and then go from there. But for some of the people up here who are newer faces to PRT, not necessarily here during the last session before some of the Board members left may not know this, but I have a bit of a, shall we say, reputation for being one of PRT's definitely biggest riders, for sure.

One of the old Board members, John Tague and me used to always occasionally quip about me setting records on PRT because there's this person that kind of got me into tracking my ridership for various reasons. And so before he left for his tenure, my record was like 1,500 rides in a month. And now it's gotten so ridiculous. Partly because of displacement to where I live now, I've been displaced three times in the last year. And now I'm in one of PRT's hardest to get to and from service areas.

So I'm no stranger to transfer. So now I've easily been clocking in over 5k rides a month. As crazy as that might be for some people to imagine, it is doable, especially if you have passed will transfer.

But I'm --- so I'm definitely, I would say, more than qualified to say a little bit on some of the things that I see going on in the system as well as where I see the system headed. And it's not good where it's headed right now.

I see people online talk about, oh, nobody takes transit, nobody uses transit, blah, blah, blah, why should we fund transit? And then I see certain Government reciprocate that attitude, like, why should we fund transit? It's not important, i's not a priority.

But even though I'm an outlier with as many trips as I take on transit, clearly I can say with confidence that whoever's saying that people don't use and need transit is more than a little bit full of it. They're living in some kind of alternate reality, la-la land. So we need to get this transit funding dealt with, and we need to get it done reasonably.

In the meantime, I know we had a BLR redesign project that now looks like it's, unfortunately, for better or for worse, on hold or may not happen at all because we're in this doomsday scenario now that we're hoping to avoid, obviously, or we wouldn't all be here.

And so I gave that BLR, along with another passport Authority legend, a little bit of a, shall we say, counter proposal to the BLR. And I'm now in the process of doing a counter proposal for the cuts that are coming.

And so my hope is that we can maybe, rather than cut 40 some routes and cut service at night and all this other crazy stuff, that hopefully we can find a solution that even if we don't get the funding, you know, to cut as few routes as possible and get more creative with where routes go, where routes start, and maybe even things like combining routes. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Jared Helfer (phonetic).

MR. HELFER:

How's it going? Yeah, I don't have much. I live in Mount Washington and I take the 40 all the time. Yeah, one of the cuts would eliminate the 40. I mean, that's like the hilliest --- it's a crazy city of hills. And that's like --- it's basically a mountain. I mean, apropos of the name.

Yeah, it would just suck, especially like that Grandview Avenue. I think about this a lot. Like, we love that Grandview Avenue. Every picture of Pittsburgh is taken from Grandview. It's like the scenic --- the scenic overlook of the city. You know, seven eighths of people could not get up there and see the city from that angle.

Charlie's okay. Breaks down a lot. There's the 43. Okay. I walk up the hill all the time. Like, I've been riding a bus for what, 15, 20 years. I've probably traveled a million miles, something like that on the bus. Probably felt like it could have gone to Mercury possibly, you know.

Yeah. I don't know. I would appreciate, yeah, trying to do anything. Yeah. That's why you're here. Yeah, appreciate you holding these meetings. I think yeah, do a bunch more. Because I don't think people even realize that --- yeah, don't know what you got --- don't know what you got until it's gone. Who sang that? Carly Simon. No. Carol King. Joni Mitchell, yeah, thank you. Sampled by --- anyway.

Yeah, I know a lot of people especially like in Mount Washington are like, yeah, old, infirmed, have wheelchairs. They just would be stranded out there. So many neighborhoods would just be --- I don't know, just deserted essentially. And maybe turning to like these strange like tech. Like, you know --- I don't know, you get like delivered on drones. That would be the only way.

And just who likes traffic? I mean, just like buses eliminate traffic. They're really funny and fun. I love riding the bus. I've seen like some of the most insane things and people on the bus.

Anyway. Yeah. That's not worth the, what is $100 million you got a raise? $100 million? Is that a lot? I have no idea. I mean, that's like a lot to me. No, yeah.

Appreciate you listening. I have faith to do it. Yeah. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Do we have Ken Moseel?

Loretta Gillespie?

Adam Forgie?

Stan Covert?

Rose Weiker?

Is Janet Evans here by chance?

MS. WALKER:

Hello. I'm a lifelong advocate, I guess for everybody. Myself, I'm here on behalf of my residence in Glen Hazel, Hazelwood.

I always ride the 57. And I heard that they're moving it to another area. But I also have caregivers. I come from the North Side in Penn Hills. You name it, that's where they come from. I depend on them for 24 hour care. They get me up in the morning, dress. --- with me ready for today.

I've been --- I ride --- most of my life. Rain, spring, summer, fall. I do ride the bus. Especially to Waterfront or even downtown.

I also, the residents when they want to go shopping, they need 57 to run up and down Johnson Avenue and pick us up. There's a lot more of us who have power chairs and we all get out more now that the weather is changing.

But really I would like to see more seating on the Port Authority buses because there's more of us that need to go to the Waterfront or downtown or to their appointments in Oakland. And that's very important.

I just want to put that out. More seating for people in power chairs because a lot of us like to go to the Waterfront and then we have to wait for buses if there's more than two people on a bus.

But really I don't like hearing that we might lose the 57 all together. That's not right because Johnson Avenue if they drop anybody off on 2nd Avenue, a lot of people cannot walk that hill. I might be able to ride it, but hey, that's okay, but still, I'm speaking on behalf of all of us. We really don't want to lose our bus. And thank you for being here. I wouldn't miss that for the world.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Janet.

Adam Forgie?

MR. FORGIE:

Good afternoon. My name is Adam Forgie. I am the Mayor of Turtle Creek Borough and a teacher with Woodland Hills School District.

I'm here today to express my deep concern of the proposed cuts to Pittsburgh Regional Transit, or PRT services.

These reductions will be devastating for the Mon and Turtle Creek valleys, particularly for residents who rely on public transportation as their sole means of accessing work, health care, education, and basic necessities.

Public transportation is not just about getting from point A to point B. It is a lifeline of existence. In communities like Turtle Creek, dozens of residents of all ages rely on PRT buses to survive. Students use them to get to school. Parents depend on them to take children to medical appointments. Workers across all professions use them to reach their jobs. Without these services, many residents risk losing employment, education opportunities, and access to critical care.

This is not only --- this not only threatens individual livelihoods, but also the stability of our local businesses and our overall economy.

Seniors use transit services daily to shop for groceries, pick up prescriptions and attend doctor's appointments. If we eliminate those routes, we isolate them, cutting them off of independence and diminishing their quality of life.

For low income families without cars, these buses are the only affordable form of transportation. Cutting services would deepen the economic divide faced by many in the Mon Valley and in the eastern Allegheny County suburbs. The disparities are clear. The eastern suburbs do not benefit from a subway line, HOV lanes, or widespread bike trail access. For many of our residents, busing is the only accessible and affordable reliable public transit option.

In 2024, Governor Shapiro successfully secured $153 million in funding to preserve SEPTA, or Philadelphia's public regional transit system in southeastern Pennsylvania. His leadership ensured that five counties maintain essential transit routes and affordable fares.

PRT, as the second largest public transportation system in the Commonwealth, deserves the same level of commitment and federal support. The precedent has been set. Our residents deserve equal consideration.

The economic impact of public transit should not be underestimated. Research shows that every dollar spent on PRT generates up to seven to eight dollars in our local economies. Losing these services would be a blow not only to riders, but to the economic fabric of our region.

PRT is seeking $117 million increase in state funding to maintain its services. While we must rally state and local leaders to support this increase, I firmly believe the most promising solutions lie in securing federal funds. Whether those are grants, reallocation of transportation project dollars as well as we get for SEPTA, our federal officials must act. We as their constituents must call on them to deliver the $117 million needed to keep our buses in region running.

Failure to find these funds is not an option. These routes are a lifeline and we cannot afford to lose them. This cannot be the end of the line when so many are on board. It is those in power --- it is time for those in power to step up and deliver for the communities that need them the most. Abandoning these riders who need PRT services is literally a fare they can't afford. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Is there anyone in the audience who would like to speak who's not registered? Yeah, you can just come up and tell us your name. Just make sure that you please register at the table after you speak.

MS. FRNKA:

Hi, my name is Echo Franka, E-C-H-O, F-R-N-K-A. I am a librarian. I work in a South Hills area of Pittsburgh and I live in Carrick.

I take the 51 every day to work and the 51 is always crowded and I know that the 51 service is going to be reduced if funding does not come through and that's concerning because I feel like the 51 is always really crowded as it is and if it were to be kept even more, I'm not sure that --- how I would be able to get to work.

In addition, I work at a very small community library. One of my co workers lives in Carnegie and would not be able to use the bus to go to work at all if this funding cut were to --- this funding increase were not to go through. She would have to take an expensive Uber every single day.

We do --- at my workplace we do really important work for the community and I really fear what would happen if we were not able to provide those services as well.

In addition to that, a lot of our regulars at the library are disabled and rely on access services that would be cut and they are relying on bus lines that would have been cut altogether or greatly to reduce service. And having access to just being able to live an independent life would be devastating for a lot of people I see regularly at work.

They, you know, as some other people spoke about, they --- people with disabilities are not --- you know, shouldn't be trapped in their homes. They should be able to have vibrant and productive and, you know, they should be able to have a social life just like everyone else. That's all I have to say. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Do we have David Williamson?

MR. WILLIAMSON:

I'm David Williamson, D-A-V-I-D, W-I-L-L-I-A-M-S-O-N.

There's --- if you cut the buses after 11:00, there will be a lot more drunk drivers, a lot more people dying from drunk drivers getting --- running people over. If you want to save money, you know, think about the cost of ambulances for one thing.

There's a lot of people who don't have cars who shouldn't have cars. Honestly, nobody should have a car, but that's beside the point. ---, you know, if you need to have more money, why can't you just have congestion pricing for the cars in downtown? That would raise a lot more money that you could put to the buses on or something --- say other same things.

And there's --- if you cut buses after 11:00, there will be a lot more --- businesses will lose out on people getting home from, you know, nightlife things, entertainments of any kind or people who work late at night are not going to be able to work. So those businesses close for that reason. You cut down getting to places, they won't be able to go to work or to spend the money either. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Our next couple of speakers have not arrived. So if there's anyone in the room who would like to speak but is not registered, you can come up and do that and we can get you registered after.

MS. CAPEWELL:

Hi, my name is Ocean Capewell, O-C-E-A-N, C-A-P-E-W-E-L-L, and I wasn't planning on speaking, SO this may be a little off the cuff as well.

But I just wanted to point out that, you know, buses are a safety net. We live in a society, in a city that is designed for cars, where the needs of drivers are kind of prioritized. But that's not everybody who lives here. You know, this region has always been home to people who are poor, who are working class who maybe don't have a car, who have things to do, who --- and you know, it's just the more that buses get cut, the more the region suffers.

Nearly every job asks if you have a reliable form of transport. They're not supposed to ask if you have a car if it doesn't impact --- you know, if you don't have to drive, you know, if you don't have to drive for the position itself.

But I mean with --- you know, if the buses are cut, then transit will get less and less reliable. Poor people will get poorer. Like economic, you know, instability will increase and I think it will just --- you know, it's not going to be the developers that are going to be hurting. It's not going to be the people with the most money that are going to be hurting. It's going to be the most vulnerable people, the disabled, the houseless, the young and the very old who are going to be feeling this. And so I'm here to speak on their behalf as well as mine.

I'm a lifelong non driver. I take the 64. I was very excited when I heard it might be going all the way to Millvale because currently the way to get to Millville from where I live in Bloomfield is to take it to 40th Street and then walk. That's literally what Google Maps tells you to do, which takes a really long time. I've done it more than once.

So I was excited. If that's still on the table, that would be wonderful. I think it would change a lot of lives for the better. But okay, that's all I have to say. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

You can come up.

MR. MATTHEWS:

Hello, my name is Ryan Matthews. That's R-Y-A-N, M-A-T-T-H-E-W-S. Also a bit unprepared today, but I took a little bit of notes. And I'll try to say something a little bit different than what I've been hearing too.

So I rode the T here today. I live at the end of the Silver Line, which is one of the lines that you're planning on cutting. So I've been set up for failure. I'm not here just to complain about the T. There's a point I'm going to make here. So for a minute this will sound bad but you know, I won't confuse things. Hear me out.

So I'm going to tell you about my journey here today. I started early because I knew what was ahead of me. The one good thing today is that the T basically picks me up from my front door. So that part was good. Then the T stops at the end of the Silver Line where it convenes with the Red Line and Blue line at Washington Junction. And I had to get off the T because of the current construction and route changes that are happening.

So I had to stop at Washington Junction. The connection to pick up the next train was nine minutes late. So that's plus nine minutes to my journey. Then instead of a Blue Line coming which is the fastest way to Pittsburgh, a Red Line came instead. So that's plus five more minutes for me.

Then for the current tunnel construction project, the closure there, we have to go over the hill over Mount Washington through Allentown instead. So that's at least five more minutes there through that one way bridge which is apparently why the Silver Line ---.

So my journey here from the end of the Silver Line took about an hour and ten minutes or an hour and 15 minutes. It probably should take about 40 or 50 minutes, based on my past experience. And then I walked here ten minutes.

So last month, a couple of Bethel Park Council members came to my neighborhood for a meeting and kind of talked to us about the upcoming changes to Port Authority. And one of the Council members said, we need to get more people riding the T again. And I thought that was pretty funny because why would more people start riding the T right now when it's this much worse with these extra changes?

So I pay my taxes. I'm here right now telling you guys what's up and how to spend the money. What's going to sell things for everyone in here in this room right now is money. It's the only thing that's going to solve it.

So please, let's get Pittsburgh funded. I think that's pretty obvious that that's the issue here. And everyone sitting in front of me here today, I don't think any of you wants to cut service. I think that you all are actually doing this right now because we're trying to get funded and fix this. And I think that's important to recognize.

So please keep doing what you're doing. Thank you. And that's what I have to say today.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Is there anyone else in the room that would like to speak that's not already registered?

We're going to give our panel a ten minute break. So you will --- let's see, we'll be back at 4:45.

That's not correct. We will be back at 4:25. I'm sorry.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

MODERATOR:

Good afternoon. We're going to resume the public hearing. I'd like to call up the first speaker of Al Campbell.

Just go up to the desk there. And if you'll say your name and spell that for the court reporter, we'd appreciate it. Yes, go ahead.

MR. CAMPBELL:

Hi, my name's Alex Campbell, A-L-E-X, C-A-M-P-B-E-L-L. I'm a resident of South Park, Pittsburgh.

So I came here today. I don't really know what I'm going to say, so I just have a couple of my notes. But I think this is really important stuff. That's why I made a point to come down here and speak today about the PRT, particularly around the proposed transit cuts --- or route cuts.

While I'm actively advocating for funding solutions to support PRT, I believe there's also an urgent need for immediate operational improvements. I don't think funding alone will resolve a lot of the root issues that the PRT has been challenged with since the pandemic and the rider decreases.

In terms of looking at some of the operational, you know, pieces as a rider daily from the Silver Line Station. You know, I'm not against all the other public cuts, to be honest. I get it. I'm a management consultant, so I'm frequently looking at things like data, cost of operations and things like that.

However, I see issues that are, I think, ignored, particularly around things like data integrity. I don't believe that the data that's being published around ridership data is accurate. I see daily that there's fare evasion and daily theft. There's multiple payment solutions that cannot be justifying cost of the investment into those multiple payment solutions.

There's also been minimal responses to route cuts. You know, in the past I've seen some changes since the pandemic, but I don't think there had been enough adaptation to what was going on. Basically from the outside perspective, we watched as basically negative impacts continued to impact the PRT and there was minimal changes, or at least not enough changes to react to that quick enough.

I think that to move forward, there needs to be more creative ideas to come out of this. I don't think it's acceptable to say we're not going to get the funding, we're going to cut these routes and then when the government proposed to give, you know, a portion of the funding, the same plan was proposed. I think that's unacceptable.

Some creative ideas, I think that should be explored and I don't know, you know, all the specifics of how beneficial those would be, but at least for some things like Silver Lines or long bus routes, I think the opportunity for things like bullet trains or bullet routes could be proposed and increase ridership.

I think that we need to look at the downtown area where it's been basically free for all riders. They're subsidized, I think in the past. I'm not, I'm not sure. I wasn't able to confirm if that's still being subsidized in the city areas, but I don't think that all riders should have free access in the city. I know a lot of people disagree with that, but.

You know, I'll just kind of close here, that's my time. I think we really need to look at the operational efficiency, the technology being used, the decision making from the PRT, as well as, you know, advocating obviously for increases to budget solutions. We need to do a little bit more to give continuous process improvement in order to get out of this hole that we found ourselves in. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

I'd like to call our next speaker, Janet Evans. Janet Evans?

MS. EVANS:

Sometimes we don't have a lot of ---. I was wondering if we can get a bus that has more than three slots to go to Harrisburg and talk to the Governor. And also we can send a letter to either Congress or the president and speak to him how important transportation is in Pittsburgh. Not only in Philadelphia, but people do ride Port Authority.

And to me it's important that bus drivers are trained really well, especially when people like myself get down the ramps to make sure that the ramp is sturdy enough for people like myself. I do have a little bit of hard times when I'm driving my chair and I had fallen once and I did not report it because it was --- I thought it was my fault. But when I looked and when I fell, the ramp wasn't down flat enough. But I'm not worried about that. I think this was a new driver and I didn't want him scolded or anything. But I'm fine.

But I've talked to one of you or both of you. I think there should be more slots in different areas on the bus for people with power chairs to get on. Because in my area in Glen Haven, the 57 and the 93, there's a lot of us. I think we're almost 30 people in power chairs on Roselle Johnson in the high rise now. And a lot of us between 12:30 and I would say 2:30 in the day. There's like three of us at one time and then we're skipped. You know, we have to wait another hour. Thank you for listening. Thank you. By the way, access is good too.

MODERATOR:

Next speaker is Jackson Burgess. Is Jackson here?

Okay. You will have up to three minutes to give testimony.

MR. BURGESS:

Okay. Let me just clear --- I'm getting a notification or an Amber alert.

MODERATOR:

I think --- tornado.

MR. BURGESS:

Right. I feel safe in here.

Hello, my name is Jackson Burgess, J-A-C-K-S-O-N,

B-U-R-G-E-S-S, and I am a new resident of Pennsylvania. I just moved from Columbus, Ohio. Born and raised in Cincinnati. Notably two places missing reliable, efficient and convenient public transit.

When my wife and I decided to make the move to Pittsburgh to be closer to family, I knew that I would be utilizing the public transit system in Pittsburgh to get to know the city and the people better. I was fortunate enough to be fully employed in downtown Pittsburgh. And now I use it to commute. I use the Silver Line.

We all know the challenge is facing the housing market. My wife and I are trying to start a family. When I'm looking for a new house that was in our price range, and among the several factors we considered was proximity to a reliable public transit network.

I fortunately am in a position where if, you know, worst case scenario, these funding cuts do happen, we don't receive that cash from the state government, I am fortunate enough to be in a position where I would be able to just get in a car and drive downtown to my job. It would be stressful driving down there. I don't know if y'all have driven down there. Since it's new to me, it's a lot. The congestion. I wouldn't be the only new person driving downtown to go to work.

People might decide altogether to not go downtown. Now you're missing out on sales tax for the City of Pittsburgh and all of the other things. Now you have food vendors that can't pay their rent. Now they are leaving.

Next thing you know --- in the short term, this is a transit problem. In the long term, this is a city problem. And I think that we should do everything and put our best foot forward in receiving that funds and connecting us to downtown better. So thank you.

MODERATOR:

Our next speaker is Bethanie Paul. Bethanie?

MS. PAUL:

Hello. So, like Jack, I also use public transit to get to work downtown. I've worked downtown for about three tears, and I, quite frankly, love riding the bus to work. It is my downtime. I'm a busy mother, and I like to just sit there and read. I really don't want to have to drive downtown.

My commute, I get on at either the Crafton or Ingram stop on the west busway. So obviously, with --- you know, I deep dived into the proposed changes. So on my way in, currently, I can ride one of four buses. I'm very, very lucky to have that convenience. I will say three of them will no longer be an option. And they're extending the ---, the G2, which is the only one that would remain.

I don't know how --- like, right now, getting on in the morning, any one of the four buses is full. There's going to be no way people are going to be able to get on the G2 to go to work.

So I don't really care about the getting home part from there. It's kind of pointless. If I can't get to work, I'm not going to ride the bus home. So --- and then on the way home --- I guess I'll go there anyway. But if I do park at the Crafton stop, I can get on the G2 currently or the 29, because there's a stop right by the parking lot there. 29 proposed cut, gone.

So again, it's just really impactful and I'd rather not drive. So please consider. Keep working towards not eliminating all of these routes. I'd really appreciate it.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Tracy Cole?

MS. COLE:

Hi, I'm Tracy Cole, T-R-A-C-Y, C-O-L-E.

I work downtown, and I rely on public transportation to get here. Two of my buses are proposed to be eliminated, the P7, which is really important because it's an express bus to get to downtown. And then the P76 would be eliminated as well.

That leaves the 61C. It takes well over an hour to get downtown from the Duquesne Park and Ride. That's a lot. And then if that route is going to be --- I think it's running --- it would be running about three times an hour. That's just not often enough. That would put just a huge burden on me as far as having to drive. There's rush hour traffic to deal with. I would like to be able to sit on the bus and take it.

And I don't understand how anybody else would be able to get downtown from that area too. There's other working professionals who need to get downtown. And you know, just consider some of us, we --- this is what we would need to get downtown.

I do have a car. Yes, I could do that. Parking is not really affordable downtown at all. So just something to consider and I'm really hoping that there's a resolution that can be found for us all. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Tayvon Kevin Smith.

MR. SMITH:

Great day, my name is Tayvon Kevin Smith. I'm here to tell you that our transit service in Allegheny County, will be transformative. Our demand comes from the people and for the people. Because those of us who use the transit system are the ones that are experts with each of our lived experiences with transit systems that we've had over a lifetime.

I'm a lifelong transit rider and many people in my family and in my community are transit riders as well. I know the struggle and the consequences of settling for poor services and the impact of decades of transit service cuts on me and my family. I also know how our visionary service plan, a plan that has transit services that meets the needs of our region, could change everything.

First and foremost, I'm a parent. If transit came more frequently, I would be able to secure a better job to increase the possibility of owning a home and providing for my kids. I spend so much time waiting for transit and waiting for buses that don't show up, which makes infrequently scheduled buses that much worse.

If transit were more available, that time I spent every day just traveling to get my kids, my 90 year old grandmother and to my job that I recently got furloughed from and to run my basic errands would be time that I would be spending with my children, my grandmother, family and a new job.

Bad transit services robs me of my family life and a fair and sustainable career that would help me protect and provide for my kids and family.

I am a caretaker of my 90 year old grandmother along with so many of my aunts and uncles who are also transit riders. If transit services ran more often and to more places, we would have the ability to be at both of my grandmother's sides to help they'll meet more of their basic needs.

It would astronomically change the landscape of our elder care here in Allegheny County because not only could my grandmothers get out and go places when they was feeling well, but nurses and caretakers like my aunts, myself, uncles and mother could go early and stay later and still have public transportation home.

Recently my grandmother needed to update her ID at the DMV and go to the downtown service station to renew her Senior Connect Card. These two small errands have become an all day affair that no car driver would ever have experienced because we do not have the quality service that we need and deserve.

A healthy transit service gives us back our dignity and our time with those that we love the most. Quality transit can provide safety. It can provide freedom. Having transit services that run late allows me to trust that my kids can get home safe after school and if they go to events. I can meet them at the bus stop close to home. I have friends with disabilities and quality transit service allows them to experience more of Pittsburgh and be more independent.

We've seen and said that the decision to cut transit service about 40 percent over the last 20 years has trapped people in their homes and restricted where transit riders are able to afford to live and still get around.

So I'm saying to you, funding PRT will open up worlds, whole parts of the county where people like me, like my grandmother, like my kids, like my friends in the service sector, like my friends with disabilities, can afford to live, to work and to play and not sacrifice our time, our safety, our relationships and our dignity.

It's a decision that our elected leaders have in front of them. A vision to enact the will of we the people. Transit should always be in motion and it's time to see progress, not decline of our transit services. The very heartbeat of our city lies in the understanding, implementing of a fair and accessible transit system that works for all of us.

It's a decision, a vision of the people and our transit services that will place the future of transit at the very fingertips of those we serve. Our aim as transit advocates, activists, operators and organizers will always be at the very doorsteps of we the people. All of us will be impacted the most by our transit system and/or the lack thereof.

So today and for every day thereafter, let's jump aboard of our visionary transit buses and trains united so that we can show and instill in our communities across the Commonwealth and the world the confidence that we are truly a people united, a movement that will be driven into the future. Let's show the world that we really are the most livable city of all. A vision for transit is always in motion and transformative when we work together.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Constance Berger (phonetic).

MS. BERGER:

Okay. My name is Constance Berger. I've been an access rider for 46 years. I asked Karen Hess how long the service had been going.

I wrote this --- this testimony is set up having to do with how long I've lived in nursing homes which is about 31 years. I'll start --- I'll read the testimony.

Hello, my name is Constance Berger. I live in Southwestern Nursing and Rehab Center. Access has been my mode of transportation since I have been in this facility for over 11 years --- and a half years and have been in nursing home facilities for about around 31 years.

The budget cuts are going to be devastating to me. I received a letter on March 22nd, 2025 that says the proposed service cuts are going to impact me when I go to Blessed Trinity Church, Steel's Grill and my sister in law's house.

This is --- this means I will not be able to leave my nursing home, go to church, visit family, go out shopping or eat at restaurants and just be independent over all. I will be stranded in the nursing home and not be able to get out. Me being able to go --- wait a minute. To go out and go places are very important in my lifestyle.

I am physically disabled. I'm a physically disabled person with cerebral palsy and can only go around in my electric wheelchair.

If it --- it will be hard for me to pay for trips if the fare increase is to go into effect. I have no other transportation to me besides access and I have no family members that will be able to assist me as they do not have wheelchair accessible vehicles. My overall mental --- wait a minute. And physical health would be jeopardized if this transit were to be stopped.

Please take into consideration my concerns as well as others as this is our way of living independently. Thank you, Connie Berger.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Dawn Bartlett?

MS. BARTLETT:

Hi there. My name is Dawn Bartlett and I just moved to Pittsburgh about two and a half months ago.

When I went to college,

I went to Arizona State University and got my degree in urban planning. Before I picked Pittsburgh, I ranked every major city in America on a very intense rubric and Pittsburgh far and away came off the best city that I could possibly go to. I'm looking at climate change, I'm looking at community preparedness, culture, everything here. This place is amazing.

The only drawback I had on that form for Pittsburgh was lacking a robust public transit network. But I mean, at least it's got something.

I sold my car when I moved here, planned to get around by bicycle, and found out Rialto Hill is a little terrifying. I'm not scared of riding up a hill. I'm scared of cars on a narrow road while riding up a hill.

And so I've come to rely on the bus network here, and I find it more or less usable. The routes are not close quite frequent enough, so I'm pretty consistently late. But I get by.

Now I'm a little worried at the concept of privatization of all public goods and public transit switching over to private transit, where the city buys roads for drivers, isn't just unhealthy. It's expensive. And it's more expensive than public transit is in the short term. And I don't think anybody here actually wants to see less public transit. I think this is an outside influence working its way in. And I find that power dynamic really frustrating because I think all the people in the city would like to continue to have public transit.

And I'm curious --- I heard a little about how the funding works. I'm curious if there is any way of pursuing transitioning to a more localized system because it's just better for not just people's mental health, physical health, air quality, the amount we pay for roads, road maintenance, there is no situation where buses and trains are not cheaper and better for the city and its residents. So I think most people would agree with that. So thank you very much.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

Christopher Beam.

MR. BEAM:

Hello. My name is Christopher Beam. I'm a resident of Bloomfield.

I ride transit semi frequently. I use it mainly to get to Southside and back. My wife works in Southside. She takes the bus frequently as well. But I go there to climb at Ascend. I go there to meet up with some friends to shop at REI. And 54 goes direct from Bloomfield to Southside. It's perfect. It runs super late at night. When college is in session. There are a ton of kids on --- kids. There are a ton of college students on the bus coming home at night, and we don't want those people on the road.

Transit is super important. It keeps people who should not be driving off the road. It keeps people who are inebriated off road. And for people who have lost driving privileges, it provides a way for them to continue to contribute at their job. Socially it keeps them engaged in society.

The proposed cuts, I know no one up here wants them to happen, but they would be absolutely devastating to Pittsburgh region. We would accelerate a decline as a region without the transit system that we have and just super important we keep it.

I echo the previous commentary about trying to look for opportunities for us to avoid needing to constantly beg a reluctant state to fund our own transit. I know that we're currently only, I think, legally permitted to fund our transit system with like a drink tax, but it would be great if we could fund it with property taxes, with maybe a small sales tax, with Rideshare or delivery app taxes. I think providing a diverse suite of local funding options would really help us avoid future conversations so that as our region grows, we are better able to provide steady streams of funding to our transit, which without it, we're not going to grow at all.

So thank you so much. Really hoping that the state is able to step up. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

We don't have anyone in the next couple of time slots, so if there's anyone in the room who is not registered to speak, who would like to speak or if you're registered and you would maybe like to take an earlier time slot, you can do that as well.

MR. SCOTT:

Good evening. My name is Bill Scott, B-I-L-L, S-C-O-T-T, and I'm operator and part of the executive board with our own local union here in Pittsburgh.

Number one, I just want to thank everyone for setting up this forum here and I also want to let you all know, thank you for coming because, I mean, when you see a bus operator, I mean, we are ----. And one of the beautiful things about this event taking place right now, most of the folks, probably everyone, including myself, we got here because of the bus. So that alone should let everybody know how important transportation truly is, you know, here in the Commonwealth.

And me, I'm always --- I mean, I've been serving Pittsburgh for close to 30 years. Five here with Port Authority and 25 in, you know, other venues in terms of education and sales. But I've always, you know, had a hand in work in the community and I've always, you know, utilized public transportation as well.

So I was a college student, you know, caught the bus, relied on the bus, you know, to play sports. You know, I was without a vehicle, you know, for a long time. So I understand the struggle, you know, that you all are going through.

Testing?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Just start yelling at us.

MR. SCOTT:

Oh, okay. Okay.

I'm going to go without the microphone, but I like to be solution based. So I understand --- I mean, naturally there's a potential, you know, for layoffs to take place, unnecessary ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

We just aren't getting it recorded, but ---.

MR. SCOTT:

I got you. It's necessary and funding doesn't take place. But I'd like to kind of look at it another way where we can actually reward those who have paved the way, you know, for Port Authority, meaning our senior operators, you know, give them, you know, some type of incentive, you know, that would --- because when you're doing layoffs, health care and payroll, usually the biggest expenditures that you're looking to shave off.

And to me, laying off brand new operators who are at the lower end of the scale, to me, is not really effective more so than giving someone an incentive, you know, who have helped, you know, provide this platform and give them an opportunity to, you know, let, you know, the system operate effectively without having to lose anyone in the grand scheme of things. And naturally, without you guys, there's no operators and without us collectively, I mean, there's no Port Authority. So thank you for your time.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

Everybody, so we don't have a PA system and this really big is coming in so we don't want you going anywhere, but we're going to take a break while everything is crazy. Is that okay? If the power goes out we'll tell ghost stories with our phones as like our, you know, flashlights. But please stay here because it sounds like it's getting real nasty outside.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. KELLEMAN:

Michael McCoy?

MR. MCCOY:

Can you guys hear me?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Oh, we've got power, yes, thank you.

MR. MCCOY:

Hooray for power.

So I have been living in Pittsburgh for about six years. Came out here originally for school. Went to Pitt between 2019 and 2023. Stayed out here for work, because I just --- I love the city so much. Love the community that I built here --- or the community that I've been able to, like, you know, come into here. And, yeah, I just love everything about Pittsburgh. And the bus system is, like it's very essential for me day to day.

As a student, because of COVID I wasn't able to use it as much as I wanted to, but I depend on it nowadays to go to work every single day. And, you know, if I want to go, say, to South Side, I live in East Liberty right now, I was able to take 75 down and, you know, go to the South Side for a bit. And that's something that I was very grateful that I was able to do.

And, you know, I feel like one thing that, you know, PRT has going in its favor right now is the fact that I don't feel the need to check to see what times the buses are going. Generally, at least like during the day, obviously, night time is a different story. But obviously, with all these budget cuts, it's unfortunate that, like, okay, like, that might have to become a reality, not just for me, but for many people who, you know, are used to having buses go, you know, pretty much around the clock.

And yeah, I understand, obviously, money is a big issue, and I feel like this is important enough where, you know, we need funding. And I think that's all I got.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you. Thanks for braving the weather and getting soaked.

MR. MCCOY:

Oh, yeah, absolutely.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank You.

We do not have any more other registered speakers at this time. So if there's anyone in the room who did not have an opportunity to speak and would like to do so, you can come to the front of our room and just give us your name.

MR. STOCKMAN:

Hello everyone. It's good to see some familiar faces. I am a PRT staff member, ---

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're here in a civilian capacity.

MR. STOCKMAN:

--- but before I was a PRT staff member, I was a long time PRT rider. And I'm here today in my most important capacity, which is that of a citizen.

Port Authority --- old habits die hard. PRT, as many testified is a lifeline. But I would argue that more than just the service that it provides. It is also something that is increasingly area in this country and that is social infrastructure. We are, at a time when Americans are feeling scared and alone, seeing the increasing retreat of these services and these assets that we have in common is just exacerbating that.

So it's not just for me a way to get to work or a way for someone to get to their dialysis appointment. It's a way for me to feel like I'm a part of a community and a part of the community that has been good to me over my life. And an agency that during a time when I was too young for a driver's license, I didn't have access to a car. I had a mother with breast cancer who had three other kids to deal with. That's how I got around as a kid. And that gave me freedom. It provided a benefit for my entire family. And I'll always be grateful that that service was available. And I shudder to think about a future where there are going to be people who won't have access to what I did.

So Pittsburgh is a transit city. There aren't that many of those left in this country. Once it leaves, it rarely comes back. And when it does, it usually doesn't do so to the same extent that it used to.

So I think it's important that we fight for what we have here. I think it's important that we think not only about the people that we're serving today, but the people who we could be serving in the future and about the strategic advantage that Pittsburgh has being a legacy transit city at a time where people want that. They want to be able to live in a place where they don't need a car. They want to live in a place where they feel connected to their neighbors. They want to live in a place where people are making investments in the future. And Pittsburgh has the potential to be all of those. But it requires funding, it requires support. And fortunately, we have a great team here that's working to make that happen.

So appreciate all of you and we're all in this together.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Before you sit down --- come back.

MODERATOR:

I'm sorry, we need your name for the public record for the court reporter.

MR. STOCKMAN:

Of course.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Birthday, blood type.

MR. STOCKMAN:

Of course.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

MR. STOCKMAN:

My government. John Cameron Stockman, S-T-O-C-K-M-A-N.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

MODERATOR:

You're Anne Kramer?

MS. KRAMER:

I am.

MODERATOR:

Okay.

Can you just say and spell your name for the court reporter?

MS. KRAMER:

Of course, of course. My name is Anne Kramer. It's A-N-N-E, K-R-A-M-E-R, and I'm a resident of Pittsburgh. I live downtown.

And I want to say thank you all for being here. It really means a lot to me that you're here to listen to all of us who show up. And it's --- I think it's really important that we do show up and not only represent ourselves, but everybody we know who can't, for many reasons who just aren't able to show up here. So I think it's really important that we acknowledge that. So thank you.

The PRT is really important to me. I take it every day. I take it to work and from work and while I --- we could choose to drive. The PRT is a more neighbor friendly, and this is a neighborhood and neighbor focused city and I'd like us to continue being that. It's a way that people can be together even if they don't need to interact with each other.

And it's also a way that we can be a greener city. And that's something that we have for a very long time, very focused on. It's a way that we have been able to choose to let our children go to work --- or go to school and go to places that they'd like to be able to get to without needing to be in a car. Or have --- they're able to have a little bit of autonomy and grow up a little bit as their parents can let them, you know, have a little bit. And then our seniors are so dependent on the PRT because it gives them some options when they would like to also retain the autonomy that they've had their entire lives.

And so it seems like, yeah, it's just, you know, we're just --- you know, for all of who are just working, we're just working and we're just taking the PRT, but there's actually this disconnect of tissue throughout our city. And so it's very important that we're able to keep it. Thank you very much.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Joe Galluzzo?

MR. GALLUZZO:

My name is Joe Galluzzo. That's J-O-E, G-A-L-L-U-Z-Z-O. I live downtown and I use the PRT quite frequently. I live and work downtown and I often use it for going to social events.

A lot of people I know use it for commuting, but I really depend on the PRT to go to lecture series, to go --- we're members of ---. We love to go from downtown to Oakland. That's a very popular corridor. And I've noticed that when the buses aren't coming as frequently or there's a breakdown, it makes it harder getting out there. And while I could take a car, it's annoying, it's frustrating, I don't really like it. I'd much rather take the bus and, you know, meet with the people that are on the bus. We've actually had quite a few lively conversations on the way there and back with multiple people. And it's just something that I feel is important.

And when the service cuts come in any way, shape or form, it's really difficult to want to take the bus. If the bus comes around less frequently, it's less convenient. And it means that you're more likely to get on the road in your car and cause more congestion, more wear and tear on your car, more wear and tear on the streets, quite frankly. I don't know about you guys, but some of the potholes around here have --- you know, seem like they could swallow a fairly large size tire.

And so, you know, to me it just seems like a better way of getting around the city. And it's something that I depend on and like. And so I do not want to see any service cuts come to the PRT because it's something I really enjoy. In fact, I'd rather see our service being increased. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay, so for everyone who stayed here including Karen, PRT's records indicate that we have no remaining speakers registered to provide comment at this public hearing who have not already provided their comments or were given the opportunity to provide their comments. We are now at 6:58 and since it's three minutes for speaking, we are at the end time for this hearing.

So we will now conclude the public hearing and on behalf of PRT's Board and staff, thank you everyone who took the time to participate, people who stayed here forever, weather notwithstanding. We thank everyone who took the time to participate today and provide PRT with comments regarding the proposed funding crisis related fiscal '26 fare increases and service reductions.

Our next public hearing starts at 9:00 a.m. on May 6th at Soldiers and Sailors in Oakland. A third public hearing is scheduled for 9:00 a.m. on June 12th back here at the convention center. And I'm going to hit this and then we're all free to go.

MR. MACNEIL:

My name is James MacNeil. I'm the Deputy Chief Transportation Officer for Pittsburgh Regional Transit.

I is conducting this public hearing as part of a public comment period that began 8:00 a.m., Monday, March 31st, 2025, and will conclude on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025 at 5:00 p.m. to receive public input on I's proposed funding crisis, related fare increases, and service reductions.

INTERPRETER:

Do you want --- do you want us to do the Spanish? For every pause you make?

MR. MACNEIL:

Yes, you can.

INTERPRETER:

Okay.

MR. MACNEIL:

Before we begin to receive public comment, our hearing moderator, Eddie Phillips, will go over some housekeeping information.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you. This hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a Court Reporter. If you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing at this time. Please note that we have American Sign Language and Spanish language interpreters to provide translation services during the hearing.

For participants who registered to provide public comment at today's hearing, you will be called upon to speak at your designated time, though you may be called by as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak. For participants who did not pre-register, you have been placed into an open time slot to speak, and will be called upon to speak at your designated time, though you may also be called by as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide their public comment. When called upon, please clearly state your name and spell it, and then speak clearly. The hearing timekeeper will alert you when you have one minute remaining. If your three minutes is up and you want to provide further comment, you may do so via telephone, regular mail, or online until 5:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025. Additional details on these other methods to submit public comment to I regarding the proposed funding crisis related fiscal year 2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on I's website at www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

Speakers cannot donate or delegate their allotted time to another individual interested in speaking, but speakers may read in written comments they have brought with them on behalf of another individual during their scheduled comment time.

The purpose of this public hearing is for I to receive public comment only. Participating I Board members and/or staff members will not respond to public comment provided during this hearing, but all comments will be recorded and analyzed as part of the public comment collection process. Additionally, there is an information table set up outside the hearing room where I staff can answer questions.

Both I Board members and senior management will be listening to public comments during this public hearing. At this time, I would ask I Board members who are in attendance to identify themselves. I would now ask I senior management who are in attendance to identify themselves.

Say it again, yeah.

MR. MACNEIL:

James MacNeil, Deputy Chief Transportation Officer.

INTERPRETER:

And tell me your title again?

MR. MACNEIL:

James MacNeil, Deputy Chief Transportation Officer.

MR. PHILLIPS:

This public hearing was scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. with a two hour break from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m.

I intends to conduct the public hearing for the entire advertised time periods to ensure members of the public who did not pre-register, but appear today and sign up to speak have an opportunity to do so.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you, Eddie.

Absent additional state funding, I is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately $100 million for its fiscal year 2026. I is required by law to pass a balanced budget, and with so many fixed costs, we are proposing 35 percent reduction in bus, light rail, and incline services. If approved by I's Board, these changes would begin with I's February 2026 service adjustments along with a $0.25 cent fare increase.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for I sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County.

A summary of the proposed funding crisis related to fiscal year 2026 fare increases and service reductions is provided below, and additional information is available on I's website at www.rideprt.org/fundingcrisis.

We will now begin receiving public comment.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Alexandra Frank. Come on up.

MS. FRANK:

My name is Alexandra Frank, A-L-E-X-A-N-D-R-A.

I'm currently a college student, and I use public transportation to get to and attend my classes. This would not only extend the amount of time it takes me to get to and from, but it would also mean that it would also be more difficult for certain time slots that I have classes at. That it would increase that amount of time, and it would be difficult. And I'm also pursuing a disability, so in a few years when I move out, I will have to be using public transportation to get everywhere I need to go. And if a bus is eliminated and I need to go somewhere, it might make it more difficult.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you for your comment.

MR. MACNEIL:

I want to say, if your public comment period is done, if you want to attend, there's more public comment in the regular room. You're welcome to listen into that. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MS. KAIL:

Okay.

Any who, what goes on here?

MR. MACNEIL:

So you have public comment period. I mean, we can brief what was read at the beginning, I'm sure. Three minutes to speak. We will not respond to anything. There is a table out front for any type of questions and answers, but you have three minutes to speak. It is all recorded and documented.

MS. KAIL:

Okay, that's fine.

MR. MACNEIL:

You get a one minute warning when your time's almost up.

MS. KAIL:

Okay.

When you're --- all right. Anyway, I live in the south Hills of Mount Lebanon, and --- and hearing about the 41 and the 38 and, well the 36 doesn't affect me. But I got no family. I got no friends. I work in Bridgeville. I can't depend on anything but public transport but the 41 or the 38 to get to work.

And that would ruin --- that will ruin me. Ruin my life, too. I would be unable to get to work. And if --- if the Port Authority eliminates the 41 and the 38, then --- and if there's that 31 that goes around in Bridgeville, that would be a way longer route to get to work. That would be. That would be just no good. There's a lot --- there's a lot of people who work at the hospital, Asbury Heights. I mean, I'm not sure how many people. Asbury Heights, the hospital, Cane Center, Providence Point. What are they all going to do?

There's --- I have no other way to get to work. I depend on these buses to get to work. And I'm not going to go look for a new job. I love my job. I --- I work at the sports store in Bridgeville. I love my job. I'm good at my job. I can't go on --- I can't go on unemployment. My unemployment's messed up. This is my --- I love my job. It's my livelihood, and it would. It would completely ruin my life.

We need these buses in the South Hills. We need them. Desperately need them. I'm pretty shaken up about it. I really am. It's hitting me hard. It hurts. What would I do without these buses? I got nobody. So please don't cut them.

And I hope my voice gets heard. I hope you all consider what I have, what I said today, this morning. Please don't cut them. Thanks.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you. There is the main room, the main ballroom area where you see where the desks were. This is an overflow and --- and for scheduling, for speaking. So it all gets documented and recorded, but you're welcome to attend the main room and listen to other public comment.

MS. KAIL:

Okay.

MR. MACNEIL:

And there's some desks outside of the main room. If you come out of here and make a left, I don't know if you saw them where you signed up, I'm sure, but they'll do some questions and answers if you have any.

MS. KAIL:

Okay.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MS. WELCH:

Come on in, have a seat. We may have to stand. Thank you. If you're a speaker, please stand in line over there. If you're a supporter, please have a seat or stand off to the side. Thank you. And there are some ground rules that we need to --- that we need to listen to. Go ahead.

MR. PHILLIPS:

All right.

Good morning, everybody. My name is Eddie Phillips. I'm the moderator of today's event in this auxiliary room. I just want to go over a quick couple of housekeeping Items with the group. This hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a Court Reporter. If you do not want to be recorded, you can exit the hearing room at this time.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide their public comment. When called upon, please clearly state your name and spell it, and then speak clearly. The hearing timekeeper will alert you when you have one minute remaining. If you have three minutes is up and you want to provide further comment, you may do so via telephone, mail or online until 5:00 p.m. Eastern Time on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025. If anybody needs it, our website is www.rideprt.org and /funding-crisis will lead you directly to where you want to go.

If you are finished before the three minutes is up, you may step off. We'll assume, and then the next person can come up. Okay?

MS. WELCH:

Okay.

Thank you. Good morning. My name is Angela Welch, A-N-G-E-L-A W-E-L-C-H, and I am the Chief Academic Officer and the assistant principal for the students that sit behind me. I come from City Charter High School, and just to give you some background, our school is located downtown on Stanwix Street. We have just under 600 students and 100 employees that work at City Charter High School, and we rely solely on public transportation to get to school and to get to work throughout the year.

We are a year round school. We function from mid-August all the way through the end of July, and staff work into the early August months. Our school would not be able to stay open if our students did not have access to the public transportation to take to school, and therefore would have to find alternative routes or not come to City Charter High School as their high school, leaving them to go to their home school which could be considered a nonacademic, non-safe environment.

So, I'm asking to please consider not making these cuts because it would greatly affect the students of our region. They would not be able to get to school, activities, jobs, and so on, and their families would also not have access to our school community.

From here, I'm going to turn it over to our students who have some more comments and recommendations moving forward. Thank you for your time.

MR. AQRA:

Good morning. My name is Zane Aqra, Z-A-N-E A-Q-R-A.

Busing and transit is extremely vital to our area, our region. Our communities, sorry, I'm free balling a little bit. Our communities are extremely reliant on it, both economically and culturally.

As youth coming downtown every single day, it would be so much more difficult. Cutting this fund --- not being able to receive this funding would then backset our community by who knows how many years. We've already seen such a --- such a decline since COVID, 75 percent decline since COVID in ridership. And from this --- these cuts would just massively reduce that even more. Affecting our economy, our culture, events. We have the draft coming up next year. How do we think that the City will expand based on this? How do you think our communities will expand? How do you think our culture will expand?

The Golden Triangle has seen better years. It has improved in the last couple years, but these cuts would stall that improvement. Cutting funding and bus routes in Pittsburgh could be detrimental to our communities. Considering myself, my family, and my friends, we all rely on Pittsburgh Transit in some way, whether it be to commute to school or even to run groceries or other necessities.

Earth would also heavily suffer from the increased greenhouse gases. Our commuting times would, like, would go up tenfold. Traffic on 376 and 279 would greatly increase. I don't want to drive my car down here. Parking would go up phenomenally.

Without this, people would have to use cars more often or simply have to accept the fact that they would no longer be able to come downtown. Thank you.

MS. TAYLOR:

Hello, my name is Cameron Taylor, C-A-M-E-R-O-N T-A-Y-L-O-R.

I would like to draw attention to one of the many possible consequences of cutting buses, which is drunk driving. During 2023 in Pittsburgh, 28.4 percent of all traffic fatalities included one or more parties driving drunk, compared to the state average of 25.4 percent. This number will only continue to increase once funding and services are cut.

Ubers are too expensive and are not optimal, and many people, especially university students, do not have cars. I'd like to leave you with this question. Would you rather see countless young people become lost, disoriented, injured, and possibly pass away from being forced to walk or drive home, or would you rather keep the routes as they are and keep public transit all accessible to get home safely? Thank you.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MR. ELLSWORTH:

Hi. My name's Alex Ellsworth. That's A-L-E-X E-L-L-S-W-O-R-T-H.

Thousands of people across the City, including myself, will be heavily impacted by the proposed changes to I. I personally rely on public transit on a daily basis. I use it to get to school every day and I also use it to get to work. And with the proposed changes, it would take me nearly double the amount of time to get there and cost double the price. For others, they may not be able to get to work at all.

There are only two bus lines in the entire city that will remain unaffected by this change. Every other line is either being reduced or eliminated. Something must be done. Thank you.

MR. FOWLER:

Good morning. My name is Robert Fowler, R-O-B-E-R-T F-O-W-L-E-R.

I understand that in the year 2026 that over 40 buses will be cut. While --- while that may be somewhat good, but at the same time it will cause way more problems than with this --- planet than there already is. There will be more cars with that, there will probably be more people that has jobs that usually rely on Port authority and buses to get to work. But without their buses, they'll be either getting late or they'll not --- not be able to show up at all. And with that, they will either be getting fired or worse.

I understand that, but also there is many people in the world, many young people like myself, that doesn't get behind the wheel of a car because I don't trust myself behind the wheel just yet. I wanted to wait until I'm older, so I rely on transportation and the buses to get me to the place where I need to be.

I work at many --- many of the daycares I work to, I have to use the buses to get to the places. Three of those buses are going to be, in around 2026, will probably be shut down or eliminated, and that would mess up my work routine and I'll have to try to figure out and try to do more things as well.

Also, each paycheck I'm getting in from the daycares, they'll probably be worsening up because I'll probably be using money on Ubers. Each paycheck will possibly be, it's just going to be a chunk. The Ubers are just going to be chunks of my paycheck. And it will be --- and if you're basically using my paychecks for just Ubers and for other things I have to pay for. And with that, it's going to become a more problem for me because I might be able to get fired.

I thank you for having me today.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MR. MORRIS:

Hello, my name is Alexander Morris, A-L-E-X-A-N-D-E-R. Morris, M-O-R-R-I-S, and I'm a student at City Charter High School.

And like many others in Pittsburgh, I run public transportation every single day to get to school, go to work, or engage in other outside of school activities. And from what I understand, these proposed cuts to our transit system are largely due to a projected $100 million deficit, but as I continued my research, I found something kind of confusing and concerning as well.

At the same time I is facing this crisis, parking rates downtown have gone up. Meter prices have also increased across the City, and now bus fare is expected to rise to $3, making ours one of the most expensive bus fares in the county --- in the country and county.

All this means one thing to me, which is that people are being pushed out of public transit and more so into their cars where they'll have no trouble choice but to pay more. More for gas, more for parking, more just to live their lives in general. And while that may bring short term revenue, I have to ask, at what cost?

And how long will this go on before we see things return to normal, if they ever do?

Because the fact is that this situation isn't merely about budgets. It's also about people. Students, like myself, teachers that we have here, elderly riders, workers, et cetera. Lower incomes --- lower income residents as well. People who don't have another option. People who feel like, you know, they're being left behind by decisions they have no vote in.

I'm not here just to raise concerns though. No, I am looking for alternatives. Can we look at perhaps contributions from large nonprofits or fair taxation on things such as vacant land or luxury developments? Can we also consider how to make the burden more equitable instead of putting it on those with the least, as we see with all of our bus riders here?

Seeing as Mayor Gainey often mentions investing into the future, be that through plans or the younger generation, it would be contradictory to leave those people behind. So I ask you to not only consider the bottom line, but the lives behind the numbers. Thank you.

CHASE:

Morning. My name's Chase. I'm a senior at City High Charter School. I take the P76 to school every day. I graduate in June, but these transit cuts will hurt me. Hurt me and many other students and workers and local businesses. They could also limit access to schools like mine. And with Pittsburgh hosting the NFL draft next year, now is the worst time to cut transit. Thank you for your time.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MS. FOSSUM:

My name Is Jude Fossum,

J-I-D-E F-O-S-S-I-M. And it would affect me and people in my family because we do take the P7 from --- from work and school. And people in my community might not be able to afford other routes or be able to walk to other bus stops. And considering that route goes all through Wilkinsburg and through a bunch of communities that don't have alternative routes that are very readily available, it would take a lot more resources for them to be able to go in for farming (phonetic), especially by I. Thank you.

MS. WORSHAM:

Hello, my name is Tyeric Worsham, T-Y-E-R-I-C W-O-R-S-H-A-M.

I've heard that our public transit system will be cut in half by next year, and I have one question about that. What are we going to do now? Those without vehicles and that --- and those who rely on buses will have a much more difficult time on getting to places where they need to be, which could --- which could make them lose their jobs. And, I'm sorry, people might not be able --- those who are --- those who go to school might not be able to even go to school or go to field trips and things like that. And that's all I have.

MR. TURNER:

All right.

My name's Tristan Turner, T-R-I-S-T-A-N T-I-R-N-E-R.

And I was just thinking about people who are mentally or physically disabled who literally can't drive a car. You can't pay for an Uber, you can't do things yourself. A lot of people heavily rely on the buses. Their only way to get from A to B, from work to school to wherever they have to go, to welfare places, to ship their packages, from mail, to go downtown to do stuff like that. And they literally have no choice. Like, if you're in their shoes and the City you live in, who's supposed to promise and guarantee you this, like, way to get to places is cutting this line. You have literally no choice. You have nowhere to go, nowhere to. It's going to make it harder for them to live, things like that.

So, I just want to put that in perspective.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MS. SALVADEO:

Hi, my name is Alicia Salvadeo, A-L-I-C-I-A S-A-L-V-A-D-E-O.

I am a teacher at City Charter High School. I've been a bus rider for 17 years, since I first moved to Pittsburgh. Use it every day to get to school, work, and now school again. Another reason why I think these bus cuts are dangerous in general is because I believe my son has the right to breathe clean air. And I think having more cars on the road is a step in the opposite direction.

Seventy (70) more reasons are in this room. You've heard from a lot of our students talking about how they use this to get to school, to get to work. Some of them, like, I have to deal with them, like nodding off in class because they're working jobs until after 11 o' clock. How are they getting home, right? So this is not to say even anything about the bus drivers who would similarly lose their job.

So I think ultimately, right now, it's not an issue of there being no money for buses, but a question of priorities. And I think it's in everybody's best interest to prioritize sustainable public transit so that people could get to work and get to school.

Lastly, I'll just say, I think sometimes people put this as, you know, cities versus rural. And I can understand that, when people in rural communities need a lot as well. But who's buying the groceries, who's trying to pay their gas bills? Like, this is all interconnected. And so, in order for people to be able to get by day-to-day, we need to be able to get to work. We need to be able to get the jobs based on the educations we get.

So I thank you for the time you've made for me and my students.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MR. SINDLER:

Hi, my name's Noah Sindler. I'm a senior at City High. I'm just going to keep it short and simple. I think that this is just sad. I think it's pathetic, in my opinion.

You are taking away the opportunities of a lot of people to travel to one place to another, and that's not cool. You shouldn't be doing that. How can we trust you if you're not doing what is in people's best interest to get around to these places? We have the draft coming up, and if you're not going to be able to bring all these buses, traffic is going to be a mess. It already is a mess. Better yet, also, where is the funding going if you are cutting these buses? Because it sure is not going to the homelessness problem and it isn't going to all the potholes. That's all I have to say. Thank you.

MR. DAVIS:

Hi, my name's Iklas Davis, I-K-L-A-S D-A-V-I-S.

One thing, I'm going to keep it short as well. But one thing that my --- my good friend Tristan Turner said was one thing about elderly people. It'll be harder for them to be able to get to place by place. And I know a lot of people, I know a lot of elderly people that have to take the bus to get to work or have to go get some medicine or do this kind of thing. And it's --- it's not helping by taking away one way to get them to place by place.

And one thing I will like to say is that it get --- it takes --- I live in Duquesne. It takes me an hour to get to school and to get to home. Taking away some of the buses that help me get downtown to school or to work or other places, it will be a disadvantage for me and it will be harder for me to look for job --- a job anywhere. It will mess up a lot of opportunities for kids to go different places and see new things.

Taking away the P7 would be one of the hardest things because it help --- it helps people from McKeesport to get that downtown. Because I know a lot of people that live in McKeesport work in --- work downtown. Thank you.

MR. O'CONNOR:

Hi, my name is Hugh O'Connor, H-I-G-H O-C-O-N-N-O-R.

I'm here on behalf of my students, my school, my community. And I just wanted to, you know, emphasize some of the points that have already been brought of today, the impact this will have on our school community. I've been working at the school for 17 years at this point. I think that is an existential threat --- threat to our --- our school, actually.

Also at a time when Pittsburgh Public is considering cutbacks in buildings and consolidation, I think, you know, a lot of these students also rely on buses in addition to ours. And I think that it's going to have a larger impact than a lot of us are necessarily realizing at this particular time. We talked about some of the social, the economic, and the political impacts as well.

I also think at a time when we are basically coming out of this pandemic where a lot of people have moved to remote work, a lot of people are coming back into physical spaces, these office buildings. This is a terrible time to cut back these services. Congestion, as you've heard, will go up. You actually have an environmental concern as well. You know, parking prices will. They are at a premium right now, and I'm sure those prices will rise as well.

And I just think that overall, I mean, the draft for a City who is, you know, revitalizing certain areas, like the area that we just walked past today. We want to bring people downtown. That's part of this idea of revitalizing this city. This is a crucial lifeline in order to do that. And cutting this back at this particular time is --- is going to be devastating in those zones. Thank you.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MS. TURK:

Hello, my name is Kelly Turk, K-E-L-L-Y T-I-R-K, and I am a science teacher at City Charter High School. I can echo what all of my fellow students and teachers have said, but I also want to put this out there.

Our students are brilliant, and they have some really great ideas. So instead of saying this is the --- our proposal, what about opening it up to hey guys, we have this crisis, what can we do?

These kids think very differently than a grown adult. They have very great ideas, and they have said things in class, they've brainstormed, for example, hey, the T has been free from the North Shore to Gateway. What if we charge a quarter? What kind of revenue is that going to be? There are people that take that every single day, or $0.50 cents. In the long run, you know, people don't think about a quarter or $0.50 cents they might be picking up off the ground. You know, that seems like nothing, or pocket change.

What about, hey, we have some of these electric buses now? So how is that influencing the --- the long term goals of I? And then someone else also brought up, you guys just changed your name to I. What was the cost of that? So that's almost a million dollars just in the name change. Why was that necessary?

So, I'll leave you with that. But these kids are brilliant, and maybe you should think of some of their ideas.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MS. HARRIS:

Hello, my name is Veshae Harris, V-E-S-H-A-E H-A-R-R-I-S.

And I just want to come up here and say, there are so many younger kids and students that are, like, less fortunate and don't have it. And I live in, like, a less fortunate area, which is the west side, Sheridan. There's, like, a lot of younger kids who can even barely afford to get on I. And I have, like, younger siblings and stuff who are growing up and who will be going to high school and who will be wanting to do stuff with their friends and stuff. And my mom is not going to --- my mom works a job too, so she won't be able to take, like, my brother and sister to work and everywhere they need to go.

Also, I work a part time job. I'm 18 years old. I have other stuff besides, you know, like getting a car, which is going to be a big priority, like, coming up. But you know, it's not a lot of students who even can get on I to get to a job to save up for a car or it's not like a lot of students who even have the money to start saving up. Some people have to help their parents pay with --- pay for bills, help younger siblings. There's a lot of us who are, like, a second mom to our siblings, so we also have other responsibilities.

A lot of jobs aren't paying that much, even for just part time and high schoolers who need to get to where they're going. And, you know, that's really it. Thank you.

MS. SILBERMANN:

I'm just going to make a quick announcement, if I could, everyone. Good morning. Thank you all for coming. If you are not in a giant rush to get back to a class or something, we have a bit of a lull in the main room, and we would love it if you could testify in front of our CEO and our Board members who are up on the main stage there. If you have to rush back to something, by all means, please feel free to stay here and give your testimony here. But we just wanted to let you know that this room is very full and that room is very not.

So if you'd like to speak, or even if you want to maybe split in half and two groups go in two different places so that we can keep everybody talking. Please feel free.

MR. MACNEIL:

I'll say before you --- before you do, I don't know if you have any more, but with this room, we don't have one on our media. I'd like to actually get a picture of this too, if we can.

MS. WELCH:

Can I ask a quick question? If we've already spoken, can we speak again?

MS. SILBERMANN:

I --- I --- that is not a question that I know the answer to, and I'm not sure if they'll let you.

MS. WELCH:

We also have multiple groups coming. We have multiple groups coming. We have another group at 11:00 and one this --- this afternoon.

MS. SILBERMANN:

So I would ask the main desk that question.

MS. WELCH:

Okay.

MS. SILBERMANN:

But yes, we would love it if we had a full group of speakers in both rooms. But the --- some of our Board members are in the other room, and we would really like them to hear your voices too, so.

MS. WELCH:

Thank you.

MS. SILBERMANN:

Yeah, thank you. So I --- I will mention really quickly, we do have our 10:05 and 10:10 speaker are in the other room giving testimony right now. We might have a gap after that. So I would say if you want to go to the other room, you can. You just might be waiting until there's a lull. So if some of you want to continue to give testimony here, I think that's a good idea. But then if some of you also want to go into the main hearing room and sort of wait to see if anyone doesn't show up for their speaking time.

But I will leave that up to your group.

MS. WELCH:

Okay.

Yeah, we were finishing up here, but we ---.

MS. SILBERMANN:

Okay.

MS. WELCH:

We have a little bit of time.

MS. SILBERMANN:

Yeah.

MS. WELCH:

Flexibility.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MS. REIHING:

I was really grateful to hear all those people over there too. First of all, I want to note that I take the 36 which is the bus which was Jerome Bettis's number. So it's like that's the bus. So you can't get rid of that. That's his number, right? So I called him the bus, too.

And that's one of the ones that's slated to be eliminated. Which for me, it's not a question to go to work. It's just, it's going to Heinz Hall, it's going downtown, it's going to the Aviary and Phipps and doing fun things. But for other people, it's crucial. It's work. It's people who work.

And these --- these cuts are draconian. I mean, it's like really so severe that you're going to just cut people off. I always tell my sisters, I want to be a --- I want to be a grape. I don't want to be a raisin. And you know, if you're a raisin, you're just drying up in your house. If you're a grape, then you can go out and take Port Authority. And I also do ACCESS, which is a wonderful, wonderful service. And I understand that that could be cut back too.

It's --- it's affecting and marginalizing elderly people, people of color, low income people.

You know, that segment of society is going to be so hurt by these cuts. And it's really sad. And I understand budget stuff, you know.

But I want to know too, on our end, on the people's end, what can we do? That's my big thing. I mean, you have to call your congressperson. I realize it's state funding. That's the big hold up, too. Am I correct in that? That it's state funding? That we have to loosen the coffers up there too, you know. But I just --- it's --- they're draconian. I mean, it's just they're totally eliminating people from being able to go out and --- and especially being elderly, you know, where it's --- it's that that's what keeps you alive is going to music and concerts and sports and stuff, stuff like that too. And taking that away, it's going to be.

I wanted to subscribe to the symphony for next year, and it's like, I can't do it if I can't get there, you know? And I know I've used the pass to go downtown, and it's a $30 cab ride. I can't afford that. You know, if I have to go to a concert, I can't afford $60 in each direction. I love my pass, you know. I've waited 65 years to get the pass, and I certainly use it too.

So, I thank you for listening too. And I wish all of you the best of luck too. This is a lifeline for everybody, too. And I hope that something happens too, so. Thank you so much. And, okay.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MS. REIHING:

I appreciate it. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MR. PHILLIPS:

Okay.

Mr. Donald Russell.

MR. RUSSELL:

Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you.

MR. RUSSELL:

Yes. There is definitely a problem --- problem here. I'm in mental health recovery. The thing is, if I don't have bus service, I cannot see --- see my therapist. I could not see my psych nurse, and --- and I will not be able to get my meds. Because of bus cuts. If I don't take my meds, I'm going to be very manic again. And, excuse me. So --- so cutting this service would basically put --- put me in jeopardy because I will not be able to see my outpatient treatment team, and I will not be --- be able to pick up my meds if bus services are --- are cut.

Also, I --- I live in a high --- high rise and there's a bunch of elderly folks who forgot to pay the light bill. Budget cut affected the light bill. Yeah, I --- in a high rise and there's a lot of elderly folks who have walkers and who have canes and --- and also need to go to other doctors too.

And it's like I --- I said, if the service is cut, we're going to be up crick. Because they're talking about major reduction of buses. And that's important in a bind, especially if --- if they're taking the ACCESS because there's also people that depend on ACCESS where I'm at.

So --- so like I said, this is going to make a mess out of things. So --- so, yay, one minute left. But --- but it's like I'm saying, I'm doing buses that they're planning --- is the 91 and the Brighton bus I took home from work yesterday. Both buses were packed with people. So it's like I said, if this service is cut, there doesn't be big --- big --- there's going to be a lot of problems for us who depend on buses. So, that's it. Like I said, I am required to see people too, so --- so I won't be able to make it to do outpatient appointments and pick up my medication if the services are cut. Yeah. Okay.

Thank you for ---.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MR. RUSSELL:

For --- for letting me go.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MR. PHILLIPS:

All right.

We'll call up Aileen Zurienski.

MS. ZURIENSKI:

Hello, my name is Aileen Zurienski. I live in Oakland, and I take the 93 to Square Hill because there's a clubhouse there for people having mental illness, and I like that route.

A friend of mine keeps telling me that they're going to get rid of it, and that scares the heck out of me and I want --- I'd rather not have to switch buses just to get there. It's kind of like --- I have another bunch of friends that live in Squirrel Hill that take it to people's Oakland. So I'm talking on behalf half of them, too.

I don't think it's fair to do that, but so far, I haven't seen anything happen. Knock on whatever. I was sitting in the other room with my friend Kelda. I was like, I didn't want to sign up first. And I go, wait a minute. People talking about buses. I better speak up. Because I take the bus all the time. I take it. I take whatever bus in Oakland goes to downtown to do stuff. But my main concern is the 93. Because I really like that bus route. Because it goes from there, and it goes into Greenfield and then to Square Hill. It might seem like it's taking a long time, but it's a good bus route.

So I just wanted to put my word in.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you. Thank you very much. We appreciate it. All right. Next up is Shawn Pastor.

MR. PASTOR:

Hey, how's everybody doing today?

MR. PHILLIPS:

Good. How are you?

MR. PASTOR:

Not bad, but, yeah. You guys, I don't know what I wrote on or what what the heck's going on here, because this is --- this is --- this is pretty. This --- this came on me, and I'm --- I'm devastated. You're trying to cut the --- trying to dismantle and get rid of 36, 38, and 41? I --- I can't do that. Because I use all three. I use all three buses. Not all the time, but I use them.

And the people they use the 36 that I talk to, they're devastated. They're not in a good --- they're not in a good state. They're --- they're upset. It's just, it hurts because I've known this agency for over 20, like, 25 years. It's, I'm sorry. I am getting a little emotional, but it just sucks.

Don't do this. Don't do this. Please, don't do this. Oh, God. But I --- I just, I don't know. Like, it's just, please don't. Please don't do this. So, thanks.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you.

MR. MACNEIL:

And Shawn, right behind the desk where you signed in to speak?

MR. PASTOR:

Yeah.

MR. MACNEIL:

The main room is behind there where there's other public comment going on right now, too. This was considered the overflow, so if you want to attend that in there, you're welcome to.

MR. PASTOR:

Okay.

Thanks, guys. Appreciate it.

MR. MACNEIL:

Thank you.

MR. PASTOR:

Yep.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thanks.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MR. MACNEIL:

It is now 1:00 p.m. As publicly advertised, we will now take a break and go off the record from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. The public hearing will resume at 3:00 p.m. Thank you.

JAMES McNEAL:

All right, good afternoon. It is now 3:00 p.m. The public hearing will resume. As a reminder, this hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter, so if you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing room now.

Each speaker has up to three minutes to provide public comment and should come up to the speaker's table when called upon and state their name clearly and spell it for the court reporter before beginning to provide your public comment.

NANCY BARYLAK:

I'd like to call Fawn Montgomery. Good afternoon.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

So my name is Fawn Montgomery. I am the CEO for Take Action Advocacy Group. I'm also a Board member of the Pittsburgh Regional Public Transit.

So coming here today to provide public comment on the proposed ---. Specifically I want to highlight the Mon Valley areas.

First of all, I like this document and the way you are laying it out. So I do understand that the state said this is what they're giving you all and then you all had to make these decisions, these cuts. I get that as a former elected official.

My issue has always been why does it have to affect the people, like take away from us? The increases in the fares, I don't see anything over like a $40 increase, but that is a lot to folks and you're talking about $2.75 to $3, 31 day pass for 97 --- will possibly go from $97 to $106.50.

And then some of these cuts like the McKeesport flyer talking about eliminating it all together. It is hard enough in the Mon Valley because we're outside of the bigger City of Pittsburgh.

So it's hard enough to get in here. It's hard enough to maintain employment because your boss doesn't care if the bus is late or if the bus didn't show up or was five or ten minutes behind. It's hard enough to get our kids to, you know, doctor's appointments or get our own sons of doctor's appointments.

It's hard enough just to get out of --- maybe you just want to go to the park. Maybe you just want to go to the fair or something. It's hard enough to do that right now like today.

So if some of these cuts go through, it's going to be detrimental to areas like McKeesport, like the Mon Valley, like anything outside of the bigger city. Not that it won't be detrimental for the people here, because it will. But you're talking about outside of the city where already transportation barriers just to do regular things. Go to the doctors, go to the grocery store, not to mention the food --- that already exists in the Mon Valley because we have areas that don't have any grocery stores.

So if these cuts go through, it's going to make our quality of life worse than it already is presently. So we're having all these public hearings. I think you all know that we're not in favor of these cuts. What is the plan here? Like what is the plan --- if you have to do these cuts, what is the plan for the people that you are supposed to serve? Like what is the plan for some of those things? If you're going to eliminate, are you bringing back anything? If you're going to eliminate, are you going to go through some of these price increases?

Because I know there was an issue with ridership and it's not that people don't want to ride the bus. They can't afford to ride the bus and then they can't even get to the bus stop because the cuts will be coming.

So if I live on the top of the hill in McKeesport, I can't get to the bottom. I can walk, but I could --- there's safety concerns depending on what, you know, part of the hill you got to walk down.

So what is y'all's plan? Cause there has to be some kind of a plan.

NANCY BARYLAK:

Sorry.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

No, I get it.

NANCY BARYLAK:

That was a little loud. Sorry.

JAMES McNEAL:

Thank you. During the public comment, I don't know if you were here for the morning when we read through everything.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

No.

JAMES McNEAL:

We do not respond and answer questions.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

Okay.

JAMES McNEAL:

But there is some tabling out front where you sign in.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

Okay.

JAMES McNEAL:

And some of the questions can be answered there.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

Okay.

JAMES McNEAL:

And then outside of this when you're done, also the other room right behind the table is the main room. This is the auxiliary for a fill in. You're more than welcome to go into the main room and hear more public comment also.

MS. MONTGOMERY:

Okay.

NANCY BARYLAK:

Thank you.

John Cotter.

MR. COTTER:

My name is John Cotter. That's J-O-H-N, C-O-T-T-E-R.

I've come here just generally to show support for like you know, anyone at the state level who looks at this to you know, increase funding for transit, whatever you have to do for that so we don't have these cuts to begin with.

You know, worst comes to worst if there are cuts, you know, I'm from Brookline and it's like all the buses from Brookline would be cut with this from what I'm aware of. Like 39, 41, pretty much all the ---. And there's over 13,000 people there. So for me it seems absurd that we wouldn't have bus access. Especially because a lot of people I know had moved there because it's a pretty quick bus ride, 15 minutes when the tunnel is actually open, but now Washington.

Now, even if there was something worst comes to worse that there's at least some bus access there, even if it's just a 39, I just want to say that's really important.

I also want to comment on something unrelated, but when you think about increasing ridership, you know, to these areas, you know, the self busway at the entrance of the neighborhood, but it's not very accessible. It's like Whitehead Station, Whitehead Street itself. No sidewalks. Jacob Street, no sidewalks. Most at Dunster to the --- Station. No sidewalks. I used to take that to West Mifflin sometimes, but you kind of got to dodge cars in the morning. It's like Cadet Avenue to the Pioneer Station. You know there's housing there, but you know, no sidewalks.

I know that's not entirely your control. There's different property owners, but if PRT could work with whoever they need to to try to increase, you know, sidewalk accessibility. I think that could help with ridership as well.

But again, showing my support for funding in general, but also just making sure Brookline has something. And that's about all I need to say.

JAMES McNEAL:

Thank you. In the morning period for public comment, I think there was some individuals that were able to speak in the other room too. So if someone doesn't show and you'd like to in the main room, by all means, please go into there and hear some of the other comments. Thank you.

NANCY BARYLAK:

Thank you.

AUDIENCE MEMBER:

Thank you, Ben.

Absent additional state funding, PRT is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately $100 million for its fiscal year 2026 beginning July 1st of this year. PRT is required by law to pass a balanced budget and with so many fixed cost are proposing a 35 percent reduction in bus, light rail and incline services.

If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments along with a 25 cent fare increase and related increases to other PRT fare products.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program ACCESS. This program provides demand response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County.

A summary of the proposed funding crisis related FY2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at ridePRT.org/funding-crisis. There's also information at the informational tables outside the hearing room with this information.

We will now begin to receive public comment.

MR. NICKLOW:

We will start with JoEllen Habas. As a reminder, please state your name and spell it before beginning your comment. You will have three minutes with a warning of one minute remaining.

MS. HABAS:

Thank you. My name is JoEllen Habas, J-O-E-L-L-E-N, H-A, B like boy, A, S like Sam.

First of all, I'd like to thank you for your service. As a senior citizen who is unable to drive for health reasons, my whole life has been changed by having access to the transportation throughout the City of Pittsburgh and I'm very grateful for that.

I have a sister who lives in Mount Lebanon. I go to see her, she comes to see me, we go to the movies, we go out to dinner and that's all facilitated through the buses back and forth. I fear that if the bus service specifically in Mount Lebanon, but also the other proposed cuts, I fear that if that's eliminated her life will be impacted in so many ways.

She may be turned into a shut in.

She goes to her doctor's appointments, her dentist appointments by bus. Sure, through her insurance, she has access to transportation at times, but she needs to get out of the house. She needs to be able to function as an adult and as an independent person and not be picked up and dropped off. She might not be happy to hear me say that, but it's important to her. It's important for her socialization. It's important when she has trouble with her phone that she goes to get it checked out.

She does grocery shopping, she goes to the pharmacy. Her friends and her family are not all in that immediate area. And I'm afraid that her life will be and her mental status and her physical well being will be impacted. And it's not just her, of course, it's all the other people who have similar situations.

I also, in riding the bus back and forth to see her, see so many people in the outlying areas who come into Pittsburgh to Downtown to work. Their livelihood is dependent upon that.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. HABAS:

Thank you.

And a lot of them don't make a huge amount of money to be unable to take the bus back and forth. Especially if their shifts are impacted at later times and have multiple changes in their bus schedule. Their lives will be changed in a meaningful and very, very sad way.

So thank you for having this hearing and I appreciate the ability to communicate with you. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you very much. Sabrina Arnold. Harry Smith. Madison Wong. Okay. It looks like we have a few more people that came in. We'll go back. Sabrina Arnold. Sabrina, when you come down, please state your name, spell it. You will have three minutes with a warning for one minute remaining.

MS. ARNOLD:

Okay.

My name is Sabrina Arnold. S-A-B-R-I-N-A, A-R-N-O-L-D. My ZIP code is 15222. I can start? Okay.

Hello, my name is Sabrina Arnold. I am a junior that attends City Charter High School located in Downtown Pittsburgh. I've been given the opportunity to voice my opinion, thoughts and feelings on the Pittsburgh Regional Transit plan budget cut.

Thankfully, I am blessed to have the ability to ride the bus and have the freedom to leave and go where I want to go. If these budget cuts go through, I will no longer be able to have the ability to go to work or school or participate in athletics.

My parents are divorced and I live in two separate parts of town. My mom lives on the east and my father lives in North Hills. My parents don't always have the time or the ability to take me across the cities. So a lot of times I ride the bus between my two homes.

I mainly stay with my mother in Lincoln-Lemington, where there are only two buses that come to my house, the 82 and the P17. Unfortunately, my mother works a lot so it's often impossible to get around without the buses.

I also take the bus four days a week to go to my school and back home. If the budget cuts are cut, I will no longer have the ability to go to City High, including that it's a charter school where I have been attending for the last three years because the only two buses that come to my house will no longer be there.

As a year round student athlete, at home --- at school and home, I also attend a City Charter High School. I also no longer have the ability to play sports that I love. I play volleyball, soccer, cheer and basketball and track. Sports that are all year round. My mother isn't always able to take me and pick me up from the sports I play, so I often ride the bus home.

When you've been playing a sport that you love and you pour your whole life into it, your time, your body, your mind, when you're no longer being able to play it, it's like a part of you is gone too. I wouldn't want that to happen to me.

Since I'm captain, it gives me a feeling of determination, resilience and the feeling of responsibility.

In addition, I work at CVS located in Oakland from 4:00 to 11:00 p.m. when I can. And if the budget cuts are made, I will no longer be able to work because it said that if y'all cut it, buses will run no later than 11:00 p.m. so I will have no ability to get home.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. ARNOLD:

My work is important to me. It helps me save up for things like a car and daily month expenses. I feel like my freedom and my ability to be independent is being taken away.

With that being said, I'm not the only teen who will be negatively impacted by the transit budget cuts. But mine is just one of the stories and there's a bunch more who have not even shared theirs. I hope that you will take my situation into consideration before making the huge life changing decision. I appreciate you for giving me the time to speak.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Sabrina.

MR. NICKLOW:

Madison Wong.

Please state your name and spell it. You will have three minutes with a one minute warning.

MS. WANG:

My name is Rosemary Wang. R-O-S-E-M-A-R-Y, W-A-N-G. My ZIP code is 15204. I live in Sheridan where there's only one bus that's close to me.

I take the 26 every day to get to my high school, City Charter, that's Downtown. If my bus got eliminated, I wouldn't have any way to get there. I would have to either add on a 20 or more minute walk through hills to buses that might not even be available to me after the major reductions, or I would have to find a new school while I'm in my senior year.

I've made strong connections with many peers and teachers who also rely on the buses to get to school. I know so many of my classmates take the 39. One of my closest friends take the 41. All of these people would face similar problems if their buses got cut. To change the buses would really impact all of our education.

And my high school is not the only one Downtown either. There's other high schools, middle schools and daycares Downtown. And there's a reason they're all there. The buses make it accessible to students, parents and workers. Many of these people would have to find different places to go for education, childcare, jobs if they weren't able to take the buses that they have been taking all this time.

I understand how it might seem right to cut certain buses because of funding issues, but public transportation really is the only mode of transportation some people have.

When I was younger, my mom did not have a car. The only way she could get me and my brother around was the buses. If she didn't have the buses back then, she would have likely not been able to get the job she had, been able to save up, buy groceries to feed our family, get checkups, and so much more.

This is the same situation for many families out there. They rely on the buses to be able to keep working, getting to school, get to the doctors, to keep living in Pittsburgh.

When you're making these decisions, yes, it's important to remember the funding issues, but it's also important to remember all the communities that only have the buses as a form of transportation. Thank you for your time.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Perri Smith.

Please state your name when you come down and spell it. You will have three minutes to speak with a warning for the one minute remaining.

MS. SMITH:

Perri Smith, P-E-R-R-I, S-M-I-T-H.

Hello. My name is Perri and ever since I could remember, I have been riding public transportation.

From riding in my stroller as a newborn on the 60 Crawford Village to walking on my tiny feet down to the hill to get to daycare because there wasn't an early enough bus. From taking the 61C McKeesport to get to any proper grocery store, to telling my friends I couldn't attend a hangout because it wasn't on the busway. From continuing to ride the 55

Glassport and the P7 McKeesport Flyer for all my high school career.

And I'm going to be honest. I used to be ashamed to say I have to ride the bus, but now I embrace it. Public transportation is a part of me. It is how I grew up. My mom used to say, don't depend on anybody. I grew up not asking for a ride. I grew up analyzing the bus schedules. When someone would ask me, oh, what bus can I catch to get here? Or where can I catch this bus? I'd give a confident answer. And I silently tell myself, girl, you know your stuff.

But for so many people like me, it's not just public transportation and there --- it's their life that they will be affected. It's someone's way to school. It's someone's way to work. It's someone's way to their job. It is someone's job. It's someone's way to the grocery store.

It may seem like a minor change to some people, but for others --- but for others, it's someone's way to get their baby to and from daycare.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute.

MS. SMITH:

This may seem like a minor change to some people, but for others, it's an elimination to someone's everyday life. They analyzed the data to see what buses were to be cut, but did they analyze how this could be a major change to so many people's lives? Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Madison Coulter.

Please state your name and spell it. You will have three minutes to speak with a warning for the one minute remaining.

MS. COULTER:

Madison Coulter, M-A-D-I-S-O-N, C-O-U-L-T-E-R, 15216.

Hello, I'm Madison Coulter. I live in Banksville. I go to City Charter High School. I get up every day at 5:30 a.m. which is early for a teenager like me at 16 years old. I can ride the bus 38 from Green Tree to Downtown or I can also take the 36 from Banksville to Downtown.

The city is planning on cutting both of these buses which means I won't be able to get go to school and get the education that this city so desperately wants for its students. But it's not just me that will be affected.

Almost all of City High students, that's 630 children, 743 kappa students and other city high --- other schools, high school schools that won't be able to go downtown because of the bus cuts.

There's also adults that are affected by this. 54,653 college students will not be able to come down and get the education to start their lives and start their career. I've seen families come to bus that depend on these. I've had conversations with mothers that can't go anywhere because they don't have a car because they can't afford it, and the bus is their only way to get around.

Along with the two buses that are getting cut, 41 in total buses are getting cut or getting delayed. It would take two hours now to get to places. I have personal friends that take longer. It's already an hour for them to get to school or to go to church or to go to their job.

Almost every Wednesday I ride the 2 or P13 to go to my friend's church. Religion is one of the top things in my life and is very important to me. And both of these buses are getting cut, which means I won't be able to go to a place that feels like a second home to me, which is devastating for me and devastating for multiple other people that ride the bus with me and go to that church. I won't be able to see the friends that I have come so close with, nor be able to talk to the adults that have affected my life for the better.

Now, I understand you can't control the funds and the city is struggling, but I also think the funds are going to the wrong places, like electric buses. I've only seen three in total. What I need from this panel is to think about the true effects and the lives that they're changing, because it's much deeper than just cutting buses. Thank you for your time.

James Love. Rosemary Wang. London Bellicott. Jaiqui Dennis. Tameara Robinson.

MS. ROBINSON:

Hi, I'm Tameara Robinson, T-A-M-E-A-R-A, R-O-B-I-N-S-O-N. My ZIP code is 15210.

Hi, I'm Tameara Robinson and I attend City Charter High School. The PRT cuts I'll be talking about are the 51L elimination and the 69 major reduction.

As you know, the 51 and the 51L is the only form of PRT that goes through Carrick. Every time I catch a 51 or 51L, it is always consistently packed. The elimination of the 51L is and will cause overcrowding.

In the mornings when I attend City High, two young mothers with infants went to strangers to find out their children go to the same daycare they're sharing through each other's babies to them being best friends. These are one out of many other single mothers who can't take the bus and will have to pay more because of the 25 cent raise for three hour bus fares. What if they can't afford it?

The one day bus fare is a 50 cent raise and a seven day bus fare is being raised by $2. What should be the priority for single mothers? Having their children eat and have a stable home or go into work and drop their babies off to daycare they won't be able to afford, as if they're not already scraping the plates as it is? How is it possible they can make sure the babies eat and have a stable home when you're taking the 51L away and raising bus fares? Where can they find a space to sit her and her baby down when the bus will be overcrowded?

Because many people have been kicked off the 51, 51L because of their hostility. Not only have I witnessed incidents on the 51, 51L but since the buses are already packed, there's plenty more witnesses where I come from.

Though I am very thankful for my schools funding us bus passes, they don't fund us for extracurricular activities. I go to a program called LEAP. It takes me an hour and 20 minutes to get there when I take the 51L downtown and the 69 to Carnegie Mellon where LEAP is at. The LEAP program is 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. I'm leaving to get on the bus at 7:00 a.m. and I usually don't get home until around 4:30 p.m. That doesn't include me waiting for the bus.

What if I get to downtown and this 69 isn't coming for 30 minutes? Better yet, with the major reduction you're proposing, what if it takes an hour? If it already takes me an hour 20 minutes to get there, how long will it take me now? What if I can't make it home? What if other families with kids can't afford gas money or afford a car when their child is stuck somewhere else?

Gas money, inflation and taxes, now bus fares. Over time we keep getting things taken from us what we have left. Thank you.

MS. HILL:

Lanya Hill, L-A-N-Y-A, H-I-L-L.

Hi, my name is Lanya Hill. I'm here today to express my feelings about the bus cuts and how I will how it will affect me and every my everyday commute.

I live on the north side of Pittsburgh. My buses are going through major reductions which will make it harder to get to school and work. I take the 13 Bellevue regularly because it's the only bus that goes next to my house. I take the 13 Bellevue to school, City Charter High School and from home and from school. I also take the 12th McKnight to work and home five days out of the week.

The bus cuts will affect me tremendously. It will affect my school commute because it will take me even longer to get to school. The bus changes --- the bus comes every 20 to 30 minutes now and I can only imagine how long it would take after these changes. The time that it takes for the bus to come and the time that takes to get Downtown, my commute to school is long and reductions in services will change. Me, it will cause me to be late regularly which will affect my grades in my first period class.

I take the 12 McKnight to work. I work in retail at Ross Park Mall. These bus cuts will affect my work life. Our day does not end until --- our school day does not end until 4:15. And so reducing services will cause me to be late to work. I will no longer be able to keep my job that I enjoy and I will miss out on friendships I have made with my managers and co-workers. I will have no money and will be forced to find a --- another job closer to home.

These cuts won't just affect me, they will affect many people trying to get to work and school. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Taijoura Hopkins.

Please state your name and spell it. You will have three minutes to speak with a one minute remaining warning.

MS. HOPKINS:

T-A-I-J-O-U-R-A, H-O-P-K-I-N-S. My area code is 15003.

Good morning. My name is Taijoura Hopkins. I am from the South Side of Pittsburgh. After my 9th grade year at City Charter High School I moved to Ambridge, PA with my mom sisters. By car, my house is 40 minutes away from the city. On the bus, my home is one hour and 15 minutes away. Now I know what you're thinking. Why not go to Ambridge High School? I could have, but I knew City High was the school I wanted to graduate from because of academic opportunities. Also, if I tried to leave, my full transcript would not transfer, leaving me with credits I've already worked hard to get needing to be made up.

I ride the number 14 which would eventually be one of the buses being eliminated. The 14 already doesn't even go into the city. The farthest it takes me is the Allegheny Station and then I have to get off to get on the T that takes me to Gateway Station Downtown. I've been doing that every day since August 30, 2023, my first day of 10th grade.

Equally important as my transportation to and from school, I go to church every Sunday on McKnight Road on the 14th and the 012. My journey on strengthening my faith with Christ is so significant to me that I am willing to catch the bus from Ambridge to Ross Park.

Recently I have gotten my permit and soon I will be able to get my license which encouraged me to start saving up for a car. Even if I drove currently, parking is expensive in the city. I have teachers that commute by bus because they have enough expenses to pay for without paying for parking every day.

While I can stand here today and list off my multiple reasons that I have for being enraged about bus cuts, the world is so much bigger than me. People that drive will be dealing with longer traffic times, walkers might be more crowded on the streets and buses will be running less than they normally do. So people whose buses aren't being eliminated will get home way later than usual.

So to close out everything I have said today, I'll leave you with this thought. Reducing the PRT schedule and routes will affect not only bus riders in the City of Pittsburgh, but the majority of Pittsburgh's population. I hope you take everything I say into consideration. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Do we have James Love?

Do we have any of the other students registered or not that are wanting to speak?

Okay. As you come down please state your name and spell it. You will have three minutes to speak with a reminder with --- for one minute remaining. Please register if you did not out in the lobby.

MR. CANNON:

Hi, my name is Brayden Cannon, B-R-A-Y-D-E-N, C-A-N-N-O-N. I didn't come very prepared for today as I would feel with the bus beings cut.

I ride the 51 and the 51L ZIP code 15210 and the 51L would be fully eliminated causing more crowding on the 51 than there already is. I think the 51 goes through five different neighborhoods. Brentwood, Carrick, Arlington, Mount Oliver and South Side. So all those together all combined for a reduced bus of only the 51 would cause crowding to be way higher.

And I just got my license and parking downtown costs an arm and a limb. It would be $10 a day for me to park starting from next year with the bus cuts till I graduate would cost me $660 for me to park till I graduated just Downtown.

With the bus cuts, if it already takes me almost 40 minutes on the 51 to get to school in the morning, imagine how longer it would be with crowding. And there's people behind me, like my fellow students who have less of a time and less buses to take now due to the cuts, who buses are getting eliminated and will not be able to physically attend City High anymore.

And I just --- I think that everyone on this panel, I think, can all agree that the bus cut is a lot for all of us students who have to deal with it and go through it. And I wish that you take all of everything that we said into consideration and try to help us students who would really like to attend City High, to be able to commute through buses, through work and every other thing else that we have to go through for this. Thank you, guys.

MODERATOR:

MR. NICKLOW:

Okay.

We are ready to resume. A reminder, this session is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not wish to be recorded, please exit the room.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide public comment. When called, please approach the speaker's table, clearly state your full name and spell it slowly for the recording before beginning.

We will start with Carolyn Kerr.

MS. KERR:

My name is Carolyn Kerr, C-A-R-O-L-Y-N, K-E-R-R.

I'm lucky. I have a car. Still, I came to Oakland today the way I did for most of the 25 years I taught in the College of Business Administration at Pitt. By transit. Why did I do that? Partly to keep the air just a little bit cleaner. Partly to keep one more car out of the lines of traffic. Partly to free up one parking space for someone who wasn't as lucky as I am.

I'm lucky to live somewhere I love. My fifth great grandfather surveyed and laid out Downtown Pittsburgh. So I take what happens here seriously and personally. I want to see our region thrive.

I'm lucky that I was able to help a refugee family settle in. That included helping the father learn to navigate a bus to South Hills Junction and the Silver Line to his job. A job he wouldn't be able to take without transit. A job where he has been repeatedly promoted. A job that has supported his family and allowed them to buy a house and grow the tax base.

Then I think about other people, those facing challenges I can't imagine, like how they will try to manage to move about using just a bicycle up and down our beautiful but challenging hills. I can't imagine what it's like not to be able to get to a grocery store or a pharmacy or a doctor's appointment or find a job to support themselves.

I think about all that our region has to offer in the way of arts, sports, education and learning. How do our young people become the foundation for tomorrow's success if they can't get to the library or to see the wonders left to us by people who couldn't begin to picture what our lives look like today? But those people were part of generations who knew that public transportation was one key to vibrancy, growth and progress.

A few years ago, a special initiative was placed on the ballot to support the Carnegie Library system. It passed overwhelmingly. I, for one, retired and on a budget though I am, would certainly support some type of similar initiative to fund public transit.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. KERR:

It might only be a dent, but it could be a start. Maybe employers along the lines could help. There are lots of good ideas if only we look for them instead of for cuts.

Yes, I am lucky, and today I am lucky to be given this chance to speak up for those who aren't as lucky as I am. Let's all work together to find ways to help them until their luck can change. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Carolyn.

MR. WALTER:

I'm from the South Hills. I take the Silver Line. I'm on dialysis three days a week. I go to doctor's appointments and visit friends and go other places to the malls and that. And if I lose public transportation, I won't be able to --- I won't be able to go to any of these places and go shopping and do a lot of other things, too. So I just hope I keep this transit going. So thank you very much.

MODERATOR:

MR. NICKLOW:

MS. MORGAN:

Erin Morgan, E-R-I-N, M-O-R-G-A-N.

Good morning. My name is Erin Morgan and I'm a resident of City of Pittsburgh and a caseworker who supports refugees and immigrants at JFCS, a nonprofit in Squirrel Hill. Many families we serve will be deeply affected by the proposed cuts to bus routes. I want to share the story of one such family.

They arrived in the United States as refugees in late 2023. While waiting for permanent housing, they stayed in a hotel and relied on the bus to reach JFCS for English as a Second Language classes and other services.

Once housing became available, they moved to the Crafton area along Routes 27 and 29, now set to be eliminated. Their only remaining route, the 26, will have major reductions. Both parents found jobs, one near Fox Chapel and the other in Lawrenceville. But now the bus routes they depend on to get to work are being eliminated or severely reduced. The family already balances long commutes, walking and childcare. These cuts could force them to leave the jobs they like where they are valued.

For immigrant families, finding a new job isn't easy. Many face language barriers and limited employment options. Without savings or a strong support network, a job loss could quickly lead to an eviction and put more strain on local agencies and government support services.

Right now, they use the 26,

27 or 29 for weekly shopping. Two of those will be eliminated and the third reduced. Without a bus, they'd have to walk one and a half miles, about 34 minutes, carrying groceries for a family of five. Many of the roads the family would have to walk don't have sidewalks.

They've already overcome so much. Cutting these routes will make daily life significantly harder, ---

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. MORGAN:

--- not just for them, but for the families like theirs. Public transit is a vital lifeline for our communities, and I urge you to consider the real impact these changes will have.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Erin.

MR. NICKLOW:

Juanita Knight.

Please state your name and spell it for the recorder when you come up to the microphone. You will have three minutes to speak with a reminder for one minute remaining.

MS. KNIGHT:

Okay.

Hello. Hi. Good evening --- good noon. My name is Juanita Knight. First name J-U-A-N-I-T-A, Knight, K-N-I-G-H-T.

Okay. I'm here for my concerns about these bus cuts and living in late hours last service. I have nieces and nephews that work on North Hills and I live in Bellevue. They live in Penn Hills, but they will go all across town to work. And if they stop the last bus at 11:00 at night and they don't get off work until 11:00, I don't know how they going to get home from North Hills to Penn Hills.

And two, I don't see why you have all these buses coming to Oakland. We're short on it. Just looping around in a circle for nowhere. You have buses going to nowhere, then you want to raise the bus fare to where? What we going to do when you raise the bus fare? Hop bus to bus. And then you got to wait for only certain buses to take you to Oakland.

I work out here in Oakland. I work at a Pitt University across the street. And I've been working there 45 years and I never had problems getting any bus from Downtown Pittsburgh to Oakland or from Oakland back to Downtown.

Then when you're standing there waiting for a bus to take you Downtown, when you get off work, four buses going past you, all of them say short when you get the next two, and then I missed my connection Downtown. And if you eliminate certain buses on the north side or Brighton Heights or Bellevue anywhere, it's going to make it hard for people to get around.

You have --- a lot of these companies are hiring, but they're hiring for hours, closing hours. How are you going to close if you have no bus to get home? Everybody doesn't have vehicles and I'm sure everyone sitting up here on this here podium don't take a bus to work. And when you ride that bus, you see how we feel. Then you give us some other thought about eliminate service. Because you call it PRT regional. It's not regional anymore. It's picking and choosing right now what you want to do.

So to me, please do not eliminate any services or cut any fare --- you know, raise the fare of eliminate any service or eliminate bus service. Take that into consideration and --- please. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Juanita.

MS. KNIGHT:

Okay.

And just a reminder, the purpose of today's hearing is for us to receive public comment. So if we're not commenting or responding, that's why.

MR. NICKLOW:

Ariana Lucia Aguilar.

As a reminder, please state your name and spell it for the recorder. You will have three minutes to speak with a one minute remaining.

MS. AGUILAR:

My name is Arianna Aguilar. A-R-I-A-N-N-A, last name A-G-U-I-L-A-R.

Hello. My name is Arianna. I am a resident of Millville. I work with refugee youth and their families. And like most of my clients, I cannot drive and rely primarily on PRT for both my professional and personal life.

The current level of service is already unsustainably low. Because there is no crosstown bus to Millville, my spouse must drive me across the bridge to Lawrenceville to get the 64 to my offices in Squirrel Hill, where I work primarily. Or I must walk a long way through the dangerous crossing of East Ohio and the 40th Street Bridge. The bus is infrequent and unreliable. So logistically, this commute is very challenging.

I also take the bus all over the county for my job. For example, to get to Carrick, Brentwood and Baldwin for youth programs, I take the 2 to Downtown, which only comes once an hour, and then I transfer to one of the 51s which are often too full on my way back as kids getting off school fill the bus.

We need more trains in Pittsburgh, not less. I've relied on the T to get to South Hills Middle and Brashear from Downtown, which is a rare respite from being stuck in traffic caused by cars. I then walk 20 more minutes to my destination because there is no direct bus route to the largest public school in the city.

Like my clients, I struggle to get to where I need to be due to the prioritization of cars over people and transit. Kids have difficulties getting to school, families cannot be active in the school community and are unable to attend school events.

Transit is the number one barrier we face in our work as many families are also unable to take advantage of our programs which help them and their kids acclimate and thrive in their new community because transportation is such a difficulty.

Additionally, paying the fare for each family member over five is already cost prohibitive for large families.

The effects to my community of the gradual loss of transit have already been devastating. Allegheny County already has a huge drunk driving problem. It will only get worse. My neighbor will lose the only bus he can take to go to work on McKnight Road.

Another rider on the 2 said if they take this, they might as well put us in jail. Transit is freedom of movement. It is a right. We need faster, more abundant transit for the city to grow and thrive economically in addition to safer streets for humans and not cars. And I'm emotional because every day I fear for my life because of people in the streets in the city who threaten my life daily with their vehicles.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. AGUILAR:

Everyone will benefit from better transit and more thriving small businesses, safer streets, less traffic and space recovered for parking on highways. What we have already is far below what we need and losing 40 percent of service will be a death sentence for the city and region.

We demand a funding source that treats our public transit like the essential service it is and that can, at minimum, restore PRT to 2019 service levels. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Arianna.

MR. GREEN:

Sean Green. I'm here to save ACCESS because we really need it, because where I am, I cannot take the Port Authority bus because it's not accessible. And I don't like the --- I don't like the --- I do not like the budget cuts.

I ride practically every day, and I need my ACCESS to be attached because that's how I get around. And I would be at home with nothing to go to if I was --- if I was not able to go out. And I go out a lot. And I use a lot of ACCESS. I use it for church. I use it for my dances, my activities that I go to, which is practically every day, every night.

I want --- and I --- and I don't --- and with the price going up with ACCESS, I don't --- I mean, I'm not made of --- I'm an individual with a disability, and I do not have that money to throw around to put all toward my transportation. I need help.

I would lose --- and I like the drivers that I ride with because I ride with different carriers every couple weeks. They're real nice. They're very helpful.

I would like to see --- I would like to have my transportation paid for because if the ACCESS goes up, I don't think I could afford it, but I'm trying to --- I'm just telling you how it is because I --- and I do not like --- I like --- I don't like to transfer. I ---.

Please state your name in the microphone and spell it for the recorder. You will have three minutes to speak with a reminder for one minute remaining.

MR. MATTHEWS:

Hello. My name is Ryan Matthews. That's R-Y-A-N, Matthews with two T's. That's M-A-T-T-H-E-W-S.

So hello, I'm Ryan. I am a University of Pittsburgh alum. And I rode the T here and the bus here today. So I came from the end of the Silver Line, went through Downtown, and then picked up one of the 61 and 71 buses between Downtown and Oakland.

So I went to Pitt between 2014 and 2018, and I was what we called a commuter. So I Lived in the South Hills. At that time it wasn't the Silver Line, but it was by Washington Junction. So I could walk from my parents house down the hill, get on at Washington Junction and in about 25 minutes you would be Downtown. So that was pretty sweet.

I'm not sure if it's still true today, but at the time when I was going to Pitt, you had a student ID card and as part of your tuition you got a Port Authority pass. It's now called Pittsburgh Regional Transit. So as a Pitt student I was able to ride anywhere in Pittsburgh, any bus, any train, even the incline that I wanted, just scan my ID and go for it.

So for four years I took advantage of that to the fullest. Every day, Monday through Friday I was going between the South Hills and Oakland to go to school. A bunch of my student friends would ride to the grocery store or wherever they wanted to go on the bus.

So that was pretty important to me. I think that's pretty useful. So I think that's something that we should obviously continue.

I guess another little thing to add is last night I rode from my parents house at Washington Junction, like I told you, back down to my house on the Silver Line and I got on the train at Washington Junction at ---.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MR. MATTHEWS:

Thanks.

I got on the train at Washington Junction at 11:56 p.m. So I also knew that there's two things there. One is that the Silver Line is one of the proposed line cuts and two is that no servers would be running after 11:00 p.m. so that's a double whammy. Two things that wouldn't work out for me there.

So anyways, I obviously would like this funding to go through. I would like to still be able to use all these things and I would like people after me to still be able to do things like commute to University of Pittsburgh using their Pitt ID. So please get Pittsburgh funded and thanks for your time.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Ryan.

Is there anyone who has not yet registered who would like to speak?

Please come down, state your name. Spell it for the recorder. As a reminder, you'll have three minutes to speak and get a reminder at the one minute to go.

MS. LONGSTREET:

Hi, my name is Cheryl Longstreet, C-H-E-R-Y-L, L-O-N-G-S-T-R-E-E-T.

I'm sorry, I'm not really prepared. But earlier someone said they're lucky because they have a car. I too have a car so I can get where I need to go and where I want to go.

The reality is my husband doesn't drive, so I'm the driver in the family. Unfortunately, I have a condition that's eventually going to impact my ability to drive. And so we will be obligated to take the buses everywhere. We still take the bus a lot.

And what I want to do this morning is speak on behalf of the City of Pittsburgh. Already our city is being impacted mightily by reduction in funds to our universities, which are our biggest employers. We're being impacted in the arts. I was just reading an email from one of the art places that we support, and they've just lost all their grants from the federal government. We also know in the city that many of the buildings that are down there have had their taxes reduced. And so the money coming into our city is greatly reduced.

And I just feel making these kind of cuts, these eliminations to the Regional Transit System is just the last nail in the coffin for a city that I love, that I was born into, which I chose to move back to as a retired person because of the transportation, the arts abilities, the chances to participate in the arts, in sports, in all sorts of things. I mean, on Sunday we had what? What were they saying? 200,000 people in town or some crazy thing and for the marathon.

So I don't want to see my city die. And I think reducing the services like that is just not okay. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Cheryl.

Can I start? Okay.

MODERATOR:

Yep, go ahead. Take your time. You're good.

MS. GAMBOA:

I work at JFCS, where I support immigrants in our community. Today I want to highlight how proposed cuts to public transportation could harm not just individuals, but the local economy as a whole.

According to the new Americans in Pittsburgh Report by the American Immigration Counsel, immigrants contributed about $3.5 billion to the city's GDP, making up 11.1 percent of the total. Immigrants helped stabilize Pittsburgh's economy, offset population decline, and maintain vital tax revenue.

Between 2014 and 2019, Pittsburgh's overall population shrank by 1.3 percent, while the immigrant population grew by nearly 19 percent. Without that growth, our population decline would have been even more severe.

Across the Great Lakes region, immigrants are revitalizing communities, opening businesses, supporting essential industries like healthcare and manufacturing, and helping reverse decades of stagnation. But without reliable bus service, many of these workers simply won't be able to get to their jobs. It's unrealistic to assume that families living paycheck to pay can afford a car just to stay employed. Some may take on debt to do so, but many won't have that option.

Cutting bus routes such as the 28X to the airport, where many immigrant families are employed, 21 Coraopolis to get Downtown, 93 and 64 Hazelwood and Waterfront to Lawrenceville, where many clients work, risks destabilizing the very workforce that is helping Pittsburgh grow.

You can see in this room the many immigrants JFCS serves would be impacted. All the people standing up are staff members who are holding a paper. Each paper shows a different zip code impacted by the proposed eliminations and reductions of routes. Each paper shows the number of clients JFCS served in that zip code in the years 2023 and 2024.

Look around you to see all the clients impacted. You'll see that the total across all ZIP codes is 2,327. The number reflects clients in only two of the programs in our department, ---

--- so it doesn't even account for all the clients we serve. And it certainly doesn't account for the many more immigrants living in Pittsburgh who don't receive our services.

We strongly urge PRT to consider the broad and serious consequences these cuts would bring, not only for immigrant families, but for businesses and the economy at large.

In Pittsburgh, continued investment in public transit is essential to keep our workforce moving, our neighborhoods thriving, and our economy growing. Cutting these services doesn't just limit mobility. It undermines the people and industries driving our city forward. Thank you.

Aneesa Fulton.

As a reminder, please state your name and spell it slowly for the recorder. You will have three minutes with a reminder of one minute remaining.

MS. FULTON:

Okay. Good morning. My name is Aneesa Fulton, A-N-E-E-S-A, F-U-L-T-O-N.

I'm a resident of Allegheny County and a caseworker at JFCS, where I work in the Refugee and Immigration Service Department. Today I want to share two stories that highlight the very real consequences of the proposed bus route cuts. Stories of individuals whose health, safety and livelihoods would be put at risk if these changes go into effect.

So the first story is of a woman who depends heavily on public transportation. She regularly uses the 87 bus from her home, along with the 77, 93 and 54, to get to critical medical appointments. She's a single woman living with a respiratory condition that makes walking even short distances extremely difficult. She must carry an oxygen tank wherever she goes, making routine tasks like grocery shopping or laundry, physically taxing. She has no nearby family or friends to assist her.

If the 87 is eliminated, she will no longer be able to walk the additional distance to an alternative stop. There are few job opportunities near her home and there's a serious safety concern due to the absence of sidewalks in her area. While she qualifies for MATP, it's only through bus passes, not door to door services.

So without these routes, she would lose access to her doctors. Her medical needs are complex and require travel to multiple specialists across the region, not all in one place.

The second story is about a 14 month old child living with a lifelong illness. This family relies entirely on the 20 and 88 bus routes for access to medical care and work. The child's condition prevents them from attending daycare, which in turn prevents the mother from working. This places the burden of income entirely on the father, and if those routes are cut, his ability to get to work would be seriously compromised.

Virtual appointments aren't a viable option for this family either. They also need to access pharmacy for both mental and physical health medications, again via the 88 bus.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. FULTON:

While we recognize the difficult position PRT is in, we urge you to consider the human cost of these service reductions. These are not just numbers on a spreadsheet. These are lives. These are people who are simply trying to survive in an already fractured economy. We are pleading with you to hear their stories and explore alternative solutions that don't further marginalize our most vulnerable neighbors. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

MS. ABDULLAH:

My name is Kristen Abdullah, K-R-I-S-T-E-N, A-B-D-U-L-L-A-H. And I'm a resident of Pittsburgh and a caseworker who Works with refugees and immigrants at JFCS Jewish Family and Community Services, where we are all from.

I want to share a story that shows how essential public transportation is not just for becoming self sufficient, but also for building a life in a community.

One of our clients is a single mother with three young children. She relies on the routes P78 and 1 to get her kids to daycare so she can work and afford rent. The only daycare she could find is a long walk away along busy roads, unsafe and difficult with three small children.

Now that two of her kids are in school, she still needs the bus to get her youngest to childcare and herself to work. She lives in a neighborhood where no one speaks her language. The bus has been her lifeline, not just for practical needs, but to connect with other Swahili speakers in the city as well.

She faced major barriers. She never learned to read as a child because of the conflict and lack of schooling in the country she fled. But she figured out how to use the bus anyways. She learned complex routes, she made multiple transfers, and she traveled long distances just to find a sense of belonging.

Thanks to the bus, she's improving her English, holding a job and building sustainability. But if she loses access to routes P78 or route 1, everything she's worked so hard for could unravel. Her job would be at risk, her mental health would suffer, and her child's care could be disrupted.

The story isn't unique. Many families depend on these routes to survive and thrive. And I urge you to reconsider these cuts as they would have a serious human cost. Thank you.

MS. ALBRIGHT:

Thank you.

My name is Gale Albright, G-A-L-E, A-L-B-R-I-G-H-T.

I live in Polish Hill. I took the bus here, the 54D, to get here today. And I use that bus for multiple reasons. For example, getting to healthcare appointments at West Penn Hospital and also to get into Oakland. Very difficult to drive, park in Oakland. And this is a wonderful way.

The 54D, in particular, the stop at Heron Avenue and Dobson Street is what allows me to use this bus route to get to medical appointments and also other neighborhoods like the Strip district, the South Side, the North Side.

The bus way down at the bottom of the hill is impossible for me and many of my neighbors to get to. It's very steep hills, very long, many steps, and it's simply impossible for many of us to get down to and get back up out of. That's where the importance of the 54d and particularly the stop at Heron and Dobson is very important to us.

We also have a senior building in Polish Hill, the John Paul Plaza. Again, many of those people ride that bus to get around the city to appointments and other necessary activities.

So I'm asking if you could Please keep the 54d route to allow our mobility through the city. It also connects us with the airport, just with connecting in Oakland, which is very important as well. So appreciate your listening and thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Gale.

MR. NICKLOW: Thomas Ogden.

Please state your full name in the microphone and spell it slowly for the recorder. You will have three minutes to speak and a reminder at one minute remaining.

MR. OGDEN:

Yes, my name is Tom Ogden, T-O-M, O-G-D-E-N. I'm a neighbor of the person who just spoke. My concerns are very, very similar, if not exactly the same.

One of the things for me personally, I can get on and off Polish Hill in many forms, but primarily I'm here for my community. I could bike where I need to go. I could walk down that hill, down Heron Avenue to get to Liberty Avenue where there could be a connection. But there are many, many people in my neighborhood who cannot, including my wife. That hill's steep, if you're at all familiar with it. So it's truly impossible.

And I want to reiterate. John Paul High Rise is chock full of people who are disabled, and they rely on that bus to get off of that hill, whether they're coming to Oakland or Bloomfield, where so many of their services are. Shopping, medical care, or just the ability to enjoy life. Take a walk, maybe go to have a cup of coffee or a restaurant.

In fact, on the way here, I noticed somebody with a navy jacket on, an elderly woman. And because I'm involved with the VA as well, I created a conversation with her. And she happened to live on John Paul Plaza and she expressed to me her use of this bus. She's new to the city. She moved here because her daughter's family is here. She moved from --- I forget where. She told me, oh, North Central Pennsylvania. So she's one example of somebody who's from John Paul Plaza who I just happened to meet on the bus on the way here.

Let me check my notes, make sure there isn't some specific that I'm missing. That's pretty much it. I want to say thank you for the opportunity to be here. It's gratifying to be able to have a voice. Thank you very much.

I live in 15132 area code, the Mon Valley, and bus service is very bad. We used to have a train that rode from Versailles, stopped in McKeesport, stopped in Braddock, and went to Pittsburgh. That was back in the 80s, way before a lot of people's time.

There's no bus service in the Port View, Liberty Borough area. And it's horrible. I live up on a hill. For me to get down to the bus stop, I got to walk all the way down the hill. There's not a sidewalk, and if it is, it's crooked and lopsided. You got to walk in the street and then you have to walk back up the hill.

I have pulmonary fibrosis. It's a lung disease that's no cure for. And I just want to say we don't need these --- anymore cuts because of this budgets or whatever. They need to go to the big politicians and bring it to the office and say, hey, we need this service for these people to have to work and go back and forth. Thank you for your time.

Wayne Reno.

Please state your name and spell it for the recorder. You will have three minutes to speak with a reminder for one minute remaining.

MR. RENO:

My name is Wayne Reno, W-A-Y-N-E, R-E-N-O. I'm from Bethel Park. Moved there in 2019. My wife and I bought a house there. One of the primary reasons was the proximity to the Silver Line. I'm concerned about any of these cuts for everybody involved, but I thought I'd come and speak about my neck of the woods.

My daughter and her husband and grandkids also bought a house right there in Bethel Park by the T for going into PNC for him and SAP for her. And we all like to use it for work, for shopping, for recreation, for sports. It's just --- I mean, it's so convenient to be able to do that and to go down to the Montour Trail and library or come all the way into town for cultural events or the sporting events or to shop or just walk along the river.

It's just a way of life there in the South Hills. And of course, I was disappointed to see that because of the $100 million funding shortfall for next year, that it would get cut, which is what obviously brought me here today.

I mean, aside from being convenient, it's a charming way to travel. I've been riding on the trolley since being a kid in the 50s, so. And I know there was a debate, what, 45 years ago about eliminating rail service to the South Hills in favor of buses, and that got eventually shot down. We ended up with the T service.

Just thinking of a couple alternatives if the Silver Line does get discontinued, which I hope it won't, consider the possibility of running a bus from library to get us up to Washington Junction for a transfer. Perhaps, alternatively, keep the Lytle Station open and stop it there. That was --- you know, some of that was redone recently. Some way to get us at least onto the tracks from the library section forward.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MR. RENO:

And then, you know, if all of that fails or if the line is shut down, certainly entertain the possibility of turning that into a rail trail. That way at least we could walk or bike. For me, for local shopping, I could walk right into Bethel Park or bike up and down to the Montour Trail. So hopefully that would also be considered.

I mean, ideally, if it gets shut down, we get bus transport to Washington Junction and a viable biking and hiking trail there for the rail bed.

And that's it for me. Thank you for your time. I appreciate the chance to talk today.

MODERATOR:

Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Eric Cox. Please state your name and spell it for the recorder. You'll have three minutes to speak with a reminder for one minute remaining.

MR. COX:

Hello, it's Eric Cox, E-R-I-C, C-O-X.

I'm here today because I do think we should be supporting the PRT and investment in it, because without it, it's just another death of death blow to Pittsburgh. The city's already dying. I mean, I just saw the report about Allegheny County. The area is shrinking. Without the PRT, it's going to shrink more. We'll eventually just become a college town, which I think is kind of funny considering the universities don't really contribute that much to public transportation, which I find to be really a lost opportunity.

As you go down 5th and Forbes here, there's a number of stops that CMU, Pitt, UPMC take advantage of, yet they don't really want to contribute that much to the city. So I don't know why we have as many stops in that area as we do. We could put one at one end, one at the other, and then if the UPMC, Pitt or CMU would like to contribute to extra bus stops, there would be an opportunity for them.

I also believe, though, that we should be looking at fixing the system that's in place. I use the bus a lot, multiple times throughout the day. And there are routes with nobody on them for long stretches, routes that could be somehow consolidated in mid parts of the day to work more efficiently.

But I also have one more concern. We have a big draft coming up next year and there's been a huge commitment by the State Department, the city, the area. Two months before the draft, we're planning on getting rid of most of this transportation. I'd like to know all these people that are coming into the city and are forced to stay on the outskirts because we don't have enough rooms, how are they going to get into this city? Well, they'll probably take public transportation, but how are they going to get back out of the city? Because at 11:00 there's not going to be any option for them except maybe Uber, Lyft. Those rates are going to be great. It's going to be a great, great view for those coming to visit the city. It's going to make Pittsburgh look really, really great.

So this time to shine our return on investment, it's going to be a failure because we're not going to have restaurants and bars open because employees, they're going to have to leave early because they're going to have to catch public transportation home.

So I know Shapiro just is squeezing another 292 and a million into the budget. This will be available next year. I'm fairly confident of that. But after the draft, when are we going to fix it? When are we going to support it? Because after the draft that money is going to go away. Are we going to get the money back to fix the problem or are we just going to get the money and continue doing the same thing? Thank you for my time.

MS. GRINBERG-LIMONC:

Hi, my name is Tatiana, T-A-T-I-A-N-A, Grinberg, G-R-I-N-B-E-R-G, Limoncic, L-I-M-O-N-C-I-C.

I am from the zip code 15206 but I'm originally not from here. I am an immigrant from Rio de Janeiro, Brazil. As you can see, my English is very, very close to perfect. And I work at JFCS. I am a Pitt graduate. I just graduated this May. And I have a health condition. I am very, very, very privileged to live five minutes away from the bus stop from 67 and 69. And that's the route I took every day to Pitt. And that's what allowed me to get my degree with very little help from mobile assistance.

And I feel like me personally because I immigrated here, but everyone from my organization, it is our duty and my privilege to be an English speaking immigrant, to be a abled body for the most part immigrant, to come here and plea for the ones that can't be and that can't communicate with you in an effective manner.

So if I have the honor and the privilege to do that, I do believe everyone around me should as well. We serve a lot of people and a lot of families that faced extreme conditions in their home countries. And while I also have the privilege to be here for my education and not fleeing, I think once we get to here to Pittsburgh and to the city that welcome us, we should be given the exact same opportunities to thrive. And if the bus is what it takes, then let's do it, you know? So yeah. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

As a reminder, please state your name, spell it for the recorder. You will have three minutes to speak. A reminder for one minute remaining. And if you haven't registered, please do so afterwards.

MS. SIPLAK:

Thank you.

My name is Sarah Siplak, S-A-R-A-H, Siplak, S-I-P-L-A-K. I'm a resident of 15206.

I have a child who goes to Pittsburgh Public Schools. When he was attending Kappa, he was given a bus pass to get to school starting in seventh grade, which made me very nervous. But our family is very fortunate that we live within the city limits. We are a two car household between my husband and I. Our son will soon have his license and will likely get his own car.

And I'm not here to speak on behalf of my family. I'm here to speak on behalf of the many, many students who attend Pittsburgh Public Schools and need the bus to get to and from school. And their parents need the bus to get to and from schools for events, to see their children perform in sports, perform in musicals, things of that nature.

We're so fortunate to live in an area where we have a very large school district that allows for students to commute from long distances to get to various schools through the Magnet Program, which is also undergoing a lot of changes currently, but it makes our region so vibrant and full of diversity, which is so important to why we chose to come and live in this region and live in an area much larger than the small towns where my husband and I both grew up.

I know for a fact that we lose a lot of the young people that come here to go to school, whether it's for their original schooling, elementary all the way through high school, or for furthering their education. If we don't have the ability to allow people to live outside of the city and get to the places that they need to go, as someone who spoke earlier said, we're going to lose a lot of people who rely on this public transportation.

I urge you to think about the ramifications of these cuts that not only are affecting the community of families that my agency works with and many other agencies, but also families that do not have the ability to purchase a car and to drive and to find parking. So please think about all of the families that have children that are attending schools and rely on public transportation. Thank you.

Cassandra Masters.

MS. MASTERS:

Good afternoon. My name is Cassandra Masters, C-A-S-S-A-N-D-R-A, Masters, M-A-S-T-E-R-S.

So yes, thank you so much for providing this opportunity. I am the Associate Director with Age Friendly Greater Pittsburgh. We are part of an international movement started by the World Health Organization dedicated to making our region more inclusive and respectful of all ages.

The World Health Organization has deemed transportation as a core part of livability and ensuring that we can all thrive as we age.

Our region has the second oldest population that's over the age of 65 when compared to other regions its size. We're second to Palm Beach, Florida. I'm not sure what the transit service in Palm Beach, Florida looks like. It's probably a little different. But PRT service is a phenomenal asset for our growing aging population. We see this population as a unique asset and an opportunity so long as we build communities for it.

We hear the term aging in place, but what we advocate for is aging in community. For the most part, older people do not want to age in place or in their living room. None of us do. We don't want to be confined to our homes. We want to participate in the communities that we call home and we want to make our own decisions and exercise choice. That is not possible without transportation access.

These cuts would dramatically impact quality of life for our neighbors. All six of our age friendly neighborhoods, for example, would see a major reduction in PRT service. And this spans the county and demographics. Coraopolis, McKeesport, Sharpsburg, the Hill District, Clairton, Beechview. Cuts in these communities would mean loss. Loss of economic opportunity, loss of social ties, and yes, even loss of life due to the social isolation that being forced to stay at home would bring.

ACCESS specifically provides about one million trips a year across the County. And for many people with disabilities, ACCESS is their transit. Please protect the service area, the ADA minimum service area.

Please also fight to cap the fares at the current top fare level of $5.25. Many of the riders that use ACCESS are barely affording that and they simply will not afford anything higher than that. Even if people could afford other options, there are not many accessible options out there. Uber and Lyft do not have accessible transportation options. We need to protect accessible transit.

I also want to raise that many people think about ACCESS in terms of the medical trips that they provide, which is of course critical. But what people often don't know about ACCESS is all the other trip purposes that they provide. Work, grocery stores, senior centers, public parks, birthday parties, funerals, mental health treatment, and even PNC Park. We recently took a group of 40 Coraopolis residents to PNC Park using ACCESS, and many of the people who went hadn't been there in 20 years.

All of these trips are essential. We cannot cut service in a way that only supports medical trips. We need to protect all types of trips.

I want everyone to imagine if the only time you left your house was to go to a medical appointment. That is my grandma's experience in rural Pennsylvania because she doesn't have access to public transportation. That is what would happen if access service was cut and fares went up.

Public transit is not just nice to have, it's an essential need, like access to clean water and electricity. Investing in PRT and access means investing in our health, our economy, our communities, and our quality of life across the lifespan. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Cassandra.

Anna Fato. Can you come up, please? State your name and spell it slowly and clearly for the reporter. You will have three minutes to speak and a reminder at one minute to go.

MS. FATO:

How many minutes did you say to speak? I'm sorry.

MR. NICKLOW:

Three minutes.

MS. FATO:

Three minutes. Okay.

Better be fast. Hi, I'm Anna Fato. Anna Maria Fato, proud Italian immigrant in America. Came to Pittsburgh when I was three years old. I am here today because I live nearby. I could walk over from North Belfield Avenue and La Condo.

I came home June 30th of last year to help with the care of my mother who sadly has dementia. I came home after 14 years in Zurich, Switzerland. That's why I'm here today.

I'm a 20 year veteran of General Motors. My last year as a GM, I had a new company car every three months fully paid for by the company. I have living --- I have been living 14 years in Zurich, Switzerland without a car.

I paid for a garage the first 18 months because I thought I was going to get a car. I love cars. I always had a car. And then after 18 months I'm like, why am I paying for this expensive garage in this expensive city? And I'm not using it. So I gave it up and I stayed without a car.

When people ask me what do I miss the most of living in Europe, I don't say the chocolates or the Alps. I say the public transportation system.

And I'm here by myself. I have no children, never married, sadly. I always say the man upstairs had another plan for me that I never understood.

But anyway, I had to go to the airport for the first time. So I went to see this 28X, you know, this Airport Flyer. How fast can I get there? I could be at the airport in Zurich to the Hopbahnhof, the main train station, in nine minutes when I would land in Zurich. And I found it takes about roughly an hour to get to the airport with 28 stops I think it is. Twenty four (24), excuse me, 24 stops.

So I've been making some comments on LinkedIn when I see some posts about the new airport, like when are we going to have an electric train or high speed service, please, to the airport? Like half an hour or less. Why 24 stops? Why does it have to go to Robinson Town Center where people have to shop?

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute.

MS. FATO:

Thank you.

So you're looking at a baby boomer. My niece, all my friends, young kids all tell me that they --- the one --- they've all left. One's in England, one's in Montreal. They cannot live in a city without good public transportation because they're experiencing it. You're looking at a baby boomer who's saying the same thing.

So when you get used to public transportation, it is amazing. It doesn't mean we stop buying cars, it doesn't mean we don't love cars. But we know when to use cars, when not to use them. And going to the airport here in Pittsburgh, you know, I really would love to have a real Airport Flyer that can get me there in half an hour to and a half an hour back. A special lane. I was looking, as my friend was driving me to the airport last week to go to Montreal. I was looking at this one area. I said, here's a perfect spot for a lane of something.

Stadler Train Swiss, let's get them here. They're doing that in Chicago and other cities. Let's just not reinvent the wheel. Let's look at what other cities in America are doing and let's bring a little bit of the Swiss precision and efficiency and timeliness here too. Because this is a great city and I'm here because I care. Thank you.

MR. PASTOR:

Shawn Pastor, S-H-A-W-N, P-A-S-T-O-R.

I'm actually here because the Red Line does not have enough service. They have --- they had service, but it got cut. I honestly, I have to take other options like 38, 36 and 41. Those routes are going to be cut. I can't have that.

It's way too ridiculous how that Red Line gets packed with people.

The 36, 38, 41 does not. That's why the ridership levels on those routes are low because no one's riding it. We cannot afford to have those routes eliminated or cut because people rely on them, especially in Green Tree and in Mount Lebanon and South Hills Village.

That 36 of South Hills Village, it's not good with ridership. We can't --- we cannot have that 36 also eliminated because people utilize that to go to the mall from Banksville. That's their only option. And if you cut that 36, it's over for them. It's going to be a lot of people upset. And if that is not taken care of, there's going to be a lot of people upset citywide, with all these routes are going to be cut citywide. It's not --- this is --- it's not good.

I grew up in 1994. The systems back then were --- the system back then was fantastic. You had 24 hour service. You had tons --- you had tons of service, tons of connections. What are we --- what are we doing? I mean, seriously, what are we doing? The system back then was thriving with service. Now, nothing.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MR. PASTOR:

It's not even close to what we had in the past. We can't keep doing this. We cannot keep having service cut like this. Please don't do this to us. Because we use the service. We utilize it every single day. It's not good. We can't. We can't have that.

So please, please do not cut any more service. Get the funding, keep the funding. Don't spend it on stupid stuff. Keep the funding. Keep it for stuff that we need, not the stuff that's being spent on a BRT project that we --- there's no need for it. Cleveland needs it because they don't have any other option. We don't have that. We have all these other --- we have all this service in Oakland. We have all this service in Squirrel Hill. We do not need a BRT to make it better.

The BRT, it's for other cities. LA has it. We don't need that. We just don't. We don't need none of that. We need to keep the service how it is. We need to seriously look at the bigger picture here. Thank you.

MS. SMITH:

Karen Smith, K-A-R-E-N, S-M-I-T-H.

We can't do the job with half the tools. We have the buses and the people now. We need to receive the reliable, dedicated funding. We should not have to pick up the pieces of a once thriving system that should never have been let to fall apart in the first place.

We should not be left stranded by a system that is needed by all now and always. Don't leave us stranded. Please fund public transit. This money is needed more now than ever before.

Even though the pandemic killed some of it, we cannot let that damper our spirits and our drive to get what is needed to keep people connected far and wide, whether it be in Allegheny County, Washington County, Beaver County, any county in Pennsylvania, in Philadelphia and all over the other states, we are all in it together. If we can't work together to get what is needed, it's going to fall apart even worse than it is now.

We don't need band aids. We need permanent, reliable, dedicated funding for something that is needed for now and in the future. You may be able to drive a car now, but who's to say in ten years you may not be? And you, yourself might be relying on the bus. And if it's not fixed now, who's to say you're going to have that bus in ten years when you need it?

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. SMITH:

So please fund public transit for all who is needing it now and forever. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Karen.

MR. NICKLOW:

Renee Wright.

You can come on up, Renee. When you come up, please state your name and spell it clearly and slowly for the recorder. You will have three minutes to speak. We will give you a reminder at one minute to go.

MS. WRIGHT: Renee Wright, spelled, R-E-N-E-E, W-R-I-G-H-T. My ZIP code is 15218.

So it's important to maintain lines through all city neighborhoods and surrounding boroughs for commuters and others that rely on public transit as their only means of transportation to get to work, stores and appointments.

But actually today I wanted to speak from the perspective of other riders like me that mostly used public transit more for leisure activities. And cutting off service at 11:00 p.m. will have an adverse impact on getting around the city for these recreational activities and also the service workers that work at restaurants and different venues throughout the city.

When the initial bus line redesign was first announced, I read an article that quoted a PRT representative in saying that it was not only to service underserved neighborhoods for those that relied on public transit because they don't own vehicles, but also to increase ridership for those that do own vehicles. But now with these new proposed cuts, that's counterintuitive to that initial idea with cutting off service at 11:00 p.m.

Since moving to Pittsburgh around four years ago, I actually have never driven Downtown. But I do own a car. But I go Downtown very often, especially on the weekends and sometimes during the weekdays. I just choose not to use my car so I don't have to deal with the traffic, pay the exorbitant parking fees, try to find parking, or technically have to worry about driving after maybe having a couple cocktails.

When I am Downtown, I also visit other areas such as the Strip or the North Side and either walk there or take transfers from the bus or the trains respectively, depending on where I'm going. And often on those trains, especially going to sporting events, they're filled with other fans going to these events as well. And as you know, sometimes with sporting events you can't guarantee that they're going to end at 10:00 or 10:30, especially going into overtime.

MR. NICKLOW:

One minute remaining.

MS. WRIGHT:

Thank you.

So I think this will have an adverse effect on these different cultural events or venues. And many cultural groups are already struggling with subscribers and are trying to offer different incentives like free Uber rides and such. But it would be obviously more beneficial to have these public transit services available to people after 11:00.

And I also just think again about all the service workers working in Downtown and other neighborhoods that maybe can't guarantee that they're going to be done working to catch that 11:00 bus. And how is that going to affect them being able to find employment.

But also these businesses, especially the small businesses and local owned businesses that are already struggling trying to find service workers, it's going to limit the pool of potential applicants even more.

So in conclusion, I just feel we actually need a more robust public transit system, not a downsized system to support the people that already live here, but also to attract new people and businesses to our area as well.

And just kind of put as a last thought, just think about what's going to happen when we have the NFL draft here and we have all these visitors to our city that maybe are flying in or taking other transit means to get here and won't have vehicles and actually want to really utilize all the services in our city. Thank you.

MODERATOR:

Thank you, Renee.

MR. NICKLOW:

ATTORNEY CETRA:

To order. As a reminder, this hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a Court Reporter. So if you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing room now.

A couple additional reminders. Each speaker has up to three minutes to provide public comment, and should come up to the speaker's table when called upon and state their name clearly and spell it for the Court Reporter before beginning to provide your public comment.

Additionally, the purpose of this public hearing is for PRT and ACCESS representatives to receive public comments. So, our staff will be listening to your comments, but we will not be answering questions or actively responding to your comments. Any questions, or if you want additional information on the proposed service reductions and fare increases, we do have PRT staff members stationed outside the hearing room, and you can see them with any questions.

So with that, we will go ahead and call up our next speaker.

MR. NICKLOW:

Next on our list is Linda Warman. Linda, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

MS. WARMAN:

Is this working?

MR. NICKLOW:

Yes, you should be good.

MS. WARMAN:

Okay.

My name's Linda Warman, L-I-N-D-A W-A-R-M-A-N. I emphasize on the spelling, sorry.

I'm Linda from Duquesne, the side of town that's nearest Kennywood. I ride the 59, the 53, the 61C, and the 55N. And I live in the Parkview Manor Apartments Hilltop Complex, which we have done. Now, I've take --- I've taken public transit all over. I also have all sorts of appointments like cardiologist, PCP, foot doctor, diabetic. And if I can get to an event like a ball game, that's if the tickets are low enough for me to afford.

But anyway, when I also have my caregiver with me, she rides the bus too, and she's never rode --- until she met me, she's never rode a bus. But we have been there.

Now, I have also noticed that there's a lot of buses being cut completely, like the Trafford, the Bower Hill, the 53L, which I've taken a lot of times. And I could run out of breath reading the whole list, believe me. But, we are in danger. Those residents and as well as other communities are running --- are going to wind up losing their lifelines. Because they can't, some --- most of those people that ride buses currently, that I noticed, don't have a car. Don't have anybody to help them get around, and that's not good.

But what I'm asking you guys to do is to urge our state reps and our state senate, also if we can get the Congress down in D.C. to also look our way. We're just asking you guys to help us, us residents of Pennsylvania, to actually get some attention here for our transit. Not just for the Philadelphia side and all the little guys in between, but also for Pittsburgh, because we get the shaft most of the times.

But what I'm saying is, we need dedicated funding, not another band aid. Because we shouldn't have to pick up the pieces of the public transit system that was once a very thriving system. And even as today, should not be allowed to fall apart. So, we need this bus. We need the buses. We do not have a choice anymore. We need them. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Next on our list is Jacob Schmidlapp. Jacob, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

MR. SCHMIDLAPP:

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen of the panel. Name's Jacob Schmidlapp, S-C-H-M-I-D-L-A-P-P.

I'd like to begin with, I'm certainly an outlier here that I have dependable transportation on my own. However, I am --- certainly attempt, if at all possible, to take public transportation, if at all feasible. No matter how long it takes, I like to drive --- ride on Port Authority.

That said, as the previous speaker mentioned, our system had been at one time thriving all over the county. Several cuts later, there are entire townships that, such as Pine Township. I routinely go for athletics up there. I cannot get to Pine Township. No matter how hard I try, I can't do it. Go to McCandless and take a cab.

And that said, even with further cuts, certainly as draconian as the ones I've read in this pamphlet are cutting service up to 50 percent and leaving dozens of other townships completely unserved, is --- would then create cascading cutbacks. No further people can take the bus? Well, then ridership's down. Oh, we cut funding because ridership's down. Less funding, less buses. Round and round we go, and we may not have transit in the next 20 years at all.

That's --- that's about it. That, yeah. Ridership's already dwindling from what it was ten years ago. Ten more years, we won't --- may not have any. And certainly for the rest of the people who are dependent on it, they can't get to their doctor's appointments at all, never mind twice as long as it takes now. Basic travel would be impossible. That's all. Thank you much.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Jacob. Next on our list is Stan Covert. Stan, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table. Stan Covert?

Patrick Conners?

MR. CONNERS:

So I'm actually waiting for a colleague. She should be here in about 20 minutes. I scheduled myself for 4:25, but they said they'll shift me up earlier. So if I can wait until 3:30.

MR. NICKLOW:

That's fine.

MR. CONNERS:

Perfect, thanks.

MR. NICKLOW:

Is there anyone else who is scheduled to speak at a later time that would like to speak now? Is there anyone in the audience who is not registered, but would like to speak now and register after?

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MR. NICKLOW:

Next on our list is Stan Covert. Stan, if you're available, please make your way to the speaker's table.

If there is anyone in attendance who is registered to speak at a later time and would like to do so now, please make your way to the speaker's table. If there is anyone in attendance who has not registered.

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. UJHAZY:

Hi, my name is Kathy

Ujhazy, U-J-H-A-Z-Y.

Hi. I have three Pitt students. One's going to med school in the fall, and I have a rising senior, and I have a rising sophomore who's with me, and specifically my youngest here. We are from the west area. We live in Moon, and he was 16 when he was hired at the Target in Moon Township. And he loves that job. And he chose to go to Pitt instead of Penn State because he could take the 28X bus from here to Target every weekend and work while he was attending school.

So that was actually the only reason why he chose Pitt over Penn State, because the program at Penn State was a little bit stronger than what he's studying. But his job was important to him. So reducing either the 28X that would go to IKEA or the 29 bus that goes to Robinson, for him as a student, would really affect him. The convenience of it and the safety of it, I don't want him transferring downtown, early or late, and different things.

So I don't know if you guys know, but my husband's a pilot for Delta. And those 28X buses can be really full, and they're a good service to the airport, but they're also really filled with people working in that area in Robinson. So I'm here just to represent that sort of area.

I also teach at Robert Morris, so I know a lot of my students take it. They'll park their cars at IKEA and different things for different reasons. But that's all I want to address today.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Kathy.

Stan Covert. Stan, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

If there's anyone who is scheduled to speak later and would like to do so now, please make your way up to the speaker's table. If there's anyone here who is not registered to speak, but would like to do so, please make your way to the speaker's table.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MR. NICKLOW:

If anyone in the audience is registered to speak at a later time and would like to do so now, you may step up to the speaker's table.

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. MOHAN:

Hi. My full name is Ramakrishnan Mohan. It's R-A-M-A-K-R-I-S-H-N-A-N. Last name is spelled M-O-H-A-N. I just go by Krish.

I work at Chartiers Center. We are a behavioral health, IDD, and housing nonprofit based out in Bridgeville. And we polled our consumers to see how this cut and bus elimination is going to impact them. And what we found is that a lot of our mobile clients who are in our case management programs and in our more intensive housing programs are going to be the ones that are most affected. We're looking at upwards of 57 to 75 percent of folks who are using public transportation on a regular basis to go to work, and even higher than that to get treatment, particularly from us or from other providers across Allegheny County.

So, to us folks in the mental health world, we see that as a major barrier to folks that have come really, really far, especially after a major pandemic that has affected so many people's mental health. People that have been able to keep stable income, stable housing, been able to do social and recreational things to help improve their recovery. This cut is going to impact them negatively in a pretty substantial way, and possibly even increase the homeless population that we see in Pittsburgh today. Make the housing crisis a little bit worse than what it already is.

So, I don't know how --- how much that this can kind of change, but we would hope that better access to public transportation and more frequency of buses in the future will help. And because it'll definitely help our consumers. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you. Thank you.

If anyone is present and is registered to speak at a later time and would like to do so, please make your way to the speaker's table. If anyone has not registered to speak and would like to do so, please make your way to the speaker's table.

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. GREENWAY:

Great. Hi, my name is Sydney Greenway, S-Y-D-N-E-Y. Greenway, G-R-E-E-N-W-A-Y.

I wanted to share that I'm a part of a large group of Pitt students who are passionate about public transit, passionate about mobility, and urban planning. And we, in general, are concerned about how the funding crisis will change our access to different parts of the city. Many of our students did not --- do not have a car on campus because we're students, but also because we're passionate about using alternative modes of transportation for the environment. For, you know, just enjoying the city.

And I wanted to share that many of our members have been canvassing businesses and putting up flyers. We have been meeting with state representatives and writing to our legislators. And we're meeting with Pitt administration to do everything in their power to support PRT through this funding crisis, and hopefully return funding or grow funding to you as an organization.

And I just wanted to say for the record that we know transportation is importantly a right. People should have the right to move through the city, in --- throughout the city for jobs, for housing, for medical services, et cetera. And it's also an amenity that impacts people's decision to move to Pittsburgh and also to stay in the area.

And so, for the future of Pittsburgh, it's vital that we restore or maintain these services and ensure that they do not drop. Growing them back would be just so difficult. And so, yeah, that's just what I wanted to share. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Sydney.

Next on our list is Stan Covert. Stan, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table. And as a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. COVERT:

Good afternoon, everybody. My name's Stan Covert for the record.

I am a resident of York Commons. We're located at Penn Avenue and 40th Street on the borderline of Bloomfield, Lawrenceville. And I'm here to speak on behalf of those residents who use ACCESS. And a lot of them use ACCESS. They don't want to see that service get cut or their fares go up.

Also, I'm speaking on behalf of those residents who use public transit like myself, as I'm still able to get on the bus, okay? And public transit means to me is it's a valued asset to all of our communities, not just here in Allegheny County, but Beaver, Washington. Let's go far east to Philadelphia, all right?

And I was an activist for public transit for 12 years. And I was with Save Our Transit for nine of those 12 years. And Linda was part of us, okay? And you know what? Our mission was dedicated funding. And we bend our backs. We went to Harrisburg a lot. We talked to senators and representatives, we even went to county council. And it's like, look, public transit is a valued asset. It's --- it's not luxury. It's a necessity. And if these cuts go through, then look out. I'll tell you what's going to happen.

It's going to feed into inflation. Inflation right now is four years old, and prices at the grocery stores have gone up. And everything from foods to cleaning supplies, toiletry supplies. And I got this paper right here. It says bus service could see major cuts. The 89 that goes up to Garfield there. And they don't want to see cuts up there. But also, I know people that still ride the 71A Negley that still go to work. They want to see that bus go right back into downtown because this past winter, it was brutal. And they would have to get off at Oakland and stand there and wait anywhere up to half an hour to get on another bus to go into downtown to work. And what happens is, if these cuts go through, it will --- will feed into inflation.

And how are these people going to get to work? How are they going to get home if there's no service after 11 o'clock, let alone they start at 5:00 or 5:30 or six o'clock and there's no service? You see, I don't want to see service cuts. I know you guys don't want to cut the service, but it starts at the county level, and I haven't heard much about that.

You know, in order to get the money, the county has to match the state for you guys to prevent this cut from happening. What needs to happen now is Pittsburghers for Public Transit need to go to Harrisburg and have a meeting with the governor, and --- and say, look. We want this bill for life this time. Because if it ain't for life, it's another band aid. Another band aid.

Thanks for allowing me to share. Good luck, keep our fingers crossed, and pray that cuts will not happen.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Stan. Appreciate you coming in today and providing us your comment.

Next on our list is Mary Ann Merranko. Mary, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table. Mary Ann Merranko.

McKinley Sconiers. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. SCONIERS:

My name is McKinley Sconiers, M-C-K-I-N-L-E-Y S-C-O-N-I-E-R-S.

And so, I am not originally from Pittsburgh, but about three years ago, I wanted a change of scenery. I wanted to move out of my hometown, and I ended up choosing to move to Pittsburgh. And a large part of that reason was because of the public transit in the city. I don't have a car. I don't want to own a car. I like having, like, having public transportation as my main mode of transportation. And I turned down many other cities in this country because Pittsburgh does have one of the best public transit systems in this country.

And I think it would be so sad to see it all get cut the way it has been proposed to be cut. There's a lot of businesses that I go to in, like, Swissvale and Bellevue and the South Hills that I exclusively take the bus to that I cannot access any other way. I can bike. I can't bike there without the bus. So, there's a lot of businesses that I, and I'm sure many other people, won't be able to go to.

I'm lucky enough that I work here in Oakland, and I can take the bus here. But all the people who live in those areas that, Bellevue and other areas, that can't get here anymore, based on the bus, I don't know how they're going to get here. And there's also already no parking here in Oakland. So, the idea of everyone having more cars also doesn't make sense and is not sustainable.

So, I think in a lot of ways, these proposed cuts, for me personally, are really sad for, based on why I moved to the city. And I think they're going to have a lot of negative effects on the people who all --- people who have moved here, but also the people who have grown up here and rely on the transportation. So, thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you.

Next on our list is Mary Ann Merranko. Mary, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

Mark Schramm.

If there is anyone in the audience who is registered to speak at a later time and would like to do so now, you may wait --- make your way up to the speaker's table. If there is anyone who is yet to register and would like to speak, you may make your way up to the speaker's table now.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

MR. NICKLOW:

As a reminder, if there is anyone in the audience who is registered to speak at a different time and would like to do so now, you can make your way up to the speaker's table. And if there is anyone who is not registered to speak, but would like to do so, you may make your way up to the speaker's table at this time.

MR. BROSNECK:

Hi. Hello. Yeah, so I'm --- I'm --- I pretty much ride public transportation everywhere, you know. So, like, I don't know, I could see it sort of having ---.

MR. NICKLOW:

Excuse me, sir. Can you state your name for us?

MR. BROSNECK:

I'm Donald. Donald Brosneck. I'm not on the list. You said if there's anybody that wasn't.

MR. NICKLOW:

Oh, no, absolutely. We just want to make sure we have you for the record. Can --- can you spell your last name? And then you can go ahead and give your comment.

MR. BROSNECK:

B-R-O-S-N-E-C-K.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you.

MR. BROSNECK:

You're welcome. So, it could have a bad trip. I heard there was supposed to be a lot of cuts. So, like, people can't get to work, you know what I mean? They have less money. Some of the businesses might have to start closing earlier or something. You know, reducing their hours, you know, bad for the economy. Then, who knows? Maybe it could actually cause the crime rate to go up because people might, like, get desperate because they have less money, and then they might start walking around the street sticking people up or something.

And because I remember in the '80s and the '90s, there was people like that around Pittsburgh a lot. And now, you don't see them anywhere, you know what I mean? And I, you know, I think it's better without them, you know. And, you know. And, you know, so you keep the economy running smooth, you know, people are happy. They feel happy. They don't, you know, take --- keeps crime down, you know.

You know, I don't know. Just --- it's just a thought, you know. You know, plus, you know, there's like, you know, a lot of people, you know, elderly people, you know, in wheelchairs and all that, you know. You know, or even just, you know, or even, you know, it could --- it could trickle down the whole economy. You know, businesses, even, like, art shows or something. People can't stay out as late, you know. You know, just, you know, one thing leads to another, to another, like dominoes, you know.

I don't know. That's just how I'm thinking. Well, that's pretty much it.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Donald.

MR. BROSNECK:

Thank you, yeah.

MR. NICKLOW:

Next on our list is Mary Ann Merranko. Mary Ann, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

Christy Kuehn. Kuehn (pronunciation)?

MS. KUEHN:

Kuehn.

MR. NICKLOW:

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. KUEHN:

Okay.

Thank you. I was trying to figure out who was speaking. My name is Christy Kuehn, C-H-R-I-S-T-Y. Last name is K-U-E-H-N. Okay. All right.

Hello, everybody. I'm here as a resident of Whitehall Borough, someone who knows firsthand the importance of public transportation for myself and my partner, and also for many of my neighbors and friends in the --- in the area.

Cutting the bus lines in Whitehall and the neighboring communities will significantly decrease our residents' access to downtown and other areas of cultural and industry based importance. Fewer buses means fewer ways to get to work, doctor's appointments, and grocery stores. This can lead to a negative economic impact on our entire region. Fewer buses also means few opportunities for people to visit their friends and family and attend cultural events, and this can impact the vibrancy of our community.

Public transportation is a necessity for a vibrant, thriving city. It's not a luxury. And we know that from history and other cities that cuts and increased prices equal fewer riders, which can then lead to even more cuts. So I hope that these decisions that impact so many in our region can be made with people at the center, and the needs of our community at the center, and not budgets and spreadsheets. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you.

Mary Ann Merranko. Mary Ann, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

Mark Schramm.

If there is anyone else who is registered to speak at a different time and would like to do so.

MR. CONNERS:

Hello there. Thank you all for putting this event together. My name is Patrick Conners, and last name's spelled C-O-N-N-E-R-S. I am the Executive Director for the Quaker Valley Council of Governments.

So, I'm just going to read into the record a correspondence we wrote to PRT dated April 28th, 2025. So, the Quaker Valley Council of Governments is writing to express its deep concern regarding the proposed cuts and service reductions currently under consideration by Pittsburgh Regional Transit. Our organization seeks to facilitate multi-municipal efforts and implements efficient, cost effective programming, and serves on behalf of our 16 member municipalities.

Just for a visual, our territory starts at the Bellevue Pittsburgh City line and just kind of follows the Ohio River and Route 65 all the way to Beaver County. Public transit plays a vital role in connecting our communities, to employment centers, medical centers, educational opportunities, and essential daily needs. In particular, the residents within our member municipalities, many of whom are seniors, individuals with disabilities, and families with limited transportation options, rely heavily on the services provided by Pittsburgh Regional Transit to maintain a quality of life and participate fully in our regional economy.

Under the current proposal, which was announced on March 20th, 2025, the route --- sorry. The route also, so these following routes are being proposed to be either reduced or completely cut. Route 13, Route 14, Route 16, and the Route 19L. Additionally, PRT is also proposing that closure of three of their 79 owned bridges. All three of those proposed bridges are within our territory. Those bridges are the Avalon California Avenue Bridge, the Ben Avenue Church Avenue Bridge, and the Emsworth Camp Horne Bridge.

So lastly, the plan also calls for a reduction in paired transit access by 16 --- 62 percent. If all of these proposed cuts would take effect, nearly every resident within our member communities would be detrimentally impacted. The current PRT proposal, particularly the closure of the three neighborhood bridges, would also have a disproportional negative impact in our communities. Limited access and mobility for vulnerable populations, and risking greater isolation and hardship. Moreover, cutting service now would undermine years of regional planning efforts that aim to promote sustainable growth, economic development, and equitable access across Allegheny County.

The QBCOG respectfully urges PRT to reconsider the proposed service cuts and engage directly with our member municipalities and leaders across the region. Whether through targeted adjustments or finding partnerships, we believe there's opportunities to make these cuts less detrimental to our region. I thank you in advance for any consideration that you have.

And I would note that Ms. Silbermann did attend one of our Board meetings on April 16th, so we do thank her for her time there. Thank you again for your consideration.

Thank you, Patrick.

MS. MARZEC:

My name is Linda, L-I-N-D-A. Marzec, M-A-R-Z-E-C. I live over McKeesport.

I heard that you was cutting bus fare, but I have a son that's graduating this year. And he just finished --- he's going to finish school this year, thank God for that. But he'll be living over McKeesport with me. Because last four years, we got evicted out of our apartment.

I'm sorry. I get emotional when I talk.

MR. NICKLOW:

It's okay. Take your time.

MS. MARZEC:

But for you to cut buses where I am and my husband, it's not right. It's not cool. I don't need this this year. Especially my son graduating. And my Uncle Tommy, he don't have a car anymore. He lives in Braddock Hills, Brinton Manor. It takes me to go over there, maybe a full day to go over there and get back home where I am. Because I have to be in before 12:00, midnight.

My stepmom don't like me being out late. Because I live over McKeesport. That's unsafe for me to live there. And plus traveling, seeing my son or, you know, being at one of the school events. I can't take that. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Linda.

Next on our list is Mary Ann Merranko. Mary, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's

MR. SCHMIDLAPP:

Additional minute?

MR. NICKLOW:

Yes, thank you. Just do us a favor, and just state your name when you come back up. Thank you.

MR. SCHMIDLAPP:

Hello again. It's Jacob Schmidlapp, S-C-H-M-I-D-L-A-P-P.

Sitting in the back, a couple points I'd like to note. If none of the personal stories hit home for Harrisburg, two points. The first being, all these people from the far flung destinations. It's well known around the country how terrible traffic is in the city, and that is with current transportation. Figuring even if everyone who already takes transit is forced to take a cab, drive on their own, traffic would be abysmal.

From McKeesport, it's a half hour drive. You sit on the parkway, it's 45 minutes, probably near an hour. Moon, that's easily an hour sitting on Green Tree Hill. It's half an hour by bus, 20 minutes. Same token, the airport flyer. Welcome to Pittsburgh. Your student just got accepted into Pitt. Welcome, glad to have you. You now have to take three buses to get to Pitt. Because the 28X, you have to take --- go from the airport to Carnegie, Carnegie downtown since the 100 was --- or was it --- the 100. Take transfer downtown, go out to Pitt. Easily an hour, if not longer.

I remember back when the 28X was run on a motor coach. Thirty (30) minutes, door to door. Lovely. Absolutely lovely.

So, short version. Think of the traffic. State would have to pay for expansion of, highway expansion. McKnight Road, Route 19. All these will be unserved by city buses. Cost millions a mile to expand those. You'll be held accountable. Why is the traffic so bad?

And once again, welcome to Pittsburgh. You have to take three buses and spend an hour and a half getting to Pitt. Getting to the football game. That's, there we go. Thank you, again, for your time.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Jacob.

Next on our list is Mary Ann Merranko. Mary Ann, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

George Karpacs.

MR. KARPACS:

Yes.

MR. NICKLOW:

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. KARPACS:

Okay.

My name is George Karpacs of 720 Royal Drive, South Park Township, library section.

And I would say when I was a student here at the university in 1993, I was able to ride transit into the city for $1.25 and a quarter for a transfer, so I could go in and back for $1.50. And --- and you managed to keep the fares at a manageable level for a long time.

And specific to today's hearing here, because I live in the library section, that's the last stop on the, what was the Blue Line and currently called the Silver Line. And so, I have friends that rely on ACCESS for dialysis and other things. And --- and when they can't get the ACCESS, they need to, you know, they're out and about on other days of the week, and they utilize the --- the Silver Line. And this is a very vital link into the South Hills. Not just South Park, but Bethel, Castle Shannon, and other neighborhoods.

And, yeah, we just strongly encourage you to keep this transit line alive, and it's a vital link and connecting these communities with the city. And whatever you can do to, you know, keep it --- keep it up and running, I know it's a funding issue, and but just do what we can to --- to try to keep this vital service active. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, George.

MR. KARPACS:

Yeah, thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

MR. MATTHEWS:

Hello. My name is Ryan Matthews, R-Y-A-N M-A-T-T-H-E-W-S.

So, hello again. I was here at Soldiers and Sailors this morning. I'm just doing this thing where I like to tell you guys what I've been doing, riding public transportation. So I took the bus to my employer's headquarters in Uptown, that's near Duquesne University, to attend a couple of meetings. So I walked out of here, and hopped on what I think was a 61D. And then I shortly after found out that it no longer goes downtown, whoops. So I think the bus driver told me that only the 61A and C and the 71B does that now, out of those two numbered routes.

So I'm a University of Pittsburgh alum, and in the years 2014 to 2018, I would walk out of this very building here just to the front and get on any 60 or 71 bus, 61A, B, C, or D, or 71A, B, C or D. That's eight different buses. Not a care in the world. Pretty much never checked the schedule, and something always came when I was getting in before an early class or staying late doing whatever college students do. I didn't worry.

Sometimes my friends and family would ask me, does the bus even run this late? Are you going to be okay? And I said, yes, it does. It's fine.

So what I'm really trying to say is that getting the expected full funding for 2026 and beyond is what I initially came here for, but that's apparently not even enough because there's less routes, when I wasn't paying attention, that got cut in the meantime.

So I guess to Pennsylvania or the federal government, I'm not sure of the exact funding structure. Structure. Please increase funding so that we can bring back the routes that existed before, in addition to getting the funding that, you know, we're already trying to fight for.

I heard --- I heard somebody say before the words reliable and dedicated funding, and that sounds like a good idea to me because I would prefer that you could get distracted for a couple years, and then come back to visit Pitt and not find that things have disappeared again. That's what I have. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Ryan.

Okay.

It is approximately 4:15 p.m. here, so we are going to take a short break, and go off the record. We will plan to reconvene at 4:25, give or take a few minutes.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

MR. NICKLOW:

Next on our list is Virginia White. Virginia, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. WHITE:

Hello. My name is Virginia White, V-I-R-G-I-N-I-A. Last name W-H-I-T-E. My zip code is 15216.

I live in Dormont specifically to take the Red Line to downtown Pittsburgh, and then to take a bus to Oakland where I go to school and I work. I take a 61A, B, or C or a 71B.

During detours or breakdowns, I take the 36 or 41 to or from my home in Dormont. I don't have a driver's license A, due to an anti-epileptic medication I'm on that makes it unsafe to operate heavy machinery. And B, I cannot afford to purchase or maintain a car. I don't really have another option than public transit.

I have an associate's degree in biotechnology and worked in molecular biology research before becoming a sustainability coordinator and laboratory technician at Pitt's public makerspace Open Lab. And I would not have been able to get a degree or work in research or sustainability if public transit were not available in Pittsburgh if these routes were cut like they are planned to be.

In the past, I worked in food service as a waitress and bartender and would not --- and would have been stranded if not for Ubers and Lyfts when I finish night shifts. But these cuts would result in skyrocketing prices for ride shares, possibly making it impossible to get a ride home, making it impossible to live in the city if you don't have a car in a day when cars are unaffordable and fossil fuels are ruining our climate as we saw on Tuesday. That is just the beginning.

So, I implore that funding be approved and secured or I don't know how I will get to campus or work or how my husband or my coworkers, my friends will reliably and safely get around town. Also, this will absolutely increase the incidence of drunk driving and deaths due to drunk driving. And that is my TED Talk. I hope that public transit does not get cut.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you.

Mary Ann Merranko. Mary, if you're here, please come up to the speaker's table.

Mark Schramm.

If there is anyone else who is registered to speak at a different time and would like to come up now, you may come up to the speaker's table. If there is anyone who has not registered to speak and would like to do so, you may come up to the speaker's table at this time.

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. And to help our Court Reporter, please state your full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. ZIMMERMAN:

All right.

Hello. my name is Abigail Zimmerman, A-B-I-G-A-I-L Z-I-M-M-E-R-M-A-N. These are just a few off the cuff comments based on my lived experience here at my four years of Pitt.

Over the summer, I had an internship helping Title I schools across the country. Most of these kids, their parents could not afford cars. The only way that they could get to and from school reliably was through buses. These are all entirely low income areas. To my understanding, many of these areas would have their transit cut.

These kids are already struggling enough as is. So, I implore you to think about the multi-generational impact that --- that this would cause.

I had something else.

I'm so sorry. Again, this is off the cuff, but. Oh, yes. The next thing that I wanted to ask, or I guess just request that is sent to the citizens of the is what these people can do for alternatives. Ride shares such as Uber are --- can be extremely expensive. They're not necessarily a sustainable thing for people. During my time, again, internships in the city, I would have to take bus lines which are already an hour long to begin with. But oftentimes, I would have to take many Ubers. As someone not just living off of minimum wage, these Ubers were very expensive and took most of the little income that I was making to begin with. And if someone has to rely entirely on rideshares, I don't necessarily understand the point of living in a city to begin with.

This is not an issue I've had in my time in Philadelphia or New York. This was never an issue to begin with in these areas. People come to these cities so that they can move to and from, place to place, work to home reliably. And if this happens to Pittsburgh, I'm very afraid for what the ramifications will be long term.

Thank you for listening.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Abigail.

MS. GREENE:

Hello. My name is Kristen Green, K-R-I-S-T-E-N. Greene, G-R-E-E-N-E. My zip code is 15120, and I reside in Homestead, Pennsylvania.

I reside at Homestead, PA, and they're talking about cutting the two express routes that I take, the 52L and the 53L, which gets me downtown in five to ten minutes to get my other bus that takes me to work rather than the 61C, which take ---which takes about an hour and is always crowded no matter what time or day I get on that bus.

My commute is already long. And then with the two express routes being cut, it's going to make it even longer. I like to ride them two buses to save me time. Saves me at least ten. Ten, 20 minutes rather than an hour with the 61C. And there are so many people that ride that bus to get downtown. I really don't want to see neither one of them get cut.

So many people depend on public transportation. This will have a huge effect on --- on so many communities, and what the customers are talking about, you know, it will not be good. I don't own a car and honestly, I don't know when I'm ever going to be able to own a car. So I depend on public transportation. I've been taking these buses for 20 years now. And like I said, we don't --- we don't need any more cuts. It's already hard getting around as it is, and with the cuts that they're talking about, it will not be in the good thing.

So I'm just asking, please do something to keep the buses running because Pittsburgh needs public transportation. Thank you for your time.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Kristen.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Thank you, Don. How --- how are you doing today? Good?

MR. RIVETTI:

Doing well. How are you?

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Good. I'm going to be listening to all these after I'm done too. Is that cool?

MR. RIVETTI:

Sure, sure. Absolutely.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Thank you.

MR. RIVETTI:

Podium or chair?

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Podium.

MR. RIVETTI:

Podium is right in front, right there.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Thank you. And the mic is.

MR. RIVETTI:

Mic is right here.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Okay.

I'm used to these things. I majored in broadcasting, so are --- okay. My name is Brian Hatgelakas, B-R-I-A-N H-A-T-G-E-L-A-K-A-S, and I live in the 15216 zip code where the 41 and 38 currently travel.

To take services away from me, as a blind man who's been living with my disability for, since I was born, but who doesn't treat it as such, you'd be putting me back a step further in life.

I work too hard in life to lose my independence. I rely on ACCESS to get around where I need to be. And I do not want to be denied any rides to anywhere. I graduated college, I have my bachelor's degree. I --- I'm actually trying to get into a career. Not just a job, guys. A career that would make me --- that would bring on different shifts, not the typical 9:00 to 5:00, like maybe the 2:00 to 10:00 shift or 10:00 p.m. to 6:00 a.m. shift.

To discontinue services on ACCESS after 11:00 at night would --- would be devastating. You'd be telling me no, that I cannot have this opportunity that I want to have. And also you'd be telling me no to a lot of stuff, too. To making a really, really good wage, to owning a house, to everything I want in life. Even going back to school here at Pitt if I want to get a master's degree. You're essentially telling me no, that that doesn't matter either because of cutting services or making ACCESS very unreliable. Too, and making --- and --- and raising rates, too. That's unacceptable to me, too.

Please, I'm --- I'm begging you all to --- to push hard for funding and to push hard for what Allegheny County needs and deserves, not just a luxury, fully funded transportation. Thank you. That's all I have to say.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Brian. We appreciate you coming in and providing your comment to us.

MR. NICKLOW:

Our next scheduled speaker is Jordan Tsigas. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. TSIGAS:

Jordan Tsigas, J-O-R-D-A-N T-S-I-G-A-S, and I'm currently living in Highland Park.

My Pittsburgh Regional Transit story may be a bit different from others you've heard so far, as I've only become a resident of Pittsburgh as of four days ago. I am a Florida native, and I was attracted to moving to Pittsburgh during my ten month internship here from the fall of 2023 to the spring of 2024. During my ten months here, I quickly fell in love with the city. It has a beautiful history, a lived in charm, and a dense urban area which, combined with its above average transit system, makes it a very livable city, even without having access to a car.

I lived in Manchester during my internship, and I commuted to work via the T, taking it from Allegheny Station to downtown. There were occasional interruptions from construction and other projects, but as long as I was tuned in to PRT announcements, I could get by.

Using the PRT also gave me much better access to the city, compared to my roommates who drove around as having access to the whole greater Pittsburgh area, especially the South Hills with the convenience of the T, enabled me to learn about and explore the city with great freedom.

Now, after I've graduated from Florida State University and returned to Pittsburgh to work full time, I find myself worried and limited by the impending transit cuts. The system, which for me was a major motivator for me to pick up my life and move to Pittsburgh in the first place, is now limiting where I can choose to live without risking losing access to my commute to work. I am currently living with a family who has offered to put me up while I apartment hunt, but the proposed cuts are severely limiting where I can realistically search for housing.

I have fallen in love with the city, but seeing so much of it at risk as being cut off from me and the further concern of having to leave altogether if I can't find reliable transportation to work is very disconcerting to me. I hope and pray that a solution to this problem can be found, not just but --- not just for me, but for other people hoping to move to the city, too. As without access to reliable and widespread transit, moving to Pittsburgh may remain a dream for me and others like me. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Jordan.

MR. TSIGAS:

Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Our next scheduled speaker is Taveon Kevin Smith. Taveon, if you're present, please make your way to the speaker's table.

Ramesh Bamwani. John Cole. Mary Ann Merranko. Mark Schramm.

If there is anyone in attendance who is registered to speak at a different time and would like to do so now, you may make your way up to the speaker's table.

As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. GARGER:

Hello. My name is Alan Garger, A-L-A-N G-A-R-G-E-R, and I'm currently a resident of Lawrenceville.

I'm here today to say that these cuts, long term, will end up costing the City of Pittsburgh very dually. Today, most of Pittsburgh is within a walkable distance of a bus stop. Studies have shown that properties within a walkable distance of a bus stop increased their land value by up to 30. The City of Pittsburgh states that $143 million comes in from real estate tax per year. If we estimate that 35 percent of Pittsburgh will lose service and cause a 30 percent decrease in --- in land value, Pittsburgh will end up losing $14 million per year.

Many small businesses also rely on public transit to generate the revenue. Many of them will need to lay off employees, increase prices, or close entirely without readily accessible public transit. Pittsburgh brought in $220 million from income and payroll preparation taxes.

Throughout the entire

U.S., about 46 percent of --- of people are employed by small businesses. If we assume that 46 percent of Pittsburgh's population has a 35 percent decrease in income in conjunction with these cuts, Pittsburgh will lose an additional $35 million per year.

Cutting public transit also means that people will no longer have a viable alternative to driving. PennDOT states that there were 79 fatal accidents in 2023 in Allegheny County. We can expect this number to have increased by at least 35 percent with these proposed cuts, or 28 more deaths per year solely due to people increasing in driving.

The U.S. Department of Transportation estimates the statistical value of the life at $13.7 million. This is the expected economic output of a person throughout their entire lifetime. With 20 extra deaths per year, Allegheny County will miss out on expected $383 million in economic output for these people's lifetime. This only accounts for deaths due solely due to car accidents.

With 35 percent more cars on the road, you can expect 35 percent more pollutants in the air. The American Lung Association recently put out a study saying that Pittsburgh is the 17th worst special area in the U.S. in terms of air quality, and --- and we should not be gunning for number one.

With just a one day decrease in life expectancy for Pittsburgh's 300,000 residents, we can expect to lose $139 million in economic output. These cuts will harm Pittsburgh's bottom line. PRT, the City of Pittsburgh, and Allegheny County should be stepping up to ensure that these cuts do not go through. We need to be generating more revenue here at home, and ensure that funding for a public transit is continued independent of the whims of state or federal politicians. And there are plenty of ways to generate funding instead of cutting existing lines.

PRT's ridership remained stagnant since 2022, and is down almost 40 percent pre-pandemic. This is at the same time while --- on time percentage is just 66 percent for buses and 83 percent for light rail. If you want people to generate revenue by taking your service, make it better.

Additionally, we should be considering other sources of income like congestion pricing, which has already shown promise in New York. We can also consider increasing taxes on parking or redeveloping our parking lots to further spur usage of our public transit system and to further generate reliable funding.

This is a backbone to our economy here in Pittsburgh, and it is absolutely necessary that we keep this stable. Thank you.

MR. NICKLOW:

Thank you, Alan.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Okay.

We're going to go off the record, take a brief break here. It is 5:50, and we plan to resume, assuming we have speakers at, 6:00 p.m. Thank you.

Is John Cole present? John Cole? Okay.

We have a few speakers that signed up to speak that did not arrive at their time earlier today. Is

MR. HELWIG:

Okay.

Thank you. Good evening, everyone. Thank you for your time. My name is Robert Helwig, R-O-B-E-R-T H-E-L-W-I-G. I live in Polish Hill neighborhood in Pittsburgh, 15219.

I am speaking today to oppose the cuts, also share anecdotes about how public transit has really benefited me. And from 2021 to 2023, I worked for the State Rep. in Braddock, who is now our U.S. Representative. But in early 2022, my car broke down. I typically drove from Polish Hill or the south side, where my significant other lives, to Braddock. And then from Braddock, uptown in the evenings where I attended Duquesne Law at night.

Fortunately, living in Polish Hill, I live on the P1 line. So I could take the east busway out to the end of the line in Swissvale, and then hop on a 59 or a 61A to take me down into Braddock. And I could do that in reverse in the evenings, or I can take a 61B all the way uptown. If I was staying in the south side, then I could take an 81 or an 82 or a 54 up into Oakland, catch a 61B.

But that job with Rep. Lee and the education that I got at Duquesne, extremely important in my life. And those were opportunities I probably would have had to forego, but for public transit. And I feel like everybody in this county should have those same opportunities to be connected to the places and the people that are important to them.

And I'll --- I'll share a little bit else. I'm an appointed member of a city board that votes focuses on developing and preserving affordable and accessible housing in the City of Pittsburgh. Thank you. I'm very concerned that if these cuts and, you know, service rollback take effect, the very communities that rely on public transit the most, their housing prices are going to go up for no other reason other than, you know, landlords can charge more for --- for no improvements they've made to the property, but they just happen to benefit from the reduction of service. It would turn a public good into a luxury, and push out the very people who rely on that service.

So thank you for your time this evening. Again, I'm speaking in opposition of the service cuts.

Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Robert.

NANCY:

Our next scheduled speaker is Brian, I hope I pronounce this correct, Hatgelakas?

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Hatgelakas.

NANCY:

Thank you.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

That's me, Nancy.

NANCY:

Okay.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

One second, Brian. Hang on one sec, Brian. We're going to have somebody assist you.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Sorry about that. Thank you very much. Thank you, Don.

MR. RIVETTI:

No worries. Here, we're going to step forward to the podium.

The mic is here.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

Thank you. My name is Brian Hatgelakas. That's B-R-I-A-N H-A-T-G-E-L-A-K-A-S. And I live in the South Hills, the 15216 zip code.

I'm speaking tonight because I do not want to see cuts happen. I want to see improvement to service. I --- I attended --- I attended college here in Pittsburgh, and I remember living in the downtown area in Point Park's dorms on Wood Street, and walking out of there and getting on a bus, going anywhere within ten minutes. This was back in the early 2000s, mind you.

But as the cuts have gotten worse and worse, busing has been unreliable. Now, I do not want to see that happen with ACCESS if the proposed service cuts happen. I don't want to see ACCESS become a shell of itself. As an ADA rider, I don't want to be told no about rides I can't go to.

What if I want to get my masters out here at Pitt or someplace again, like that? And they don't arrive for me, and the 41 and 38 won't be running, of course, with these cuts, then I'll be stranded. And if I'm stranded for class, I wouldn't pass a class and be able to graduate with a master's. And what if I'm stranded for work? I wouldn't be able to make money, and then I'd be fired. So this whole thing would be a domino effect.

And also if, like I heard a kid from Florida say who moved here because of the attractiveness of the transit. In my case as a blind person, if opportunities aren't given to me and are just taken away from me, then I might just leave Pennsylvania altogether and look for a state with better services because there are transit services because there are --- there are those out there with better services.

I'm willing to pay more for better service, not worse service that's a shell of itself. Please reconsider. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Brian.

NANCY:

I want to call up our next speaker, Dorothy Sherman. Would you please come to the podium and state your name and spell that for us? And you will have up to three minutes to speak.

MS. SHERMAN:

Hello. My name is Dorothy Sherman, D-O-R-O-T-H-Y S-H-E-R-M-A-N. I am a resident in the Manchester neighborhood, 15233, and I'm here to speak against cutting the Manchester PRT line, specifically the 18 and the 17 routes.

The current position is that the 18 line is part of a very low efficiency route, which is less than 100 riders per day. And then the 17 is categorized as a moderate efficiency route. So that would be reduced by 30 percent or more of weekly service.

My belief is that shutting these roots are not the fix to your solution, especially with current school closure proposals from the school board and city discussions of North Side and Esplanade development. The Manchester area is already fairly isolated from the rest of the city because of the rivers, and ten percent of the residents in the neighborhood don't have a car. Cutting off lines to the heart of the city would pose a huge problem, especially when thinking about last week's storm that left my neighborhood without power for two days.

Having a consistent and accessible bus line in the neighborhood meant people were able to go to the grocery store. They were able to go to work and get out to parts of the city where there was power, and travel to check up on friends and family who maybe didn't have the ability to leave. I also think it would be a problem if the schools were to close, if that goes through. What happens when the parents can't get to their gift kids who are now being shuttled across the West End Bridge? It just would be a problem.

In my opinion, I also think that shutting down this line reeks of racism. The medium income of black families in Manchester is $30,000, and seven percent of families live below the poverty level. Closing the bus route forces people out and opens the door for developers. I think shutting off the neighborhood from access to the city is cruel and unnecessary, and I think it shows a lack of care towards its underprivileged and underserved communities.

I understand you guys are in a difficult position, but I do ask you to reconsider the cuts to these bus routes, and I hope for a funding resolution that works for everyone. Thank you for your time and your consideration.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Dorothy. We appreciate you coming out and providing this comment.

NANCY:

The next speaker is Eric Severson. Eric, if you'll come up to the podium.

MR. SEVERSON:

Good evening. I'm Eric Severson. That's E-R-I-C S-E-V-E-R-S-O-N. I'm from Castle Shannon at zip code 15234.

So I take the Blue Line downtown every day, and then 14 over to my work in Leetsdale. Three out of nine employees I work with use the 14 bus to get to work. So you close that bus route, it causes some headaches.

I've tried to use alternative routes. I know that Beaver County has a number one bus that goes to my neighborhood, or through my work neighborhood. And I've tried using Google Maps to get, using that. And when I tried going to the bus stop to use it to go back towards downtown, it had a drop off only, so you couldn't actually use that bus stop. This was listed on Google Maps to go that way. So, that didn't work very well as, like, an alternative.

And I know that back in 2022, I remember reading a report that PRT was talking with --- were talking about having, like, a hub kind of situation with the BCTA. That PRT would handle that route out to Ambridge, and then that would connect to that system over there. But the BCTA runs a route that goes all the way down to Pittsburgh during the week, which again was very useable from my experience.

But it competes with the 14. So, I don't know what you guys are doing to contact BCTA about consolidating or making this just work a little better. But closing it definitely affects me and my coworkers.

I --- I have --- I've looked at, like, other things, like, I've gone on the Silver Line. I know they're talking about closing that, and I've used it to go to Hometown Scooters. That's where I get my scooter serviced, so I don't go very often. But I just looked at, like, Library Station. It --- it ends, like, in a residential neighborhood. So it's like a commuter kind of setup. But if you look in that --- sure.

So in that area, you'll see it has an apartment building. It has a restaurant. It has things to do there, but you also see, like, another shopping area, and it's completely surrounded by parking lot. And there's a dirt path going over to the T station. So there's no design here to basically take pedestrian traffic to the T station. These places not only need to be just for commuters, but they need to be places that you go and want to go, use the transit to go.

I also want to see that the PRT justifies its cost. Like, it costs $432, I read in an article, to run public transit. Meanwhile, we're spending about $13,000 on average for our car infrastructure. I want to know from PRODUCT, what does PRT save the whole budget? Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Eric.

NANCY:

Our next speaker is Lea Bridi. Bridi. Lea Bridi.

MS. BRIDI:

Hi, I'm Lea Bridi. It's L-E-A B-R-I-D-I. I live in Lawrenceville, 15201, and I am a bus commuter on the 91 downtown.

Our route is not up for cuts, but it would be a frequency reduction. And so, I just kind of wanted to give a general statement about the importance of making it easy to commute downtown for work, for like the health of Pittsburgh's downtown and, like, its economic viability. It's very expensive to park downtown, certainly, like, out of my budget, and I think many people's. So if we want people to go to work and spend money downtown and not have downtown be like an abandoned ghost town, I think it's important that we make it easy for people. Which would mean, you know, frequent buses, not just buses in general.

And --- and that --- that is all I wanted to say. So, thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

NANCY:

Our next speaker is Sean Green. Is Sean Green present? Sean Green.

At this time, we do not have any other scheduled speakers. Okay.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Just a reminder that our hearing today runs until 7:00 p.m. So if anyone present wants, that hasn't spoken yet, wants to speak or would like to speak again, we encourage you to do so.

NANCY:

We do have another scheduled speaker. I'd like to call up Justin. I don't --- Justin Hsieh. I hope I pronounced that correctly. Justin, just come up the podium and state your name, and would you please spell that for us? And you will have up to three minutes to speak.

MR. HSIEH:

Hi. My name is Justin Hsieh, H-S-I-E-H. I'm a student at Carnegie Mellon University, and I live off campus in the Shadyside.

I would like to oppose the service cuts, specifically to the 28X Airport Flyer. Currently, the 28X has a stop on Carnegie Mellon's campus as well as a stop at other universities in the area, including Chatham University, the University of Pittsburgh, Carlow University, and Duquesne University. Students, including myself, fly between college and their homes or other important locations, and the 28X is a crucial part of our travel.

And many of us choose to ride the 28X for its cost. A one seat ride on the 28X costs $2.75. And sometimes, if you have a student ID, it's completely free. While the cheapest Uber to the airport right now costs an estimated $52.94.

The cuts to the 28X specifically ending the service at Carnegie Station will seriously hinder our travel to the airport. To the best of my knowledge, traveling from Carnegie Mellon University to the airport under the new cuts will require taking three buses. One bus from Oakland to downtown, and then the G2 from downtown to Carnegie Station. Then finally, the 28X from Carnegie Station to the airport. With multiple transfers acquired and service on the G2 and 28X coming every 20 to 40 minutes, travel time to and from the airport will become longer and less predictable.

Furthermore, times such as the beginning and end of the semester and break periods can see an increase in student ridership and sometimes the 28X fills up before everyone can get on, leaving people to wait for the next bus. And this problem will only be exacerbated by the service cuts.

Finally, ending service at 11:00 p.m. will leave riders no choice but to use a rideshare vehicle for returning from late night flights.

As a busy college student, I am concerned that the cuts to the 28X will have a negative impact on my time and money. Thank you for your consideration.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Justin.

NANCY:

Our next speaker is Ross Nicotero. Ross.

MR. NICOTERO:

Evening, everybody. Thanks for having me. I had a speech. A lot of you know me. Don't really have to use a speech based on what we're talking about.

So first and foremost, thank you for having these hearings and letting the people voice their opinion. My name's Ross Nicotero. I'm the President Business Agent of Local 85. I work with many of you ladies and gentlemen, and my members keep the service running through Allegheny County, as you are all aware.

So in this time and age, I also know, I'm also the president of the Pennsylvania Joint Conference Board, which represents another 18 ATU properties around the Commonwealth. So I'm also smart enough to know that this isn't a Port Authority thing or a Pittsburgh thing, or a SEPTA thing. This is across the whole state and the whole country. But once again, this can't be allowed to go through.

I know a lot of you out there know that. I know we can't force legislators to give us money, but at the same time, there's grandmothers and grandfathers that need to get to grocery stores, pharmacies. A lot of people up here in Oakland have probably, I don't want to say bash the authority or brought it to your attention today about the service for the students. You know, not only the college students up here in the Oakland corridor through Chatham, CMU, and Pitt, but also we have high school students that ride our service.

For every dollar invested in public transportation, you get about four or five back in the local economy.

We're sitting here a year out from having Oakmont, having the U.S. open here in a month or so, the NFL draft. No service after 11:00 p.m., no special service for the Steelers, Pirates, or concerts? It's --- it's completely unacceptable. Nineteen (19) municipalities wouldn't have any type of service altogether.

We've been through this. A lot of the people sitting up on the stage, we went through this in 2011. Before we were flexed money year to year and Act 89 coming through. So --- thank you, my dear.

So, I'm just here to voice my concerns about the people that I represent that provide the service to the people of Allegheny County. It's very, very frustrating that we're dealing with this, both you and I, collaboratively. But at the same time, it also doesn't affect just public transportation. You know, when you're talking about ACCESS, people that need to get to hospitals, dialysis, restaurant workers, you could decimate the local economy based on what's going on. Forty-one (41) out of our 100 routes, gone. The Silver Line, gone. It's completely unacceptable.

So, I thank you for your time. I appreciate it, and look forward to talking to a lot of you in the next coming days. Thanks.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Ross. And of course, we look forward to continuing to work with you and your team in Harrisburg and beyond. Thank you.

NANCY:

Our next speaker is Natasha Matulevic. If you'll state your name and spell that for us, and then you will have up to three minutes to speak.

MS. MATULEVIC:

Thank you. My name's Natasha Matulevic, N-A-T-A-S-H-A M-A-T-U-L-E-V-I-C. I hail from 15104.

And my biggest plea is not to cut service past 11 o'clock. I work at AGH Apothecary at Allegheny General Hospital, where we have a lot of staff that takes the bus to our hospital. We also have a lot of patients that take our bus. That take the bus to our hospital. And eliminating routes to the hospital after 11:00 p.m. would be detrimental to the public health. Not only because patients wouldn't be able to get to our ER, but because a lot of our employees, they work weird shifts. Hospital shifts are not 9:00 to 5:00 downtown shifts.

And it's upsetting to think that you would all be okay with our nurses, our pharmacy technicians, our phlebotomists, our doctors walking through the North Side to downtown, and sometimes beyond, just because they have hospital shifts.

And that is all I have to say is please reconsider this. I understand that you guys have to have funding, but our public health should be a huge concern. And it --- cutting into service off at 11 o'clock is not a good thing for our public health. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Natasha.

NANCY:

At this time, we have no other scheduled speakers. Is there somebody that has --- would like to speak that has not spoken already?

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Okay.

We're heading into the final ten minutes of today's public hearing. So if there's anyone who still hasn't spoken that would like to speak, this would be the time to come up.

(WHEREUPON, THERE WAS A PAUSE DURING THE PROCEEDINGS.)

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Okay.

PRT's records indicate that there are no remaining speakers registered to provide public comment at this public hearing who have not already provided their comments or were given the opportunity to provide their comments, and we are now approaching the 7:00 p.m. advertised end time for this hearing.

So we will now adjourn this public hearing. On behalf of PRT's Board and staff, I want to thank everyone who took the time to participate today and provide PRT with your comments regarding the proposed funding crisis related FY 2026, fare increases and service reductions. Our third, and final, public hearing in this series of hearings is scheduled for 9:00 a.m. on June 12th at the David L. Lawrence Convention Center, and we are adjourned. Thank you.

MS. SHANNON: Good morning. My name is Kelsey Shannon for Pittsburgh Regional Transit. I am the Deputy Chief of Strategic Initiatives.

PRT is conducting this public hearing as part of a public comment period that began on 8:00 am Monday, March 31st and will conclude Wednesday, June 18th, 2025 at 5:00 p.m. to receive public input on PRT's proposed funding crisis related to fare increases and service reductions.

PRT's Chief Executive Officer Katharine Kellerman, currently in Harrisburg advocating for transit funding, so she will not be in attendance at today's hearing.

Before we begin to receive public comment, our hearing moderator, Bill Gasior, will go over some housekeeping information.

MR. GASIOR: This hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing room at this time.

Please note that we have American Sign Language and Spanish language interpreters to provide translations services during the hearing upon request.

For participants who registered provide public comment at today's hearing, you will be called up to speak at a designated time, though you may be called up as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak.

For participants who are not pre registered, you have been placed on an open time slot to speak and will be called up at your designated time, though you may also be called up every called up as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide their public comment. When called upon, please clearly state your name and spell it and speak clearly. The hearing moderator will alert you when one minute - when you have one minute remaining. If your three minutes are up and you want to provide further comment, you may do so via telephone, regular mail or online until 5:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025.

Additional details on these other methods to submit public comment to PRT regarding the proposed funding crisis related to fiscal year 2026 fare increase and service reductions is available on the PRT's website at www.rideprg.org/funding-crisis.

Speakers cannot donate or delegate their alotted of time to any other individual interested in speaking, but speakers may read in written comments they have been brought on behalf of another individual during their scheduled comment time.

The proposed - the purpose of this public hearing is for PRT to receive public comment only. Participating PRT Board members and/or staff members will not respond to public comment provided during the hearing, but all comments will be recorded and analyzed as part of the public comment collection process.

Additionally, there is an information tables set up outside the hearing room where PRT staff can answer additional questions.

Both PRT Board members and senior management will listen to the public comments during the public hearing.

At this time, I would ask PRT Board members who are in attendance to identify themselves. I would now ask PRT senior management who are in attendance to identify themselves.

This public hearing was scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. with a two hour break from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. PRT intends to conduct a public hearing for the entire advertised time periods to ensure members of the public who did not pre register but appear today and sign in to speak have the opportunity to do so.

MS. SHANNON: Thank you, Bill.

Absent additional state funding, PRT is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately 100 million for its fiscal year 2026. PRT is required by law to pass a balanced budget and with so many fixed costs we are proposing a 35 percent reduction in bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments along with a 25 cent fare increase.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program ACCESS. This program provides demand response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County.

In summary of the proposed funding crisis related FY2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

We will now begin to receive public comment if there is any.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. SHANNON: We will now take a break and go off record from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. This public hearing will resume at 3:00 p.m.

MS. SAKALIK: So if you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing room now. Each speaker has up to three minutes to provide public comment and should come up to the speaker's table when called upon and state their name clearly and spell it for the court reporter before beginning to provide your public comment.

Additionally, the purpose of this public hearing is for PRT to receive public comments. So our Board members and staff will be listening to your comments, but we will not be answering questions or actively responding to your comments. Questions can be directed to PRT staff members stationed at information tables outside the hearing room.

Moderator do we have any speakers?

MS. BARYLAK: We do not have anyone at this time.

MS. SAKALIK All right, cool. And now we just sit here.

MS. GREENE: Hello, my name is Kristen Greene, K-R-I-S-T-E-N, Greene, G-R-E-E-N-E. My zip code is 15210 and I reside - I resided in Homestead and I have been a transit user since I was 14 years old.

Over the years, transit services have declined for regular users. Recently the Port Authority of Pittsburgh proposed closing 40 additional routes due to lack of funds as this concerns me deeply as I depend on public - on the buses to get where I need to go.

Additionally, these closures will negatively affect communities. Many people depend on transit to get to the work, school and doctor's appointments. And like I said, how do you expect these residents to get where they need to go with no bus services? And then what about people who work late at night and do not have a safe way home? And what about - sorry. Or work overnight as well? You can't be serious.

And then I'm just asking, please take our safety into consideration. Port Authority workers who also may continue to be affected by these budget cuts. There will be layoffs and what would you do about that? And then something needs to be done to prevent these closures. The Port Authority needs to work with state and local organizations and governments and as a team come up with a solution.

Pittsburghers need managed transit. It's already difficult to get around with the city with the current services, let alone closing additional routes. In addition to the fare increases, these proposed routes will negatively affect the residents of our city.

So I'm just asking the leaders of the Port Authority to rethink these proposed changes. We need to keep the buses running. Pittsburghers depend on public transportation. And then also listen to your employees, especially the bus operators, as they have a stake in these changes as well. Thank you.

MS. BARYLAK: Well, thank you for your time.

MS. GREENE: I've been riding these buses for 20 years and I just - not everybody has a car or could afford one. I wish was that easy to get a car. But yeah. So that's why.

MS. BARYLAK: Thank you for taking the time to bring that to our attention.

MS. GREENE: You're welcome.

MS. BARYLAK: So it's been entered in as part of the public record.

MS. GREENE: Okay. Thank you so much.

MS. BARYLAK: You're welcome.

MS. SAKALIK: Thank you for coming out.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. SAKALIK: There are no remaining speakers registered to provide public comment at this public hearing who have not already provided their comments or were given the opportunity to provide their comments. And we are now at the publicly advertised 7:00 p.m. end time for this hearing.

So we will now conclude this public hearing and on behalf of PRT's Board and staff, I want to thank everyone who took the time to participate today and provide PRT with your comments regarding the proposed funding crisis related fiscal year 2026 fare increases and service reductions.

Our third and final public hearing is scheduled for 9:00 a.m. on June 12th at the David L. Lawrence Convention. This hearing is closed at 7:00.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

So we're going to get started. My name is Mike Cetra. I am Chief Legal Officer for Pittsburgh Regional Transit. PRT is conducting this public hearing as part of a public comment period that 8:00 a.m. on Monday, March 31st, 2025 and will conclude on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025 at 5:00 p.m. to receive public input on PRT's proposed funding crisis, related fare increases and service reductions.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Kelsey.

As an additional state funding PRT is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately $100 million for its fiscal year 2026. PRT is required by law to pass a balanced budget. And with so many fixed costs we are proposing a 35 percent reduction in bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes will begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments along with the 25 cent fare increase and related fare increases to other fare products.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also being proposed for PRT's sponsored paratransit program ACCESS. This program provides demand response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County.

A summary of the proposed funding crisis related FY2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at rideprt.org/funding-crisis and there also are pamphlets out front that contain this information.

We will now begin to receive public comment with our first speaker.

MS. SHANNON:

Our first speaker is Minna Lunney.

MS. LUNNEY:

Good morning. My first name is Minna, M-I-N-N-A ---.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Sorry, give us one sec

here while we --- we're making our way up here to get the mic on.

Just want to remind everybody when you come up to speak please spell your name and if you could just let us know what neighborhood you're from, we'd appreciate it.

MS. LUNNEY:

Hello, my name is Minna Lunney, M-I-N-N-A, L-U-N-N-E-Y. My zip code is 15206.

Good morning. I am a freelance writer currently looking for full time work. I live alone and don't own a car. With my home at the border of Shadyside and East Liberty, I'm blessed to have a number of things within walking distance when I'm healthy such as the gym, the library, the grocery store and the pharmacy.

I depend on bus routes like the P1, 75, 82 and 86 for job interviews and networking events, going to church, attending Pirates games, visiting friends, exploring new parts of the City and going to the large list of doctors I see on annual basis.

Even when I'm healthy, I need the bus to do regular blood testing throughout the year. Last winter, I broke my elbow and needed to go to occupational therapy on a weekly basis. Whenever I'm lucky enough to travel, the 28X reliably gets me to the airport and ensures I have a ride home, even if my flight's delayed past midnight and the rest of the airport is closed.

If the proposed service cuts occur next year, my involvement in the community and the economy will shrink as well. When there's no P1 service to take me home after a late game at PNC Park, when the luck of the hour of my arrival determines whether I have a ride home from the airport. Those are unfortunate scenarios, sure, but easy to shrug off.

Well, what about when I can't apply to a job because there's no way for me to reach the employer by bus? What if I can't get to the doctor who needs to renew the prescription that I must take every day or else risk having a seizure? Now we're talking about lives and livelihoods on the line.

It's so important for our whole community that bus service isn't gutted, but rather expanded. I don't see fare increases as the way forward on that. You're seeking money from people who don't have it to give.

What I rather see in place of fare increases is a Pennsylvania state budget that fully funds public transit statewide. This can be done if it were treated as a requirement, one of our top priorities, not as a target or an afterthought.

When that happens, we have the opportunity to make more routes and have more buses showing up more frequently than ever. We deserve a public transit service so good that people choose it ahead of anything else.

Please do everything you can to maintain or expand service without increasing cost. Thank you very much for your attention.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Our next speaker is Helen Sowinsky.

MS. SOWINSKY:

Good morning. My name is Helen Sowinsky. The spelling on the name is H-E-L-E-N, S-O-W-I-N-S-K-Y. My zip code is 15211.

I am a senior citizen. I work. And if the 43 daily is cut, I have no way to get to work. I have no way to get to doctor's appointments and pick up medications. I have --- it will be very difficult for me, a hardship for me to get out to buy groceries. And also going to --- I'm sorry. Going to recreational activities would be nearly impossible.

I live in a senior citizen high rise. Many of the folks who share the building with me are finding themselves to be in a similar state to me.

So again, I would ask that you strongly consider the effect that this will have on the ridership and go from there. Thank you very much.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Our next speaker is Richard Walter.

MR. WALTER:

My name is Richard Walter, W-A-L-T-E-R. I'm from Bethel Park and I take the Silver Line and I'm on dialysis two days a week. I like to go to the malls and other stuff, doctors appointments and all that. If I don't have the Silver Line, I wouldn't be able to go to where I'm supposed to go on my appointments. So especially at dialysis and it would be too far to walk. And if they quit the Silver Line it's too far to walk from Bethel Park to Logan Road to Washington Junction.

So I have to have the line still be going so I can still be able to go places even if go down to South Park shops, I'd have to walk down to South Park Road. If I didn't have that, I wouldn't be able to get down to the shops down there.

So I have to have transportation to get to all my destinations. So I hope they keep the Silver Line going and keep all the other transportations going so I can still get around. Thank you very much.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Richard.

MR. WALTERS:

You're welcome.

MS. SHANNON:

William Harrison.

MR. HARRISON:

My name is William Harrison, H-A-R-R-I-S-O-N.

First of all, how many of you up there rely on public transportation? Raise your hand. I hope that means more than your paycheck.

I was 15 years old in 1966 when public transportation in Pittsburgh shut down its trolley system. To the best of my knowledge, any major metropolitan area in this country that had a trolley system at that time and kept it running is in better shape than we are.

I'm speaking on behalf of my children and my grandchildren. I'm a senior citizens. I may not be around much longer. But difficulty is not a reason to do the right thing. And the right thing for Pittsburgh is electric public transportation, not battery operated electric transportation. But our trolley system which we never should have shut down.

Personally, if my life were on the line, I don't need the trolley system. I'm the windmill recipient of the Tiffany's Award from the Pittsburgh Marathon awarded me in 2015. I ran the first 28 Pittsburgh Marathons without training on a very bad leg. I will get where I have to go, difficult as it may be.

So I implore you to do the right thing and start the process of bringing our trolley system back and increasing service because that's the only way Pittsburgh and Allegheny County is going to thrive. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Will.

MS. SHANNON:

Next we have Ross Mitchell.

MR. MITCHELL:

Hi, my name is Ross Mitchell. R-O-S-S, M-I-T-C-H-E-L-L. My zip code is 15 --- 15104.

First I want to apologize for a statement I made because I didn't study this carefully when I was here in April and I got a chance to re-respond to something I heard from another participant.

The 28X and --- and also I said this on the local talk radio. Thank you for not completely cutting out the 28X. That's great.

Also, I heard the rules that you can't comment or participate. Thank you for responding to that gentleman's question about any of you using the system. That's great to see.

But I do want to repeat something I did say in April. No service after 11:00, that is not a viable transit system. Even though we have many problems here in Pittsburgh. I think it would be great.

I also will repeat something that's very distasteful. If you could please maintain service after 11:00. And since you are increasing the fare, we'd gripe less if we had 11:00 service after, but maybe go to instead of 25 cent increase it'd be 35 cent. I know that's ---.

But I really hope that the next time there's a service meeting in Harrisburg, someone from the Board or PRT officially will participate in that. Because the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania needs a dedicated funding source for the public transit systems of the state. And even though it's not talked about very much, we understand, most of us, that a public transit system is not a public money making entity. It's a public service.

So please get on Harrisburg. We need dedicated funding. We need service after 11:00. This is Pittsburgh. Some of you are old timers and understand we do not want to go back to rolling up the carpet and closing the door at 5:00 downtown. It's just not going to work. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Ross.

MS. SHANNON:

Matt Lohr.

MR. LOHR:

Hi, my name is Matt Lohr, M-A-T-T, L-O-H-R. My zip code is 15207.

Some of you in this room may have already met me. I'm a box office representative for the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust. Which means if you've had a chance to come down to one of our theaters here in the Cultural District, it may have been me that was helping you out with purchasing or picking up tickets for a show.

And I'm here to remind you that those shows that you come down to see, they don't float down perfect and gossamer like on a cloud. There's a lot of people behind the curtain that help to make that magic happen for you. Stagehands, maintenance crew, ushers, box office personnel like myself. And these people are not superstars in a spotlight. Some of them are students. Some of them work part time. These are salt of the earth people. This is the working class.

And when PRT announced these proposed changes and cuts, I had serious conversations with a lot of my colleagues. People afraid about how these cuts could impede their ability to make it to town to help put on these performances for you to enjoy. People like myself who will lose all of the lines that go from their neighborhood to town to help them make it here to put on these shows for you.

We all know what the Pittsburgh cultural Trust is worth to the lifeblood of this city. We know it's worth at least $31 million, which is the allocation for the Arts Landing development, which is currently at work a few blocks from this room that we're all in right now.

So I hope that we can create a possibility that there will not be a chance of you to come down one day for a show at the Benedum Center and find a completely dark theater because the people who know how to make the lights work down there can't get to work anymore. Or you come to the Heinz Hall and have a performer shouting themselves hoarse from the stage because the people who know how to operate the sound can't make it in work anymore.

Or if you show up at the biome and just can't get into the building because people like me aren't here to help you with a lost or damaged or misplaced ticket because I can't get to work anymore. Or if you just come down and all theaters are just locked up tight because the people behind the scenes that make those shows happen just can't make it into work anymore.

I'm not here officially on behalf of the Cultural Trust, but I am speaking for the heart and spirit of a lot of those people to say that we are trusting in you to help keep PRT and help keep the Pittsburgh Cultural Trust part of the vital lifeblood that makes the city as great to live in as it is.

So we hope that you will do the right thing. We do have our eyes on you. Thank you very much.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Matt.

MS. SHANNON:

Susheela Nemani-Stanger.

MS. NEMANI-STANGER:

Good morning. My first name is Susheela, S-U-S-H-E-E-L-A. Last name is Nemani-Stanger. That's N-E-M-A-N-I, hyphen S-T-A-N-G-E-R.

I'm the executive director of the urban Redevelopment Authority. If you're not aware, the URA is the economic development enterprise for the City of Pittsburgh. Our mission is to advance inclusive growth throughout the city, and we've been doing this for nearly 79 years.

We have worked closely with the Port Authority for over five decades. Our work has resulted --- Our work together has resulted in transit infrastructure funding for projects like First Avenue T station and the East Liberty Busway. That's just to name two of many.

The Port Authority, with their service and capital projects, have helped unlock crucial sites for our region's economic growth. Without the Port Authority, people around the city would not be able to get to where they need to live, work and play in efficient manners.

Even if you don't ride transit, you benefit from transit. Public transit allows us at the URA to advance community and infrastructure investments that unlock density and mobility.

Basic investments in walkability, density and transit are what allow city neighborhoods to be vibrant places to live and very attractive places to live. These investments connect neighborhoods, build communities, and allow for sustained relationships that keep people working and housed. By investing in public transit, we're investing in the people of Pittsburgh and we're investing in what makes our region competitive.

The URA and the Port Authority share a common belief, which is that together we can make Pittsburgh a better place for people to live. We believe that with strong businesses, quality housing and robust transit, we can create economic opportunities for every Pittsburgher.

Simply put, we cannot afford to build a city that prioritizes parking and single occupancy vehicles. New structured parking costs exceed $30,000 per space, and if you look at underground structured parking, that cost nearly doubles to $60,000 per space.

It is crucial that we invest in public transit, housing, parks and other community infrastructure to build a resilient city. Dependable and consistent investment in transit and related community development is needed to ensure access to community access As reinvestment continues to occur throughout our city. PRT needs a dependable and consistent strong source of funding that helps grow our city. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Susheela.

MS. SHANNON:

Francis Graham.

MR. GRAHAM:

I'm Francis Graham, G-R-A-H-A-M. I live in East Pittsburgh 15112. I am retired Emeritus faculty from Penn State. I retired to East Pittsburgh.

I just come here to maybe say that there must be hidden solutions to this very complex problem involving infrastructure, property rights, personnel, retirements, everything in this $100 million shortfall. Are all possible solutions exhausted?

And the reason I think that is important is because Pittsburgh itself, ever since the days of wooden streetcars, it grew up around public transit. It's not like Los Angeles, where the automobile predominated all through its development. This town, you know, from wooden streetcars to PCC cars to buses and bus lanes and now light rail and also experiments with things like sky bus and the Maglev Project.

This town grew up around mass transit and public transit. It would be like ripping an organ out, a vital organ out of a body for Pittsburgh to suffer major declines in public transit. There's no, there's no light parking alternatives except expensive, you know.

So I was inspired to these comments by a book by Ezra Klein and Derek Thompson called Abundance that says sometimes the solution to problems is not in shuttering and closing things, but instead re-innovating things that's in a sort of out of the box way.

And again, they're very complex problems that no doubt are there, but it's Wiki's book Morphological Methods by Fritz Wiki, the astrophysicist says that there are often many solutions that are hidden and we don't think of until, oh, wow, I could have done that.

So that's --- I just --- I'm just saying, I'm sure you have spent many, many, many, many, many hours thinking what could be done. What could be done.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Francis. Your time is up, but if we have open slots later, you're welcome to sign up if you have more comment for us.

MR. GRAHAM:

Thank you. Thank you. I am --- thank you for this opportunity.

MS. SHANNON:

Next we have Brian Rahuba.

MR. RAHUBA:

Hello, how are you today?

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Good morning, Brian. Brian, you can go right to the mic at the table there. Yeah, take your time.

MR. RAHUBA:

I wasn't going to speak today, but I have a neighbor that she's 75 years old. She comes over my house and has a cup of tea with me every week. And she depends on just regular PAT Transit. She goes all around the city on PAT Transit, goes to all these --- we live in the East End, but she goes to all these different places, grocery store, all these --- she's constantly using the PRT. What's she going to do when, you know, you --- they cut lines. You know, she depends on that to go to the grocery store and everything else. That's her lifeline.

And then for me, I take ACCESS. The rate cuts won't affect me so much because I, you know, I'm fine with that, but the --- I mean, but other people can't afford it. And also, you know, if you start cutting service, how can people get to work and stuff like that?

Like the lady was telling me, if they cut a PAT Transit bus ride at 8:00, then access service to that area stops at 8:00 p.m. too, well what if you work out there? Then you're --- you know, you're screwed. Pardon your thing.

And the other thing is, you know, I understand there's problems with funding and stuff, but public transportation should be, you know, an easy one, basically. Because that helps like the other gentleman was saying, generate the economy.

So if you have people that don't --- can't take a bus or take ACCESS, then they sit at home and then they're not spending their money. And it's also a health concern because then they just sit at home and do nothing. And, you know, that's all I wanted to say. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Brian. Brian, could you ask about your last name for us, please?

MR. RAHUBA:

Sure. Rahuba, R-A-H-U-B-A.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MR. RAHUBA:

First name is Brian, B-R-I-A-N. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Next we have Kristen Greene.

MS. GREENE:

Good morning. My name is Kristin Greene. K-R-I-S-T-E-N, G-R-E-E-N-E. And I'm here today to express my deep concerns and oppositions to the proposed cuts for the bus services here in Pittsburgh.

As a citizen who depends on mass transit to get to work, these changes will really have a negative impact not only on myself, but on the community at large, especially for residents who rely on public transportation as their means for transportation for work, school, medical appointments or other institutional destinations.

Each day, hundreds, if not thousands of individuals rely on a bus system. Public transportation is not a luxury. It's a lifeline for so many people. And reducing or eliminating routes will isolate many members of our community.

Public transportation plays an important role in reducing traffic congestions. Cutting service would affect these with the largest --- with a few alternatives and make it so much harder to get where they need to go.

I urge you to reconsider these proposed cuts and explore alternative solutions such as resources, seeking additional funding or engaging the community in a more collaborative planning process.

Our public system must be protected and strengthened and not taken away from the city of Pittsburgh. Instead of reducing routes or cutting, we should be expanding service, increasing frequency, and making transit more affordable and acceptable for everyone. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Kristen.

MS. SHANNON:

Dan Patel.

MR. PATEL:

Hi, everyone. My name is Daniel Patel. Daniel spelled normal, Patel, P-A-T-E-L. I live in Bloomfield.

I've been a resident of Bloomfield for five years. Recently completed three years working as a social worker at Allegheny General Hospital. I'm here to emphasize the critical importance of maintaining and really expanding compared to where we're at right now, public transit funding in our region.

As a hospital social worker, my job was to help remove barriers that prevent people from accessing health care and Living healthy, stable lives. I worked with patients not only from Allegheny County, but also from surrounding areas in West Virginia, Ohio, New York and beyond. You know, we're a massive hospital. People flying from 100 miles away when they have things, so we see what people's lives are like, what resources they have access to 100 miles away.

`Regardless of where people live, I can say with confidence that transportation is almost always one of the most persistent and difficult barriers to care, to being able to access the foundations of a healthy life.

PRT and ACCESS have made Allegheny County far more navigable than many other places. But even in the current situation, before these proposed cuts, our transit system fell far short of ensuring reliable access to jobs, health care, and other necessities. At best, the current system was at least sometimes enough to help people hold a life together without significant help from friends, family, and helpful neighbors, all of which are privileges many of us in this city do not have.

The proposed reductions would turn this system into a hollow shell of a service, making it fully insufficient to get people reliably to where they need to go. This would lead to increased unemployment and underemployment, reduced access to food, medications, preventative care, and greater social isolation.

The communities hit hardest will be those already facing the greatest challenges. Our neighbors living in poverty, with disabilities, or in areas impacted by environmental hazard and neighborhood disinvestment.

And of course, making this service even more ineffective would directly lead to even steeper losses of users and income for PRT. It's a downward spiral when what we need is the funding to increase services and turn PRT into something that more and more people can reliably use in their day to day life.

I know that the administrators at PRT are as clear as I am that enacting these service cuts would mark a bleak turning point for public transport in our city.

Pittsburgh has been on a path of revitalization for decades, but true progress can only happen when all residents have the opportunity to thrive. Public transit is not a luxury. It's a foundational element of a healthy, equitable and flourishing city.

Hospitals have embraced social work not out of idealism, I can tell you that for sure, but because the data shows that the costliest health outcomes arise when people lack access to the basic building blocks of well being. And so we're there to do the things that doctors and nurses can't do. And most of the time, we fail because of the society we live in.

The same is true in public policy --- take a little bit longer. Failing to fund accessible transit will ultimately cost the city and state far more than any short term savings these cuts may offer. Thank you all.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Dan.

MS. SHANNON:

Dr. D. Elizabeth Cohen.

DR. COHEN:

Good morning. My name is Dr. D. Elizabeth Cohen. I'm a cancer survivor. I came to Pittsburgh a little over a year ago invited by a friend to recover after my cancer surgery and I liked it so much here that I stayed.

The things that I liked about it were the quality of life, cultural resources, medical care, opportunities to get involved and participate in all different areas of life. And what's made my life in Carnegie possible to access neighboring resources is the bus system and ACCESS.

I have lived and worked all around the world and in many places in the United States and my comparative estimation of PRT and ACCESS as it is today is that it's really mediocre. Buses are too infrequent. There are missing buses sometimes. Sometimes I can't get ACCESS rides for even medical appointments.

So for the sake of the quality of life in Pittsburgh, transportation must be improved and definitely not cut.

In my estimation, public transportation is vitally important for the public good to improve the environment, to allow youth from all neighborhoods to access opportunities, to manifest their potential, to provide seniors with the ability to meet their own needs, contribute to their communities and live as independently as possible. Public transportation is an opportunity equalizer and fundamental to a positive society that supports its citizens' well-being. So thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you Dr. Cohen.

MS. SHANNON:

All right, I'm going to repeat some instructions because we're a little bit ahead. Want to make sure each speaker is here when we have them slotted.

So just as a reminder, each speaker will have three minutes to provide their public comment. When called upon, please clearly state your name and spell it, then speak clearly. The hearing moderator will alert you when you have one minute remaining.

If your three minutes is up and you want to provide further comment, you may do so via telephone, regular mail or online until 5:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, 18th, 2025.

Additional details on these other methods to submit public comment to PRT regarding the proposed funding crisis related to fiscal year 2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

Our next speaker is Rebecca Aizupitis. Apologize for potentially mispronouncing your last name there.

Rebecca?

All right, we'll loop back to Rebecca. Hannah Thiel.

MS. THIELE:

Good morning. My name is Hanna, H-A-N-N-A, last name Thiele, T-H-E-I-L-E.

Good morning. My name is Hannah and I've been riding the bus in Pittsburgh for the past six years as a student, a part time worker and someone who does not own a car. For me, the bus has never just been about transportation. It's a part of my daily routine, my safety net, and how --- my connection to the city. It's how I get to class, to work shifts, to job interviews and home after dark. It's allowed me to live, learn, and earn in Pittsburgh.

And along the way, I've come to know the people who ride with me. I've seen the same faces on the same routes for years. The man who gets off in Oakland to teach, the grandmother heading to church in East Liberty. The nursing student who studies between stops. We may not know each other's names, but there's quite a sense of community and dignity in sharing the space every day.

Cutting services doesn't just disrupt schedules, it breaks the network of support. It forces people to wait longer, walk further, or stop riding altogether. And for those of us who do not have another option, it adds stress and uncertainty to our daily lives.

Beyond that, investing in transit is one of the most sustainable choices we can make. Buses reduce traffic, lower emissions, and make our region more resilient to climate change. If we're serious about sustainability, we cannot afford to take steps backwards.

Public transit is not expendable. It's the foundation that lets people like me build a life here. It keeps Pittsburgh connected across neighborhoods, across incomes, and across generations. Please do not take that away. Please protect PRT and the people who rely on it. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Hanna.

MS. SHANNON:

Try again for Rebecca Aizupitis.

MS. AIZUPITIS:

Should I --- do I need to repeat my name again?

ATTORNEY CETRA:

If you could just spell your last name for us.

MS. AIZUPITIS:

Spell the last name, yes.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Yeah. And you can go ahead.

MS. AIZUPITIS:

My last name is Aizupitis. A as in apple, I-Z as in zebra, U-P as in Peter, I-T as in Tom, I-S as in Sam.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. AIZUPITIS:

The last person who spoke was so eloquent. I have nothing prepared other than I came because I want to speak up for people who couldn't get here today because they're working or because the buses don't run very frequently, even right now. And I am so grateful to live in this city. And I feel that we all have a serious responsibility to support people who need this way to get to work, who need this way to get home, who need this way of public transport to survive. Thank you for all your good work.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Rebecca.

MS. SHANNON:

Rosa Ryoo.

Rosa?

MS. RYOO:

Hello. My name is Rosa Ryoo. Last name is R-Y-O-O.

So I ride the --- my name is Rosa. I live in Southside. I've been living in Pittsburgh since 2009, and have been relying on the public transit since then.

I ride the 54, the 81, the 83 to work in Oakland. I have the luxury of having my own vehicle and able bodied to ride my bike. But not everyone has that. I'm here today for the people of Pittsburgh and Allegheny County who rely on public transit 100 percent.

How will people get to work if their neighborhood doesn't have a bus coming through? This will directly and significantly impact their livelihoods. What about all the extra cars on the road for those who are able to drive? What is that going to do for our environment and traffic?

You want to significantly reduce the remaining lines and up the fare to $3. Like a bus completing its route, I will go back to where I started. At the end of the day, I will be okay, quote, unquote. It is the members of my community that will not. And that's why I'm here today to fight for them to oppose the proposal cuts. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Diane Ferrari.

MS. FERRARI:

I'm here for the people who take the 41 who are senior citizens. Many of us rely on that bus because the trolley stop at Mount Lebanon are too far away for the senior citizens to walk. We need the 41. So thank you for the --- for your consideration to us and to all the people take the 41. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Diane.

MS. SHANNON:

Patti Murphy.

MS. MURPHY:

Good morning. My name is Patti Murphy. P-A-T-T-I. Patti with an I, Murphy. M-U-R-P-H-Y. I live in Bethel Park and the zip code is 15241.

Taking public transit is one of the best habits, the best lasting habits I formed during my 64 years on this earth. As a little girl, I rode the bus or streetcar downtown with my mom, grandma and sisters. I kept the habit going as a teenager to meet friends under Kaufman's Clock. Then as a working adult and through my recent retirement.

With my disabilities, I never learned to drive. Thank goodness for public transit. It's how I got here this morning. Still, my husband, friends and relatives are generous when I need a ride somewhere. Many more people are not so lucky. So they plan their lives around bus and trolley schedules, T schedules.

Whether it's ultimately up to PRT or state government or both, restoring service, keeping service at pre pandemic levels is not too much for passengers to ask. We are the fifth most populous state. More people call Pennsylvania home than --- more people over 65 call Pennsylvania home than in 40 other states. And at any given time, 25 percent of our residents are living with disabilities.

What you're proposing would be an embarrassment, unacceptable and sadly deadly to our communities. More to say, but I'll end it.

Mass transit is a traditional public service, not a controversy. You must find a way to save it. Now, please, let's not leave anyone stranded. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Patti.

MS. SHANNON:

Eunice Turner Sanders.

MS. SANDERS:

Good morning. My name is Eunice, E-U-N-I-C-E, Turner, T-U-R-N-E-R, Saunders, S-A-U-N-D-E-R-S.

I'm 85 years of age and I've been in Pittsburgh all of my life. I rode the streetcar. When I was a little girl the trolley where the man would go from one end to the other would go up and down the street. So that just tells you something.

Anyway, this is my third protest. I called on the telephone to get a schedule and I told the lady, but I didn't know if she fully understood what I was saying.

I wrote a letter which hopefully you got. It was like four pages on yellow paper, but I was out --- but I was out of town when I did that. So I had a little time to do that. But I mailed it from Pittsburgh. Thank you for receiving that. I'm not really a tech person so I got to talk on the phone, I got to write, whatever.

I do understand your problems financially. We all have them. Every soul has them in some form or another. So I'm not going to speak to that. But I am going to speak because I ride the bus and my primary interest is in the 54.

I have a ten minute ride every morning from Allegheny Center to Chestnut Street. And I understand that you're going to take that 54 and you're going to go down Chestnut Street and you're not going to turn on the East Street. To me that's a small thing. I don't know what it means to you. I don't know where that bus goes after leaving Giant Eagle, but when it can turn on East Street. There are people who get on the bus on East Street.

I go to get off of Chestnut Street and I go to the Sarah Heinz because I'm a widow and I live by myself. And that's some of my communication all day long. I ride it back and forth. I'm sorry. I ride it back and forth five days a week. I ride other buses and I'm not speaking to those buses. I'll ride them, I'll find the stops, I'll find the routes, I'll do something.

The 54 I rely on every morning. I catch it about 9:04, it gets --- ten minutes later, it gets to Chestnut Street. Right now, the only bus that goes to Chestnut Street is the 54. I don't know what you have routed going down East Ohio Street, but the other buses right now don't stop there.

So, I mean, that's all I have to say. I have neuropathy in my feet and I can't drive anymore. So to walk from Cedar Avenue to Chestnut Street is about six blocks. You got to go across the street, up the street, across the street. Thank you. And you have to pass begging people. You have to pass homeless people, and it's not a pleasant thing. Thank you very much for your consideration.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Eunice.

MS. SHANNON:

Steve Small.

MR. SMALL:

Good morning. My name is Steve Small, spelled S-T-E-V-E. Last name Small, S-M-A-L-L. Pretty simple enough.

When I was much younger, of course I don't look that old, but when I was much younger, my mother didn't drive. My father was at work all day long, so my mother didn't drive. She rode the bus. And I was quite frequently and often on that bus with her. My sister as well. We lived at that point in White Oak, McKeesport, which was --- we had a bus that served our little neighborhood, which was White Oak. It was called the 60E, or the 60 echo. That bus disappeared a long time ago. So there's no question that buses and bus routes can disappear. Let nobody be fooled. It can happen because it has happened.

My interest primarily at this point is the 56. It used to be the 56C or the 56 Charlie, which comes from McKeesport, comes from Penn State, and it comes all the way into Downtown Pittsburgh. And I'm on that bus quite frequently, probably several times a week.

I, like many others here, I'm not really able to drive at this point because of eye things, balance things, you know, and --- you know, other disabilities.

So, as has been previously mentioned, particularly with people with disabilities that have disabilities, and there's a lot of people in Pittsburgh because more older people in Allegheny County than anywhere, even, I think, in Florida almost. So there's definitely a need.

And not to mention that the funding problem goes beyond PRT. It also would affect ACCESS, would affect OPT, would affect MATP, probably. And I'm a rider in ACCESS as well. Because I depend primarily on ACCESS, OPT, MATP, and PRT.

So it is very, very important that we find a way that we keep the buses running. And it also helps because then we keep people working. So it's win-win all around. It's an absolute necessity for many of us and is extremely important to keep it going. So we need to find a way.

And I appreciate the opportunity to speak today and I hope that it will make a difference. But people have to come and they have to stand up and they have to speak and they have to say what's right. Because if nobody speaks up, then it'll just be okay and it'll all just go away.

Thank you so much. I do appreciate the opportunity and the time. Thank you. May God bless you. Please do all you can.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Steve.

MS. SHANNON:

Our next speaker is not until 10:15, so we're going to wait a little bit to make sure that they're here.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Okay, we'll go ahead and take a ten minute break. We're going to go off the record. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. SHANNON:

This meeting is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not wish to be recorded, please exit the room now.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide public comment. When called, please approach the speaker table podium, clearly state your full name and spell it slowly for the record before beginning.

All right, going to begin with Alice Gabriel.

MS. GABRIEL:

Good morning. My name is Alice Gabriel. A-L-I-C-E G-A-B-R-I-E-L. I am here today on behalf of Etna Borough. I'm an Etna Borough council person and have heard firsthand from residents about their concerns regarding the proposed cuts PRT faces.

Last month at our counsel meeting, we unanimously adopted a resolution in support of additional funding for PRT and we sent you all a copy. The proposed cuts would mean a 63 percent loss of bus service in Etna and a 39 percent loss of job access.

In addition, residents would have to walk much further to the remaining bus stops. Etna is a densely populated community surrounded by state highways, Route 8 and 28 and line completely with railroad tracks. This makes it difficult to walk to necessary services outside of our small borough.

Etna is a food desert with no access to groceries within our borders. The nearest store is over a mile away along busy Route 8, making the task of carrying groceries home very challenging.

Over ten percent of our residents do not own a vehicle and they rely upon public transit for grocery shopping and other essential services such as access to medical facilities as we have none in our community.

Etna Borough is facing the loss of the P2 Mount Royal Line and the P13 Mount Royal Flyer routes and drastically reducing service to the remaining one Freeport Road route.

These cuts negatively impact --- affect all of our communities in Allegheny County. The added congestion of more cars on the road and resulting pollution are a huge factor as well.

Etna Borough Council is in support of reliable, sustainable and long-term funding solutions for Pittsburgh Regional Transit. We are relying on you. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Councilperson.

MS. SHANNON:

Sarah Buranskas.

MS. BURANSKAS:

Hi, Sarah Buranskas. Sarah with an H and B-U-R-A-N-S-K-A-S. Whoever pronounced it did a good job. And then 15201.

So I'm here first and foremost as a resident of Allegheny County in the State of Pennsylvania and a PRT rider, just to say that I want accessible, efficient and dependable public transit. I was really excited about the bus line redesign and hope to see it materialize because I know that public transit connects us all to jobs and to resources and to each other. But I'm also here as a representative of the Pittsburgh Food Policy Council, because transportation is a critical component of food access.

The USDA defines a food desert based on two primary factors. One is low income and another is low access. And one really critical piece of that is vehicle ownership. Just because of their recognition of the role that transportation plays in accessing food, I think that's really more true than anywhere in Western PA or all of PA, But I know where I live, even if a grocery store is walkable, it's --- you're committing to a pretty significant uphill climb if you want to walk to the grocery store.

So several years ago, the Pittsburgh Food Policy Counsel created the region's first food action plan.

We engaged almost 2,000 county residents to map out how the food system could better serve residents. That's everything from how food is grown to how it gets to your plate to who can buy it and how much, and then food waste.

But during the process, we held eight community engagement sessions. And when asked about ideas or solutions participants had for the food system, transportation was the number one most cited solution. So I just want to note that was not a multiple choice question. It was an open question about food access in the county. And transportation came up time and time again for how residents could better access healthy, nutritious food.

So because of this, the PFPC and other regional organizations formed a coalition to fight for reduced fares for anyone who qualified qualifies for the Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program, or snap, which led to the creation of the really innovative Allegheny Go program, where riders pay 50 percent fares if they qualify for SNAP.

And our hope is that this would eventually become free fares for anyone who qualifies for snap, which is an income-based program. And instead, we now know that this funding shortage would lead to reduced services and fare increases. So, you know, just hereto say that we know that PRT needs long term sustainable transit funding to cover expenses, account for rising costs and support current service levels. And without this funding, PRT will have to make service cuts and increase fares which will negatively impact healthy food access. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Sarah.

MS. SHANNON:

Maria Cohen.

MS. COHEN:

Good morning. Maria Cohen. M-A-R-I-A C-O-H-E-N. I'm speaking on behalf of the Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition. Good morning PRT Board and staff. Thank you for arranging time for public comments.

The Squirrel Hill Urban Coalition feels strongly that the changes in service proposed by PRT would be extremely detrimental to individual riders as well as to the financial, civic and business district health of Squirrel Hill and its immediate surrounding areas.

Squirrel Hill is well aware that the cuts in service and the proposed fare increases are engendered by a lack of funding from the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. Thus, we urge our elected officials to increase transit subsidies sufficiently so as to negate the need for the proposed cutbacks.

SHUC would like to point out several ways in which the proposed service cutbacks and fare increases would negatively affect Squirrel Hill and our neighboring communities.

Squirrel Hill has a large concentration of students, elderly residents and other commuters. They all depend on safe, reliable, frequent service to get to schools, to businesses, to places of employment, to doctor's visits and other necessities of daily life. A reduction in service, such as decreased frequency of buses, negatively impacts commuters, creates longer wait times, makes timing of transfers more difficult, and generally reduces the accessibility of the public transit system.

Squirrel Hill businesses rely on shoppers who come to the business district by public transit. Reduced frequency reduces ridership, which ultimately reduces business in Squirrel Hill and our surrounding communities. Further, the cutoff of service at 11:00 p.m. affects individuals who work late at night, those who work shifts, cultural institutions whose shows end late, and many others. This particular service cut keeps people at home and it does not help ridership.

The airport flyer 28x the change would eliminate any stops in Squirrel Hill and Oakland, by beginning the route in Carnegie. Thousands of students and others use the 28x, which travels as far as Carnegie Mellon University, as a cheap and efficient way to get to the airport. The changes would require riders in Squirrel Hill in Oakland to go downtown, transfer to Carnegie, and have longer wait times due to decreased schedules.

In addition, the route would not pass --- be past 11:00. Taken together, SHUC believes that the cuts to the 28x would result in further decreases in ridership due to disruption created by the changes. The fare increase proposed for the majority of the riders is nine percent. The basic ride would increase from $2.75 to $3. This is an onerous increase for all, especially those on fixed incomes.

As we all know, fare increases make increased ridership purely aspirational. Please help support all bus riders, not just in Squirrel Hill. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Maria.

MS. SHANNON:

Dave Haines.

MR. HAINES:

Good morning.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Morning, Dave.

MR. HAINES:

Thank you, everybody. First, I wanted to say thank you to everybody at Port Authority. I think you do a lot for this community and appreciate you giving us this time to speak today. I am a resident of Mount Lebanon. I take the T every morning to come downtown. I think it's a vital link between the communities outside of the downtown area and vital to keeping downtown alive.

I would be opposed to service cuts on the T, both blue and red and silver, but understand if that is necessary, that, you know, we have to deal with that.

I'm also past resident of McCandless Township. I used to take the 12-O the express bus into town and back. I think that is an extremely vital route that I understand might be up for cut, and I would be against cutting that route.

Again, bringing the people into town is vital to actually keeping the town alive. So that's all I have to say. Thanks.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Dave.

MS. SHANNON:

Leanne McLaughlin.

MS. MCLAUGHLIN:

Good morning. My name is Leanne McLaughlin. L-E-A-N-N-E last name M-C-L-A-U-G-H-L-I-N.

I'm the assistant borough manager of Avalon Borough. The ZIP code there is 15202. I'm here today to represent the residents of the north boroughs our communities, which include Avalon, Bellevue, Ben Avon and Emsworth, will be devastated if the proposed route eliminations, service reductions and fare increases go into effect next February.

I personally will be devastated, as I ride the 19-L to work every day. In fact, I rode the 19-L here today. I love riding the bus.

Over the years, I've met so many interesting people from all walks of life who rely on public transit to make their way to work, to school, to cultural events, to medical appointments. We all have different reasons for riding the bus.

Maybe we don't drive or we're saving money to buy a new car or we just don't want to deal with the hassles and expense of parking downtown. Maybe we like to use the commute home to unwind without the stress of rush hour traffic. Many of us choose to live where we do because of access to the bus routes.

We stay connected through access to transit and we've created our own community on the bus. We look out for each other. We share stories about our days. Please don't take this away from us.

The elimination of the 19-L and the 14 along with service reductions to the 16 and the 13 will strand many community members that I work with and work for.

Right now, so many of us are already worried about the price of gas, how inflation and tariffs will affect the price of cars, and the impact of vehicle emissions on the environment. Our communities were not designed to have families with three or four or five personal vehicles. If you've ever visited Avalon, you already know that parking is scarce. You also know that residents are already concerned about the high volume of traffic on Route 65. We need access to public transportation now more than ever.

As community leaders, we should be focusing on complete streets, the concept of making roadways safer for pedestrians, bicyclists, buses, and personal vehicles. Eliminating bus routes and making people more reliant on cars is a step backwards in this endeavor.

The residents and leaders in Avalon are also very concerned about potential closures of three local bridges. The California Avenue Avalon Loop bridge in Avalon, the Ben Avon Bridge, and the Emsworth Camp Horn Road Bridge. Despite our best efforts, we've been unable to obtain information about what these bridge closures would look like.

What I can tell you today is that this part of the plan is unacceptable. Closing these bridges would landlock at least 45 residences in Avalon, plus more in Ben Avon. They wouldn't be able to get out. They would have no access to 65. They would have no access to get to work, to get to --- to grocery stores, to connect with family and friends, and perhaps even more tragically, emergency vehicle services couldn't reach them. There would simply be no way if these bridges are closed.

The frustrating thing is that we haven't found out that if they won't be closed completely, how the funding to maintain and repair the bridges would take place.

So in closing, I would just like to ask PRT to work together with our state leaders to find a solution because we're proposed cuts right now are just unacceptable. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Darcy. I'm going to ask you to help. The next speaker is Brian Hatgelakas.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

That's me right here. Thank you, Darcy. Yeah, sure. Okay. The mic's right there.

Good morning, PRT board. My name is Brian Hatgelakas. That's B-R-I-A-N H-A-T-G-E-L-A-K-A-S. I live in the --- I live at 15216 is my ZIP code.

Now, I'm here because, number one, I don't want to see the 41 route disappear. I know a lot of people that use it, and I know a lot of people that take it and rely on it to get to work. And I know one person that uses it to get to work, that cannot walk the extra time to get to the T station who has mobility issues. So that will devastate their employment. And also having access cut and not having room for me on occasion is unacceptable too. Doing this as an ADA rider would be basically like throwing my car keys away and saying, no, you can't have this opportunity. No, you can't have these opportunities.

Please don't take any opportunities away from me or others without cars. Keep everything rolling and I have faith that we will. And please, no budget without public transit funding.

And also, I --- also losing service after 11:00 p.m. at night would devastate everything, too. It would make --- it would cut me off from a lot of friends. It would cut me off from hanging out at night or going to shows if I want, or baseball games, even work possibilities also.

Please keep all possibilities rolling for me and others that rely on access and public transit. Thank you and God bless.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Brian.

MS. SHANNON:

I want to remind folks that if you registered online, make sure that you check in with the registration desk up front to make sure that we're here and that I can call your name.

Our next scheduled speaker is at 10:45, so wait a few minutes just to make sure that they're here.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Since our next speaker isn't until 10:45, we're going to go off the record again for ten minutes. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A PAUSE IN THE RECORD WAS HELD.)

MS. SHANNON:

To resume the hearing, a reminder that this session is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not wish to be recorded, please exit the room now.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide public comment when called. Please approach the speaker's table, clearly state your full name and spell it slowly for the record before beginning.

Can we please have Edith Bigus?

MS. BIGUS:

Good morning. My name is Edith Bigus. E-D-I-T-H B-I-G-U-S. I live in Etna. I take the number two bus. I take the number two bus three, four times a week. I take it to go grocery shopping, to the doctor, to get my prescriptions, to visit my friends, to the library. If you take that bus away, I will have no transportation to go anywhere.

I do have a NAMS account and I take it like, once a month. But if I had to take it two or three times a week, it would be way above my budget. Please don't take the number two away.

I have friends on that bus. We go places. We go to lunch. We go to the library. If you take it away, none of us will have that transportation.

Also, I'm from Long Island, New York, originally. I've lived in Pittsburgh for nine years. There were no buses there. One of the reasons why I came here as I got older was because I thought Pittsburgh was a great city to retire in. And I'm starting to have my doubts.

Also, you --- you have the NFL coming next year for the draft. Why would you take buses away when you have the NFL coming? Don't you want to be a green city? I have nothing else to say, so thank you for your time and all have a good day. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Edith.

MS. SHANNON:

Gail Dressler.

MS. DRESSLER:

Hi, my name is Gail Dressler. G-A-I-L D-R-E-S-S-L-E-R. I came today because I'm concerned over the --- I've lived here all my life, and over the years, I've done a lot of traveling, and I've been very proud of my city.

In fact, I remember, oh, how many times did they call us the best city to live in? Okay? And as a matter of fact, fairly recently, very recently, Governor Shapiro made a comment publicly that Pennsylvania is one of the best places for seniors to live. Okay? That seniors are a priority in Pennsylvania and specifically Allegheny County in western Pennsylvania, emphasizing dignity, independence and support and the importance of investing in services for seniors. I don't know if you all had heard this little speech he had, but in that speech, he did make these comments.

And I don't think we --- I don't think we need to lose any of that. Our senior citizens and our handicapped citizens are very important, and I'm not excluding any other citizens, okay? A lot of people today have been talking about students who ride the buses. Okay? I remember when I was a teenager, one of our favorite things to do was Saturday, take the bus, come downtown, go to the KDKA window and talk to the broadcaster. Okay? If any of you are old enough to remember any of that, okay?

But please reconsider what you're doing with the buses. And I know funding is an issue, but work hard on it. Thanks so much.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Gail.

MS. SHANNON:

Earl Westerlund.

MR. WESTERLUND:

Hi. Good morning. My name is Earl Westerlund. E-A-R-L W-E-S-T-E-R-L-U-N-D. Thank you for the opportunity to speak this morning. As I said, my name is Earl Westerland.

I'm currently a Squirrel Hill resident. I'm a native of Duquesne and began riding the 61-C over a half century ago to attend Pirate games at Forbes Field. Okay. So I've established my elderly cred.

I'd like to speak about --- elaborate a little bit more about a topic that maybe doesn't get as much play and apologize if I haven't heard it. There's a significant number of people who would prefer to use public transportation, but feel they have no choice but to drive. The buses don't go where they need to go, or the buses run too infrequently, or they're afraid of missing a connecting bus, or the trips would take much longer than driving. A lot of folks don't want to drive because they aren't as skilled as they used to be, and they know it, at least implicitly.

Can't see as well as they used to, especially at night, or their reaction time isn't what it used to be and this makes them indecisive or timid or worse. I know some of these people, I live with them. I'm becoming one of these people. I'm 70, I still enjoy driving and I'm told that I still drive well. But I am starting to recognize myself in the description I made.

When the time comes when I should give up my license, I hope I can and not continue to drive because I have to. A robust, reliable public transportation system will get us off the roads, which is benefit for all the people who won't take the buses will get out of their way and make for a safer, faster and more pleasant commute for everyone.

Thank you for the work you're doing to try to maintain the service. Thank you for the opportunity to speak today.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Amelie Colletti.

MS. COLLETTI:

Good morning. My name is Amelie Colletti. A-M-E-L-I-E C-O-L-L-E-T-T-I. I appreciate the opportunity to speak to you all today. I was born with a cone rod dystrophy and have a vision of approximately 20 over 1,250 with vision only in one eye.

I work for Visibility Pittsburgh and I work five days a week riding the Silver line to Washington Junction, currently then transferring to a blue line or red line and riding into town and walking and then taking a bus into uptown to Miltenberger every day during the week as well as riding paratransit to the less accessible areas of the city to provide services to individuals that also, like myself, have low vision or are blind.

I rely on public transportation and the reason why I chose to move to Pittsburgh in 2004 and then move to Bethel park in 2012 was because I could continue being independent. And I want to hold on to that as long as possible.

I use a white cane or I use a service dog. I have a guide dog. And I want to be able to do the things that I love and continue to support my community. Without PRT and access transportation, I can't go to work, I can't see my friends, I can't participate in blind and outdoor leisure development activities and blind and low vision tennis in Highland Park. These are all things that keep me going, keep me motivated, and keep our community strong.

And without these services, we won't be able to do those things. We can't drive. That's not an option for us. So I just want you to consider that as you make your decision. We really, really need this service in Pittsburgh. And if we get landlocked, we won't be able to do the things that we need to do to thrive as a city and to be as inclusive as possible. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Teaira Collins.

MS. COLLINS:

Good morning. My name is Teaira Collins. T-E-A-I-R-A C-O-L-L-I-N-S, and I am a resident of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Been here 50 years. My whole entire life I could talk about when the buses ran, go outside, catch a bus every ten minutes, get a $3 weekend there for Friday, Saturday, Sunday. Talk about how the buses were affordable, how the buses ran good, and how the service was amazing. The service isn't amazing now.

I just moved to the run and I get three buses, the 58, the 93 and the 56. The 58 runs every two hours. The 93 runs every hour, the 56 runs every hour. Guess what? I got to get up and leave two hours before I need to be anywhere because the service is not good for me.

And coming home, if I'm out after ten o' clock, I don't get to get home, because guess what? No bus after 10,000, 10:30.

Everyone keeps talking about how this was the most livable city. It was. It's not no more. Everybody's making all these big changes for all these things that's coming to the world, all the drafts and everything. Who are you guys really working for? Who are you really looking to do this for? Are you looking to take care of your people who live in Pennsylvania or Pittsburgh? Or are you looking for to impress the people who are coming? Because if that's who you're looking to impress, guess what ain't going to happen. They can't catch the bus to get around. And they're going to want to catch the bus as well.

Ubers and Lyft cost too much money. I lost my hearing two years ago in a car accident. Three years ago in a car accident. So I don't drive anymore. I've had a license since I was 18. I have panic attacks when I get behind the wheel of a car because I was hit by a dump truck. I am deaf in my right ear. I have a 13 year old with down syndrome, and I want him to be independent in Pittsburgh. And if he can't be independent and catch the buses, reliable buses, we're not staying here.

I've been here 50 years. I've raised five kids here, 12 grandkids. Do what y' all gotta do and fix the system and make it the way it was. You're not making it better. PRT. Every time you change the name, Port Authority, we used to call it Patricia. I still call it Patricia.

Every time y'all change the name, the service gets worse. Every time someone comes in, the service gets worse. Stop fixing it. Because every time y' all fix it, you all do worse. You're not doing better. Do better for your citizens, because guess what? We're the ones riding your bus. Your seniors, your people who have disabilities, your people who need to go to school. Make it affordable and fixable for the people who ride it the most.

And even with a license, I've always caught the bus. I've always caught the bus because no matter where I live, I've made sure I was on a bus line. But right now, you all are making that hard for me. And you're making it hard for all of us.

So do what you have to do and do what's right. I'm done. Have a wonderful day. God bless.

Joan Ulicny.

MS. ULICNY:

Hi. My name is Joan, J-O-A-N. Last name Ulicny, U-L-I-C-N-Y. I am a native Pittsburgher, but a traumatic auto truck accident 38 years ago brought me back to Pittsburgh. I was in a coma at Allegheny General for almost a month, and I was dismissed into the care of Harmarville, which I think is now called Health South.

After coming out of my coma, I was left with a traumatic brain injury. Thirty-eight (38) years later, I have cognitive problems. I'm legally blind, weak on the left side from a massive stroke that was part of that accident. I have no use of my left hand.

My dad, who was A Marine taught me and my sister that you have to play with the cards you're dealt. Well, nobody wanted these cards, especially me. But through blindness and visual services I learned about access. I had mentioned that to my dad that I could use access and try to become more independent, but he was against it. That's my job, he said.

So he would take me back and forth to Harmarville as I remained an outpatient for physical therapy and cognitive retraining. And I relied on him many, many years. However, as he declined in health, I became a member of the access system in 2000 and relied on them heavily to do grocery shopping, to go to church, to go to doctor's appointments in Moon Township, Allegheny General, and to deal with the cards that I've been dealt, as my dad taught me.

It would be a traumatic loss to me if I were to lose this privilege. And I call it a privilege because I'm very aware that not all cities in America have an access system and for people who are dealt unexpected blows, such as myself, it has been nothing but gift.

I'd like to say one more thing about the drivers that I have. I can't explain or convey to you the confidence you get as you come to know your drivers, as you're getting in the car, as they're assisting you up and down the steps of a van. You come to trust them. You're putting your life in their hands. They're all making our lives possible. Please keep this access system as vibrant as it possibly can be. Thank you for letting me talk today.

R-U-S-S-E-L-L. But I just got off of an overcrowded 91 bus and they --- they went to cut the time down off peak hours and that's going to be a hardship.

The minimum pay for fares, if this goes through, it's going to be $6 a day and that's inbound and outbound. If --- now I take two buses I'm happy. I got to have far ferrous car. I would be screwed up. It's going to cost $12 a day. The maximum pay on fare will be $84. Depending on how often that you catch a bus it's going to cost $84.

Fortunately I'm making a living wage, but those who are not are going to be shafted because they won't be able to afford a bus.

Second thing is having the buses end at 11 o' clock is ridiculous because a lot of people are getting out of work at that time and they need the bus to go home.

I figured out the 991, that that bus runs to 12:35 a.m. That's because people knew that at that time and if it ends at 11 o' clock, it's like I said, a lot of people who are working will not be able to go home and another shows up.

I'm going to be hopefully volunteering with the cultural district. I don't know what time ambassadors leave Benedum Center.

So it's like I said, this thing is going to be totally messed up if it goes through. A lot of people also won't be able to get into town for light up night for first night and the fireworks at the Point.

So that's all I got to say. Thank you.

MS. PATTON:

Hello, I'm Megan Patton. M-E-G-A-N P-A-T-T-O-N. Good morning, everyone. I wanted to take a moment to highlight a critical issue that directly impacts our ability to provide the most effective and equitable transportation for Pittsburgh public school students.

The urgent need for increased state investment in Pittsburgh Regional Transit. PRT is projecting a significant budget deficiency beginning in the fiscal year of 2026, a gap that will grow larger each year unless we act to maintain current service levels and ensure long- term sustainability. PRT needs 117 million infused of state funding beginning in fiscal year 2026 with compound and annual increasing moving forward.

This funding is not about expansion, it's about survival. It's about ensuring that families, students and workers in our city can continue to rely on dependable and affordable transit. Without this investment, PRT may be forced to implement significant service reductions, fare increases and staff cuts, changing the world of disproportionately impacting our most vulnerable communities.

For our school district, this could make it more difficult to coordinate safe, timely transportation for students who depend on public transit to get to and from school. PRT has been an essential partner practically as the nationwide bus driver shortage has made more challenges to ensure consistent transportation.

Reliable public transit remains a key factor to ensuring students succeed in access. Thank you. Megan Patton, Director of Pittsburgh Public Schools Transportation Department.

Jeanine L. DeBor

MS. DEBOR:

Good morning, Jeanine, J-E-A-N-I-N-E, DeBor, D-E-B-O-R. I am the Executive Director of the Pennsylvania Trolley Museum and we've had a longstanding partnership with PRT.

So we're very honored to be here today to speak on that partnership and the importance of transportation in our region. The Trolley Museum we tell the story of the Trolley era. Trolleys were the first major public transportation system and their impact on our communities is felt to this day.

People took trolleys everywhere, to church, to theaters, to Kennywood. Trolleys helped build suburbia and connected communities and people. In fact, our museum's tagline is history that connects us.

The major company that operated trolleys in Pittsburgh was Pittsburgh Railways Company, the predecessor of the Port Authority, which is, of course, the predecessor to PRT.

It had the third largest fleet of PCCs in North America. And to this day, three of those original streetcar lines are still in use today by PRT. In fact, streetcars, contrary to popular belief, do run on the city streets of Pittsburgh. It's called the T.

Today, the grandchildren of trolleys, which is light rail and buses, continue to connect our communities. They take people to work, to school, medical appointments, places of worship, shopping, sporting events. The list goes on and on.

Public transportation has and always will be a vital part of our life in western Pennsylvania. It continues to connect communities and people. For people with limited mobility and funds, it is their only means of transportation.

On a personal note, I worked in downtown Pittsburgh for many, many years, and like my dad and my grandparents and so many other people in my family, I took the bus to work and I had a pass that was called a connect card.

So again, continuing to connect communities and people, that's what public transit is all about. So I would ask that you continue to connect people and communities and that the legacy of the trolley era will continue into the future. Thank you very much.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Jeanine.

MS. SHANNON:

Seth Bush.

MR. BUSH:

Good morning. My name is Seth Bush. S-E-T-H B-U-S-H. I am the advocacy manager at Bike Pittsburgh and I'm speaking today to express our organization's strong support for Pittsburgh Regional Transit and the urgent need for increased sustainable transit funding in Pennsylvania.

Founded in 2002, we are a 501(c)(3) bicycle and pedestrian advocacy organization working within the Pittsburgh urban core. Public transit directly benefits our roughly 3,500 members, our staff, and the nearly 30 percent of Allegheny County residents who cannot or choose not to drive due to their age, ability or financial resources.

We envision a Pittsburgh where people can thrive without needing to own a car, making Pittsburgh a world class leader in clean, affordable and convenient transportation. While we primarily champion biking and walking, we know that public transit is vital to achieving that vision.

For many people in our region, biking, walking and public transit are not separate choices. They are essential, interconnected parts of a single journey. Our members bike to the bus, stop for the morning commute and walk into the office. They take the T downtown and use a POGOH bike share to get that last mile to a meeting.

They rely on the bus to get home safely after a late shift when it's too dark to bike or walk very far.

My job takes me all over the county and every day I see neighbors using the bus as a leg in their journey to work, school, or the grocery store. That also includes biking or walking. For them, the bus isn't just a convenience, it's a bridge, a shelter from a sudden storm, and an extension of their own mobility.

It enables seniors and individuals with disabilities to maintain independence, students to get to school, and workers to access better job opportunities. If public transit is cut, people who are able to get around without a car will lose that freedom.

And when that happens, our entire region feels the impact to our economy, safety, traffic congestion and commute times. These cuts would not only cripple our transit system, they would also undermine the safety of our streets, the very core of our mission at Bike Pittsburgh. When transit service is cut, more people are forced to drive, more cars, mean more congestion, more pollution and a greater risk of traffic crashes for everyone, including the cyclists and pedestrians we fight to protect.

I know the panel before me now understands this. You want to grow our service, not cut it. So I will use this opportunity to join the chorus of voices from across Pennsylvania calling on our state legislators for a sustainable long-term funding solution. We urge you to support legislative action that'll provide PRT with an additional $117 million a year in state funding beginning in fiscal year 2026 to sustain operations and invest in the future of our transit system over the next decade.

Without action, our communities, economy and quality of life will suffer. Thank you for your time and attention to this urgent matter. We sincerely appreciate your leadership in ensuring a strong and reliable public transit system for Allegheny County. Thank you.

Thank you, Seth.

Elizabeth Piccione.

MS. PICCIONE:

Hi, it's P, as and Paul, I-C-C-I-O-N-E, first name is Elizabeth.

Imagine having a critical appointment for treatment at UPMC, Hillman Cancer Center, Heart and Vascular Institute or one of our hospitals. You don't have a vehicle. You don't have anyone who can take you.

You're on a limited budget. You've relied on public transportation to take you to your crucial appointments.

Imagine the panic when you find out the bus you've taken to your appointments that goes to that hospital has been cut. You have no idea how you're going to get there or receive the care that you need or deserve. Sadly, this isn't a hypothetical situation, but something many of our patients will be facing if some of the direct services to UPMC and other hospitals is cut.

Good afternoon and thank you for the opportunity to speak today. My name is Dr. Elizabeth Piccione. I'm a cardiologist and the president of UPMC Passavant Hospital. I'm not just here as a representative of UPMC and UPMC Passavant, but as a voice for our patients and our staff whose lives would be directly impacted by the decisions we make about public transportation without the needed public investment and prioritization of these services.

The Pittsburgh Regional Transit has proposed massive cuts to its service, including slashing the bus route that stops in front of my hospital at UPMC Passavant, making it impossible for our staff and sick patients to be able to rely on the public transportation to get them to their needed appointments or scheduled for their shift of work.

A hospital is only as accessible as the transportation that leads to it, and it's hard to believe that in a major metropolitan area in the United States we may be facing a very real situation where a hospital is not accessible to people to get to work or receive the needed care.

At UPMC, we have seen firsthand how essential this bus line is and all of our bus lines. For many of our patients, especially those in underserved communities, the this route isn't a convenience, it's a lifeline.

One patient recently shared that they rely on the bus to get to dialysis three times a week and without it, they'd have to choose between paying for groceries and paying for a ride. That's not a choice that anyone should have to make.

Another patient, a senior living alone, said the bus was the only way to reach their cancer treatments. They don't have a family nearby and if the bus stops running, they'll just quit coming. That's sad. It's not just patient our staff, our nurses, our environmental service worker, dietary staff, many who rely on this bus to get to work. Many team members have said they'll quit if the routes are cut because they can't afford an Uber every day and they have no other transportation.

We recently launched a commuter questionnaire across UPMC and the feedback was clear. Without reliable, affordable transportation, many patients will struggle to attend appointments. Staff will struggle to get to work. This isn't hypothetical. If these bus lines are cut, the consequences will be immediate and severe.

Our applicant pool will shrink. Our hospitals are 24/7 operations and they require around the clock staffing. The proposed changes would jeopardize access to care, threaten jobs and undermine the very mission of our hospitals. It isn't about convenience. This is about equity, about ensuring that people, regardless of income, can access healthcare, that our hospitals can continue to serve our patients and our community with the services that they need. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Dr. Piccione.

MS. SHANNON:

Em Duhamel.

MS. DUHAMEL:

Hello, everyone. My name is Em Duhamel. First name spelled E-M, last name spelled D-U-H-A-M-E-L. I am the community engagement and outreach coordinator for the Fine View and Perry Hilltop Citizens Counsels.

Yesterday, as part of my work, I have the opportunity to go around in partnership with the Pittsburgh Parks Conservancy to gather information and feedback on the proposed redesign for Fowler Park in Perry Hilltop.

Yesterday, I went to the upper rooms, which is a senior high rise, to get their feedback, to make sure that their voices were included in the process of redeveloping these parks. And one of the things that I heard the most from all of the people who took my survey that day was, wow, I'm really excited about all of these things changing in the park. I know it's just a three-minute drive from where I live.

I can't get there. I cannot walk there. The stair --- the terrain is just too bumpy for me. It's too hilly. I don't have a car. Very quickly that conversation turned to, well, can you bust there? And one person said, maybe I can right now, but I have a feeling that very soon that might not be a possibility.

As Pittsburgh continues to invest in our communities, invest in opportunities for those of us who are marginalized, those of us who might not have access to every single thing that every other Pittsburgher has, public transit is really going to be the linking factor in making sure that my community members can actually go and do the things that we are working to bring to their community without having robust bus lines.

We're starting to look at a situation where a lot of this work that we are doing is going to be going to waste in some ways because people won't be able to access it.

The north side in particular is looking at some very extreme bus cuts. And the north side already sometimes feels isolated from the rest of Pittsburgh because in a majority of cases, a lot of times you have to go through downtown first to get to the rest of the city.

So the community in Fine View and Perry Hilltop ask you to make sure that they have the opportunity to enjoy everything that not only their neighborhoods have to offer, but everything the rest of Pittsburgh has to offer. And the only way they can do that is if there is accessible and reliable public transportation. And these bus cuts are a definite threat to the ability of these communities to feel connected not only to each other, but to the rest of Pittsburgh as a whole.

Thank you so much for the opportunity to hear not only my opinions, the opinions of my community, but the opinions of Pittsburghers across our city. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

John Stinner.

MR. STINNER:

Good morning. My name is John Stinner, J-O-H-N S-T-I-N-N-E-R. I am the borough manager of the Borough of Dormont.

Borough of Dormont, after 10 years of planning, is finally about to embark on Transit Oriented Development with PRT. Throughout the spring we have heard that money is going to be there for the development. However, we are now starting to hear from state legislators that money may be cut as a result of the funding cuts to the PRT.

This would be approximately a $52 million investment in our community which we are now looking at possibly walking out the door due to the funding cuts.

To tell you the seriousness of our borough council, I have brought the resolution establishing the cooperation agreement with PRT that was passed at our June meeting and I'm going to enter it in the public record here.

Resolution of the Borough of Dormont providing for a joint development agreement with Pittsburgh Regional Transit to support the development of a transit oriented development program for the Dormont Junction property and adjacent property. Whereas the Borough of Dormont, through its comprehensive plan and various committee reports has set transit oriented development objectives.

Whereas the Pittsburgh Regional Transit, Dormont Junction property and property adjacent thereto would benefit from cooperative efforts with PRT with respect to transit oriented development of said properties.

Now, therefore, be it resolved, the Council of Borough of Dormont, Allegheny County, Pennsylvania and in meeting assembled and it is thereby resolved by the authority of the same that within the procedure is hereby adopted effective immediately.

PRT intends to conduct a joint development solicitation process consistent with PRT's board adopted procedures for competitive negotiations for joint development that will include PRT's Dormont Junction property and with Dormont Council approval, the adjacent property owned by Dormont.

Consistent with PRT's JD procedures, Dormont's borough manager or other Dormont staff appointees would be part of the PRT led evaluation committee to evaluate submission and response to the Dormont Junction joint development, RFQ and RFP, and these duties would include, but not necessarily be limited to, becoming familiar with PRT solicitation evaluation procedures evaluating all proposals in accordance with criteria and methods contained in the solicitation documents ranking all proposals in order of merit based upon solicitation criteria fully participating in hearing and evaluating development presentations as deemed necessary by the committee during the solicitation evaluation process and recommending to PRT CEO the Prosper whose proposal receives the highest ranking from the committee to move forward with the development agreement negotiations.

We are opening the RFQs tomorrow to review them and now we're facing possible cuts and lose the project entirely. I urge you to please restore the funding PRT for communities like Dormont. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

Christine Yockel.

MS. DYBA:

Christine Dyba, D-Y-B-A. I am currently a lifelong Pittsburgher and have been riding public transportation since the streetcars. I currently take the bus and T at least three times a week, and as I ride I have made observation.

I've come to the conclusion that riding public transit is not the journey, it is the destination. It is these destinations that I address for their lack of concern to this upcoming crisis. Starting with UPMC A-H-N, VA Hospital.

Do you know how many of your employees rely on PRT? Do you know how many of your patients depend on the PRT? Do you care? To PNC Bank, the law offices and all the businesses in downtown Pittsburgh. Your employees, your clients rely on the PRT.

To the hotels, restaurants, housekeeping, staff, security that rely on the PRT. To the Steelers, Pirates, Penguins, your employees, your ushers, your fans. Do you even ask? Note to the Steelers, the NFL draft next year. How are you going to volunteer? How are your volunteers going to get downtown? Are they going to drive and park to Pitt, CMU, Duquesne, Chatham, CCAC, Point Park, Pittsburgh Public Schools, your faculty, your students.

To Giant Eagle, Shop'n Save. Do you know how many of your workers rely on the PRT? How many customers have to take one, two or more buses because of the food deserts and now pharmacy deserts? To the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County and the other government offices in town. To the Carnegie Museums, John Heinz History Center, the Aviary, Phipps, Heinz Hall, your employees, your volunteers, your patrons.

Now to the PRT. We understand you're a business with budgets, but you have to choose the doge approach with a chainsaw. It is dangerous and disrespectful to the riders. Yes, changes will be needed. Rides can be combined, tweaks to individual rides. But you have to get on the bus and talk to the passengers and talk to the drivers who know their routes.

When access to public transportation is denied to our destinations, it is lost and cannot be restored. It will be a downward spiral for the City of Pittsburgh, Allegheny County and Southwestern PA. Even for those who never take public transportation and don't care, you will be affected by these destinations. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Christine.

MS. SHANNON:

Christine?

MS. YOCKEL:

Hi, I am Christine Yockel, Y-O-C-K-E-L. Good morning. My name is Christine Yockel.

I am the business and sponsor manager at Bike Pittsburgh, but I'm here today as a human. I am a resident of Allegheny County, a neighbor, a wife and a daughter, a sister, a mother and a PRT user.

I am here today because functional transportation is the bare minimum to creating a city that's on par with global trends and competitive with economic opportunity.

A good transportation system is the difference between creating a city full of hardship or one that people can thrive in. I struggled to write my testimony today because there are so many variables and so much at stake if we lose PRT and these proposed cuts will certainly lead to us all losing PRT in a matter of years.

I could explain how the bus system has been a lifeline towards independence from my neighbors who are refugees new to Pittsburgh and new to the United States. I could talk about my experiences living in Colorado and enjoying the freedom of movement allowed by their well connected networks, allowing me to afford to live in a city at a minimum wage job, paying off my very large student loans and still having money left over in the bank at the end of the month for emergencies.

I could talk about my brother and how following a car crash in 2019, he has been unable to drive for medical reasons and how it's limited both his job prospects and where he can live, but because of investment in Washington State transportation networks, he is making it work as a high school history teacher.

I live in Westview, just outside the city. My routes are the 01, the 8, the 13. I often take the bus before the bus I need because of the frequency in the North Hills and other suburbs is not such that I can miss the bus that I need when I think about riding the bus.

My experiences riding the bus in Pittsburgh allow me to see the beauty in simple human interaction, especially in a post-COVID world where that's so important. Saying hello and thank you to your driver, noticing that they're not the person who usually is on the route. Making faces at the restless kids, asking mom when it's going to be their stop. Older adults comparing notes about the Pirates the night before.

Younger men scrambling to help lift the ADA seats for a stranger when the bus starts to kneel, telling a nervous young woman on her way to an interview that she does not have lipstick on her teeth. Asking a stranger how they're enjoying the book you read last month. Simple stranger pleasantries. Human kindness for the sake of being kind. That's what you get to see and the experience of riding the bus, that's the community experience I want for my kids.

We're all trying to create a better, more connected Pittsburgh, a robust transportation system does that, period. Pittsburgh touts itself as one of the most livable cities in the country, and we cannot claim that if a third of our citizens cannot get around.

Please, please don't just patch the hole. Prevent the cuts, yes. At the bare minimum, we need to find a sustainable solution to providing the resources to invest in and grow and improve public transportation for the Pittsburgh Metro area. Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Sharon, you can sit at the table if you'd like. Your choice.

MS. SEALEY:

Thank you, though. Hi, my name is Sharon Sealey. S-H-A-R-O-N S-E-A-L-E-Y. And I'm a resident of Baldwin apartment complex in Baldwin. I'm here for a lot of people that live up there. I have a lot of friends that live in a high rise up there. I've been living up there for 25 years.

I moved up there in 2000. I moved over there because I had got shot twice just being in the wrong place the wrong time, and I needed to be on one level floor, and I moved up there.

My daughter, she still live up there. My three grandchildren live up there. A lot of my friends are still up there. A lot of them can't even get down here to talk about the buses, you know what I'm saying? I mean, I have kidney failure. What? 2012, the doctor removed my entire colon, and I didn't find that out for three years.

So I struggle with a lot of health conditions. I struggle with my legs. You know, I've been using a bus for 70 years, you know what I'm saying? I never learned how to drive. My daughter doesn't know how to drive. My grandson went to the bathroom and left me, so I'm just like, you know, I don't know what else to do.

I do use access only for my medical because it would cost me to go to, like, the grocery stores and different places. If you take the Y47 curry, I won't be able to make it to the banks. I won't be able to pay my cell phone downtown. And even up there on Curry Hollow Road, the bus runs up there. If you take the bus, either way, we're stuck up there on that mountain. There's two high rises up there. It's probably like maybe --- maybe more than 2,000 units up there or whatever.

But I mean, I won't be able --- I can't walk --- I can't walk down Route 51 to Gray street and catch that bus.

I was just struggling over here because I brought extra oxygen tanks because I never walked this far, right? And one of them is like going out on me. So I have to kind of conserve my oxygen, you know, But I'm just praying, just not just for me, but for other people in my condition or worse.

My girlfriend, she has both of her legs amputated. She's on a wheelchair, you know, electric wheelchair. How will we get where we need to go, you know. Access, my kidney doctor dismissed me because I was late twice to my appointment because access got me there an hour after my appointment and I had to get another kidney doctor, you know what I'm saying? I'm like, I don't know what to do, but thank y'all.

I just hope maybe y'all can keep the buses part time, you know, like eight o' clock in the morning until such a time and 3:00 something till such a time. Y'all did it before. I hope y'all do it again. That's all. Part-time buses. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Andrea Boykowycz.

MS. BOYKOWYCZ:

Hi, my name is Andrea Boykowycz, and I'm a resident of Oakland. I live in central Oakland. I work at the Oakland Planning and Development Corporation.

We are advocates for affordable housing and for a vibrant and inclusive neighborhood. Neither of those things is possible in the Oakland neighborhoods without robust transit that provides service for people from far reaches of Allegheny County to come to employment in Oakland. It's not something that we often make a connection for people, but the --- the existence of robust transit service is really very closely tied to affordability of housing within neighborhoods that are close to high desired employment centers.

People come from very far in order to be able to come into Oakland. Without bus service, they're absolutely going to revert to additional single occupancy vehicles. Housing single occupancy vehicles in Oakland is an incredibly expensive thing. And subtract each --- each --- each car represents basically a household that you could fit in the same space.

During COVID when we were suddenly all of us remote, I had an intern who needed something to do. I asked her to look at satellite maps of central Oakland and identify for me how many off street space surface parking spaces there were in central Oakland, the closest possible area for access to the universities, to the hospitals and to all of the Civic institutions there.

194,000 square feet of Oakland at that time were devoted to no other purpose than to warehousing single occupancy vehicles off site. Those are all commuters who, you know, if there is an expansion of that population of commuters, each of those things, it decimates the tree canopy. As people cut down their backyard trees in order to be plant --- to park cars, it increases the price of housing and for redevelopment of multifamily housing in that area.

Suffice to say, it's incredibly important to us that the service that delivers people into Oakland to study, to work, to attend the doctor's office, all of those things are threatened by these funding cuts. It is really important for Harrisburg to figure out a sustainable, robust funding mechanism for public transit because the region's economy depends on it and our communities are in desperate need.

Thank you very much.

MR. WATTS:

Hello. Ready to go? All right.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

We're ready.

MR. WATTS:

Good morning, everybody. My name is Christopher Watts and I've had the privilege and responsibility to serve as the President CEO of the Boys and Girls Clubs of Western Pennsylvania since November of 2022.

I just want to thank you for the opportunity to share this testimony of how the thousands of youth, family and staff of the Boys and Girls Clubs rely on public transit to deliver our mission, which is to do whatever it takes to enable all young people, especially those that need us the most, to reach their full potential as productive, caring and responsible citizens, which I think we all can agree, every kid in Allegheny County and beyond deserve.

I'm here today, you know, just to be direct, to represent the critical and urgent need to the Boys and Girls Club's mission and community, not just to sustain but grow public transit in Allegheny County.

For some context, for over 135 years, the boys and Girls

Clubs has worked to advance the potential of youth and teens throughout the Pittsburgh region. Now serving nearly 11,000 youth at 11 chartered sites, we're a safe place for kids to prepare for careers in life with programs including preschool, before and after school, summer camp, teen mentoring, workforce development, STEAM and sports, and more.

Our core values of safety, fund and inclusion help us accelerate progress towards our priority outcomes of academic success, character leadership and healthy lifestyles. And these outcomes advance our members career and life readiness so all club kids are prepared to graduate with a plan for the future, prepare for the future.

The data proves that our works with 90 percent of our club teens expected to graduate from high school, and 80 percent have submitted an application to post secondary education, which both exceed national averages.

Although our mission is to activate and advance the potential of every child. We recognize that what we do makes the most difference to those who need us the most. For our last annual report, 70 percent of the youth we serve identify as non-white, 65 percent reside in single parent households and 70 percent receive free and reduced lunch.

With that, we're incredibly committed to supporting youth, families and communities that face significant challenges. And a considerable portion of the municipalities within Allegheny County where we operate have poverty rates exceed the national average. You know, including the City of Pittsburgh where we have three clubhouses, Borough, Millvale, Carnegie, Duquesne City, McKees Rocks and McKeesport.

Public transit is a lifeline to our programs in those communities and to opportunity. And we all know that.

Despite the best efforts of us and many peer organizations committed to supporting youth, demand for safe places for youth outside of school and during the summer months continues to outpace the availability of programs.

And quick summary, I'm sure you know some of the stats, but the biggest barriers to participate in our programming are availability and access and majority of kids and teens that come to our program come via public transit. We rely heavily through the Pittsburgh Public School system public transit every single day.

Every one of our teens we are supporting and purchasing through grants PRT cards, the Connect cards to help them access to our programs and without the additional funding necessary to sustain current service, their post service cut and fare increase would significantly impact our organization. Most importantly, the young people and teens who we all know are the future of our region that need access to programs like the Boys and Girls Clubs.

We need every child to grow up and thrive within the county and these proposed cuts will have devastating consequences leading to negative outcomes of basically every metric that we can track related to career and life readiness and success.

And so thank you for your time and consideration. We urge you and those in Harrisburg to provide a funding solution that sustains service to the Boys and Girls Clubs programs and those in need. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

As a reminder, when called, please approach the speaker

table or podium clearly state your full name and spell it slowly for the record before beginning.

Our next speaker is Kate Shanahan-Smith.

MS. SHANAHAN-SMITH:

Hello, my name is Kate Shanahan-Smith. K-A-T-E S-H-A-N-A-H-A-N S-M-I-T-H. And I'm here representing Elizabeth Seton Center.

Good afternoon, my name is Kate and I'm here today on behalf of Elizabeth Seton Center to stress the historical and ongoing importance of quality public transit, specifically the Brookline 39 bus route and access transportation.

Since 1898 our lot on Pioneer Avenue has been a place of education and service. In 1941, the Sisters of Charity purchased the property where they operated an all girls high school for over 30 years.

During that time, young women took streetcars and the 39 bus route to the stop right in front of our building. Today, some of those same women still ride that same route, this time to access our senior services, which take place in their former School.

In 1985, our nonprofit was founded in response to the evolving needs of the community, and we've continued to grow ever since. It's not just senior citizens arriving at that bus stop. It's single moms dropping off their babies on the way to work, knowing they will be safe and loved. It's many of our staff members, including those with special needs, who are able to independently arrive at a workplace where they know they belong.

Our center offers so much to the community. Early childhood education, before and after school care, a senior center, adult day services, music lessons, meeting space for recovery groups, community theater, and so much more. Every day, hundreds of people walk through the doors, many of whom could not get there without the 39 bus. As a center, we rely heavily on access transportation. Access buses and cars pull into our lot on a seemingly constant cycle.

For seniors with mobility challenges, we're more than a destination. We're a place to connect with friends, learn, enjoy arts, live entertainment, and live life to the fullest. Access provides peace of mind for caregivers by allowing their loved ones with dementia and Alzheimer's and other conditions to reach our center safely for our adult day services, where they're welcomed with dignity and compassion.

Our organization exists to support the most vulnerable. We've weathered many challenges over the past 40 years, including the devastating social isolation that seniors experienced during the pandemic.

Cutting transit access will isolate our seniors once again, this time not because of a virus, but because of a funding decision. Reliable public transportation is not a luxury, it's a necessity. Without affordable, accessible transportation, vital resources like ours become out of reach. And if dedicated staff can't get to work, then the services we provide and the lives that they impact are at risk.

On behalf of Seton Center and the people we proudly serve, I urge the state of Pennsylvania to come to a funding solution that doesn't just keep buses moving, but keeps our community moving. Thank you for your time.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Kate.

MS. SHANNON:

Linda Warman.

MS. WARMAN:

My name is Linda Warman, W-A-R-M-A-N. And I am in Duquesne, just up the hill from Kennywood. If you can hear all the screams on a nice, quiet, breezeless day, it's pretty well nice.

I'm here again to ask you guys, all the. All the board members and various other employees to please help us fight for our buses. We need them.

The 53-L, which is represented here by the --- my bloody bus is here --- is one of the buses that is going to be cut off. It cuts off a lot of people up there on top of the hill in Homestead. Plus it cuts out a couple of programs up there that will --- is already trying to gather up some momentum in getting back on their feet.

Basically, I'm saying, everybody, no matter who you are, go ahead, fight for this bus, whether it be cut off, major reduction or minor. And this couple, I've noticed on the list, no change.

But you got to think about this way. If the bus cuts do go through, it's going to be more damaging than just having no bus. For the --- for the communities that will still have buses, they'll be so crowded like sardines. Because if that bus --- and I've been on a bus recently just got into an accident, the more people that are cramped on to the buses, that will be --- if the buses are crowded to the point where there are like packed like sardines and there's an accident, there's going to be a whole lot of trouble and I don't want to see that.

So please, everybody rate your senators, your representatives, state, federal, whoever, local, just get them to say yes to dedicated funding. That's what we need. Thank you very much.

MS. SHANNON:

We will now take a brief break. This hearing will go off the record during this time. Thank you for your patience.

(WHEREUPON, A PAUSE IN THE RECORD WAS HELD.)

MS. SHANNON:

To resume the hearing, a reminder that this session is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not wish to be recorded, please exit the room now.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide public comment. When called, please approach speaker table or podium. Clearly state your full name and --- and spell it slowly for the record before beginning.

Going to begin with Melanie Holcomb.

MS. HOLCOMB:

My name is Melanie Holcomb. M-E-L-A-N-I-E H-O-L-C-O-M-B. And I am the Mayor of Ben Avon, Pennsylvania.

Are we good to go?

MS. SHANNON:

Yep.

MS. HOLCOMB:

Okay. I represent the 1,800 souls in Ben Avon. I wanted to share some of the stories of Ben Avon residents who reached out with their concerns since all the publicity about PRT cuts.

These folks that I represent are from all stripes of the political spectrum, not just Democrats or Republicans are the ones who go to work or go to doctor or get their kids where they need to be. It's everybody. So that's who I'm here to talk to about.

Sophie is a young woman who I've known since she was seven and she has a lifelong vision impairment. So it means that she will never drive. She has graduated from college and has a job in the profession of her choice and relies on PRT service provider to get her to work to support herself as a young adult.

With these cuts to Ben Avon she would lose out. So I don't know what that solution is for her.

Carol is a senior citizen who lives in the house that she was born in, in Ben Avon, which she's not the only person in Ben Avon to still live in the house they were born in. She has no car. She regularly attends the doctor's appointments and does her weekly grocery shopping via the PRT bus system.

There are many more like her and many more coming up as folks retire and age in place. That's not going to change. Many like her who use the bus service to get to their medical appointments and needs to lifesaving transfusions, chronic conditions, all that kinds of things.

There is shocking number of young people who were raised in Ben Avon, went out into the world and have come back. They are buying homes or moving in with friends or family and raising their families there and they are commuting to work in larger numbers than folks my age. That's what they grew up being able to do from Ben Avon and this would limit that ability.

Several families in Ben Avon are trying to be both fiscally responsible for their families and climate conscious. I've made the decision to be a one car family, myself included.

I went kicking and screaming, but I did. They are working couples so one of them needs to be able to take a bus to work almost every day. They can't continue to do that good work and be climate conscious and keep their families fiscally sound if they can't have that bus service to work.

Many residents of Ben Avon, also a surprising number, work in the hospitals and universities in the Oakland area, myself and my husband included.

I have pushed CMU where I work for cheaper parking options because it is a lot of money to drive to work and park there. But their consistent answer is that they are trying to encourage employees to use public transportation and we can't do that if there isn't public transportation.

Having been in the municipal world long enough, I know not one person's responsibility or one group's responsibility. Everybody needs to get the collective nonsense together and figure out how to find that funding and cut costs if needed. But the service to the community is what's vital and why the PRT is here and why they were starting and who they support.

Please do all you can to every organization to help our residents. Thank you so much.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Khara Timsina.

MR. TIMSINA:

Good afternoon. Can I go? Well, thank you. I'm happy I'm able to come and speak on behalf of my community.

My name is Khara Timsina, spelled K-H-A-R-A. That's my first name. Timsina, T-I-M-S-I-N-A.

I'm the executive director with the Bhutanese Community Association of Pittsburgh. BCAP in abbreviation for the organization. Our organization serves population primarily Nepali speaking former refugees. And we have still many more in the refugee status who are yet to become citizens.

But when I'm speaking, I'm proudly representing a whole lot of immigrants and refugee populations. We serve the population that is mostly living in the South Hills neighborhoods.

So as a former refugee, when I came to Pittsburgh in 2009, I was heavily dependent on public transport. As you might know, we need to have established credit history to get a loan to purchase car, which means many of us cannot right out way afford to buy a car. So buying is one thing with the credit card.

And of course we are supposed to be starting working as soon as we reach the threshold of two months to the maximum of three months when we have the public assistance.

Fast forward to 15, 16 years when we first came to 2008, we still have a size population, mostly women who have not yet obtained a driver's license. But then those who have, they have to provide transportation to their friends and families.

But then we have a lot of people still dependent on public transportation. Many people work in the second shift. Now cutting any public transportation services is going to heavily affect those families. And when that happens, you know there is no way but to apply for public benefit when there is no income.

Just because there is no transportation, people cannot have their income. And that is something we highly discourage people to do to apply for public benefits when they are capable of working. We encourage them to work. That is what we believe, what we did in the beginning.

So if there is any way the services are retained, all the services, public transportation are retained that would greatly benefit newcomers. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Amy Zaiss.

MS. ZAISS:

All right, thank you so much. My name is Amy Zaiss. I'll spell it for you. A-M-Y. Last name Z, as in zebra, A-I-S-S. I live in the Beechview community. ZIP code 15216.

I just wanted to come here. I've already filled out the online forms and called my representatives.

First of all, I'd like to thank the leadership in PRT for your stewardship during this crisis. I'd like to make it clear that personally I am disappointed by those in state leadership, especially those who seem surprised at this moment. Everybody knew that this was coming. If you've been paying attention, you knew this was coming.

And everybody has already said this. But transit is so important to me personally and to our region. I moved to Pittsburgh four years ago. I started renting in Beechview mainly because of the access to the T line. I have lived car free by choice my whole adult life. Having access to transit in Pittsburgh is what made it feasible for me to move here in the first place. I wasn't really willing to give up my current lifestyle.

Fast forward a few years and I purchased my first home. That's another reason why I moved to Pittsburgh. I saw opportunity here, jobs, an easy way to live the lifestyle that I wanted to live. And Pittsburgh as a city and a region is at a precipice now. Our population has been stagnant if not declining. And so we have a specifically aging population that would be incredibly, incredibly hurt more than myself.

I'm able-bodied, I like to bike, I can walk. But the gutting of access services would just cripple the ability of the seniors in our area to move around.

And also we need to attract young people. Pittsburgh is still an affordable city nationwide.

We want it to be a desirable area. If we want to meet our climate and growth goals. We need transit. It's non-negotiable. I know you all know that. But I hope that our leaders in this state level here, everybody here, including myself, do the right thing. Not only fund transit, but grow transit. So thank you so much for your time.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

James. James? We'll come back to James.

Janet Evans.

MS. EVANS:

Today I want to thank all of you for having these hearings. I was just checking about the 57 in our area, and I found out they're not going to eliminate it. But my concern now is that they came off of Johnson Avenue 11 o' clock shift. My suggestion is they should eliminate around 11:30 or 12, not 11 as probably most people or workers probably getting there.

And if you decide to do something with the 57. They don't eliminate it because there's caregivers going up to the high rise on Johnson Avenue, Riverdale. So again, thank you.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you. I'm just confirming for the record that was Janet Evans speaking.

MS. EVANS:

Oh, yeah, one more thing. The raise in access that's going to go through, I have a plan for that. I just add more money each month. So I don't mind about that. As long as I am --- I have a question for all of you at Port Authority. Are they going to eliminate the senior passes?

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Janet, we. We cannot answer questions while we take public comment. But you can --- we have staff outside that can assist you. Actually, Darcy's raising her hand back there, so she'll talk to you about that once you're done testifying.

MS. EVANS:

Thank you for your time.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Janet.

MS. SHANNON:

Yes, I believe that was Janet Evans.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Next we have James Fogarty.

MR. FOGARTY:

Hi, good afternoon. My name is James Fogarty. I'm the executive director of A+ Schools here in Pittsburgh. We're deeply concerned by PRT's proposed cuts. You know, 35 percent of overall service, elimination of 41 bus routes, vital after 11:00 p.m. service, fare increases, all set to begin in February without state investment.

These changes pose severe risks, not only to riders, but to our students and the economic health of our region.

For A+ Schools, transit isn't a separate agenda. It's core to our mission to eliminate any chronic absenteeism in our schools that's missing ten percent or more of the school year.

Last school year, nearly a third of Pittsburgh public school students were chronically absent, missing ten percent or more school days in a single year. That equates to about 6,000 students who missed critical learning time.

We know from our attendance efforts like text message mail and call nudges that removing simple barriers such as reliable transportation for families can mean the difference between showing up and not.

At Arlington Pre K to 8, we saw what happened when we removed yellow bus service for students. With more than half of the students living within a mile and a half walker zone radius that contributed to chronic absence rates that went up to about 76 percent at that school.

We've been able to reduce that to about 54 percent now with good work between us and the staff. But we know that families who rely on PRT drop their kids off early there and at other schools in PPS because there's not before care for kids. And so kids are sitting outside that building in buildings across the city.

If PRT service is cut, it means kids will be unsupervised in lots of places across the city. Chronic absence is a powerful predictor of diminished academic success. Students who regularly miss school are less likely to read on grade level by third grade, graduate high school, or pursue post-secondary education or job training. They also face long-term social and economic challenges and this has consequences beyond our individual students.

Employers small and large rely on a transit supported workforce. For A+ Schools every missed school day erodes student potential and weakens our workforce, pipelines and community vibrancy. These cuts risk reversing the very progress we're fighting to achieve. Is that ---.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

You have one minute.

MR. FOGARTY:

One minute. Thank you. Okay. We urge the board to reconsider the scope and timing of these cuts. I know it's not a lot that you can do about it, but we're urging you to do that. We ask you to maintain all routes vital for students and families, especially those serving schools and neighborhoods with high chronic absenteeism, and to advocate forcefully.

And we will join you in this for state funding to fill PRT's $100 million structural shortfall starting July 2025, taking pressure or off service level cuts that threaten the region's future. Our students attendance and their futures depend on transit that's affordable, reliable and accessible. Please prioritize what matters most. Keeping kids in schools, building a strong tomorrow, and driving our shared prosperity. Thank you so much.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, James.

MS. SHANNON:

As a reminder, this session is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not wish to be recorded, please exit the room.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide public comment. When called please approach the table or podium clearly state your full name and spell it slowly for the record before beginning.

We have Mary Matejevich.

MS. MATEJEVICH:

Hi, my name is Mary Matievich. I'll spell it. M-A-T-E-J-E-V-I-C-H. I live in urban Westmoreland County and since I don't have a car and never have, I took the Westmoreland Transit bus here.

I have had an illness that has disabled me on and off throughout my life and have had a very spotty work life. Could never afford a car, but I use the buses to get to work, to get to my friends, to get to the store throughout my younger life when I lived in Pittsburgh.

And I now come in to Pittsburgh regularly to see several of my very important doctors. And I also come in to use the Carnegie Library to go to some cultural events. The PRT buses are very important to me.

The good bus service that we've had in Pittsburgh in mind 65 years is, and I'll quote, the lifeblood of the city. And that's --- I'm quoting my friend Martha Ryle, who I went to high school with, who is a local Pulitzer Prize winning journalist. If you haven't read her article, it's some years back, she was amazing.

Many Pittsburghers and people like me don't have a car, can't afford a car and who live in outlying areas depend on the buses, too, get to their healthcare appointments, get to their workplaces. Our elderly use buses a lot to get to church, to the doctors. And I've seen that throughout my life when I lived in Pittsburgh and now when I come in to use buses.

So I think eliminating 40-some bus routes, eliminating the services will be so detrimental to area, I think it will literally shut our city down. I don't want to see that happen. So I implore all of you to do whatever you need to do to save Pittsburgh's public transit system and get it up and running normally. It's very important to us.

Thanks.

ATTORNEY CENTRA:

Thank you, Mary

MS. SHANNON:

Carol Massengill.

MS. MASSENGILL:

I can't remember exactly. You know, age is catching up. But for a long time I worked as a nurse, you know, and I got injured on the job and I've got sciatica now. I can walk in my apartment, but I need the wheelchair to get around to doctor's appointments and church. I need the word of God and anywhere else I have to go. I don't know what he can do. I'm taking it to the Lord in prayer. He can touch hearts.

And I just hope you'll --- you know, you all will be old one day and you don't know what condition you'll be in when you get old. You know, monetary reversals can happen. You don't know what you'll end up being.

But as an older senior citizen, I'm 74 years old and I moved Downtown here. We had a fire at the Roosevelt and I moved from Southside Downtown. And so it's --- you know, the buses are good, I get where I need to go and I'm just hoping that the service will continue and come up with the money.

Maybe you can call up Trump or Elon Musk and say, can you give us a donation? I don't know whether other cities are facing this. I was in Baltimore for a couple years. I don't know what they're facing, but I'm just asking you to consider the elderly children what you're talking about. That's all I have to say.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Carol. And Carol, can you just give us your last name and spell it?

MS. MASSENGILL:

It's Massengill, M-A-S-S-E-N-G-I-L-L.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. MASSENGILL:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

David White.

MR. WHITE:

Good afternoon, ladies and gentlemen. Although I am excited to be here, I'm also disappointed that it's requiring this level of effort. But I'd like to provide brief comments both from myself as a person. W-H-I-T-E is the last --- spelling my last name. And in my professional capacity.

So briefly, personally, I have five children. Three of them use

PRT to go to and from school every single day. I cannot overstate the importance of a fully functional transportation network in order to educate our children. And the future of our children depends on a system that reliably gets them to school. And I believe firmly that our public school system is not the best agency to provide transit services. I think that role should rely on our public transit agency.

And so I'm here to advocate and to express my strong support that we work together as a region to solve that for the sake of our children's future.

Secondly, in my professional role, I'm the executive director of Bikeshare Pittsburgh. We are the nonprofit organization that owns and operates the POGOH Bikeshare system. We consider our services to be complementary and in support of transit.

We have a payment integration that allows a customer, a user, to use a single sign up to get both a POGOH bike and get onto a PRT vehicle. And that's deliberate.

And I, from my professional perspective, believe that the future of our region, again, depends on our ability to respond to our climate changes and our region's growth by providing reliable public transportation.

I think that even in our current federal climate, it's noteworthy to see that the Department of Transportation at the federal level still acknowledges that the transportation sector is the largest single contributor to greenhouse gases in the United States. It's not that case for many other developed countries.

And we as a region can take a strong stance in combating that with a strong, stable and reliable whole public transportation system. And I hope to advocate for that in whatever way that I can professionally. Thanks very much.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, David.

MS. SHANNON:

Lydia Morin.

MS. MORIN:

You guys are keeping it moving. Thank you. I like to see that in a transit agency.

All right, good morning. My name is Lydia Morin, and I'm here on behalf of the Congress of Neighboring Communities, otherwise known as CONNECT. We represent municipalities across Allegheny County, over 50 at this point, working together to strengthen the region for residents, businesses and visitors.

And this is a no brainer and we shouldn't all have to be here today. Transit isn't just about getting to work. It's about keeping the entire economy moving. Jobs, schools, health care, investors, visitors, major events, they all depend on transit to work.

And even if we don't rely on transit day to day, possibly because it's no longer a reliable option for where we live, we're seeing the regional need more than ever right now with the U.S. Open. With 250,000 extra people flooding our streets, and if we think about the NFL draft bringing over 750,000 visitors into a city of just over 300,000, our roads simply can't handle that without real transit. Cities that host these events successfully while also supporting their own have strong transit systems that move people quickly, affordable and reliable.

Right now, PRT is doing the best it can with limited resources, but many communities still haven't regained service lost during the pandemic or prior cuts. Routes aren't restored, frequency is limited, and we lack flexibility to adapt routes, vehicles and service to meet today's needs. The current funding formula is outdated and the resulting cuts are extremely dangerous. We need to rally behind models that really work.

CONNECT communities and partners have done hard work together with PRT, zoning changes, toolkits and development plans.

Also, people can live and work near transit and be less dependent on cars that cost an average of $12,000 a year to own, ten times more than a bus pass. And according to national data from sources like National Safety Council, APTA and U.S. Department of Transportation, 60 times more likely to be injured in a car than a bus. That's money and energy families could spend locally building personal and community wealth.

Fully funding PRT long term means businesses find workers, families have options, visitors have access, and our region can keep growing and competing nationally.

The plans are ready, the communities are ready, the businesses are ready. But we need long term investment to make it happen and to make sure this operational budget works. Thanks, everyone.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thanks, Lydia.

MS. SHANNON:

Sarah Downing.

MS. DOWNING:

Thanks everyone. Good afternoon and thank you for your time. My name is Sarah Downing, I am the Director of Operations at CONNECT and I'm also one of the many folks in the city who rely on public transit in my daily life.

I would love to just express the need for reliable and affordable public transit because I'm passionate about the 40 local governments in Allegheny County, I have the privilege to work with at Connect. But I'm also just passionate about Pittsburgh as a whole and resources. Reduced or eliminated service impacts everyone.

There's 19 municipalities, including neighborhoods that could lose service entirely. Daily commutes on transit will be made impossible. The traffic congestion will get worse, particularly with upcoming events that we have that bring hundreds of thousands of more people.

Eliminating late night Routes will create unsafe situations for students and night shift workers, which, as a University of Pittsburgh grad, is a point that's important to me. Free transit for students was a large factor in me for choosing Pitt. If you're already worrying about paying rent or paying for your books, trying to get your work-study job on time, or getting home from a class that lets out at 9:00, having reliable transportation is a necessity and just taking takes a huge weight off your shoulders.

Investing in transit to me isn't just getting people from point A to point B. It's investing in their daily lives and their futures because you're making sure they can get to work okay on time, making sure kids can get to school, taking people to doctor's appointments, and to, you know, public hearings Downtown to speak about causes that people really care about. In a time that I'm sure many people already alluded to, there's a lot of change and uncertainty, not only in our region, but in the country. And your daily routine should be something that you can still count on. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Sarah.

MS. SHANNON:

Eric Dawson.

MR. DAWON:

Good afternoon everybody.

My name is Derek Dawson. I'm the Vice President of Strategy for Visit Pittsburgh and I am here on behalf of Visit Pittsburgh.

Visit Pittsburgh is the official sales and marketing agency for Pittsburgh and Allegheny County driving economic impact to conventions, sports events and leisure travel. This industry creates $6 billion a year in economic impact in Allegheny County.

It supports over 40,000 jobs here as well. Many of these jobs are located Downtown and in surrounding neighborhoods, with workers coming in from all over the county using public transit to get here, to get to work and from work, including myself.

Additionally, visitors use public transit every day, whether it's going from the airport to Downtown on the 28X, Downtown to the North Shore on the T, Station Square to Mount Washington on the Mon Incline, or visiting one of our 90 neighborhoods in 150 some municipalities across the county using public bus lines.

Not providing long term and sustainable funding for support for the PRT would cause significant impacts on both people being able to get to and from work, which causes a significant ripple effect on the state of the tourism economy and on visitors exploring and spending money in different neighborhoods across Pittsburgh and Allegheny County.

So I ask that long term sustainable funding support is provided to the PRT to keep residents and visitors to our county working and moving. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Derek.

MS. SHANNON:

Danielle Wenner.

MS. WENNER:

Hi, my name is Danielle Wenner. My last name is spelled W-E-N-N-E-R. My zip code is 15219.

I'm an Associate Professor of Philosophy and Associate Director of the Center for Ethics and Policy at Carnegie Mellon University.

I've also been a PRT rider since first moving to Pittsburgh in 2013. I've experienced firsthand what it is like for service to be reduced and how this impacts my ability to get around the city.

During COVID service was cut and much of that service still has not been restored. The result is that making connections is even more difficult than ever. It is not unusual, for example, for a full outbound bus to stop at Herron Station just long enough to tell me that it's too full to let me on. And that's if it stops at all. But waiting for the next one more often than not entails missing a connection.

On multiple occasions, I've had to resort to calling an Uber to get to where I was going, because a missed connection doesn't mean getting somewhere a few minutes late. Often that connection is a bus that only runs once every 20 or 30 or even 40 minutes, and missing it can mean missing a doctor's appointment, being late for work, or no longer having time in my day to run that important errand.

This is why cuts to service signal a death spiral for public transit. Cuts to service make it harder and less reliable to use transit, which reduces ridership, which leads to further cuts.

When service is unreliable or not frequent enough, even lower, low income riders will be pressured to buy cars, often at the expense of other important needs because they need a reliable way to get to work, to doctor's appointments, to kids, schools, et cetera. And once more people buy cars, they're unlikely to go back to using a bus. And this reduces ridership.

It also increases traffic, it increases stress on our roads, and it increases pollution in our city. And all of these outcomes are bad for everyone.

Finally, many transit riders can't afford the expense of a car or cannot drive for age or disability related reasons. But many others, including myself, choose not to drive for pro social reasons. Because riding transit instead of driving has other community benefits too. It reduces wear and tear on our roads, it reduces greenhouse gas emissions which impact all of us with that regard to our geographic location or voting district. And it reduces traffic which benefits those who do drive as well as other users of our streets like pedestrians and cyclists.

I've seen senators and representatives from outside of Philly and Pittsburgh claim that their constituents should not have to foot the bill to fund transit for the cities. And I want to say this is incredibly short sighted.

First of all, the Transit for All Funding Package that's been proposed aims to improve transit access in every county of the state by providing a new dedicated funding source.

But second, and very important, the Philadelphia and Pittsburgh regions are the economic engines of this state. By this I mean this is where the bulk of economic activity happens and this is where the bulk of the state's tax revenues are generated.

Pittsburgh Regional Transit serves 130,000 riders a day. SEPTA serves 750,000. More than 42 percent of the state's population lives within the six primary counties served by SEPTA and PRT, and that does not include folks in the extra Allegheny County Transit shed.

What this means is that our biggest economic engines rely on transit. And as the current federal administration works to engineer a recession, the best defense that we have as a state is to do whatever we can locally to strengthen our economy. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Danielle.

MS. SHANNON:

Now, we don't have another scheduled speaker, so we will now take a break. This hearing will go off the record during this time. Thank you for your patience.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. SHANNON:

Just a reminder that this session is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not wish to be recorded, please exit the room now.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide public comment. When called, please approach the speaker's table or podium, clearly state your full name and spell it slowly for the record before beginning.

The next speaker is Angela Wiley.

MS. WILEY:

Hello. Angela Wiley, A-N-G-E-L-A, W-I-L-E-Y. My zip code is 15206. I live in Highland Park in Pittsburgh.

I'm hopeful that I will be lost in a chorus of voices that you all will hear today and you won't remember me in an hour. I am just someone who uses the bus to get to work. I commute East End to West End. In a given commute day if I do full bus I will take up to six buses, three there, three back. Sometimes I will add my bike and love using the bike racks accessible to us.

And I also am here today to speak on behalf of at least four colleagues in my building at the Library Support Center in the West End, workers at the Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh who also commute, many of whom commute East End to West End as well, several of whom are union hourly workers who do have to get to work on time within a grace period.

So with proposed cuts to routes or major reductions if there is not state funding to maintain service, this will impact reliability for all of us to get to work and do our jobs to support communities at the Library Support Center.

I share a car. I do not have full access to a car and several of my colleagues who use the buses do not have the same mobility as I do to sometimes bike or walk or jog. And so that funding is really critical for all of us to be able to do our days.

But I'm also here to advocate for some joy that I feel on the bus. So once a week I do join my neighbor and we take the bus together. And I often see teens who are not now adults who I worked with when I was in public service in the libraries. So it's always very joyful to run into community members, neighbors who are also very reliant on our transit.

So I am here today to just advocate for and share not a want, but a real need to maintain service so that we can get to work and be connected to our neighbors. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Brian Hatgelakas.

MR. HATGELAKAS:

That's me. Okay. Do I have to spell my name again or no? Okay.

Hello, my name is Brian Hatgelakas, B-R-I-A-N,

H-A-T-G-E-L-A-K-A-S. I'm in the 15216 zip code.

And like I said before, I rely on access to get myself where I need to go. Defunding things and cutting things would be devastating to my survival in Pittsburgh as an independent man who's blind and who can't drive. It would be like throwing my car keys away and telling me, no, you can't have this car anymore for no apparent reason.

Please keep the lifeblood going in Pittsburgh. Fund access, do what you got to do. Just keep everything vibrant and keep Pittsburgh a livable city that I know and love it could be.

We should be --- we shouldn't be here today. We should be here looking at how to expand the service and we should look at how to make it better, not cut it.

And also what angers me is as non car rider --- as an on car rider, I should be treated the same as a car rider. Yes, I get ACCESS as a Shareride program, but no, I shouldn't be forced to wait around and ride around a trip that takes --- that should take five minutes from my house, but takes an hour because of drop offs and late runs and stuff like that.

And I feel bad for the clients who ride ACCESS, who don't have a voice, who don't know what's going on. And that would upend their lives too. The ones who go to day programs, who live in group homes, who don't have a voice for themselves. They need stability in their lives. They need to be able to get where they're going to do. Everybody does.

Please take a look at yourselves, the State of Pennsylvania and fund this. Make sure that I'm not here speaking in ten years. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Brian.

MS. SHANNON:

Annetta Butler.

MS. BUTLER:

My name is Annetta Butler, A-N-N-E-T-T-A. Last name Butler, B-U-T-L-E-R. I guess thank you today for this hearing. I just heard this today, so.

I've been riding Port Authority, PRT for about like seven years now. This is really important to me, especially now because I go to school at CCAC at Allegheny. So it's like I really hope what we can do with the funding --- really I want to like spread like all the routes like thin on like how many buses a day, an hour.

Because for example I do live in Arlington Heights which is kind of like Upper South Side. Say for example I go down like on East Carson 20th and it's like I'm waiting for the 48. It's like I get three, four, or maybe five --- like at a time before I see a 48 and I'm just like what's happening? Like I just hope we can like spread it thin like have more buses for every route because I feel like it's important to everyone that like uses 48, whatever bus.

I also feel like we should increase the prices of a regular bus fare. I feel that --- I feel bad for some of the people that don't even have money just to even go down the street. And it's like I feel bad for them. And it's like I would want to pay their fare for them.

I just hope we can make like --- to the fare and hopefully we can like make it fair for everyone. Disabled people, regular people, students. Like I just want to be fair for everyone.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

Ryan Matthews.

MR. MATTHEWS:

Hello, my name is Ryan

Matthews. R-Y-A-N, M-A-T-T-H-E-W-S.

For most of my life I lived up the hill from Washington Junction and Duff Park. For those of you who don't know, that is the primo South Hills Park & Ride T station. That's because all of the trains pass through there before they split off in various directions. So you can catch any train.

This January of 2025, I bought a house near the end of the Silver Line. My zip code is 15102, Bethel Park. At five months in, it's really feeling like a home to me. It's been a fun year so far. Already some nice memories.

One day I rode the Silver Line to my parents' house for a pizza dinner get together. Another time I took the Silver Line at Bethel Bakery to buy some cookies and I got back on and continued my journey. On Easter Sunday I rode the Silver Line to my Aunt's house for dinner. As you can tell I really like food.

The Friday of Memorial Day weekend I brought the Silver and Blue Lines to my grandparents' house to cut their grass. I bought a 20 pound bag of ice from the grocery store in preparation for Sunday night's party. I brought it back to grandma's house. I went back home.

I definitely did some running and some walking during that journey. I rode six different trains inside of a three hour time window. $2.75. Awesome.

One day I went down the Silver Line to Ledbury Station. I cycled on the Montour Trail, up the South Park Connector Trail, up Oregon Drive, up South Park Road. From there I rode the T back down the Silver Line to go home.

Another time I rode the T from the Silver Line to Downtown for work. Also walked to the thrift district and bought a fresh loaf of Mancini's bread.

I once rode up the Silver Line and back down the Blue Line to South Hills Village Mall where I went shopping. Today I rode the T from the end of the Silver Line to Downtown Pittsburgh to attend this PRT hearing.

The T defines the character of Bethel Park. The Silver Line is most of that. It runs right down the middle of the main drag where City Hall is. Did you know that? And the library and the police station and the church and all sorts of things.

So my message right now is Dear PRT, dear Pennsylvania, even dear Federal government, please don't mess this up. Please don't ruin my home. Thank you.

ATTONREY CETRA:

Thank you, Ryan.

MS. SHANNON:

Willie Kyte. His name was just added so might want to give him a minute, just in case. Willie Kyte?

MR. KYTE:

My name is Willie Kyte, W-I-L-L-I-E, K-Y-T-E. My zip code is 15236 and I'm calling because --- I'm here because that's the only bus that go out this way and it already don't run on Sundays anyway. So can't leave the house on Sundays.

And if y'all cut the hours back a little bit, I can't say I'm going to get back and forth to my job. So I can't tell you what to really do. I don't really know what to say about it. That my bus is going to start running and I'm have to stay in the house for now.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MS. SHANNON:

We have no more registered speakers on our list but I want to remind folks that if you registered online or if you showed up today to make sure to check in with the table out there with PRT staff to make sure that they know that you're here and you do want to speak. This session ends at 1:00, so make sure that you are signed up.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS HELD.)

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Okay, it is now going on 1:00 p.m. That was the time the PRT publicly advertised to take our break. So we will go off the record from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. We will resume with the afternoon portion of our hearing at 3:00 p.m. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

MS. KELLEMAN:

Good afternoon. It is now 3:00 p.m., and the public hearing will resume. As a reminder, this hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a Court Reporter. So if you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing room now.

Each speaker has up to three minutes to provide public comment, and should come up to the speaker's table when called upon and state their name clearly and spell it for the Court Reporter before beginning to provide your public comment.

Additionally, the purpose of this public hearing is for PRT to receive public comments. So our Board members and staff will be listening to your comments. We will not be answering questions or actively responding to your comments. Questions can be directed to PRT staff members stationed at the information tables outside the hearing room.

So short version, the intent here is to keep your three minutes so you can speak on the record. If you have questions, if you have anything to discuss, we have folks on the outside that can answer the questions. That preserves your time for your comment, and make sure that everybody else has that same opportunity. I promise it's not to be mean.

Then I think that is it. So we are ready to go, and I'll turn it over to --- to our next table. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Great. Next on our list is --- next on our list is Shawn Pastor.

MR. PASTOR:

Shawn Pastor, S-H-A-W-N P-A-S-T-O-R. I am zip code 15228.

Cutting the 38, well, 36,

38, 41, the ones that I should be taking, that would be an absolute devastating. That'd be absolutely devastating. People use that service literally every day. That's --- that's ridiculous because nobody would want to go on the Red Line. It's --- the Red Line takes too long, too many stops. There are --- there is riff raff on there sometimes, which should be addressed.

But if these cuts go through, that's probably everybody's option. It's not --- it's not pretty. We need to seriously start thinking that we need more service. And I mean more service, I mean more service on the 36. Not this 8:00 --- 8:00 p.m. crap ending, and it's --- it's not, like I said, that 8:00 p.m. trip 36 is not a good bummer. That should be at least running until 10 o'clock. Add at least two more trips.

Quit --- quit cutting service. People rely on it. I rely on it every day because I don't drive. I usually walk, but I shouldn't have to. It's just, it's hard. It really is. It's hard for everybody to live life when you want to cut --- you want to cut everybody's service in Mount Lebanon, Dormont. It's just nobody wants to live that way.

And if you cut that --- if you cut service, what are people going to do. What are people going to do? They're going to be stuck. They're going to be stranded.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MR. PASTOR:

Thank you. There's --- there's no reason for that. No reason for these cuts to happen. Please, please don't do it. Please don't do it. I don't want to be a victim of being stuck somewhere, and I got to walk from Chartiers Valley Shopping Center all the way to Mount Lebanon Station. You know how long a walk that would be without no sidewalks? That would be a very major --- that would be a very major accident waiting to happen. Someone getting run over, someone getting hit. No, we don't need any of that.

Don't cut service. Leave it how it is, or add service. Even though I know now there's an operator availability that we have a problem with. But we need to, like I said, don't cut service. Please add it. Don't cut it. We don't need that. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Lena Andrews.

MS. ANDREWS:

Hi, everyone. My name is Lena Andrews, L-E-N-A A-N-D-R-E-W-S, and I'm here representing Action Housing. Our zip code is 15219. Okay.

So thank you for the opportunity to speak today. My name is Lena Andrews. I'm the CEO of Action Housing. Action Housing is a nonprofit organization dedicated to providing safe, affordable housing and supportive to individuals and families across Allegheny County. I'm here today because public transit is not just a transportation issue, it is also a housing issue. At Action Housing, we work with seniors, people with disabilities, low income families, and individuals transitioning out of homelessness. For many of them, owning a car is not an option. Public transit is their lifeline.

When service is cut and fares are raised, it's not just inconvenient, it's devastating. It means missed job interviews, missed paychecks, and missed opportunities. Every day, the people we serve rely on Pittsburgh Regional Transit to get to work, school, medical appointments, and the services that help them build better lives. Without reliable transportation, our clients face barriers that can jeopardize their employment, their health, and their housing.

Transit is also essential to the success of affordable housing. We strategically locate our developments near transit lines because we know that housing without access to them can never be truly affordable. When transit service is reduced, the value and the viability of these developments are compromised, and the people who live there suffer.

We strongly support PRT's request for an infusion of state funding with annual increases to keep pace with rising costs. This investment is not just about maintaining buses and routes. It's about maintaining access, equity, and opportunity for thousands of Pennsylvanians. We urge our state leaders to recognize that public transit is a critical part of the infrastructure that holds our communities together. The time to act is now. We cannot afford to let our transit system fall into crisis.

On behalf of Action Housing and the thousands of people we serve, we ask you to support Pittsburgh Regional Transit. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Keith Zamborsky. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin.

MR. ZAMBORSKY:

Hello, I'm Keith Zamborsky, K-E-I-T-H Z-A-M-B-O-R-S-K-Y.

Good afternoon. I do ride the bus every day. So, I am quite familiar with the buses and all. I have this paper stating the cuts that you want to do. I ride the 14 all the time. Like, I get from home all the way to, what is that? Harmar. That's about 25 miles. Without the 14, I can take the 16, but that's like a four hour --- four mile walk every day. I do that on Saturdays because I volunteer for work. On Saturdays. I'd be forced to do that all the time.

I've done a lot of walking, but can't keep up with that. I need the bus service. It's a good job. I don't want to have to go and find another place. I worked at a bad place before. People were lemons. The work wasn't too bad, but I'm at a good place now, and I want to stay there.

For that ACCESS one, you want to cut that. No, my mom needs that. She is getting older now, and we need that for groceries. She doesn't drive anymore. So, it's hard finding people to help us. A couple people here and there, but kind of stuck.

So it's the 1 Freeport Road mainly, and the 14 that I need. I depend on it. But I was kind of shocked to see all of the buses that are to be cut. I just hope you do get the funding that you need, and continue. That's about it. Thanks.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Elise MacDonald.

MS. MACDONALD:

Good afternoon, Elise MacDonald, but I live in Brookline. That's E-L-I-S-E. MacDonald, M-A-C-D-O-N-A-L-D. I live in Brookline, 15226.

My husband Rob and I moved to the city about a year ago after visiting friends here many times over a decade. Transit was a big reason why we moved here from a small, car centric city in New Hampshire, when Rob retired last year from his 30 year career as a city letter carrier for the USPS, the postal system.

Pittsburgh is promoted nationally as a great place to retire, and access to transit is a substantial part of those exact ratings. Plenty of retired people can no longer safely drive, particularly in a complex hilly, 3D city like Pittsburgh. Or we don't want to drive or we must spend less due to a fixed income. So for going the estimated $12,000 plus that it takes to own a vehicle, or even a basic vehicle, is --- it's a necessity.

We use transit personally to get to medical appointments, to shopping, to the wealth of arts and cultural events in the city, and to a lot of volunteering that we do, both in downtown and in Oakland. We painstakingly chose our new place in Brookline in large part because it is located smack dab right between a three to four minute walk to two bus lines, the 39 and the 41. The Red Line in Beechview is a 15 minute walk away, but it is an extremely hilly walk. It's mountaineering.

I joined so many other Pittsburghers who have transit as a chief concern in their housing. Nothing is more foundational. After all the work, research, planning, stress, and consideration that it took for us to move to Pittsburgh from New England, learning that both of the PRT bus lines near us are at risk for being discontinued has been quite devastating.

Thank you for making this opportunity for Pittsburgh's transit riders to be heard today. I also thank you for all the work that you've done in trying to appeal to the state. We had a lovely time in Harrisburg last week lobbying with the help of three, wonderful, new PRT buses. And we thank you for that and for your time today. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Ann Sanders. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. SANDERS:

Sure. Ann Sanders, A-N-N S-A-N-D-E-R-S.

Hi everyone, my name's Ann. I work at Just Harvest, which is a local nonprofit dedicated to ending hunger in Allegheny County. We do that by focusing on addressing some of the root causes of hunger, amongst which is financial security. We know that lack of access to transportation is one of the key barriers in our region to getting and keeping a job, and it is also the second largest barrier, according to USDA, to accessing healthy food. About one in five SNAP recipients say that they need --- that needing transportation to a grocery store was one of the key barriers in their ability to maintain a healthy diet.

Affordability and accessibility of transit is key to the economic and social wellbeing of our region. The cuts and fare increases being proposed to address the state funding shortfall that PRT faces would be astronomically devastating. The fare increases, we already know that we have some of the highest fares in the nation. I would like to thank PRT for implementing Allegheny Go, but we know that we still have a long way to go to make transit affordable and accessible for everyone in this region, and fare increases will further reduce --- further reduce ridership and pose barriers for all riders.

In every region of our county, we know there are people are who can't afford access to a personal vehicle or they rely on paratransit to meet their basic needs, such as visiting a doctor, going to the grocery store, and participating in their community. A 40 percent reduction in service is unfathomably crippling for a region.

The cuts that are outlined in the proposal would leave a few food deserts completely without service namely, Brackenridge and Trafford. It did look like, when I compared the maps, that you tried really hard to keep those low income communities with some level of service, but it wasn't possible. So yeah, those two communities would --- that are marked as food desert regions where there's not access to a grocery store would lose, well, their service.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MS. SANDERS:

Thank you. Not guaranteeing access to paratransit for large swaths of our county would lock out elderly and disabled folks from vital services. And I just wanted to share that based on employment, we already have huge gaps in our service that leads employers to finding it challenging to fill jobs as well as posing a hindrance to those who seek work, from being able to find and keep it.

Personally, when I was in my 20s, I actually worked right across the street at the hotel, 3:00 to 11:00 p.m. shift, and that was possible because of buses. And so, having that 11:00 p.m. curfew would have made that impossible for me.

A lack of sustainable and ongoing investment in our transit system puts the health and wellbeing of our region at risk. And we support and encourage our state leaders in fully funding transit and finding revenue sources that fully fund our region's needs. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Patricia Hernandez.

MS. HERNANDEZ:

Hello. Do I just speak right here? Can you hear me?

MR. GASIOR:

Please speak, yeah. That one.

MS. HERNANDEZ:

This one? Okay.

My name is Patricia Hernandez, like all the baseball players, but not related, H-E-R-N-A-N-D-E-Z.

I've been riding a bus, Port Authority Transit System, since 1970. From Ambridge, used to catch the 16AL bus. Worked how many years in the city in a slash hospitality restaurant business. Sometimes you get off late, 11:00, 12 o'clock. Thank God there was always buses, East Hills buses to get home. And I was always able to catch a bus. I do my shopping, my grocery shopping, entertainment, restaurant, volunteer. I live in Bluefield, so I'm very accessible to everything, but this 11 o'clock --- oh, I wanted to make a good combination. I appreciate the Port Authority's senior citizen connect car because I ride. The best thing you ever did was a 64A Lawrenceville because you can't --- now you don't have to go to Oakland to go to there and get the bus and there.

And then the 52, 54C, I'm glad you rerouted that route because that was a waste of time going all around, whatever. So any who, you did some good things too, but this 11 o'clock curfew isn't going to work. My sister worked at the Presby Hospital years and years. Got off at 11:00, didn't always make it at 11:00. Took the bus home.

I know --- I know hundreds of people. They go from the hospital to town to make a connection. Same as in the hospitality business. There's times I didn't get out until 12:00, one o'clock, but there was a bus.

So, when you're curtailing bus service, the sports things coming up, the big thing next year, who's --- who's going to be able to go to work? They want people to stay in the city. You have to have service. Handicapped people, I ride that --- the buses in the city. There's so many people, God bless them to take. They get on those wheelchairs and walkers and everything. That they really need the service to get where they have to go.

I didn't look at the list, but I don't know what was cut. But it's --- I think it's just a, you know, it's going to be a very, very sad thing if people can't get to a bus when they need to get a bus.

And whatever, 11 o'clock. I got my list here, but a few other things that, I don't know if I can complain now, but I'm at the bus stop waiting for this 86. 91A, four buses go by. No Liberty. I don't know why that is, but it's very upsetting if you're running all these buses. And then when I'm on a 54C during college time, you can't get on a bus because there's kids, students. Why can't you have a long bus that takes --- picks everybody up when they need to?

Same as a GE busway. I'm sitting at the bus stop. Four Westway buses go by with nobody on them. I'm just thinking of cutting expenses. You know, I'm just thinking how you can save money. I don't --- I'm not on your thing, but I just know I cut money. There's certain things I don't use. Thank you. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Chris Rosselot. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. ROSSELOT:

Great, thank you. Again, Chris Rosselot, R-O-S-S-E-L-O-T, as in Tom, and zip code is 15212.

Good afternoon. My name is Chris Rosselot, Policy Director at Pittsburgh Community Reinvestment

Group, and a resident of Pittsburgh's north side. I'm here today on behalf of our coalition of neighborhood based organizations and community leaders to express our strong support for Pittsburgh Regional Transit, and to urge state officials to prevent the devastating cuts that are projected without additional state funding.

Public transit is not a luxury. It is a lifeline for so many of the communities that we serve. For residents in our region, especially in historically disinvested neighborhoods, transit is how they get to work, to school, to doctor's appointments, and to places that sustain their families. Let's be clear. This is not just about who rides the bus or the T. It's about who keeps our region running. It's about the nursing assistant working a night shift at a hospital, the student taking two transfers to get to school, like my daughter. The retail worker who can't afford a car, which continues to get more and more expensive to maintain, by the way, and seniors and people with disabilities who depend on access just to live their daily lives.

If these cuts go through, we are going to see economic pain ripple across the region. Workers will lose jobs, businesses will lose customers, families will be stranded, and most of our vulnerable neighbors will pay the highest price.

As an organization committed to equitable development, we know that with reliable --- without reliable transit, none of our other work on housing, economic mobility, or financial empowerment can succeed. We're grateful for Governor Shapiro's proposal to increase the share of sales and use tax dedicated to transit, but we also know that it's not enough.

One minute left.

MR. ROSSELOT:

PRT needs an additional

$117 million annually starting in FY 2026 just to maintain current service levels and avoid this crisis. So today, we are calling on local leaders, and most importantly, our state legislators. Make transit funding a priority. Establish a long term, reliable, and dedicated source of funding for public transportation in Pennsylvania. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list, we have Nancy Leverett. As a reminder, you have three minutes for public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin.

MS. LEVERETT:

Oh, other side? Thank you. Hi, I'm Nancy Leverett. That's N-A-N-C-Y. Leverett, L-E-V-E-R-E-T-T. And I live at 759 Lebanon Avenue in Mount Lebanon. And I am here to represent myself as a visually impaired individual, and also represent the organization that I am the president of. I'm the president of Western Pennsylvania Blind Outdoor Leisure Development, and we usually shorten that to WPA BOLD, B-O-L-D.

And I'm here to express what a problem it'll be for the visually impaired, for me and for my organization if these transit cuts go through. We're going to lose service. We're going to have visually impaired members who will have access to no public transportation. And if you can't see, you can't drive a car. And also, a lot of people that are visually impaired, their choices as far as where they can live are very limited based on their income or their particular living situation. They just can't move, and they aren't going to have anywhere, any way to get anywhere on public transportation. They can't get to work, doctor's appointments, the grocery store, or for our organization.

They cannot participate in the activities that we provide for them. There are social, cultural, and outdoor leisure activities.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MS. LEVERETT:

So I really feel very strongly for myself personally and for my organization, and for the people that I represent that this would be a devastating thing for us if this would go through. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Okay.

Next on our list, we have Samuel Altmann. As a reminder, you have three minutes for public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your name, full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. ALTMANN:

My name is Samuel Altmann. Last name is A-L-T-M-A-N-N.

I live in Beechview. My zip code is 15216. Okay.

I did use public transit to get here now. Now I am a part time Lyft driver, and I drive mostly in the evenings. And one of the things that disturbs me is that any time after, say 8:00 to 9:00 p.m. throughout the rest of the evening, most of --- most, if not all of, PRT transit vehicles are largely empty. And that disturbs me because that seems to me to be an environmental waste of fuel as well as maintenance on these large vehicles, which probably costs a lot over time.

Wouldn't it make more sense to switch, later in the evenings, to minibuses which would be far more economically feasible in terms of savings, both environmentally and in terms of just in general maintenance over the long run? Because --- and plus, they would be so much easier to maneuver late at night on small streets, et cetera. So, that's one of the issues that I have.

Now, the other issue I have is that I've just come back from a three week plus trip to six different countries in Europe, and I used exclusively public transit in Europe. And in every case, and in many large cities, and in every case without exception, the vehicles are much cleaner than here and much more efficient. And frequently, the --- at the stations, they have the exact time digitally posted when the next vehicle for each of the lines arrives.

And it seems like we are kind of backwards here in that regard. And basically, those are the concerns that I have. But I do use it regularly. It would be wonderful to have it run later in the evenings for people like me who sometimes come downtown for theater events or the concert at Heinz Hall. And then it's impossible if --- if the cutoff would be 11 o'clock or whatever, it would be impossible to go out afterwards with a friend to have a drink somewhere before one heads home. So, that's my concern about the cutoff being much earlier. Thank you very much.

MR. SANDVIG:

Are you all waiting for someone?

MR. GASIOR:

Yeah. At this time, we don't have anybody else scheduled right now. But if you'd like to take the podium?

MR. SANDVIG:

Sure, I'll talk.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You have to go register though.

MR. GASIOR:

Yeah, you have to.

MR. SANDVIG:

Do I?

MR. GASIOR:

Yeah, please ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Yes, you do.

MR. SANDVIG:

I'll be back.

MS. HERNANDEZ:

Can I ask one question? Who --- who would we address about the funding? The funding for the Port Authority? Is there a specific person we can call or?

MS. KELLEMAN:

We can connect you with --- hold on, hold on. So sorry.

MS. HERNANDEZ:

That's all right.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You are taken care of, so I'm going to stop.

MS. HERNANDEZ:

Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

What time is our next scheduled speaker? I'm sorry, next scheduled speaker?

MR. GASIOR:

That gentleman's going to go register, so he'll probably be right back in.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Right, after that?

MR. GASIOR:

And then, yeah.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Okay.

MR. GASIOR:

But there isn't any. 3:30, yeah. Yeah, we're up to date. No, I don't have a pen or a marker, nope.

Next on our list is Chris Sandvig. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MR. SANDVIG:

Yes, hi. Chris Sandvig, C-H-R-I-S. Last name S-A-N-D-V-I-G.

I work --- represent an organization that I founded called Mobilify Southwestern Pennsylvania. And also, am a resident of the City of Pittsburgh and a regular user of PRODUCT's 87, 75, P1, 28X, and occasionally other routes.

I just have a few things to say because I had testified at the first hearing. And really, again, it's about the state's chronic underfunding of transit and its real consequences that people rely on these rides to get to and from their jobs, reach crucial medical care, make it to class, visit family and friends, and meet other basic needs, necessary part of life. Our bus system is also crucial to how a region operates and its competitiveness economically on the world stage. Supporting robust transit is a core function of government, and it's time for elected officials in Harrisburg to step up and act so our residents and businesses aren't left on the side.

I do want to also acknowledge the leadership that Representative Abney and Senator Williams have shown in introducing legislation. The board president LiBTAC, the joint column in the PG today about this issue. I really appreciate how leadership of the agency and those that are tied to Harrisburg are standing up for transit.

I want to share something that's a little more personal about this that you may hear a little bit more about at a different point. Right after Act 89 passed, I found myself in a situation where I could not drive for 30 months. I was 40 at the time, mid-career. And you know, my job requires getting around a lot to go and see people.

PRT was literally a career saver during that time. Combined with using my bicycle, and it was very interesting. And I found myself in a place where the very thing that I've been advocating for avidly, tirelessly with others for two years, which was funding for transit, was now supporting me at one of my most fragile times professionally, and frankly also personally. What's that? Okay.

I know what this service can do because I've experienced it. I was fortunate and privileged enough to know that I could find another way to get around and do the things I needed to do. But there is no way I could have done it without it. And I really am concerned that people who end up in situations like mine in the future won't have that opportunity without the service continuing.

So please Harrisburg, please step up, do your thing. We can talk about improvements, innovations. Guess what? Transit still costs money, and we need that money now. Thank you very much.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list is Peggy Walsh.

MS. WALSH:

Okay.

Hello. Where is it located? To my left, okay. My name is Peggy, P-E-G-G-Y. Walsh, W-A-L-S-H. I live at 200 Homes Place, Apartment 3 in Pittsburgh, PA 15213. A two bedroom ground floor apartment in a condominium complex of townhouses and garden apartments built in May 1988.

The hope was to help improve the Oakland area with brand new, first time home buyers. At that time, there was bus service only. In the early '90s, the original proposal in ACCESS was limited by the original Americans with Disabilities Act. If you had just three quarters of a mile --- if you were three quarters of a mile of a bus or T stop, you could get ACCESS. Otherwise, no --- no dice.

So many people took part in public hearings, protesting such limitations, that services remained generous and counter free. Had that not happened, it would have cost lives of people living outside the City of Pittsburgh, literally.

So here we are again with the same proposed cuts in bus and paratransit services. It is already known that if implemented, this will. This --- this will, let's see. I apologize. This will mean worse traffic and --- and parking tie ups that we already experience. It would immobilize transportation for anyone who doesn't drive a car. Again, literally.

Presently, I use ACCESS to go anywhere. Medical appointments, symphony and chamber music concerts, and social events that include a monthly church event from September through May each year. I belong to a group called BOLD, Blind Outdoor Leisure Development, a dues paid, all volunteer board organization enabling members to enjoy winter skiing, a summer rowing program, tandem biking, kayaking, and hikes. This March, we had our 50th anniversary celebration. ACCESS brought several participants who would otherwise have had to miss the party.

In summary, as an ACCESS rider who doesn't have any alternative for transportation, I have one friend, no, up to maybe three friends who drive occasionally. I'm speaking in strong encouragement to continue the ACCESS service, and make it available universally throughout the county. Thanks very much for your respectful attention.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list we have Angela Martinez. Angela Martinez.

MS. MARTINEZ:

Good afternoon. My name is Angela Martinez, A-N-G-E-L-A. Martinez, M-A-R-T-I-N-E-Z. I live in the City of Pittsburgh, and my zip code is 15212.

I am here today both in my professional and personal capacity. So professionally, I am Assistant Director to the City's Department of Mobility and Infrastructure, here to speak on behalf of DOMI and the City of Pittsburgh.

At DOMI, we are investing in the infrastructure of the future. Safer streets, more efficient corridors, and building a multimodal network that serves everyone. PRT is a partner in every aspect of our work, from safer streets to equitable access to climate resilience and economic development. But we cannot deliver on this shared vision without a strong and predictable investment in transit.

PRT provides 37 million trips annually. Imagine our county if transit is cut by more than a third. That's up to 12 million trips currently taken by transit that will need to be accommodated in some other way. Most will move to cars, meaning more congestion and more wear and tear on our streets. But worse will be the trips that don't happen. The missed work, school, or doctor's appointments by those that don't have other reliable options.

One impact, which I think is not getting nearly enough attention, is the reliance of middle and high school aged students who are not bused by Pittsburgh Public Schools. Many rely on PRT transit passes to get to school and activities. The stats for students using PRT provided passes are impressive. At SciTech, 90 percent of students use public transit. At Obama Academy, 56 percent, and at Allderdice, 24.

We are here today, not simply as advocates for infrastructure, but as stewards of the comprehensive transportation system needed to uphold life, livelihood, and opportunity in Allegheny County. A functional city of our size demands robust public transit that exceeds beyond our municipal borders. Every day, hundreds of thousands of people and goods move through our city.

Whether or not you ride transit, you benefit from it. Fewer cars on the road, less congestion, cleaner air, and a workforce that can access jobs.

Cuts are not the answer. PRT has already tightened its belt. It has cut service in the past, and continues to pursue efficiency. The agency's bus line redesign proposes to rebalance routes, improve access, and deliver better service without increasing operating costs beyond current funding levels. But even this careful, cost neutral plan would be gutted by further cuts necessitated by the sunset in state funding.

The impending expiration of Act 89 is not the expiration of a subsidy. It is an essential piece of legislation that directs state funds to an essential public good. While Governor Shapiro's proposal to increase transit share of the state sales and use tax is a step in the right direction, it does not cover the full balance of what is needed to sustain the system. If we want a city and region that works for everyone, we need to treat public transit as the essential service it is and fund it.

We appreciate and acknowledge the work of our colleagues at PRT and ACCESS, and we are pleased to stand beside them and members of the public in support of Commonwealth action that secures long term, sustainable funding for transit and paratransit, not just to keep buses moving, but to keep our communities connected and futures on track. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list we have Pete Bianco.

MS. KELLEMAN:

And as Mr. Bianco's

coming up, just for the record, we do ask that you state your name. You do not have to give us your --- we would rather not get your full address, but your name is good. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Yep.

MR. BIANCO:

Good afternoon. My name is Pete Bianco. I'm a lifelong resident of Pittsburgh and the surrounding areas. I grew up here as a child. I spent a lot of time on the T, a lot of nostalgic memories connected to that.

In my time at the University of Pittsburgh, where I met my wife, I relied almost entirely on public transportation to live within the city, to see my girlfriend, who would actually become the mother of our seven children. Now, we have a lot of wonderful opportunity and memories, riding the T and moving throughout the city, a city that is not nearly as congested as it would be without its excellent public transportation.

At the University of Pittsburgh, I had the opportunity to earn a master's degree in sustainability and construction management. And I can tell you from a sustainability perspective, I love the idea of keeping some cars off the road. I will tell you, as the president of the Building Division at Mosites Construction Company, it's a really important resource for a lot of our crew. Especially with the large amount of work that continues to come into the City of Pittsburgh, and the large amount of infrastructure that needs to support it. The last thing we need to be doing is limiting transportation options for our craft personnel.

Specifically, I'd like to mention our relationship with PRT. In preparation for my comments today, I pulled the projects that we've done over the last ten years, just picking a sample set, and those projects are really important. They're important because they stimulate the local economy, but more importantly, they're critical to the infrastructure of the public transit system. We do things like tunnels, bridges, electrical upgrades, escalator upgrades, paint booth upgrades, things that are all directly driven back to the user experience and the benefits seen by the city and the taxpayers of both the state and --- and the city.

You know, I apologize. I'm not the best public speaker, but I do want to say from my perspective as a resident of Pittsburgh and an active, heartfelt member of the Pittsburgh business community, representing an organization that's been here for over 65 years, I can't speak highly enough of the relationship between PRT and the city, the business community, and the residents. And I urge you to continue supporting it. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list, we have Christine Amy Habas. As a reminder, you have three minutes for public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. HABAS:

Hello. My name is Christine, C-H-R-I-S-T-I-N-E. Amy, A-M-Y. Habas, H-A-B-A-S. And I live in Mount Lebanon.

I would not be able to function if the bus cancellations happened. For the past 40 years since I moved to Pittsburgh, I depended on the bus. At first, I took the bus to go to classes. I have health problems, and I've needed to take the bus to appointments. I have family members in town who have helped with transportation, but being able to navigate Pittsburgh on a bus has helped me to be independent.

Although some of my medications and groceries are delivered, I take the bus for extras. I've had issues with my phone, and use the bus to address them. On nice days, I can walk to church, but when the weather is bad and during the winter, I have to take the bus.

My boyfriend lives in Wilkinsburg, one of my sisters lives in Squirrel Hill, and the other sister lives in the Strip District. I rely on the bus when we get together.

The bus has been my mode of transportation when I've met with friends. Taking the bus has helped me to stay healthy. The bus discontinuations would prevent me from getting out of my apartment. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list we have Sam Spear.

MR. SPEAR:

Thank you. My name is

Sam Spear, S-A-M S-P-E-A-R. I live in Ross Township.

I'm an engineer, specifically a bridge engineer. I work for GAI Consultants. I've worked on Port Authority projects for 25 years. And I could talk about economic impacts in the engineering and construction industries. I think just heard from Ms. Habas a moment ago about that. I thought I might talk a little bit about some of the cultural and personal improvements impacts of public transit in my family's life.

I have a sister-in-law who has some significant disabilities, including seizures, and she's unable to drive. About 25 years ago, she married a gentleman who has some developmental and cognitive difficulties. And today, they live independently. Bob's worked for 25 years in Monroeville. They live in Penn Avenue, and on boulevard corridors in the city. And Bob and Christie's ability to work as a married couple and support themselves through employment is solely attributable to the availability of public transit. And so, adds to their dignity of life, it adds to their joy, gives them the ability to go out for a date, get dinner somewhere together, and it's a lovely addition to their family.

And you know, rates we can handle if there are rate increases. But loss of service is really a significant issue because it allows them, again, to live independently in the city, and has for 25 years, which has been a profound benefit to my family.

So that's what I wanted to share with you today. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list, we have Jeffrey Denger-Huff. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. HUFF:

Hello. Thank you for the opportunity to speak. My name is Jeffrey Huff, J-E-F-F-R-E-Y H-U-F-F. And I --- I'm from Brookline, 15226, but I actually just moved to Pittsburgh four weeks ago for an opportunity to move up in the company that I work for.

I came here today to start --- to start building a life and just to explore the new --- explore a new environment to me. But unfortunately, I am already reconsidering that decision. I don't own a car. I rely on public transportation every single day to get to work, to buy groceries, to get to my appointments, and to simply live. These proposed cuts are not just inconvenient, they're incredibly destabilizing. They are making me seriously consider moving back to Philadelphia, where, despite its own very real challenges, public transit remains far more reliable and accessible.

Pittsburgh is a unique city, as I'm learning more and more every day. The hills, the tunnels, and the rivers, though incredibly beautiful, this geography makes it nearly impossible to walk or bike to many places. Reliable transit --- transit isn't just a nice option here, it's a complete necessity. And cutting 35 percent of service, eliminating late night options, and increasing fares, that doesn't just hurt convenience. That doesn't just hurt convenience. It threatens livelihoods.

Public transit is --- is a public good. It connects people to jobs, health care, schools, and their communities. Cutting it sends a clear message that --- that we do not prioritize working class people, lower income residents, or marginalized communities. I urge our state lawmakers, fund this system. Invest in it. Because without it, we --- without you, you are not just cutting groups. You are cutting off opportunity, dignity, and the future of thousands of people. Thanks so much.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Andrew Hussein.

MR. HUSSEIN:

Andrew, A-N-D-R-E-W. Hussein, H-U-S-S-E-I-N. No relation to the historically bad one.

So last time I spoke here, I was previously vice president of the Allegheny County Transit Council. Since then, our president has stepped down, so I've been promoted to the president role of the Allegheny County Transit Council. And so, this is first an official statement from the Transit Council, which is that the Council is very alarmed, concerned, and dismayed at the seriousness and the extent of what's being proposed.

These cuts, if they have to happen, to the worst extent, would be draconian, catastrophic, cataclysmic. I could go on with descriptors, but I won't. And it would be ridiculous.

Now on my own statement too, I would like to say especially, and I hope Harrisburg and people who need to hear this, hear this. We have a CEO who, unfortunately, sometimes gets more flack than she should be getting. It's true. I'm sorry if you don't like my opinion, but the reality is I've seen the CEO have and explained many times on the record that she has hopes, dreams, and visions for the Authority, and the service here in the region.

That cannot happen, including those improvements and the wonderful vision of things like 24 hour service, if the government, the Harrisburg and whoever else, does not do their part and fund it. We can have better transit in Pittsburgh and beyond, but Harrisburg really and truly needs to hear us. And also Port Authority, and I know they've been doing their part. Port Authority needs to continue to be doing their part and pound the pavement because we do have a CEO and some people in this company right now who will go to bat for us, and definitely leagues better than some people might recall, this is not our first rodeo dealing with these kind of cuts.

We've literally had CEOs have the audacity to go on the record and say things like, the public may as well invest in a good pair of walking shoes. That's how little they cared. Whereas the current management and leadership does have people who care, and have a vision. The state needs to allow that vision to take shape.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. At this time, we have no other scheduled speakers.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

At this point, we will take a ten minute break, and we will join --- a 12 minute break to be round on the clock. We'll be back at 4:10. Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS TAKEN DURING THE PROCEEDING.)

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

It is 4:12, and we are going to reconvene our public hearing.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list is Christine Hunsinger. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. HUNSINGER:

And that's a microphone. Okay. All right.

My name is Christine Hunsinger, C-H-R-I-S-T-I-N-E. Last name Hunsinger, H-U-N-S-I-N-G-E-R.

Now, I'm not speaking just as me, an older blind woman who can't drive, won't ever drive, and might never see an autonomous vehicle. And I'm not even speaking as Christine Hunsinger, President of Golden Triangle Council of the Blind. I am speaking as someone who lives in Allegheny County and values public transportation and paratransit, and feels that it is not only something that we should have, but something that we must have because the people in private industry have not been able to actually provide such services for anybody.

Not only does this transportation help people who are disabled and old and any of those kind of characteristics, but it also helps people who live in situations where having an automobile would cost them more than actually sometimes food or housing. And it would take so much away from what they have available to them.

It will --- if these cuts occur, they will limit people's ability to be employed. They will limit our ability to attract new businesses. They will limit our ability to --- I'm sorry. They will limit our ability to have our cities grow.

We all know that compromise is necessary. Some other programs may have to get the squeeze a little bit so the transportation can have what it needs. But remember, when you lose a public transit or paratransit rider, it's really hard to get that person back. And you also have to remember that one of the things that they hope to pay for this with is the skill games, and that's so sad because that money is dream money that people put in, hoping that they'll get lucky. And it's kind of like the lottery, but nevertheless, it does seem to put the burden on the poor people who wish they could figure out a way to make money. We also have to think about the climate issues involved.

And so, I say please pass this transit bill. Get some money for public transportation for the whole state. Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up we have Sean Luther.

MR. LUTHER:

Good afternoon, everyone. My name's Sean Luther, S-E-A-N L-U-T-H-E-R. I'm a resident of the Uptown neighborhood in the City of Pittsburgh, 15219. I'm also the president and CEO of the InnovatePGH Partnership, which is based in Oakland, 15213.

Many of today's speakers, and throughout the week, have rightfully focused on the human impacts of transit cuts and the deep consequences to our region's quality of life. I'd like to add today a new dimension focused on transit's impacts on economic and neighborhood development as well.

My role at InnovatePGH provides a unique opportunity to engage with growth stage companies. These are typically $100 million valuation, generally have more than 50 employees. These are the next generation of corporate leaders for Southwestern Pennsylvania.

What we hear from these exciting companies is that they want to stay and grow in Pittsburgh. To do so, they need to be able to hire and retain employees who are also in hot demand at our rival innovation hubs across the country. Transit, more of it, not less, is at the top of the list of our tech workers are looking for. In addition to bike infrastructure, good sidewalks, and the ability to patronize local businesses.

To grow our technology economy, Pittsburgh needs a strong and dedicated funding strategy for transit, as much as we need more local venture capital investments. Without transit, we will lose startups. We will lose knowledge economy workers, and we will use --- lose a unique growth driver for our region's economy.

In Innovate's role managing the Pittsburgh Innovation District in our Oakland neighborhood, we also have a powerful view of the value of transit to our youngest startups, translated technologists, and Gen Z founders. Startups in Oakland are there explicitly because of the robust access to transit. Many of these founders do not have and do not want a car. They are hiring interns, many of whom are not native to Pittsburgh, and only use transit to move around our city.

In Oakland, we're also counting down the days until the opening of the university line. PRT's physical infrastructure investment will create a linkage between Oakland, the heart of our R&D community, and the tech oriented developments in downtown, Bakery Square, Rockwell Park, and elsewhere. University line will also reduce barriers for residents in our eastern communities to access and growing job opportunities in Oakland. But without stable funding for transit operations, the physical package cannot accomplish its goals.

Finally, as a resident of Uptown, and an urban planning nerd, I have seen firsthand the connection between our neighborhood's community development goals and reliable transit service. Uptown was the first city neighborhood to eliminate parking minimums and replace them with parking maximums. Transit availability in Uptown is more than transportation. It helps us prioritize houses over parking spaces.

Transit is a differentiator for Pittsburgh in a hyper competitive innovation economy. It powers our thoughtful community development goals, and dedicated funding is critical to achieving our collective economic development goals as a region. Thank you very much.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next up, we have Francis Ulrich. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. ULRICH:

I'm Francis --- is this on? No. Hello? No. All right, I'll try to stand up there.

MR. GASIOR:

There you go.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're good, we can hear you. You just had to threaten it.

MR. ULRICH:

My name's Francis Ulrich, F-R-A-N-C-I-S U-L-R-I-C-H. And tell me when to go.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Whenever you want.

MR. ULRICH:

Go? I was born and raised in Sheraden, now live in the family home. I serve on the Board of Directors of the Sheraden Community Council. I'm a member and Board member elect of the Sheraden Kiwanis Club, and I'm a member of Age Friendly Pittsburgh Community Panel. I speak from all of them, getting resources.

Let's get this out of the way. That we have to be here as bad. Not necessarily your fault, but I'm sure the Transit Authority finds the budget shortfall challenging. But it's not about bus routes and buses. For legacy urban neighborhoods like Sheraden, these proposed cuts would negatively impact the quality of life of our residents and the future development of our community.

We were founded well over a century ago when we developed and thrived. It was the passenger rail line to Sheraden and the streetcar system itself developed over a century ago that connected us with the City of Pittsburgh and its surrounding neighbors. We were once self-sufficient as to day-to-day needs. But as you know, many neighborhoods like this are now without a food store, pharmacy, bank, post office, hardware store, on and on and on.

The important thing to note is that this is not all because of hard times. It's also because of changing times. Specifically, the centralization of almost everything. Please note, as it relates to jobs, this centralized world no longer operates 9:00 to 5:00, Monday through Friday. It's often seven days a week, 24/7.

In legacy neighborhoods like Sheraden, residents must now travel in order to get to locations to meet their everyday needs. This isn't just about food stores. It includes, for example, access to places of worship, health care, educational and job opportunities, recreational opportunities, youth and after school programs, and civic engagement.

For those of us who have access to a car or don't have access to a car, or for those in need of assistance with mobility, access to public transportation is nothing less than a survival issue.

Please note this. That in our neighborhood, even homeowners in our community can find only a car a luxury, and often even those who have a car doesn't provide adequate transportation to the many who might be working in that household. This --- this in and of itself illustrates the disproportionate, negative impact of eliminating public transportation will have on lower income families. So we want to preserve what we have and establish our neighborhood.

I'll just jump to the summary. Cutting the bus routes and availability of ACCESS services for communities like Sheraden isn't just a budget decision. It's a decision about who, whether younger or older, and about --- it's about who can meet their day-to-day needs. It's about who has access to opportunity and about who gets to fully participate in the life of the city. And I do appreciate your --- the opportunity to speak to you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list is Grant Thomas.

MR. THOMAS:

Hello. My name is Grant

Thomas, G-R-A-N-T T-H-O-M-A-S. I am in Bridgeville, and I am here as an employee of a provider for disability supports.

My agency, we support individuals with developmental disabilities, primarily individual with autism and intellectual disabilities, but other needs as well. And we like to say across the lifespan. We have been working with clients for a while now, and for the last year, I've been trying to ask my clients and other such providers what some of the biggest issues we see are. What are the things that we can help with the most? And across the board it's transportation. Across the board, my clients can't get to where they need to go to live. To work, and to be a part of our community like we all should be able to do with our lives.

In Pittsburgh right now, you basically have to drive around. And I can assure you, us providers, we do that. We provide transportation for our participants. That's what we call them, participants, to be able to be a part of their community. And yet, it's still the biggest ticket need.

Many of my participants cannot drive. Few of them can, so that's not their need. For those who can't drive, most of them want to work, but already struggle now to get to work, and to get back. Those who, regardless of whether they can or cannot work, still need to get groceries. Still need to be a part of the community, to build something better in Pittsburgh. Right now, it's between us providers, and the current public transportation.

We also have participants who can't even get to current bus stops. There are a few who come to mind who we've had to work with them on the options of, do we take you to the bus stop or do you pay the costly cost of, like, Uber just to get to a bus stop? Because that walk is too much. Yes, ACCESS exists, but this proposal is to limit it and reduce where it even goes to. And I've heard complaints about the ability of these participants to use ACCESS.

I have also not been able to see any kind of new map proposed. We have people who rely on us to help them plan out their lives and figure out how to live. I didn't know that this speaking thing existed until yesterday. So I can't expect my coworkers, other providers to be able to support all the people we do with knowing how to get out of their homes.

In my work, we already have a transportation crisis. I would beg whoever I need to beg that we not make it worse. What we need right now is better options, not less options, or else we're going to see a lot more people not working in a state that is employment first focused. That problem's only going to get worse.

Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Our next speaker, Isabelle Stanley.

MS. STANLEY:

Hi, my name is Isabelle Stanley, I-S-A-B-E-L-L-E S-T-A-N-L-E-Y.

But I'm not here to talk to you about myself. I'm here to talk to you about my grandmother, who's sitting there behind me. She lives in Wilkinsburg, and she's lucky enough to have a bus stop that's, like, a two minute walk from her house. But she relies on it for everything. She's 90 years old, she can't drive, she's going blind. She relies on the bus to get to her cancer appointments, to get to the eye doctors, to go to the grocery store, and the pharmacy. These are critical needs.

And it's not just her. It's people her age across western Pennsylvania who rely on buses --- specifically in Pittsburgh, Pittsburgh Regional Transit, to get to all of these important things. Without the bus system, without these things, she would not be able to survive. She would not be able to function. She relies on the bus to get everywhere.

And of course, she has family and they can drive her in some cases, but she really can't do anything, get anywhere. She relies on it. There's no grocery store nearby where she lives. There's no pharmacy. There's nowhere for her to get her food or her medical care. And she relies on that.

She goes to the Hillman Cancer Center once a week, every week for treatments and checkups. And without the buses, she can't get there. She goes into Oakland for her prescriptions. She wouldn't be able to get there without the bus. She goes into Swissvale and into Oakland for her food, for Giant Eagle. She would not be able to walk there without the buses.

And she would not be able to do any of the things that she enjoys without the buses. She would not be able to get downtown to listen to the symphony or to go to the churches that she goes for music services. She would not be able to go anywhere. She would be trapped in her house.

So I'm just saying, I'm asking everybody to consider that when you cut the funding for things that are so important, that you're hurting people like her. You're hurting people who cannot get to work, you're hurting people who cannot get to their medical care. You're hurting people who cannot get to the things that they enjoy, to get to their food, to get to their prescriptions.

It's incredibly important, and it's vital to Pittsburgh, vital to the community, that people are able to do these things. And it's not just people like my grandmother. It's the college student in Oakland who doesn't have a car, can't afford one, and can't get anywhere without it. It's the single mother who can't afford a car, and needs to get to work to feed her kids. It's people like me who just enjoy spending time with their grandmother, and can't do that without the buses.

So, I thank you all for your time and your consideration in these things. And thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

I always get this backwards. Darcy, can we make sure Ms. Stanley gets the information of how to reach out to elected officials, et cetera? They need to hear from you and your grandmother.

MS. STANLEY:

Thank you.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MS. STANLEY:

Thank you, I appreciate it.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list is Michael Shall.

MR. SHALL:

Good afternoon. My name is Michael Shall. I am visually impaired, and I have someone who's going to read my speech that I've written on behalf of our community and our, Pittsburgh.

PUBLIC SPEAKER:

Good evening. My name is Michael Shall. I am here tonight to discuss PRT's proposed elimination of the P69 route from Trafford to Pittsburgh. These changes would have a catastrophic effect on our communities and my full time employment in the city, since I have a visual impairment terminal that does not allow me to drive.

The communities of East

Pittsburgh, Turtle Creek, Wilmerding, and Trafford will suffer economic hardship from the loss of this bus line. For these reasons, I believe that PRT should continue to operate the P69 rail. Discontinuance of this route will result in loss of my employment because I must use public transportation as I am legally blind.

I cannot adjust my transportation as I can only get to the bus stop by walking, and I am not allowed --- I am not alone. As other elderly, disabled, lower income households would be adversely affected as they do not have the ability to get to the new stops or use motor vehicles. The proposed changes to the route will force patrons to get the bus stop in North Versailles. Also, there is a strong probability that the bus would not hold all the riders, especially during peak commuter hours.

There would be also to --- be a change of buses at the Wilkinsburg Station and Penn Station, which would aggravate the condition and cause added time to get to the city. This means the new route is not a direct route to the city. For most workers, these changes will add disproportionate amount of hours to their workday.

As we all know, these affected commuters in the City of Pittsburgh are going through economic hard times. The elimination of this Express Flyer will cause economic disaster not only to local communities, but also the city. The city will lose tax revenues from employees and occupational fees from the businesses. The ability for many to come to the events, shopping, and restaurants in the city will be demolished.

Local communities will also be impacted if their residents do not have disposable incomes to spend in these communities. But our vital solutions would be help retain ridership and improve PRT's revenue stream.

The PRT --- I'm sorry. The P69 should be retained as PRT has the ability to determine peak ridership and runs. I get on the bus at 5:45 in the morning, and it is packed. My return ride at 4:50 is also full. The P69 can extend the run to include Wilmerding and Haymaker Village, therefore eliminating the need for the 69.

The P69 should include the small section of Trafford that is currently serviced for its riders, and have physical conditions preventing them from getting to Haymaker Village. PRT should also look at how it can reduce the administrative staffs that have led to the large deficit. If it is necessary to raise the cost per ride, I am sure riders would prefer that to not having public transportation.

I'm extremely grateful to PRT and its riders who recognize my disability, and make sure that I am accommodated. I also want to thank the Department of Transit Amenities for their help they have given me. These changes, however, will result in my inability to get the bus. I am asking you to retain the P69 as it services is invaluable --- citizens of our communities. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Tom Sterbal. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MR. STERBAL:

Can you hear me? Okay.

Hello, my name is Tom Sterbal, S-T-E-R-B-A-L, and I am a current resident of Bethel Park, 15102.

I'm here to speak about the proposed cuts to the Library Line.

I strongly believe that there should be no cuts without doing the best use study from the next transit plan. Having to walk over a mile to the closest light rail stop on the village line through a neighborhood where sidewalks are practically non-existent would make walking to the T more impossible than it already is at an unacceptable and unsafe walk for everyone in my neighborhood, especially at night and in the winter time.

Since moving to where I live a few years ago, I've been concerned about the potential shutdown of this line. I honestly have thought about moving every year because of that uncertainty. One of the main reasons I chose this location was at least I would still be on the T line. There are many advantages to living where I do, and I don't to want the shutdown of transit service entirely to be the reason for having to move. I don't want to take on added expenses using rideshare services on an everyday basis or feet --- or feel pressured to learn how to drive.

With that in mind, I am aware that the conditions of the Library Line are poor, given that there are only single car trains running on those tracks. As an alternative, I do believe a bus running along the Library Line at this point, even permanently, could be a good alternative, even though I've always enjoyed riding the T.

Buses could more flexibly get to destinations like the Bethel Park Shopping Center, and other shopping, medical facilities, and residencies --- residences better than what the T can --- currently can get to. Especially given that certain non-ADA stops on the Library Line were cut in 2012.

While Mid Mon Valley's Commuter A bus serves Route 88 frequent --- its frequency is only 12 inbound and outbound trips on weekdays, and even less on --- than that on weekends. And it is not enough to fill eliminated service. I believe having a bus to serve the Library Line is better than cutting off service entirely, which is what is being proposed.

Additionally, I don't support ending the Red Line at Overbrook Junction either. Having to transfer at Overbrook Junction and connect at Willow isn't as easy as it looks, and it makes it harder for Beechview Line residents to get to stops between Overbrook Junction and South Hills Village and Library. As a compromise, if we can't stop all service cuts and fare increases, I would support raising the fare from $2.75 to $3, raising the pass prices, and keeping the three hour unlimited transfer.

So I believe even if all of the funding does not come through, fares could go up to at least $3.

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Okay.

Next on our list, we have James Santelli.

MR. SANTELLI:

Hello, my name is James Santelli. James common spelling, S-A-N-T-E-L-L-I. I'm a resident of Aspinwall.

Labor Day weekend 2021, my car's engine gave out, but I wasn't upset about it because it was a long time coming. I had a chance now to live car free, which I've now done for almost four years.

I'm here today because I believe Pennsylvania should fully fund Pittsburgh Regional Transit, obviously, but I think it goes beyond that. I believe PA has the opportunity to be the best place in America to live, car optional. Affordably. Too many of America's cities with strong public transit are too expensive. New York, Boston, San Francisco, D.C. On the flip side, too many of our affordable cities have inadequate transit. Detroit, Memphis, Buffalo.

But Pennsylvania has a chance to differentiate itself, to offer a lifestyle for people and opportunity for employers that no other state can offer in such large numbers. Car optional, affordably. We have a large city like Philadelphia, mid-sized city like Pittsburgh, small cities, Allentown, Erie, Lancaster, all of them in their heyday when streetcars outnumbered motor cars. It's in living memory for many of their residents. Cities built for transit, and they could be again because the bones are still there.

By making our cities car optional for more people, we can reduce many of the ill effects of modern America. Traffic deaths, obesity, air pollution, even things like the loneliness epidemic, health care costs, and of course, greenhouse gases. And investing in transit will also mean saving money in the long run. Not just for people who would no longer have to spend an average of $12,000 a year to buy and maintain their cars, but for local governments. Every person biking, walking, taking transit means money that we don't have to spend on expanding highways, on constantly repaving roads, or hiring more first responders to attend the car crashes.

By getting on a bus instead of into your own car, you cut your odds of being a traffic victim by 90 percent. And we all benefit from that. In closing, let me say, let this be the moment that we realize the opportunity in front of us. Pennsylvanians, young and old, as you have heard, need the ability to travel without driving. We can be a shining example for the other 49 states. Come here, live car optional, affordably for years to come. That's the vision, and I think it's achievable here in PA. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Mason Brooks. Next on our list is Mason Brooks. Next on our list we have Na-Ir Johnson. Okay. Next on our list, we have Mason Johnson. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Mason Brooks.

Correct?

MR. BROOKS:

Mason Brooks.

MR. GASIOR:

Mason Brooks.

MS. KELLEMAN:

We --- we combined them. We're clever like that. Mr. Brooks, come on up. We're ready for you.

MR. BROOKS:

This works? Okay.

Good afternoon, I suppose. I can move this, okay.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're going to ---.

MR. BROOKS:

So if I'm not mistaken ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

You're going to spell your name for us though, first name and last name.

MR. BROOKS:

My first name and last name, spell it out for you?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Yes. Yes, please.

MR. BROOKS:

M-A-S-O-N B-R-O-O-K-S. Okay.

So, I had heard rumors about this earlier last year, around this time. I live in --- I live in the community of Homestead/Lincoln Place, and that is on the outskirts of the City of Pittsburgh. I don't know if you folks have been there, but I --- I have for a number of years. It's not where I'm from, but it's a place that I can call home comfortably, and other people call home. And a part of being comfortable in one's home is accessibility. Accessibility to food, to shelter, to transportation.

I don't know a lot about all of the systems that are in place in our state and our Commonwealth. What I do understand is people, and people are willing to work for things as long as they are given them based off of what they put in. This is America, after all.

The people in my community, in this City of Pittsburgh, put in their due diligence. They clock in and clock out to work every day. And to say that their tax dollars are still going to be collected, but a key part of their livelihoods will be taken away? Personally, I can't go for that. No can do.

I also do, like I said before, I do not understand all the systems, but I am willing to learn as much as I can so that my neighbors, along with myself, don't have to struggle to get from point A to point B. Yeah.

So, people struggling happens, but them struggling to live based off of the state spending or the Commonwealth spending is something that I will always be against. I don't know if you folks have ever taken the bus, but I do. I took the bus here, the 56, and I just read in this pamphlet that it's going to get major cuts. Won't go past 11:00 p.m. If you are unable to fix this, the people of the city will, as they've done for years.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you, Mr. Brooks. And Darcy, I'm going to ask if we can connect Mr. Brooks with --- we want to get you the information so you can also speak to your legislators and share that same information with them. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list, we have Na-Ir Johnson. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MR. JOHNSON:

Yeah, just --- hello? Good. It's Na-Ir Johnson. So it's N-A dash I-R Johnson, and J-O, Johnson, okay?

So I just wanted to speak about not so much of an emotional aspect to it, but more so just worst case scenario, if nothing works out. We can't, you know, everything gets cut. I would just say one thing that caught me is, like, if we're going to increase the prices for the fare, I would request that we at least have more flexibility when it comes to how long we have. Because it's three hours as of right now, for $2.75. It's going to be $3, allegedly.

Now it might be, you know, if you're paying $3, if I was paying $3, like well, why not just pay $7? I might just pay for a monthly pass or a yearly pass even though it's too expensive for most of us. You know, surely for me too as well. Because getting around is very difficult, especially, you know, I live in Monroeville and I've recently moved. So just imagine, like, you know, it's, you know. I go to CCAC as well on top of that, too. So I go from the north, go downtown. I might miss my bus, you know, and not waiting around might get some food, you know. And that's obviously on me too as well. If I, you know, end up missing my next one.

But even so, it's --- that's still a short period of time when the buses come. So, you know, not so frequently as we would like to. So they come every, you know, every hour or 40 minutes. Just imagine, you know, how that could really impact people, especially when I get off work and are waiting to get home. And downtown isn't exactly the safest place. I mean, we all know about that when it comes to a lot of issues that I might want to speak about here, but it's a different off topic.

But in general, I think we should get people to just get on the bus and get home safely. That's all we can do as of right now. And I think extending the hours that we can have too, on time, that would be a great solution. Even if we can't get to the bigger solution that I was talking about before, but I'd say extend the hours. How long? I would say at least six. If we're talking about at least for three hours to an extra six, so extra three hours. So three --- $3, six hours. That's my proposal, at least for that one.

And the day pass, you know, it's going to be. That's the worst case scenario for me, but. I just think that's just really an inconvenience that everyone that's being involved in that. So, it just leaves a lot on the table because if you can find, I guess this kind of prices for the bus pass, it's cool, you know. Someone under the table can maybe give you something cheaper. I found some for $65, but a lot of people are paying $97 because they find it, you know, it's more useful for them to pay that. Than, you know, doing so weekly.

So it's --- you're just seeing, okay, how can I bid for myself? You know, stay on a budget and also not get lost or have to pay. Now I'm paying $6 because I missed my bus. So, I will say extend the hours, please and that will help us all, you know, and that's my proposal. That was it.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list we have David Williamson.

MR. WILLIAMSON:

David Williamson, D-A-V-I-D W-I-L-L-I-A-M-S-O-N.

There's lots of different reasons --- lots of good reasons to not cut the buses at night. But chief one would be the deaths from drunk drivers and sleepy drivers. And as people try to walk places, there are places where there aren't sidewalks. So, it's a lot more dangerous at night than it is during the day, but danger's all the time.

And also in a more metaphorical sense, the death of the city's nightlife, with --- with all the pleasures and commerce that goes with that. And then you get more people driving, means more pollution, more traffic, and --- and all sorts of bills that come with that as well. And I try to bike and walk everywhere, but there's times and places where I can't do that. And there are people who can't bike as well or walk as far as I can. And sometimes, especially late at night, it's important to get home quickly so you can get to sleep and so on, which is a lot better. The fact of not dying, staying alive, you know? Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list, we have David McKenna. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MR. MCKENNA:

Good afternoon. My name is David McKenna, D-A-V-I-D M-C-K-E-N-N-A.

I've had several points that I'd like to posit for you. I don't have anything written out because I wrote it walking here from the second out of service bus sign on Fifth Avenue, trying to go to Squirrel Hill.

The first sign was Fifth and Wood out of service. I had walked from Benedum or whatever. I have a bad back, a lousy heart, and two permanent lung diagnoses. I'm a mess.

A disclaimer, if I may. I'm going to be sarcastic because it's my best skill, but it's not meant, it's not being dished out with anger. I wrote this walking from Fifth and Smithfield.

When I was about nine or ten, my motherly teacher take me on the trolley car from Mount Washington in --- in August to get shoes down here in town for school. So the conductor, as the title was then, had a black and blue cap. We'd come into the South Hills Junction when it was a wooden building, and the conductors would get out of their place and carry the coin box into the wooden building. One more detail then.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MR. MCKENNA:

Thank you. I'll never make it.

I went across the Wood Street Bridge by the Smithfield, and I thought I was going to fall in. My mother said, I've already explained to you how I got here. Years ago, I was a registered nurse at Mercy Hospital, and the nurse shift doesn't end until you document it. So you might get out of there at 12:31 a.m., and the only way home then if you don't have a car is a list because no bus is going to come.

I don't think I've been as sarcastic as I planned to be, and I'm glad of that. But I assure you, my thoughts are offered with the best intentions in mind. I know you want input. I know this is the last meeting. I just want you to know that I gave up my plan for going to Squirrel Hill and walked here. Thank you very much.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list we have Emily Potoczny.

MS. POTOCZNY:

Thank you Emily Potoczny, E-M-I-L-Y P-O-T-O-C-Z-N-Y. I'm a resident of Millvale, 15209.

And yeah, I just want to say first, thank you so much for holding these hearings and also thank you as a resident of Millvale for listening to us so much for the last couple of years. It's really been a wonderful experience, being a part of the redesign process and, you know, knowing that we're heard, knowing that the residents of Millvale are heard.

And that said, you know, with these cuts at risk, we --- we have a lot to lose. So our borough of 3,300 residents has a quarter without cars. Can't fit any more cars Millvale anyway if we wanted to. And over a third of households have a member with a disability. And so, those two facts combined mean that our population in Millville is really reliant on transit. The numbers might not show it right now on ridership because of limitations that we have of where the bus can come through town.

So I would just, you know, put that into considerations when considering any cuts that you might have to make in the future that hopefully we have more residents who are able to ride once that bus can go back through the center of town.

That said, I'm also an employee of the University of Pittsburgh, so part of two populations that are heavily reliant on your transit service. And, you know, we couldn't do everything that we set out to do without you. And so, you know, I'm very supportive of PBT's PA Transit for All plan. It's something that I've been pushing folks in my borough and on our campus to support. And, you know, I really hope that our legislators at the state are able to recognize that this is a really important service, not only for folks here in the city and in the other city, but also throughout the state as well. So that's really all I wanted to share, and just say thank you for the service that you have provided. And hopefully that be able to continue providing in the future. So, thanks.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list is Arlene Meyers. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help the Court Reporter, please state your name, full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. MEYERS:

My name is Arlene Meyers, A-R-L-E-N-E M-E-Y-E-R-S.

I am 86 years old. I go to work three times a week. I work western side at an outpatient facility, and it would be chaos. You know, people just wouldn't be able to get there. You know, now they give bus tickets out of work. You know, so if they raised the prices, then they would compensate them so they could get a ride. But if they don't have any buses at all, then I don't know what these people would do. You know, they would have to live in assisted living or in a permanent residence. And I just don't know how people can function.

I --- I'm very worried about it, and I --- I try to --- I do my job. Where I live, I take the bus everywhere. I have one of these passes, it doesn't cost me anything, you know. You know, because I'm 86, and I'm able to function and go places and do things. And I am quite happy in my life because of Port Authority. And that's all I have to say.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list we have Travis Barkefelt.

MR. BARKEFELT:

Hello, everybody, it's Travis Barkefelt. Sorry, my handwriting's not the best, T-R-A-V-I-S B-A-R-K-E-F-E-L-T.

So I'm sure when I'm talking to you today, I'm probably not going to say anything that hasn't already been said. It was kind of a game day decision for me to come out here today. Just that sort of bleeding heart in my, I guess, would feel wrong. I didn't come out here to say a few words because, at least from my perspective, I'm not so much speaking for myself here. I'm young, I'm able bodied, I --- I have a bike to get around. I can afford an Uber if I need it, but I really wanted to come out here speak for the people who couldn't make it. You know, the elderly, the disabled, children who are in school because I know a lot of kids in the Pittsburgh Public School District take advantage of the buses. And you know, those are all people whose lives would be extremely impacted by --- by these cuts that --- that are planned.

And, like, so these people, they --- thousands wouldn't be able to have access to their jobs. They wouldn't be able to access necessary things like groceries, and people's quality of life would just dip. They wouldn't even be able to go and hop a bus to, like, Schenley Park and just enjoy a beautiful day out. And I think it would be a real shame to rob these people of that experience that all of us deserve to have in life.

So I guess I'm sort of appealing to emotion a little bit here, but I know if I, you know, when I'm up in age, I love Pittsburgh. I hope I can stay here for most of my life, if not all of it. And I'd love to still have the opportunity to go to a park or, you know, I'll have access to groceries or, God forbid, with retirement the way it is nowadays, if I still have to get to work, I hope I have an accessible way to do that.

So again, I probably didn't say anything new, but I just felt like I should represent some of the people who couldn't come out here today. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Renee Wright.

MS. WRIGHT:

Hello, Renee Wright, R-E-N-E-E W-R-I-G-H-T. And my zip code is 15218, Edgewood Community.

And probably similar to what Travis just said, I'm sure some of this you've heard before, and some of this, I just kind of broke some of this down into statistics, because that's what I do. And I think then it really hit me how much of these services are being cut.

So just to start off, you know, we are called Pittsburgh Regional Transit, but it seems like the name would have to change because we won't even be covering all the neighborhoods within the city, let alone the surrounding regions. There's proposed to be 41 lines eliminated, 35 with major service reductions, 18 with minor service reductions. The bus line I took here is proposed to be eliminated. Two other bus lines in my neighborhood are proposed to be eliminated. One of them is the only one that currently services a grocery store and shopping center, so essentially cutting that off from anybody that doesn't have a vehicle or that can't walk there.

Forty-one (41) lines eliminated is 40 percent of the current lines available. This is going to have a drastic effect on current residents and any potential growth to the city. This will affect employment opportunities. This will create even more food deserts than we already have. This will cause more inequity. Not everyone has the ability to own a vehicle. They're very expensive. Car payments, insurance, gas, inspections, maintenance, and the cost of parking in the city. That's not a viable option for everyone.

Public transportation is vital to get people where they need to go for food, work, appointments, and as others mentioned, entertainment and outdoor spaces that we all deserve to be able to participate in.

Public transit is also vital to keep the city vibrant and growing. We attract so many bright minds here to our universities, but how many are we losing to other cities that offer better amenities and better services? Because they have better ways to get around the city without having to have those expenses, especially starting out after college, of having to have a vehicle.

How many are we also losing that aren't looking to relocate here, or even relocate downtown where some of these office buildings are being turned into housing? But again, if you can't have a car because it's so expensive, you still need ways to get around the city. How do we hope to attract new businesses and residents if we limit public transportation for them?

And as others mentioned, by ending service at 11:00 p.m., you're basically shutting down the city at that time. Not only for employees, but just again, entertainment venues. A vibrant city doesn't shut down at 11:00 p.m. If we want our city and region to grow, we need to have a great public transportation infrastructure. It not only benefits the residents, but also businesses, cultural groups, and the environment. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list, we have Sean Callahan.

MR. CALLAHAN:

If you will, before we start. Give me a sec, there we go. Okay, all good.

My name is Sean Callahan, so that's S-E-A-N C-A-L-L-A-H-A-N. My zip code is 15219. I'm at Station Square.

So good evening, and I wanted to do a quick preface. Some of these comments are very much not directed at the PRT Board. It's more whatever state government will be looking at this considering the budget. So just know, some of these comments are not at you.

But as a recent college graduate who moved to the city a year ago, I'm in a very privileged position. I don't drive, but I live nearby several major bus stops and T stops. Everything I can want or need, including shopping locations, malls, medical --- medical care, church, all at my fingertips. On top of this, yes, I am --- I do work in a well-paid industry. My workplace is a 20 minute walk if I need to resort to that. And I'm blessed to have close friends in a tight knit community that will help me out with spots that are not very accessible for PRT. So it's been great for me this past year.

So given the reductions and eliminations that are being proposed, I'm sure there's a question even on whoever's going to look at this to consider the budget. What am I doing here? I'm someone who will be fine. I can take that extra Uber ride that's past 11 o'clock. It will not affect me very much, but I would argue the answer is yeah, it does affect me. And it will, and still does and will always, continue to affect every constituent in the Pittsburgh and surrounding regions, including those who don't use PRT at all.

So when I take T rides back from work, I see people digging into their jeans, into their purses, into their bags just to end up with enough coins and dollar bills just to meet the fare. Mixed with those with their nice Blazers and buttoned up shirts and khakis and untouched, seemingly, laptop bags.

All of these people, they're riding the same trains, they're riding the same buses, right? People who maybe can't afford cars or the cost of driving consistently and people who likely will have more income in their middle age than I will ever dream of until maybe I'm retired. So, if you'll ever work in a city, any city, you see the congestion of vehicles during rush hour. But if you live in Pittsburgh, you see how that problem is compounded in an even smaller city. We're a city of bridges, narrow, winding roads, and at times, like many friends have told me, confusing exits. Choke points are plentiful.

If you want to get close to your work, good luck with that, with hundreds more that will be stranded or potentially constrained in how they can get to work. And that goes with eliminating the Silver Line, reducing service of the Red Line, reducing services of all these bus lines. That is going to magnify the issue.

And I'm a walker saying this, I'm a bus rider saying this. I see that same issue. It will make it more unsafe and cramped during the work week, and not to mention the nightlife that's been very stressed. It'll make it even more horrific.

So even if the people, the ones who wear the blazers, the suits, the workers who have low income, who are maybe going to be cut off with their bus line and what have you, all of these people are in the same position. So the question I have for the government, for those who are considering the budget currently, you know, what I want to say more is you do have the money to help PRT. This is not about wanting an easy way out. This is about helping all of your constituents, regardless of your income, regardless of what background you come from. You're helping all of us, and the price is your constituents. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list, we have Diane Reynolds. Please state your full name again and spell it slowly and clearly for our Court Reporter.

MS. REYNOLDS:

Hello. My name is Diane Reynolds, D-I-A-N-E. Reynolds, R-E-Y-N-O-L-D-S.

And I'm here because my neighbors, they weren't able to attend because they don't --- they don't drive. And they were very concerned, very, very worried. All weekend I was hearing them being afraid about what am I going to do if the service stops? And a lot of times, I take some of the elderly people to church up the street on Brownsville Road. I just give them a ride if I see them. Or one lady, she has some kind of mental health issues and she's a loner, and she's always walking. And I'll just say, hey, I'll give you a ride. But she's always waiting for the bus, and she was very, very concerned.

So my concern is that people who are unable to take a bus, maybe elderly or mental health issues or, you know, they are unemployed, they need some consistent, a very good bus route. I'm --- I'm right behind Baldwin Health Center. Our parking lot, the parking lot is --- our apartment complex is in the same building as Baldwin Health Center. And a lot of the workers, they take the bus. So that's a concern. And then you have people who are, you know, so they --- their jobs will be in jeopardy because they won't be able to get to work.

I take the bus in --- oh, I drive in. But in the winter, I take the bus for safety purposes. A lot of times when the --- when the streets, they don't plow the streets until later, I take the bus for safety because it's very hilly on Skyline Drive, near Baldwin Health Center. So I'm really worried because in the winter, how am I going to get to work? And then I have to depend, right? Currently, I have to depend on one hour. If I miss that one bus to get to work, I have to wait another hour. If they eliminate it, how are we going to get to work? So that was another --- that was another concern.

And also, so, yeah. Those are the main concerns. How are we going to get there? Currently, it's just one hour, we missed the bus. Prospect --- Prospect Park, now it's called Hillside Meadows. That's a large --- a large community of people. I would say over 200 homes. And people really need consistent bus service. So please, just have mercy on us and --- and really make it work for us. Thank you very much.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list is Tayveon Smith. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

Tayveon Smith. Okay. Next on the list is Maria Bryant.

MS. BRYANT:

Hi, my name is Maia Bryant, M-A-I-A B-R-Y-A-N-T. I come from Penn Hills, 15235.

I have seen --- I've been riding a bus since the '90s. I have seen the price go up. I have felt missing stops. I can't get to the mall without taking --- Monroeville Mall, without taking four buses. Two there, two back. That's on the weekday. One the weekend, I get one bus, and that means I have to walk from my address all the way to Grand Boulevard.

Yesterday, this week, I had my coworkers at my job write down, circle any stops that are near them. Any stops that they take. And it's a lot of stops they're going to --- that we're losing. There's a lot of people that aren't going to be able to get to work. Eleven (11) o'clock, ten o'clock is when my job goes. We don't get out until, like, 10:30, 11o'clock. And I am losing that opportunity of getting home safely. And if I'm not --- I do apologize.

If I do not have the opportunity to feel safe on the bus, and sometimes it's crowded and it's, I'm on the 77 and already. Already that bus is packed. And I can't imagine, like, 50 people on one bus just trying to get home, standing, sitting on a stressed out situation already, but crammed. We're like on --- I always joke with my friends who drive. We are, on the 77, like a tuna

--- like a --- you have a sardine can. You open it up, and it's a bunch of little fish. That's how it feels like on the bus.

But we cannot lose all these buses. I love my job, and I love my coworkers. I cannot imagine going to work and seeing massive lines and our customers will be asking, why is there long lines? And I can just say, we can't get staff to get transportation to local, my job, which is a really busy location.

I love my job. I love this. I --- I miss some of my old buses. I absolutely miss some of my old buses. But please reconsider and not cut some of these stops. It's going to hurt everybody's pocket.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you. Maia, would you like to submit that list of stops as part of your testimony?

MS. BRYANT:

Yes, I would love to.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Great. And your shirt is amazing. So, but just put your name or a note on top of that, and then we'd be happy to enter that into the record for you. Thank you.

MS. BRYANT:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Zia Lyle. You have three minutes for your public comment. Please help our Court Reporter out, state your full name and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. LYLE:

Hi, I'm Zia Lyle, Z-I-A L-Y-L-E. I live in Shadyside, 15232.

And I moved here about five years ago for grad school at Carnegie Mellon. And one of the things that made me really love Pittsburgh and want to stay here is how accessible the city was. So I really appreciate PRT and, you know, everything that the transit system provides for this community. I think it's just been great to hear everyone's thoughts today, and I appreciate you all being here.

I want to talk about one specific change that I think will affect the constituency that I can represent, graduate students. Carnegie Mellon has a large portion of international students, students from outside of Pittsburgh. And one thing that they depend on is the transit system to get around. One route specifically, 28X, getting to the airport. That becomes a hurdle for students who have to spend, you know, $40, $50 on Ubers. And I think cutting the 28x and --- and not extending the service to downtown, let alone to other neighborhoods, like around my campus, I think is really going to detriment students. That on top of, you know, usually comes at a time when they're going to go home and see family. And interrupting that service is a serious issue, and I think just changes people's impressions of the city as an accessible place to live and be --- and grow family and things like that. The airport's far enough away as it is, and I think anything that makes it easier for people to get there is really important.

So that service, I wanted to say, but generally I appreciate you being here. I appreciate how easy you've made it for us to contact our legislators, which I've done and I encourage everyone else to do so. So, thank you for your service, and I hope we can resolve this. Thanks.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. I'd like to return back to the 5:20 slot, Tayveon Smith. We were a little bit ahead of schedule. As you approach the mic, you have three minutes for your public comment. Please state your full name again, spell it slowly and clearly for our Court Reporter before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MR. SMITH:

Appreciate you. My name's Tayveon Kevin Smith. I appreciate you all for having me and being here as well.

I spoke at your first hearing a little bit about my personal journey as well as some of my residents and neighbors and constituents and family members of how PRT's bus funding has affected our family throughout the years. But today, I have a little bit different tone as far as more of a professional tone and having some experience in transportation.

I had a small stint with ACCESS, I believe that's under your contract or whatnot, PRT funding as well. And I'm here on behalf of them on more of ADA and accessibility, and folks that deal with Achieva as well as the Pittsburgh Institute, as well as, you know, some folks getting to their dialysis appointments. I had a young lady by the name of Paula. She was 62 years of age, and also Ms. Deborah that lived in 84 or whatnot that we had to pick up and we had to go out. They were going to drop them off to their dialysis appointments.

And when I got on ACCESS, I learned that they took over First Student's contract. And when ACCESS, they --- they service about 200 to 300 riders a day. And when they took on First Student, it was an opportunity for them as well as PRODUCT, I believe. But they didn't have the manpower to take on 1,100 passengers that they would take on. And they were paying drivers $14 to $16 an hour, which I'm pretty sure they were grateful for, but for the work that they did and how long they would travel, it was a little complicated, to say.

So the drivers would arrive, and we wouldn't know we were late. But the riders would be, like, you're an hour late, two hours late. So somebody going to a dialysis appointment that needs that dialysis treatment that can only receive 15 minutes of that treatment opposed to an hour, that's detrimental. You have a grandmother, grandfather, parents and everything like that that could be and/or are affected by things like that. Thank you.

We have Ms. Joan Candice that missed --- that missed field trips at the Pittsburgh Institute and the School of the Blind. And some of these students, they don't get too many social activities and social moments with their friends and peers. And when someone like ACCESS where --- where they're looking forward to events as going on a field trip with their peers and students and get to meet other things and see other things that in their day-to-day life they don't get to see, it's saddening and disheartening to me that we were late to their appointment, and just to see how disappointed they were when we arrived and I had to put them back --- take them off, put them back on the ACCESS just to return them home.

So I --- I just ask that if we can get this funding, I ask you, please find it in your heart to get this funding, not only for me and my family, but also for those underprivileged and underserved and those with special needs. Appreciate you.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list, we have Natalie Bullock.

MS. BULLOCK:

Hi, my name's Natalie Bullock. That's N-A-T-A-L-I-E B-U-L-L-O-C-K.

I'm sure I'm echoing a lot of the sentiments that you've likely already heard, but I wrote mine down because I'm not good off the cuff. So public transportation in Pittsburgh isn't a luxury. It's a lifeline. It connects people to jobs, to medical care, to schools, and to each other. Cutting bus and light rail service means cutting off access to opportunity and dignity, especially for our seniors, people with disabilities, low income families, and essential workers.

Transit cuts are short sighted. They widen the inequity gap, damage our local economy, and harm the environment by pushing more people into cars, even if they can't afford one. We should be investing in more service, not less. We should be expanding access, improving frequency, and lowering barriers to fare, not making public transportation harder and more expensive to use.

So I urge our city and state leaders, do not balance the budget on the backs of working people. Don't make the only consideration for this city hosting the NFL draft. Consider how the people that live in this city will get around before, during, and after all of the NFL rumblers are gone. Fully fund public transportation, protect our buses, keep the T running, and ensure that Pittsburgh remains a city of connection, not of isolation. A city without transit is a city without a future. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

At this time, we'd like to take a short recess. 5:40? Is that okay to return?

(WHEREUPON, A SHORT BREAK WAS TAKEN DURING THE PROCEEDING.)

MR. GASIOR:

First on our list is Lena Woodcock. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

And also, just as an additional reminder for those who are just joining us, you know, the purpose here is we are receiving public comment, so we are not responding to questions from this table, but we do have staff outside. If you have further questions or anything you want to follow up on, you can do so after you testify. Thank you.

MS. WOODCOCK:

My name is Lena Woodcock, and it's L-E-N-A W-O-O-D-C-O-C-K, and I live in Squirrel Hill, 15217.

And I don't have a lot different to say than anyone else. I just wanted to add that, like, there's definitely buses I take every week, like the 49 and the 41 and the 65, that all would be eliminated, it sounds like. Which would be pretty bad because I take them to work, and I would be against that. And also, that's definitely something the 61s, all of those not having the service after 11:00 I think would also have a negative impact on, I think, pretty much everyone because people who are taking the bus after 11:00, especially on those routes, I feel like probably shouldn't be driving for the most part. And I think that'd be bad for Pittsburgh as a whole. And that's all I really had to say. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Lena.

MR. GASIOR:

Thank you. Next on our list, Poetic Session. Yeah, if you'd like to speak, please head out to the table to register.

MS. SESSION:

Hello, everyone. Nice to see you guys.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

So whenever you're ready, yeah. You can just state your name again and spell your last name for us.

MS. SESSION:

Name is Poetic Session. It's spelled P-O-E-T-I-C S-E-S-S-I-O-N, and my zip code or community would be the Hill District, and that's 15219.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Whenever you're ready.

MS. SESSION:

Pittsburgh has been renowned for its accessibility in public transportation, ranking one of the highest nationally due to our 446 bridges, the 92 bus, three subway lines, and two inclines. On PRT's website, they even boast about having more than 700 buses, 80 light rails, and providing more than 200,000 rides just on the weekdays. We even ranked seventh least car dependent metro in the United States due to our public transportation.

Many people move here because they rely upon the transportation, and they feel that this city is safe and accessible for them. And now we're going to a downward slope at the expense of our working class citizens.

We, the people, can hardly pay for groceries, our rent, our child care, our education, or even everyday activities without having to worry about skipping a meal or if we have to pay --- if --- we can't even pay our own bills. It's getting harder and harder to live, and this is going to be something that affects all of us very deeply in every aspect of our lives.

And now, we're being told that we're going to pay less --- no, we're going to pay more for less accessibility. For less lines, for having to commute even more, having to spend more money that we don't have, and we can't afford. We see how the meetings are being done during the weekdays. There's less online presence or Zoom. There is --- the hearings are being made during work and commute times, and it's going to be --- it's been making us, harder for our voices to be heard. And we're telling you, as the people, that it's not going to work. We are not going to take this sitting, and we will stand up for the right to accessible, affordable, and public transportation.

Because even the strong decision that's being made, we have to make sure that you --- you guys as well advocate for that as well. Because it's very important to us, and I imagine it affects you guys as well.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MS. SESSION:

Thank you. We will continue, day by day, hour by hour, minute by minute, to make sure that you and everyone who's being involved in this decision knows that this is a detrimental change for everyone. Everyone from the infants, all the way to the elderly. And it's especially going to affect our working class citizens. It's going to affect the disabled, it's going to affect everyone.

I implore you that we find more ways to address these funding problems and budgeting without harming the various people that keep the city running. Because without the people, we don't have a city. Thank you for your time.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list is Hannah Yomi. Hannah Yomi, Y-O-M-I. Next on our list is Sam Popivchak. I think ---.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Oh, Hannah's here.

MR. GASIOR:

Back up for one --- sorry.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Whenever you're ready, if you could just state your name again, spell your last name, and then you can proceed.

MS. YOMI:

All right, thank you.

My name is Hannah Yomi, H-A-N-N-A-H Y-O-M-I.

So first of all, I'm not a Pittsburgh native. I'm from page County, Maryland. But four years ago, I got accepted to the University of Pittsburgh, and I decided to call it my home. The first thing my parents said, you got free buses? And as a student and someone from the DMV whose metro can cost from $250 to $625 per trip, I was excited at the opportunity to be able to discover Pittsburgh through the --- through the buses.

I took the 58 all the time to see my older cousin, and he would always ask me, am I getting in trouble on the buses? I would take the 54 to go to Carson Street where I'm not supposed to be, and hang out with my friends. I would take the 93 almost every weekend to visit my friend's apartment because I really didn't want to walk 30 minutes from north O to South O.

All of these buses are either seeing major reductions or being cut entirely. Now, look at it from the college student perspective. 11:00 p.m. is not when students start going out --- stop going out, it's when they start. So now, we're seeing an increase of college students going out without any access to transportation home. We're looking at the 28X being cut by 11:00 p.m. As a non-Pittsburgh native, the 28X and I were best friends when I was going home, coming back from going home and visiting my family.

If you've ever taken a --- try to take an Uber back home at 12:00 a.m., the Uber prices start at $100. $100 just to get 20, 30 minutes back home is unreasonable. And now we're seeing that there's going to be an increase of demand for Ubers and transportation afterwards, which is just going to see an increased cost of Uber prices. That's talking about how are people getting back home.

I also work at Chipotle, and after a long day I like to take my little bus home to get back from work. So --- so now we're talking about working people not having access to get home after work. Now, we're talking about minimum wage in Pennsylvania being $7.25 an hour. Let's say an Uber home cost $20 at 12:0 a.m. So you're asking people to put three hours of their wages into getting home from work every single night, and that's not even talking about the actual reduction to people not even having access to the bus anymore to get from where they live to where they work. That's going to have an economic impact far beyond what we're talking about right now.

So, I implore you and everybody here to advocate and speak to their representatives so we can make sure this $100 million deficit is not a deficit anymore, and we have enough money to not only stop the cuts, but increase service. Thank you.

ATTORNEY CETRA:

Thank you, Hannah.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Sam Popivchak. Apologize. As you get to the mic, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly for the Court Reporter. Thank you.

MR. POPIVCHAK:

My name's Samson Popivchak, S-A-M-S-O-N P-O-P-I-V-C-H-A-K. I live in Lawrenceville. My zip code is 15201.

I am a public school student for SciTech, and I take the bus every morning and every afternoon to get home and to get to school. And the bus that I take is 93, and it's getting, like. Like, there's like a small thing put to it. It's, like, minor reduction. So that means I have an increased wait time, which might not seem like a lot. Might seem like it's still there, but overall if I am, like, it's, like, every 40 minutes or something that bus comes, and I can't get there too early because I won't have enough time to, like, I need, like, nine hours of sleep. And if I get there, then I would be late. So that means I will --- if I'm late too much, I get an in school suspension or I'm just losing education. Those are two things that could happen. Or I won't be able to have breakfast, which a lot of kids rely on that. And I think it's, like, a really good thing public schools do. But it's very important. I feel that people should be able to get to school on time, and not have to be waiting for the buses.

Another thing about schools, like as a student point of view, is over the summer, a lot of kids have summer jobs which are really reliant on their families, and they have it during the school year too. But it's nice that we get the cards. But during the summer, we still have to --- we have to pay on ourselves for transportation. And as it's increasing, it's getting harder for, like --- like --- like in having to, like, matter to take the bus. Like, so many kids either are late to their jobs. I've heard people lose their jobs. People have to, like, leave school early to get to their jobs, and to rely and, like --- like --- like, I don't know, provide for their family. Like, they --- like, only one parent or not have a parent at all. Like, they need to be able to have access to transportation, public transportation, to be able to get to their job and be able to provide. I think this is super important.

I'm done.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list we have Robert Helwig.

MR. HELWIG:

Good evening, Robert Helwig, R-O-B-E-R-T H-E-L-W-I-G.

Thank you for your time this evening. I've been very fortunate to work in public service in a few different ways over the past few years. And public transportation connected me to my constituents, to the people of this county for me to serve them. 2021 to 2023, I worked as a staff member to a member of the Pennsylvania House Representatives down in Braddock. I relied on the bus five days a week, to and from. My constituents, Braddock, Rink, and Swissvale. They rely on that service as well.

2024 to 2025, I'm privileged of serving the people of this county, working for a judge in the Allegheny County Court of Common Pleas. I relied on the bus to get me down to the city county building, to and from, five days a week to serve the people of this county. And I'm very honored that I can continue that service as an assistant county solicitor. I'm here speaking as an individual today.

But again, I rely on the bus to serve the people of this county five days a week, to and from work. And I know they rely on that as well. I choose public service --- it's more of, like, an obligation for me. It's like, I just feel it.

I choose to do that service here because I love this place, and there's no place I want to make better more than here. And these proposed cuts by every metric that is not at dollar value or a spreadsheet right now will make this place worse. And people of this place deserve the best county that we can give them. So I ask you to carry our voices up to Harrisburg to secure sustainable, long term funding for our public transportation system because the people here need it and they deserve. So, thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Rebecca Carlson. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your name fully, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. CARLSON:

Hello. My name is Rebecca Carlson, R-E-B-E-C-C-A C-A-R-L-S-O-N. I am a resident of Bethel Park, zip code 15102, and I live a very short walk away from the Silver Line.

While I am not a daily commuter, I have a subscription at the Benedum, and I regularly attend events downtown. The Silver Line is safe and reliable transit, especially during the winter months. I've never had to worry about road conditions or parking or traffic or any of that nonsense. As I continue to age, alternative modes of transit become more important. And since it is so close to my home, it is such a convenient way to get into town.

I would happily accept a permanent transfer at Washington Junction to complete my downtown journey than lose the Silver Line altogether. Please do not let this vital infrastructure go to waste. Thank you very much.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Julie Daw.

MS. DAW:

Hi, good evening. My name is Julie Daw. I live in Bloomfield in the City of Pittsburgh where my zip code is 15224. I work downtown as an attorney for a labor union. I'm here today in my personal capacity.

I take the bus every day to work, and that's because I prefer the bus. As prior commenters have mentioned, the bus is safe and reliable. And I'm here today because I'm very concerned about the proposed cuts that we're facing.

I wanted to give you a specific example of the huge impact that these cuts would have on my life. I see a doctor regularly on the north side, and I take the 54 from Bloomfield to the north side. And then, I take the bus from the north side into town, and I get to work on time. I do all that for $2.75. That's the fare.

If I had to drive, which is something that I'm fortunate enough that I could do, I would have to pay probably $30 to $40 in parking because I'd have to park on the north side at AGH, and then I have to find parking in town. And you don't always know where you're going to find parking in town. I know in my building, I would have to get on a waiting list to even get a lease. So the cost that I would be looking at would be $30 to $40 just to get to my doctor's appointment, versus right now what I pay is $2.75.

The cost of everything right now are rising, and if we face more PRT cuts, those impacts will have disproportionate effects on our neighbors who rely on transit the most. I encourage you to share my story with the decision makers in Harrisburg, and call on them to support the Transit for All PA plan for sustainable transit funding. This issue affects Pennsylvanians in every county of the Commonwealth, and not just here.

And since I have time, I'll also add that I'm deeply concerned about the impact that these cuts would have on our economy and on the workforce in Allegheny County. Obviously, PRT jobs would be at risk and lots of other workers. I think we heard from a high school student who said his classmates could be losing their jobs because they wouldn't be able to reliably get to work on time. So there's just so many negative impacts on our economy in Allegheny County, and across the Commonwealth that we could see. So once again, I'd really urge you to support the Transit for All PA funding plan, and encourage the legislature to do the same. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Danielle Grentz. Please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly for our Court Reporter before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. GRENTZ:

Good evening. My name's Danielle Grentz, G-R-E-N-T-Z. First name Danielle, D-A-N-I-E-L-L-E. And I live currently in Baldwin, in 15236 zip code, but I've also been a very long, long time resident in the community of Carrick, in 15210, as well. So I have experience with that.

Currently, I work in town as well. And as prior commenters have talked, a lot of the cuts and stuff are going to affect a ton of bus routes. The one that I take right now is the Y47, and that one I know is one of the buses that will get totally eliminated under the proposed cuts, as well as a lot of limitations being put on --- I see --- I help out my dad with a lot because he has disabilities. He also uses access to be able to get to medical appointments. So I'm worried about both of those, with the proposed cuts under the new plan. You know, I really want, you know, the legislators to be able to increase funding, you know, for people with disabilities. You know, as well as, you know, cuts.

I would be able to drive over, but you know, as, you know, prior, you know, prior commenters have said, there's a lot of cuts that are happening. And with all the, you know, rates with parking, especially in downtown, like, it's very --- I know at my place, it's $15 a day just to park. So that'd be a huge, like, you know, increase. And I don't know if I can make the budget for that just to work.

You know, that's why I take the bus, because it's safe, reliable, it's easy. But it's also one of those things where I, you know, I need to use it.

And then also with the services, I know a lot of people that also work overnight shifts, so they work very late. And a lot of the cuts, I know they're happening past 11 o'clock at night. I know that'll be a very drastic, you know, service to the whole Pittsburgh community as well as Pennsylvania just because there's a lot of people that make their money, you know, at night time. They're having bars or there's, like, concerts or big events that are happening here. I know the NHL --- NFL draft is happening next year. You know, a lot of those people are going to be out late, and how they going to be able to get home?

You know, I know that there's, you know, Uber and Lyft and other services out there, but that's going to make it very difficult for a lot of people to --- to make it back. So, I just wanted to, you know, be able to state that. So, thank you very much. I appreciate your time.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Phyllis DiDiano. And please state your name for the Court Reporter slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. DIDIANO:

My name is Phyllis DiDiano, P-H-Y-L-L-I-S D-I-D-I-A-N-O. And I live in Beechview, 15216.

Today, I'm here on behalf of Age Friendly Neighborhoods Beechview, a group that received grant funding through Age Friendly Greater Pittsburgh to embark on projects to amplify older adult voices and foster intergenerational connections. This group of residents has included advocacy as one of our activities. I'm here today to share some of our thoughts on the continued need for adequate and safe transit for our community.

I'm sure by the last day of live testimony, you've heard it all, but I think hearing similar points repeatedly bring to bear the importance that transit plays in all of our lives. Whether one takes public transportation or not, it affects them, and the commute or travel in the area is impacted.

In an urban setting, sometimes public transit is the only way to easily provide a vital link for work, entertainment, medical, and other basic needs, such as grocery shopping for those who have no personal means of transportation. Some rely on public transit as the most fiscally viable means to move about the city and county, and choose where to live based on that availability.

It will be particularly difficult for individuals with less income and those with no way to generate more income to manage their daily lives with the drastic cuts to service being suggested.

Also important to us is fair working conditions for the drivers and all the other staff that keep PRT running. We understand there's a great need for more and sustainable funding, as is the case in a lot of other cities in the country. Our community has contacted legislators, participate in public comment opportunities held by PRT to provide input on reduced service, or when service changes with the light rail going right through our main thoroughfare, Beechview, is impacted, as well as provided input on the more recent bus line redesign plan.

Having light rail trains conveniently serve our neighborhood, allows community members of all ages to reduce automobile emissions by connecting to buses, enabling trips to commute, go to school, serve as caregivers, go shopping, visit entertainment venues, and more.

Our quality of life is of utmost importance, but the plans that we see proposed will certainly affect the local economy. We need PRT to secure sustainable funding to provide us with even more options, not less. Cuts in service to some communities altogether, eliminating schedules entirely will not --- only be detrimental to our daily lives, but impact employers and brick and mortar businesses and such. The cuts are too much, too dire.

I'd like to leave a request. Please look at your current practices to see if there are internal changes to be made to provide operational savings so that the public does not have to bear the full brunt of the proposed reductions. Thank you for your attention.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on our list, we have Sue Pfeuffer. Pfeuffer. If you could.

MS. PFEUFFER:

Just the way it's spelled.

MR. GASIOR:

If you could spell that for our Court Reporter, that would be appreciated.

MS. PFEUFFER:

I will. Hi, my name is Sue Pfeuffer. It's S-U-E, Sue. Pfeuffer, P-F-E-U-F-F-E-R. Good old German name, right? Okay.

I am the age friendly ambassador for the Beechview community. This is, makes me very nervous because usually I don't speak in public. But I'm here to not only address the proposed PRT service cuts, but also the cuts to paratransit, ACCESS, et cetera. These cuts to the ACCESS program are predicted to have an increase of 20 percent, and more than 50 percent in service reduction. There are a lot of older adults that would rather utilize public, like trains and buses, but insufficiencies in service make this impossible for them. I am one of those that take first transit to do my grocery shopping, get to my doctor's appointments, and et cetera.

Next, as far as adding more frequent service to the Blue Line and cutting back on the service on the Red Line, which runs right through Beechview. A lot of my friends and neighbors use the Red Line daily to get to and from their places of employment. And this will create a hardship for them.

Finally, I too feel that maybe the costs in upper management at PRT is possibly top heavy, and all those --- these cuts to service are once again at the expense of the little guys who are the regular riders. Thank you for your time.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Leslie Nunley.

MS. NUNLEY:

Spell my name. Hello, it's --- can you hear me? Yes. It's Leslie Nunley, N-U-N-L-E-Y.

This was my last minute thing coming up here this --- this evening. I have one question real quick. When's the last time any of you in this panel have ridden a Port Authority bus? Who --- PRT? Yes, three? Okay, good. I just want to mention that I ride just about every bus in this city. I've been on the 28X, the Lincoln, Frankstown. I'm from the Allentown area as of today, and I want to tell you I love Pittsburgh and the bus service.

I talk to a lot of people. I talk to a lot of drivers. I understand what people are going through. You have to let the state legislature, let them know this is not a public welfare system. You yourselves ride your buses. You tell them, we need this money for our service. It is extremely important for our economy. We do not want our economy to fail. People tell me if I don't have the Silver Line, I can't get to work. If I don't have this bus service, that 28x? I used to work at the airport. People have --- that new --- that new airport, the new section is opening up September 23rd. People need that bus to get back and forth to work.

For a while up and until May 15th, I used to have to get an Uber or Lyft, the company reimbursed me. I don't have to go out there anymore, thank God. But that started getting real costly. You have to let the state know we need the money. People cannot keep affording Lyfts and Ubers to get back and forth. We need these buses. We need new buses. I know about the electric buses. The batteries won't recharge. I know about that. I've talked to a lot of drivers because I'm on just about every bus. I work for Rite Aid out on Banksville Road, so I'm sure you're familiar with that, what's going on with Rite Aid. But now I have to find another job because they're getting ready to shut them all down by September, probably August.

But please, let our state know. Let the Governor know, you got to fight for our money. We don't want this economy to fail. It is imperative that we get the money for our bus service in Pittsburgh. Thank you for your time, and you have a good evening.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Speaker Sam Spearing. As a reminder, you have three minutes for your public comment. To help the Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MR. SPEARING:

All right.

My name is Sam, S-A-M. Spearing, S-P-E-A-R-I-N-G.

I want to start by thanking everybody who's come out. There's been people from all over the city and county, and it's wonderful. I want to thank all of you for being here. My understanding is it's a legal obligation, but I know that none of us really want to be here.

I'm not really going touch on, you know, all of the broad economic impacts because I think, you know, PRT and a lot of advocates have really already done that work. I'm going to talk a little bit about my neighborhood. I'm a resident of Bloomfield, and I can't emphasize enough that transit is essential to making our neighborhood livable and affordable. We're blessed to be served by many routes. I counted it today. I want to say it's six, but I'm sure I might be missing one or two, so don't hold me to that number.

I personally commute a few days a week to downtown. Most often, I ride the 87. But one of the wonderful benefits of all the service we have is that if there's not an 87 coming, I can catch the 88, because I live right between Friendship and Penn Avenue. And so, that frequent service is really essential to, you know, knowing that I can reliably get transit to my job.

I was looking at some of the more recent American Community survey estimates today, and the estimates are that roughly 900 neighbors in Bloomfield commute using transit as their primary means of commuting. And that doesn't capture all of the trips into the neighborhood, and it doesn't capture particularly all of the trips into the neighborhood to children's hospital and West Penn Hospital, who both employ, you know, I believe the number's in the thousands, plus all of the patients coming in.

And so, you know, you look at all of those trips coming into and out of our neighborhood every day.

I don't want those all to be cars. And, you know, the data shows that if people are commuting by car in particular, they're most likely commuting just by themselves. Not many people are carpooling. And so, you know, that would dramatically reshape what it's like to live in my neighborhood.

And I will acknowledge that I would say Bloomfield fares better than many areas in regards to service reductions. Part of it is the benefit of the topography of Pittsburgh. A lot of the buses have to sort of run between the Garfield Hill and the valley where the busway is. So, you know, we benefit in that way, I suppose. But these reductions in service would still leave my neighborhood and others less connected and underserved. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up is Kristin Green.

MS. GREEN:

Kristin, K-R-I-S-T-I-N. Green, G-R-E-E-N, 15217. That is Squirrel Hill, one of the neighborhoods that has probably the largest or a lot of buses that go through it.

Unfortunate, I came here from Florida, sight unseen, to Pittsburgh for a job. And I was fortunate, thanks to my mom, to get situated in Squirrel Hill. And I ride, I've ridden quite a few of the bus --- buses just for fun. So when I see these people that only have one bus in their neighborhood, and they have to wait at the time, like, 40 minutes and then you're eliminating the buses, that's not fair to them.

And I know the 61s, they pick up all these kids from around the city to go to the various schools. And sometimes I don't ride the bus because it's basically at that --- at certain points, it just becomes a school bus. And you have to adjust the rate --- the times for them. They're not going to get to school on time, or they have to wake up super earlier to get to school and wait longer to get from school to wherever. And then the kids that work at Kennywood take the 61C. That's a long drive. That's a long bus ride in and of itself. But then if you're going to be eliminating the times after 11:00, that's not going to help either.

And then I also take the 28X to the airport. If you eliminate that, as others have mentioned, that's a $30, just $30 bus ride to the --- to the airport. Coming back from the airport, it could be whatever price they feel like surge pricing. And then at night, downtown, like someone else has mentioned, college kids don't wake up or go out. And I didn't until 11 o'clock. And you don't want to be driving around downtown after 11:00. So eliminating, stopping services at 11:00 will have detrimental impact for people that want to go downtown to hockey game, baseball, bars, et cetera.

And lastly, the Silver Line. I found that out by accident because I wanted to get a book from Bethel Park, so Bethel Park Library. The Silver Line stops right at the library. I can walk to the Silver Line, get the bus, or go to the library, take the Silver Line back. If that's eliminated, I don't know what I would do. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next on the list, we have Takumi Davis. Takumi Davis. You'll have three minutes for your public comment. For the Court Reporter, please state your full name, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin. Thank you.

MS. DAVIS:

Yes. Takumi Davis, T-A-K-U-M-I D-A-V-I-S. Originally from Cleveland, Ohio, and currently residing in Swissvale, 15218.

Public transit was my key to growth and community engagement without needing a car. As a commuting CMU student and architectural professional, I've grown to appreciate the access to Pittsburgh and beyond that PRT has provided for me. Not only has it given me the ability to settle in Swissvale by not needing to pay for parking and car maintenance, but it also has allowed me to explore what makes Pittsburgh one of the most livable cities in the US.

However, this livability is not equal among its residents. Socioeconomic and racial minorities, particularly those who have lived in the city for generations, are among those who don't get to bask in that distinct livability. Those in communities such as Braddock, Hazelwood, Homewood, and others seldom get to live the statistical advantages of Pittsburgh that are advertised as transplants like myself. Their struggles are the reason why so many of them have been unable to attend hearings like this and speak their minds.

That being said, services such as PRT's current routes are several pieces of the puzzle to achieve collective prosperity. That puzzle of the good life could be shattered by PRT's proposed cuts. The proposed cuts have the potential to eliminate public transit service altogether, worsening living conditions for everyone in Allegheny County. These simultaneous route reductions and fare increases will lead to condensed demand for the remaining lines, and less efficient service, leading to fewer people believing that they can adequately use public transit.

In the short term, former transit commuters may turn to cars for commuting, if they can afford ownership and maintenance of cars, and increase traffic on car based infrastructure, such as highways. This would increase travel times for those who already utilize roads, and increase car related pollution such as smog, tire debris and noise pollution.

In the long term, the perceived inefficiency, loss of interest, and increased frustration may lead to additional cuts and could be a slippery slope to elimination of PRT and other forms of public transit in Pittsburgh and all of Allegheny County. This is especially critical for those unable to drive.

Previously, I've never heard of ACCESS, but I've learned of its importance immediately after speaking with a fellow passenger. It is a necessary service to ensure that those with physical impediments can access other areas of Pittsburgh. Without it, engagement with society, governance, and their life in Allegheny County will be intensely more difficult for them. They will lose the agency to make Pittsburgh the most livable city in the country.

Consider the alternatives presented today, and in prior hearings. Hearings at minimum, mitigating the proposed cuts is more logical than the elimination of a public service that thousands of people utilize every day. Doing so would ensure the Pittsburgh metropolitan area can live up to one of its latest and greatest designations as one of the most livable metropolitan areas in the country, not only just for young incoming professionals, but for all. Thank you for listening.

MR. GASIOR:

The next speaker we have is Elizabeth Burton.

MS. BURTON:

Hello. Thank you for being here this afternoon. My name is Liz Burton. That is LIZ BURTON. I'm from --- I live in Carnegie, zip code 15106, and I take the G2 down the west busway every day and every evening to and from work.

But I want to remind you,

I want to ask some of you to remember a song from childhood. The lines are, briefly, the wheels on the bus go round and round, round and round, round and round, all through the town. And those wheels need grease. Priority grease right now, not as an afterthought of, oh, people just don't have cars. I guess we need to throw them some money. No, it is essential, as you have heard.

One of the most disappointing things I have read and learned are the cuts to the 28X that goes to and from the airport. This is another essential means of transportation and a means of bringing people into our city. The cut, when I was looking at it, it actually suits me because the 28x still stops in Carnegie and the bus stops right up to the west busway, the one that I go to. So I actually win from that one.

But if the cost is cutting it going downtown where all the hotels are, if the cost of that is stopping it at 11:00 p.m. when flights are coming to and from the airport 24/7, that is a loss, and it is not worth it.

So, I just want to ask all of you to remember what you've heard from myself and everyone else here that spoke today, and keep those wheels moving through the town and everywhere. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

The next speaker's Amber Brownstein. Please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly for the Court Reporter before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. BROWNSTEIN:

Amber Brownstein, A-M-B-E-R B-R-O-W-N-S-T-E-I-N. Live in Swissvale.

So I moved to Pittsburgh from a small suburban town in New Jersey. When I turned 17 and I got my license, it was like my whole world moved, became so much larger. I didn't have to rely on my parents to take me everywhere. But I have a friend who still lives in that town, and she can't drive. If she wants to go anywhere, she's at the whims of whether her parents happen to be in a good mood or not that day. She can't get a job because there are none within walking distance. And she actually does have a bus that comes there, but it doesn't run at the hours that would allow her to work any of the kinds of jobs that she'd be qualified for, which sounds kind of familiar with the hours that we're cutting here.

This means that she's stuck living with her abusive parents, socially isolated in a town that she hates. She can't get a job, she can't go to school, she can't even go to the DMV to work on getting her driver's license. No one should be living like this. No one should have their independence and freedom of movement determined solely by whether or not they're physically, mentally, or otherwise legally capable and willing to drive a car because they live in an area where there's no alternative.

I don't want Pittsburgh to turn into a place where more and more people find themselves in situations like this, all because the system has failed them and created an environment where they have no feasible means of transportation because the buses that they've relied on for so long are no longer servicing their neighborhood.

And this is coming from someone who doesn't even use transit because the closest bus stops are inaccessible to me, and the service in my neighborhood is just unreliable. But I wish it was better because I hate driving here. Anyone who drives regularly has probably noticed that everything about it is getting worse. The drivers are more distracted, more careless, more aggressive. Traffic is getting worse. I mean, rush hour starts at three o'clock now.

And the roads are also always closed because we're constantly trying to play catch up with the never ending repairs. It feels like every other time I get in my car, I end up witnessing a narrowly avoided accident at some point during the trip, oftentimes more than just once. The thought of even more cars on the road with drivers who would rather be taking any other mode of transportation if they had the option? I don't know how we're going to manage it.

If people who don't own cars have to pay to maintain the roads that they can't even use, then why can't we find the money to fund a public service that's available to everyone? What is going to happen when people lose their jobs because their only means of transportation is gone?

These cuts are going to be the beginning of the end for PRT.

The Pittsburgh we will become after these cuts is going to be unrecognizable from the livable Pittsburgh that we have worked so hard to foster, and I'm sure that plenty of people are not planning on sticking around to see just how bad it gets. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next --- next speaker we have is Sean Green. Sean Green.

MR. GREEN:

My name is Sean Green, 15235.

Again, if --- if I lose my ACCESS, I won't be able to go anywhere because I --- I wouldn't --- because --- because where I live I do not have. I need my ACCESS because I --- I, because they want me to go catch the Port Authority, which is down and across from Alcoma. And I wouldn't be able to do that. And I --- and I use ACCESS so many times a night, and I go so many different places. Like I go to Wexford, downtown Pittsburgh for CLL, for my activities, and --- and I do not want my ACCESS to be cut because --- because I would be stuck. And I'm not the only one in wheelchairs that are speaking for --- for people that are in wheelchairs that are --- that are not able to get out.

Because I, last year, I was supposed to go from. I wanted to go to Fun for All, which was in Cranberry Township, but --- but I found out that ACCESS would take me half --- half the distance of where I had to go. But, and I would have to catch another, Westmoreland County or Butler Transit. And I need ACCESS to go out, get around other places.

And I would really like my ACCESS to be the same because I don't know what the fare service, I don't know what the tickets would cost now because it's $7.25, but I don't know what it will go up to. Thank you very much.

MR. GASIOR:

The next speaker is Charlotte Ford. You have three minutes for your public comment. To help the Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly, clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. FORD:

Hi there. Charlotte Ford, C-H-A-R-L-O-T-T-E F-O-R-D.

I live in Mount Lebanon, and I've been working downtown for 30 years and taking public transportation exclusively to get to work. Currently I take the 36, Banksville. But I've lived in a variety of neighborhoods north and east of the city. And the commonality has always been public transportation. That's, you know, what I've always looked for in, you know, in the neighborhoods I've lived in. It's very valuable to me.

In the spring of 1992, I was a college student in Oakland, and had a job interview for the summer at a bank that's long, long gone downtown. But the one problem was the buses were on strike. And I had to take a taxi, which was pretty expensive for a college student. Back then, Pittsburgh taxis were not very reliable. I was late for the interview. I broke down in tears, and didn't get the job.

But, you know, at the moment I realized, you know, how much I needed public transportation if I wanted to pursue my career in banking and remain in this city. I'm not native from here. I went to Pitt, and I chose to stay here for --- for my job. And a critical part of that has always been being able to get there.

You know, but on the weekends I, you know, I would have a chance to drive around the neighborhoods. It's not an easy city to navigate. And before GPS, it was a challenge driving around. But the one thing that I always relied on were those blue signs, those bus stops. It always told me, you know, that's the way home. You know, I knew I was near where I wanted to be seeing those signs, very meaningful.

So, you know, my --- my concern with the 41 and the 36, you know, I realize I'm privileged being in Mount Lebanon with the trolley and, you know, but I have concerns for my neighbors who are elderly or disabled, who live on streets that are not accessible or easy to get to, to the trolley. We --- we pride ourselves with being a very walkable community. And, you know, we've seen a lot of vehicles more so than ever. And, you know, I think we need to get to a place with less cars. You know, that's really what I advocate for in my community.

You know, again, with what Mount Lebanon has to offer, I mean, we could consider some subsidies, you know, coming from a neighborhood like mine, you know, to service, you know, for the better good. So, I just wanted to express my concern, you know, for me to still continue to work downtown, which I love to do, and I love riding the bus. So I hope --- hope it sticks around. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker's Roxanne Huber.

MS. HUBER:

Three minutes, say my name, spell it. Got it.

So hi, my name's Roxanne Huber, R-O-X-A-N-N-E H-U-B-E-R. So the last time I came here, I was speaking on behalf of four clinics treating out probation, CYF. This time, I'm actually coming on my own agenda. So it's going to be more me centric. I am a Sagittarius, so I am going to sprinkle a little bit of fiery community components in that end as well.

So, on top of working full time in forensic psych, I also am a full time student at Carlow University. So there are a lot of reasons why I love public transit and how it does really well for me. For example, for me to have a monthly bus pass during the summer, because Carlow gives really good discounts on that, and gas, it is $130 a month. If I were to use my car for parking and gas alone, and parking's only for work, it's $250, almost double immediately right there. If you look at society, people who don't have cars and utilize buses only save about $10,000 a year that goes into the community.

For me, this is really good for my mental health as well. Pittsburgh, as we know, is the most confusing city in the country to drive in, which means if we're using public transit, it's causing less stress, happier people. We're not driving and when we're on our way to and from work, we can focus on thinking about these things and processing our day so we're able to be more productive at home. For me, that's being a grad student and being able to focus on my studies instead of being stressed about a whole car ride.

On the other component, the whole PRT crisis has been causing stress because house prices are going up. I have to move, also because my housing is not really that great. I'm struggling just to find where a good place to live would be because I don't know what buses are going to get cut because we don't know what the budget looks like. So in turn, that's not going to be known until after I move. That makes me have a lot more variables and put me in much more vulnerable situations in that capacity.

The other component of my mental health, if I do drive in the most confusing city in the country, I'm going to be more anxious, more stressed, and I get road ragey, if I'm very honest. That means there's more car accidents. Ninety (90) percent of all car accidents are by private vehicles and not buses. I think it's, like, less than ten percent, five to nine percent, something of that component when I did my research. Thank you.

Roads are going to be safer with less vehicles in that component. Also, for me, it is a spiritual practice to take the bus, and it also is better for the environment for us to use the buses. We are 90 seconds to midnight on a doomsday clock.

Unfortunately, as much as we all love PRT and we love public transit here, we cannot trust our government to save our buses and back them. That's where you guys come in. I know you guys are trying to do the things, but I do challenge you to think creatively. Some things that I've thought about since the last time I was up here, I don't know that you guys have thought about it, is talking with the city on figuring out ways to encourage bus drivers because that's also going to increase more jobs and reduce accidents, such as reducing street parking. Making the cost of permits to park more expensive. I know cars are very good as well. So in that component, I know that's like a temperamental thing.

But also just --- okay, thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Kim Jackson.

MS. JACKSON:

Good evening to everybody. Thank you for coming here. My name is Kim Jackson, K-I-M J-A-C-K-S-O-N.

My mom lived in the Sheraden neighborhood. You're talking about cutting out the 26 bus route. There's also a lot of seniors, and it's right up the street from Lakeland Elementary School. A lot of them seniors can't make it down to the bus stop. There's rollators, those that are on wheelchairs, and those that's on canes or whatever else their mobility may be.

I also take care of my mom. I go shopping for her. And when you go out to Grafton, that's the easy bus stop to get up the hill. You got to walk up a hill, and then around. I'm also a train rider. I work in Bethel Park, and I've been dealing with the trains for the last past two years and some change. And I'm from here, and I have a different state accent and living in New York.

A lot of times when you had storm repairs, we had at least three weeks' notice. Don't get me wrong, things don't happen overnight. A lot of people don't watch the news or read the paper. A lot of people's on social media. If you can tell them about a car accident, I'm quite sure you can let us know.

I had an incident that happened. I've been on a broke down train. I've been on the, waiting on the train at Washington Junction. Had to wait an hour. Didn't know there was a fire power line happened until the next day. And when I got to South Hills Junction, I had to catch a shuttle bus to First Avenue train. Took over half an hour, and I ended up walking. Don't get me wrong, I love exercising.

But what about those who don't know? And your coworkers, RTA buses, transit, those who work in the booth or what have you, they constantly get yelled at because you all don't notify them. And how you going to help us move around in transportation if you don't let them know?

And my other thing is I used to live here before when it was packed bus, and there was a lot of buses everywhere. And now, it's not too many buses, and I just feel bad for those who already came before me, who already spoke. But as a consumer and taking care of my mom, that if you're going to have buses, make sure it's near the senior citizen so they be able to get up and travel more.

Thank you, and have a blessed evening.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker is Kelda Gannan. As a reminder, you have three minutes for public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

MS. GORMAN:

Hello. My name is Kelda Gorman, K-E-L-D-A. Gorman, G-O-R-M-A-N.

Disability is one minority any of us can join at any time. Which means that eventually, the added cuts to access will be compounded even more. So, and that scares me because I've been disabled since I was a baby, and cannot own a driver's license.

And I'll give you an example of when I spent four hours on an ACCESS vehicle, just to have the medics take me off of it because of all the stress and being on there and seizing and falling out of my wheelchair. It's a mess and a half. We can't keep doing this to people.

That being said, I am not encouraged by the progression that I've seen with Harrisburg, PRT, any of that. And instead, I see it getting worse rather than better. And I want you guys to think about the possibility that most of us will one day be there. Where we rely on those lines, period.

We shouldn't have to entertain and make a plan or an exit plan every day we wake up. Pretty much, which has been my life for the past couple of years because of all these cuts. And now it's to the point where I'm looking at pretty much every other city in the country besides living here because of how limiting the cuts would make my life.

So I encourage you guys to think about the potential that you'll be there. Everybody may one day be there, and what that means for society and how we function as a state and a city. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next up, we have Jewharu Williams. Please state your name again, and spell it clearly and slowly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. WILLIAMS:

Hello, my name is Jewharu. It's J-E-W-H-A-R-U W-I-L-L-I-A-M-S.

I live in Pittsburgh. I went to one of these meetings before. It was for the 44 bus, and in Bellevue (phonetic). We had a talk, and I think they said they were on plan on keeping the 44 in by April, this year.

And when I'd seen it wasn't taken out, I was elated. I think most of my folks in the neighborhood were also happy, until this meeting. And I realized that it's a major reduction on the 44. And one of the biggest problems were that bus was that there was a lot of wait times. And this only doesn't help that it's reduced even more. It's that the wait times are increased. So, it just makes me think of the people that live there and the hopes out there that it was still available for --- for everyone around that neighborhood to now being reduced.

And just overall, how that might affect people who are kind of outside of Allegheny and how they might consider, like, what everyone else is saying about leaving or how would that actually affect them living in the city or around it?

And I think someone said to me car insurance was, like, the main thing. Because trying to afford a car, let alone even get a license, that's going to be one of the most hardest things to fulfill. In the, just in general.

And I know for me, I kind of rely on PRT, especially my work is that I'm a traveling tutor essentially, and I have to go, like, to Timbuktu to just try to help children or whoever actually needs my help. And my, again, PRT is my main way of getting there. So if --- if this is reduced to maybe limit it just in the city, I might be out of the job depending, or if I need to actually drive and whatnot. And just want to point that out and consider those ideas, you know, what that might be for not just me, for other people also. So, thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker is Chavaysha Chaney. Again, please state your full name, and spell it clearly and slowly for the Court Reporter before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. CHANEY:

Thank Hello. My name is Chavaysha Chaney, C-H-A-V-A-Y-S-H-A. Last name is Chaney, C-H-A-N-E-Y.

Hello, everyone. My name is Chavaysha Chaney. I am a Water Equity Director at Upstream Pittsburgh, and a proud resident of Wilkinsburg. And I'm here today to voice strong support for Pittsburgh PRT, and emphasize the urgent need for increased sustainable transit funding in Pennsylvania. And while I speak on behalf of an environmental nonprofit, I also speak as a neighbor, a friend, and a resident who sees every day how essential public transportation is to the people around me.

For many of us, it's not about convenience. It's about mobility, safety, security, and the fundamental right to move freely and access opportunities. Cuts to public transit funding aren't just disruptive. They're destabilizing. They create barriers to work, health care, grocery, community life. They are also harm --- it's also harmful to our environment health, and undermines our local economies.

Public transit is not a luxury infrastructure for life. It's a bridge that connects us to opportunities and each other. A thriving community, especially one in Wilkinsburg, relies on the interconnected. We need to be able to reach other neighbors to meet new people, access resources, reduce our environmental impact by choosing transit over cars. This is how we build a future that is equitable and sustainable.

These proposed cuts would devastate not just riders, but all of us without reliable transit. More workers will struggle to get jobs. More students will lose access to education, more patients will miss critical health care. Local businesses will face hiring challenges and fewer customers.

We cannot afford to let this happen, so I urge lawmakers in Harrisburg to support this legislative action that guarantees long term sustainability transit funding, not just to maintain the current system, but to build one that works for everyone. Because public transit is not just about getting from one place to another. It's about moving all of us forward. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker Joaquin CB. Please state your full name again, and spell it for the record. Thank you.

MR. CB:

Cool, hi. My name is Joaquin CB, initials --- J-O-A-Q-U-I-N and initials C and B.

Good afternoon. I would like to speak on two topics, the 28X route and preserving collective memory. First, as you know, the 28x carries PRT riders to Pittsburgh's International Airport, where a new terminal boasting improved efficiency and access is about to open. It's quite ironic then that the route bringing people to this new terminal is planned to face reductions in operating times and range.

I will admit that I am a somewhat frequent rider --- rider of this route, so there is a bit of selfishness in this testimony. However, I am most concerned about those who use this route not for travel, but for their livelihood.

Being able to take this bus enables many airport employees to avoid the burden of car ownership and expensive rideshares whose prices often begin at ten times a bus fare. Reducing operating times represents a devastating blow to these employees whose hours often begin extremely early in the morning, and end late at night.

Similarly, employees of Robinson Town Centre businesses will suffer. That's along the way.

Additionally, ending service at Carnegie will add a transfer for many riders, further exacerbating inflexibility and the difficulty of commutes. Perhaps then, there might be a way to negotiate with the airport and with Robinson Town Centre businesses to support the preservation of service for the sake of the workers that enable their success.

At very last --- at the very least, I request that 28X reach downtown as opposed to its current terminus at East Liberty or proposed terminus in Carnegie, so that 28X riders can transfer to the many other routes that congregate downtown.

Next, I'd like to speak about preserving collective memory. Wait a second. In this current political climate, I'm not going to hold my breath waiting for a miracle funding package. I expect that there will be cuts, as there have been many times before. However, when researching past cuts, I struggled somewhat to reconstruct what previous networks may have looked like.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MR. CB:

Thank you. Sifting through unsorted historical schedules, news articles describing individual route changes, and lacking a centralized set of resources, I couldn't really understand the network of even ten years ago. Therefore, I'd like to request something a bit unusual. After implementing service reductions, collaborate with local organizations, municipal teams, or community groups to ensure that knowledge of today's network does not disappear tomorrow.

Organize and host system maps and schedules on publicly accessible resources. Why? I have hoped that transit funding in Pittsburgh, and Pennsylvania, may one grow and --- may one day involve a growing budget rather than shrinking. And I feel that helping people remember and learn about what used to exist can help inform future planning and scheduling decisions. Having this collective knowledge might also inspire local activists to advocate for service restorations.

In conclusion, please reconsider the planned reduction of service to the 28X and please help communities keep a careful record of what they've lost and what --- what they may one day regain. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker's Carolyn Fulwider. Fulwider.

MS. FULWIDER:

Hello. My name is Carolyn Fulwider, C-A-R-O-L-Y-N F-U-L-W-I-D-E-R. And my zip code is 15232.

I in graduate school had an internship at an organization called IM4Q. For those of you who aren't familiar, that stands for Independent Monitoring for Quality. What we did was that we would interview people, we'd survey people who received government assistance, people with disabilities who received government assistance, and asking them basically about their quality of life, what's going well, what's not going well, what can be done to help them.

Very frequently, there was an issue of transportation. This was --- this was something that was frequently brought up, whether it was access to the buses or just access to any form of transportation at all. A lot of people were in the suburbs, for example. And I also want to restate what's been --- what's been stated previously, but that people with disabilities, they're already very isolated to begin with. We already know this. This is statistic. This is a pretty well-known statistic.

We also know that people with disabilities are frequently at higher rates of risk for abuse, and that is only going to --- that only increases with isolation. The more people are isolated, the more likely it is for people to miss that something is wrong, that something is off.

I had also had an internship when I was an undergraduate student at the Women's Center and Shelter of Greater Pittsburgh. This was also something that I saw, that isolation. People who are unable to access, just getting outside, you know, transportation, resources, community, people. People are going to --- people get hurt when they're unable to physically access the outside, when they're unable to physically access their community, when they're unable to get outside and just go to the library, the grocery store, a store in general.

In addition to talking about stores, cuts like this will just. That will negatively affect the economy.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MS. FULWIDER:

Thank you. If people are unable to go out and spend money and go to businesses, go to stores, well, businesses are going to close. They're unable to hire people. It's --- it's something that is just unacceptable for these cuts to happen. Something needs to be done. People who are smarter than I am should be able to figure that out. Figure out something. Be creative. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker is Rich Jackson. As a reminder, you have three minutes for public comment. To help our Court Reporter, please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking.

Rich Jackson.

MR. JACKSON:

My name is Rich Jackson, R-I-C-H J-A-C-K-S-O-N.

And I promise you, I'm not here to fight you. I just wanted to say one thing, a couple of things real quick. I just relocated back to Pittsburgh about five years ago, right before COVID. Maybe six years. And I brought my driver's license because I got this license in 1989. I've driven exactly six times, excluding the person from church teaching you how to drive with a permit. I've only driven six times because that's how afraid I am of getting pulled over by the police. I'd rather get on a bus than risk my life getting stopped in the middle of the night. So that's why I do transit.

Like I said, I'm not here to fight you guys, but I wanted to be known that I'm grateful because --- especially number one, coming from New Ken. There's a lot of us, Laurel, Brewer (phonetic), New Ken, Cheswick. I'm here for all those folks, Tarentum, Brackenridge.

And all these folks here, they're representing? They're not from New Ken. So only thing I can ask you guys is that just please remember, I know you guys got stuff to do. Please remember that their lives matter. You know, I don't know how many of you folks get to transit every day, but you see people on the sidewalks and everything. They have beds, they have kids and stuff. Their lives matter. I know you're doing the best you can, guys. Just like I said, I'm not here to fight you. But just --- just be cognizant. I know you are, but you know, when we see the people on the street, there's a reason. I trust Pat Transit, and I will always call it Pat Transit.

Lastly, the only thing I'd like to say is to --- to the director, Ms. Kellerman (sic). I read about you when you got your post, and I thought, wow, okay. Here's someone who came up from Texas, and she actually, you know, seems to be, like, one of us. You know, you went to the park and ride. You were riding the bus. I've tried to contact you. I tried to contact you to get a meeting with you five times over the past two years, okay? And it wasn't to complain. I needed your help.

And then the one lady told me that, well, you can't get to see her. You're not allowed. And I said, well, can I at least drop off a letter? I typed up a letter, or handwritten it actually. Put my name and address, and dropped it off, and --- and I heard nothing. I created a global education initiative, and I'm hoping that they take it nationally for the first five years then globally after that.

I needed your help for just 15 minutes, and I couldn't get it.

Just be there for people. That's --- just be there for them. I know you're trying your best, guys. I know it. You're under budget restraints, but just be there for people. Not everybody who wants a meeting with you is going to waste your time. I promise you that.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Well so, Mr. Jackson, do you have a pen?

MR. JACKSON:

Yes, I do.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Okay.

Well, I'll give you my card, but first it's K-E-K. Anyone can write it down, anyone who wants it, kek@rideprt.org. That's my email

MR. JACKSON:

.org?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Yep.

MR. JACKSON:

So that's K-E-K?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Uh-huh, K-E-K, Katherine E. Kelleman @rideprt.org. Got your pen still?

MS. KELLEMAN:

Uh-huh.

MR. JACKSON:

412-337-0116. That's my cell number.

MR. JACKSON:

And I wasn't ---.

MS. KELLEMAN:

I'll --- Ms. Kim, 412. Okay, Darcy will get it for you. But you --- if, when you text me, tell me who you are.

MR. JACKSON:

I really needed your help. I wasn't trying to.

MS. KELLEMAN:

That's okay, we're best friends now. So we'll --- well, I'll talk to you after the hearing.

Okay?

MR. JACKSON:

Good luck, guys. And --- and I know you got a tough job to do, but just remember, these people, they're real people. So, just do the best you can. That's all any of us can ask.

MR. GASIOR:

Next speaker is Taima Ross. Please state your full name again, and spell it slowly and clearly before you begin speaking. Thank you.

MS. ROSS:

Hey, good evening. My name is Taima Ross. First name spelled T-A-I-M-A. Last name's R-O-S-S. I currently live in Bloomfield, zip code 15224.

So I actually wasn't originally planning to speak tonight. I was here to support a couple friends of mine, and also all of my neighbors here today. But after hearing some testimony, I thought that I --- I should speak. Not only because I am a PRT rider, but also because of my work with advocacy and also another conservation nonprofit in Point Breeze. And so, we do job training and conservation work.

And I couldn't help but hear all of the overlap, and all of the similarities, and how all of these items that would affect people with these cuts are related. And so, one of the absolute, major barriers that we have seen across very different sectors in my nonprofit work has been transportation. Usually housing and transportation are tied. And so, it's a fundamental need for folks to be able to seek out employment, to be able to access food in areas that may not have equitable access to grocery stores, and also just to be able to take part in their community.

And so, my very first office job here in Pittsburgh was in Uptown. It was for the Center for Hearing and Deaf Services. And so, one of the major things that we saw was that people required their ability to use ACCESS, to be able to basically participate as a member of the city. And so, we had a sort of summer camp for folks with intellectual disabilities who were also deaf on the heels of the lockdown of the pandemic. And so, hearing their stories of not being able to communicate with anyone for months was truly heartbreaking. And so, just knowing that we would see their smiling faces every day stepping off that ACCESS bus was enormous.

In another job of mine, we would work with folks who were English language learners, often immigrants or refugees. And their first stop in the US was Pittsburgh, a particularly confusing, if not colorful, first stop.

TIMEKEEPER:

One minute left.

MS. ROSS:

Thank you. And so, it was a huge joy to be able to help people figure out how to navigate the city and to bridge that connection with communities, and to have people realize that, you know, they can access libraries and further be able to invest in their education, not only broadly, but just for the English language with access to the bus.

In addition, I currently have a vehicle because I need one for my job. I took the bus here today, and I know that a lot of people require that sort of access to be able to be functioning members of the city. Job training, helping people access things like transportation through SNAP initiatives, helping people access transportation through these workforce development programs. It's all connected. So if there's a worker shortage, then cutting major bus lines is certainly going to exacerbate already huge issues that --- thanks so much.

MR. GASIOR:

Our next --- next speaker is Ross Nicotero. Please state your name again, and spell it clearly for the Court Reporter. Thank you.

MR. NICOTERO:

Absolutely. Good evening, everybody. Ross, like the garage that's closing, R-O-S-S. Vincent, V. as in Vincent, Nicotero, and I'm the Third.

First off, I'd like to thank all of you for letting me address you this evening. Good evening. My name is Ross Nicotero. I'm the President Business Agent of local 85 here in Pittsburgh. I represent 2,200 members, the SDA department, claims department, first level supervisors, and mechanics, but most importantly, operators. I am also the Chairman of the Pennsylvania Joint Conference Board that also represents 17 other transit agencies throughout this Commonwealth.

These ATU properties stretch from Erie, Westmoreland County,

New Castle, Scranton, Allentown, Bethlehem, Reading, Wilkes-Barre, Harrisburg, Johnstown, Williamsport, Altoona, Veneta, and Lancaster. While these properties vary in size, we all have something in common. Every one of these locations need dedicated funding for mass transit.

This isn't a Pittsburgh problem or a Philadelphia problem. This is a Commonwealth of PA and a national problem. I want everybody here to know that ATU Local 85 and all the members of the PA Joint Conference Board wholeheartedly endorse Governor Shapiro's efforts to fund mass transit throughout the Commonwealth, and especially here in Allegheny County.

Over the past year and a half, my leadership team and myself have made countless trips to Harrisburg, including one earlier this week. We met with many legislators and leaders, including Lieutenant Governor Austin Davis, who uniquely has a personal interest here since his father is one of my local 85 operators. We're all pushing for dedicated transit funding throughout the Commonwealth that adjusts with inflation for many years so all of us do not have to keep lobbying year by year for band aids, flexes, or stopgaps.

I'm sure you've heard from many people speaking before me, and after me, to convey how the transit cuts will affect them personally. Unfortunately, some people think mass transit's only for the poor and impoverished. This is simply false. While it is true most of our ridership are for people that don't own cars today, some reality people choose not to own cars for various reasons. Car maintenance, convenience. Transit is vital to the restaurant and service industry. For nightlife. Every business relies on moving large amounts of people safely and efficiently, especially here to the North Shore and to the south side.

Transit gets people to work, students to schools, helps our seniors get to doctor's appointments, pharmacies, and grocery stores. The ACCESS program here gets seniors and people with special needs to their dialysis appointments, and to healthy --- health care appointments regularly.

For every bus on the road, it removes 40 cars, which means fewer traffic jams, cleaner air, and a better quality of life for everybody.

Public transit isn't a burden, it's an economic engine. Everyone here knows how these draconian cuts would affect the constituents of Allegheny County. Forty-one (41) of our 100 routes would be eliminated in its entirety, the other 59 seeing drastic cuts as far as trips and headway time. The Ross and Collier divisions being closed, the Silver Line being abolished, no service after 11:00 p.m. Limited weekend service. No special transportation for the Steelers, Pirates, Penguins, or any other concert or large events. The fare increase from $2.75 to $3 will be one of the highest in the nation. Nineteen (19) municipalities in Allegheny County would not have any access to any bus whatsoever.

But most importantly, what I care about most, hundreds of good union jobs will be lost. This cannot be allowed to happen for various reasons. As I stand here and speak now, the US Open's going on in Oakmont and Harmar. We decimated that in 2011. Next year, the NFL draft will be here 60 days before my contract expires.

Our friends to the east and SEPTA, the World Cup of Soccer, Major League Baseball All Star Game, and the 250th anniversary of the Declaration of Independence. We have many celebrity --- many events that will need transit next year.

In closing, if our funding needs go unfilled and the proverbial axe begins to swing, it's imperative all parties must take a look, and do an accounting. Simply put, labor, my members, will not be the sole target of this. Any proposed cuts, rather, the whole mission will be held accountable. Just not the little guy. If we succeed, we succeed together. If we don't, we must all look inward. Tuesday, June 30th will be problematic for everybody involved.

Once again, I thank you for the opportunity for my comments, and I look forward to working with you with the critical situations ahead. Thank you.

MR. GASIOR:

The next, the last and final speaker, remaining speaker registered tonight is Jared Helfer.

MR. HELFER:

How's it going everybody? Jared Helfer, J-A-R-E-D H-E-L-F-E-R.

Yeah, I do comedy, so I tried to do, like, a kind of a tight three minutes. So, yeah. Thanks for all. Thanks for coming again. I went to the first one and, you know, thank God there's no, like, insane storm of the century after the last one. But it's interesting that that happened because I mean, I know that the buses saved lives that day, but like, how much is a human being worth? If it saved a hundred lives, what? A million dollars a person, thousand per --- thousand people? It's good questions to ask. I'd --- I'd say infinite, but you know, I'm no big city lawyer.

I like the bus because it shows that we share the world with others. That's a very good thing. You know, traffic, everyone always goes, you know, complain about traffic, everyone goes, you are traffic. No, we are traffic. We, you know. The city is a body, and the roads are arteries. We all know what happens when we clog our arteries. The reason why the city can put fries on salad is because we have world class health care. You know what I mean?

We're also the City of Mr. Rogers, Jonas Salk, and Nellie Bly. I think if this passes, we could tear down those statues, put up a tin bust of Henry Ford holding a diesel gas can, covered in head toe and leaded paint.

What else do I got? I --- also, this needs to happen. It's not, like, this is ridiculous that we're here, honestly. It has to happen. Put up funding. Put up, maybe make a yard sale of all the stuff that we find on the bus. Sell that. Maybe raise one gallon of gas one quarter once. Probably fund the whole entire thing 50 times over. Oh, yeah.

Is anybody Scott Perry here? Okay, no one's Scott Perry. You guy --- guys hear that Scott Perry guy? He's like a Congressman. He --- he's trying to pass a bill. He wrote a bill called no desire for streetcars, and who knows? It might actually pass. Funny, cute name, you know, Streetcar Named Desire. No Desire for streetcars. Very funny.

I don't know. All this kind of has me feeling like Blanche at the end of Streetcar Named Desire. Has anybody read that one or seen that one? It's really good. Yeah, this is --- this a a rugged pioneerism. He's, like, all about rugged pioneerism if you look on his website. I do that every day I ride the bus. There's no more rugged pioneerism than riding the damn bus. And also, is this guy going to, you know, ride a horse? Am I going to be allowed to ride a horse? I have to take the bus.

I'm just saying, wherever you are, to quote Blanche at the end of Streetcar Named Desire, wherever you are, I have always depended on the kindness of strangers. So I really appreciate your time. Check out Streetcar Named Desire. Again, holds up. Thank you for listening.

MS. KELLEMAN:

Thank you. PRT's records indicate that there are no more remaining speakers registered to provide public comment at this hearing who have not already provided their comments or were given the opportunity to provide their comments. And we are now at the end of our public --- publicly advertised time for this hearing. We will now conclude the hearing.

On behalf of PRT's Board and staff, thank you everyone who took the time to participate today and provide us with your comments regarding the proposed funding crisis related fiscal '26 fare increases and service reductions. It's really important that you're here. Thank you for taking the time.

MR. DEVLIN:

Good morning. My name is Jeffrey Devlin, Chief Innovation Officer for Pittsburgh Regional Transit.

PRT is conducting this public hearing as part of a public comment period that began at 8:00 a.m. on Monday, March 31st, 2025 and will conclude on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025 at 5:00 p.m. to receive public input on PRT's proposed funding crisis, related fare increases and service reductions.

Before we begin public comment, our hearing moderator, Eddie Phillips, will go over some housekeeping information. Thank you.

MR. PHILLIPS:

This hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. If you do not want to be recorded, please exit the hearing room at this time.

Please note that we have American Sign Language and Spanish language interpreters to provide translation services during the hearing upon request.

For participants who registered to provide public comment at today's hearing, you will be called up to speak at your designated time, though you may be called up at as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak.

For participants who did not pre register, you've been placed into an open time slot to speak and will be called upon to speak at your designated time, though you may also be called up as much as 15 minutes early to speak if there are no other speakers scheduled to speak.

Each speaker will have three minutes to provide their public comment. When called upon, please clearly state your name and spell it and then speak clearly. The hearing moderator will alert you when you have one minute remaining.

If your three minutes is up and you want to provide further comment, you may do so via telephone, regular mail or online until 5:00 p.m. Eastern Standard Time on Wednesday, June 18th, 2025.

Additional details on these other methods to submit public comment to PRT regarding the proposed funding crisis related fiscal year 2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

Speakers cannot donate or delegate their allotted time to another individual interested in speaking, but speakers may read in written comments they may have brought with them on behalf of another individual during their scheduled comment time.

The purpose of this public hearing is for PRT to receive public comment only. Participating PRT Board members and/or staff members will not respond to public comment provided during this hearing, but all comments will be recorded and analyzed as part of the public comment collection process.

Additionally, there is an information table set up outside the hearing room where PRT staff can answer questions.

Both PRT Board members and senior management will be listening to public comments during this public hearing. At this time, I would ask PRT Board member who are in attendance to identify themselves.

I would now ask PRT senior management who are in attendance to identify themselves.

MR. DEVLIN:

Jeffrey Devlin, Chief Innovation Officer.

MR. PHILLIPS:

This public hearing was scheduled from 9:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. with a two hour break from 1:00 p.m. to 3:00 p.m. PRT intends to conduct a public hearing for the entire advertised time periods to ensure members of the public who did not pre register but appear today and sign up to speak have an opportunity to do so.

MR. DEVLIN:

Thank you, Eddie.

Absent additional state funding, PRT is facing an operating budget deficit of approximately $100 million for its fiscal year 2026.

PRT is required by law to pass a balanced budget and with so many fixed costs, we are proposing a 35 percent reduction in bus, light rail and incline services. If approved by PRT's Board, these changes would begin with PRT's February 2026 service adjustments along with a 25 cent fare increase.

Additionally, due to the severity of the budget deficit, corresponding reductions to service levels and increases in fares are also proposed for PRT sponsored paratransit program, ACCESS. This program provides demand response transportation services for eligible individuals with disabilities and senior citizens in Allegheny County.

A summary of the proposed funding crisis related FY2026 fare increases and service reductions is available on PRT's website at www.rideprt.org/funding-crisis.

We will now begin to receive public comment.

MR. PHILLIPS:

So call your name up. Amy Randal.

MS. RANDAL:

My name is Amy Randal.

MR. PHILLIPS:

All right. Okay.

As a reminder, this hearing is being recorded and transcribed by a court reporter. So if you don't want to be recorded, ---

MS. RANDAL:

That's fine.

MR. PHILLIPS:

--- you'll have to exit the room now.

MS. RANDAL:

No, it's okay.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Each speaker has up to three minutes to provide public comment. And just please speak clearly and spell your name for the court reporter. There are instructions on your table as well.

MS. RANDAL:

Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS:

And you'll have three minutes to speak.

MS. RANDAL:

Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS:

And when you begin, I'll start our clock. Okay?

MS. RANDAL:

Okay. So you'll tell me when to begin?

MR. PHILLIPS:

Yes. If you're ready right now, go right ahead.

MS. RANDAL:

Okay.

Well, my name is Amy Randal, A-M-Y, R-A-N-D-A-L. My community is 15205.

So today I'm a mental health professional in Allegheny County. Twenty five (25) years. I've witnessed firsthand the need for public transportation. Because the individuals that I currently serve, who in part are with me behind me today, they are very afraid. And I'm not. You know why? Because this is not going to affect me as a human being. I have a car. I can pay for a car.

I'm not here for Amy Randal. Please know that. Mention that in whatever you're reporting. I am here as a mental health professional in Allegheny County for 25 years, a taxpayer for 37 years, a social service worker in total in America for 27 years. But in Allegheny County, 25 years is all you got of me.

And I have watched my people not have a bus, a trolley or an ACCESS ride now, today, in 2025, before these cuts. That's my issue.

These cuts happen, you know, those buses don't show up and those trolleys don't show up and the ACCESSes don't show up in 2025. What are you going to do on July 1st of 2025 if you choose to cut all of these services? Please explain to me. And you can't because this is my turn to talk. So I'll explain to you. I'll explain to you what's going to happen.

Our county is going to be in trouble. Our hospitals, our community service centers, clinics. I mean, I can name all kinds of mental health sources in Allegheny County because this is my home. So I'm very well aware that if this cut happens, you're not caring about my mentally ill clients. And that to me is personal because my purpose is to serve Allegheny county individuals with a mental illness.

Please do not cut this. If you cut this, my folks will not be able to get their medication, their therapy. And this is life changing. Like life --- people die from mental illness, period. My clients don't need to die.

And if PRT keeps at least a little bit of service that they manage to do now --- because they don't manage it very well now. In the 90s, when I was in college we the best public transportation system in this country. Bring that back. And do not cut this funding because they're going to hurt, not me. They are.

Anything else? How much time do I have?

MR. PHILLIPS:

You have 15 more seconds. Yeah.

MS. RANDAL:

Okay.

The last thing I think I want to say is written down right here. And all it is, you do this, you save funding, you'll save lives. Thank you very much. The end.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you so much.

MS. RANDAL:

Okay.

MR. PHILLIPS:

And thank you, everybody, for coming as well.

MS. RANDAL:

And now can we --- do we just leave?

MR. PHILLIPS:

Yeah, you can head out or, you know, like I said, if you want to go next door and see some of the other testimony or listen in, you're more than welcome to do that as well.

MS. RANDAL:

Well, thank you for your time. What's your name?

MR. PHILLIPS:

Eddie Phillips.

MS. RANDAL:

Thank you, Eddie.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you.

MS. RANDAL:

I appreciate being heard.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

MR. PHILLIPS:

Just a reminder this is public comment too, so we won't be reacting to the comments or conversing. Just you'll be able to speak for three minutes.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Just talk to you, right?

MR. PHILLIPS:

Yes, you'll be able to talk to us. And please say --- there's instructions on the table. But please be sure to say your --- state your name, spell it clearly and then go on and do your public comment. Okay?

So whenever you're ready, go ahead and begin and I'll start the three minute timer.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Okay.

My name is Jheri, J-H-E-R-I, Spearline, S as in Sam, P as in Paul, E-A-R-L-I-N-E, and I live in Aetna, 15223 Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania.

Well, I'm, you know, concerned about the bosses as everyone is. And I live --- being that I live in Aetna and the to Mont Royal, that is like the only bus we have. And it goes through Millvale and you know, into Downtown and it also goes out to McKnight Road to all the stores and everything out there.

Now I'm older, I know, but there's --- everybody, you know, uses that bus. Kids that are in college and people that have to go food shopping. Well, I'm sure you all know the doctors and everything. There's no way we can do this, you know.

And I also heard that the 12, I think it's 12A, I'm not sure what that is, but that is going to be eliminated too. And that goes out to the North Hills. There'll be no way for us to go anywhere.

And I don't --- it's not an entitlement, as I had heard that been said. It's a necessity. And you know, I don't know how they can go to another avenue, another way to get the money they need or what. But it's very important that, you know, we have this transportation.

So everybody, you know, in the town, like I said, there's nothing in Millvale for quite a few years. And this bus to my Mount Royal, it goes through Millville also. So it takes up a lot of --- you know, a lot of people in different areas. And then it also goes through the North Side Downtown. But it also, when it goes out North Hills, there's a lot of people on that way.

So, you know, I'm just here to speak on behalf of my community, you know, Aetna and Millvale and all around the area.

And so I don't know when --- do you know when this is all going to be sent to Harrisburg or --- I can't ask you questions, I'm sorry.

Well, anyway, you know, I hope that I did something. I'm sure there are many people that are here doing this today.

MR. PHILLIPS:

One minute remaining, if you'd like.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Okay.

Can --- at this --- the terminal that's down there, the transit thing, can I fill out an application too or is this an out? They were saying they had applications.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Oh, yeah. If you wanted to provide additional public comment. Yeah. You could do so online or actually at our registration table too. They'd probably be able to guide you in the right direction for that as well. Yeah.

MS. SPEARLINE:

All right. Thank you so much. I appreciate that.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you. And to answer your other question about the budget, the --- Harrisburg is supposed to pass it or have something in place by June 30th is their timeline. But sometimes it goes beyond that. So that was the timeline.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Well, so many people --- I mean, doctors and food and everything else. You know, people have to go to the store. Thank you. God bless you.

MR. PHILLIPS:

You're welcome.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Happy Father's Day.

PANEL MEMBER:

If you have any specific questions, there are some tables out front where they can answer ---.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Oh, I'm sorry.

PANEL MEMBER:

No, you're fine. If you have any specific questions, there are some tables out front that they can actually answer questions.

MS. SPEARLINE:

Thank you. Have a happy Father's Day too.

PANEL MEMBER:

And you're welcome to join in the main group next door. Thank you.

MS. SPEARLINE:

God bless you.

MR. PHILLIPS:

Thank you, have a good day.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

PANEL MEMBER:

Is now 1:00 p.m. As publicly advertised we will now take a break and go off the record from 1:00 to 3:00 p.m. This public hearing will resume at 3:00 p.m. Thank you.

James Craven.

MR. CRAVEN:

My name's James Craven, C-R-A-V as in Victor, E-N.. 15214.

I'm here today to express my concern about the elimination of the 01, the 05 and the 012 bus routes to the North Hills. Those are three main routes for people who live in the North Hills. I understand that the 01 will be taken over by the Route 8

Perrysville bus, which is a long commute from the Park & Ride area into Downtown. And if it is to take over the 01, my hope is that it does circle into the Park & Ride and not force those riders to go to the road into the the small bus shelter. Since that Park & Ride has been recently renovated, it is a very nice place to park and to gather for the bus.

The 012, I understand, is being taken over by the regular 12, which again, is a meandering, winding, crowded bus that takes quite a long time to get there. And in my experience since post pandemic, that even though the ridership seems to be lower than it had been pre pandemic, buses are still crowded, they're still full. Maybe not as much, but there's still ample enough people to ride those routes. And it would be a shame to eliminate them because of the inconvenience of the people living in the North Hills. That's my piece.

PANEL MEMBER:

Thank you very much.

MR. CRAVEN:

Thank you.

PANEL MEMBER:

Thanks for being here.

MR. CRAVEN:

Good luck to you all.

PANEL MEMBER:

Thank you.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

PANEL MEMBER:

Is it Jerry?

MS. WILBON:

Charnedda.

PANEL MEMBER:

I don't think we added her to the overflow.

PANEL MEMBER:

Okay.

PANEL MEMBER:

I just caught her before she was leaving.

PANEL MEMBER:

That's okay. We'll do it now, so yeah.

MS. WILBON:

Okay.

PANEL MEMBER:

Yeah.

MS. WILBON:

My name is Charnedda M. Wilbon.

PANEL MEMBER:

Can you spell it for us?

MS. WILBON:

C-H-A-R-N-E-D-D-A, last name W-I-L-B-O-N. And my zip code now is 15203.

I grew up in the ---.

V:

Give me one second.

MS. WILBON:

Okay.

PANEL MEMBER:

Do you want to sit down or you want to stand?

MS. WILBON:

I can sit.

PANEL MEMBER:

Completely up to you. So you'll have three minutes.

MS. WILBON:

Okay. I'm sorry.

PANEL MEMBER:

No, you take your time.

MS. WILBON:

Okay.

PANEL MEMBER:

We're here. It doesn't --- we're here till 7:00. It doesn't matter. Whenever you're ready.

MS. WILBON:

Okay, I'm ready.

PANEL MEMBER:

Okay.

MS. WILBON:

So I grew up in the 15206 neighborhood, and now I'm in the 15203 neighborhood now. So I grew up there all my life, but I wanted to speak out on some friends of mine that catches the 14 Ohio Valley and needs that bus to continue to run through into Ambridge for that person that works. She lives there and works in the Waterfront. She works at Waterfront at the Costco. So I just, you know, she needs that bus that --- you're cutting that all together, and I would like for that to continue to stay on.

I'm speaking on behalf of her. I'm sure she will be here around 6:30 if she can, because she didn't get her ride. But that's really all I wanted to say. I want to thank y'all. I hope you get the funding that you need. I'm praying that you do so people can continue to get around and, you know, do what they need to do in everyday life. I thank you so much for your time and I hope this gets resolved the best way for everyone involved. Thank you.

PANEL MEMBER:

Thank you so much. We appreciate you coming down.

MS. WILBON:

Thank you so much. I've been chasing you down all day.

(WHEREUPON, A BREAK WAS HELD.)

PANEL MEMBER:

It is now 7:00. PRT's records indicate that there are no remaining speakers registered to provide public comment at this public hearing who have not already provided their comments or were given the opportunity to provide their comments. And we are now at the publicly advertised 7:00 p.m. end time for this hearing. So we will now continue --- excuse me. We will now conclude this public hearing and on behalf of PRT's Board and staff, I want to thank everyone who took the time to participate today and provide PRT with your comments regarding the proposed funding crisis related FY2026 fare increases and service reductions. Thank you.

These purposes cuts would be cutting the throat of many riders. Many people cannot afford a car and must rely on public transportation to get to work, doctors' appointments, or even to get daily necessities. There has to be a better way. I don't have a car and I take the bus exclusively. The cuts to the transport system would greatly reduce my mobility around the city. While I don't take the routes that are proposed to be cut frequently, I do still use them to go to restaurants, clothing stores, concerts, etc. in different parts of the city. And I won't be able to patronize those businesses anymore with the proposed cuts.

I personally would be ok paying more to be able to keep these services. I could understand how it would be impactful for others, though. I know that there are options available for people who have low income already. I wonder if it would be worth looking into keeping those options available for low income, and eliminating the free zone for the light rail in the city. With how many people ride the t in the city, it seems the extra money from that could be helpful.

We moved the move to the south hills from central pa. One main reason we chose to live in the South Hills vs North hills is due to the Public Transportation (T Line). We also moved to the location we did, please it is on the silver line and runs directly to our sons school. There would be no reason to live here if that line was cut, and we would leave Allegheny County.

I am only supporting this, because we can afford to have this increase. However, putting undue hardships on members of the community that can barely afford eggs, because you have mismanaged the budget, is cruel. You should be taking pay cuts in order to help the people of Pittsburgh. Additionally, I would like to hear where the money from the drink tax is going?
Passage and Signing:
The Allegheny County Council approved the 10% drink tax on December 4, 2007, and it was signed into law by Allegheny County Chief Executive Dan Onorato on December 10, 2007.
Initial Implementation:
The tax was intended to take effect on January 1, 2008, and bars and restaurants were required to collect the tax at the point of sale.
Tax Rate Reduction:
On January 1, 2009, the tax rate was reduced to 7%.
Purpose:
The revenue generated from the drink tax is dedicated to funding the Port Authority of Allegheny County, which operates the county's public transportation system.

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I, as well as many others, rely on service past 11 PM to get me home safely from work during the week and to get my loved ones and I home safely on weekends. Without the bus and rail system, myself as well as my loved ones, and countless other members of the community, have no way to ensure our safe return home at night. I also rely entirely on public transit for all my travel, as I do not have a vehicle of my own. The cuts would seriously impede daily life and make routine errands much more dangerous/difficult/inaccessible for me as well as a large majority of people living in Pittsburgh.

With most jobs returning to work downtown, you all are proposing to cut most of the flyer buses that run into the city from park and ride locations. This would be a terrible idea, now instead of taking a bus, I will drive into downtown and pay to park.

I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
First, it's understandable that PRT is facing challenges especially given that the general ridership has not increased post-covid as PRT would have hoped. Second, no matter where PRT tries to save, there is only so much it can save from driver and mechanic salaries and benefits. Thus, it needs to look at where the needs are and be creative about trying to find relevant savings. Thus begins my comment, based on the word "creative".
Bus route 2N/A has been threatened for more than a decade now, by misinformed people at the predecessor of PRT, and bias of data, and I would dare say fabricated data to justify an arbitrary cut across the board. The Kennedy Twp. community, including our elected local municipality board have defended keeping the route because it is the only one serving this community. Ridership: At peak hours (6-9 AM) and then (4 - 7 PM) one finds more than 25 riders on every run. Riders consist of blue collar workers being paid LOW WAGES, students (Pitt, CMU, Carlow; they connect through downtown), workers now required to be in-office (downtown corporations), and service workers (home care, child care). Off-peak, our senior citizens rely on the bus to get to Kennedy Center Giant Eagle and its pharmacy as well as the shops in the plaza in McKees Rocks. Off-peak there are at least 1N/A riders, mostly senior citizens who rely on the bus to go to downtown, Kennedy Center or the plaza at McKees Rocks.
Creativity: Keep the peak hours, reduce service during off-hours to once every 2-3 hours. It can be feasible.
PRT Boondogle to warn about: You are proposing to eliminate the "Herbst Loop". Most of our Kennedy-sourced riders live along Herbst and roads the intersect with it. Your proposal to instead use Coraopolis Heights is non-sense: There are no riders on that! I have been on the 2N/A (and its predecessor the 21B) for more than 25 years at all times, an never have I seen anyone get on or off Coraopolis Heights. So, this plan of yours for the future is non-sense and will disservice the real existing (not imagined) riders from Kennedy.

This has to be a joke. Everyone is leadership at PRT should have been fired like yesterday. How long can you use COVID as an excuse? Literally every organization on earth had to deal with COVID changes and impacts. It's 2N/A25 not 2N/A21 you've had years to raise the alarm to fix this thing. Less than six months ago you were planning a totally different service change — did you know this stuff all along and were just pretending???? Seriously this is unacceptable and you all should be ashamed of yourselves.

Bus transit is crucial for transportation around a city that has been deemed the most confusing to drive around in the country for year. When we have visitors, they rely on our nice bus system. Gutting out bus system will make this harder for visitors to access, make transit near impossible for people with mobility issues, and take away from the beautiful city of Pittsburgh.

Listen, I've already had to fight tooth and nail to try to scrounge back one single bus line to Greenfield in your redesign plan. I am tired. Please, for the love of God, I am not asking for much. I need 1 bus to go down Greenfield Ave to Downtown so I can get to work and back. Take 1 bus off the 5N/AN/A that go through Oakland every 5 minutes so I don't have to quit my job. I'll still be losing all access to everything else from shopping to nightlife, but at least if I can get to work I can make money and maybe one day move to somewhere where I have the luxury of taking a public bus again. Please, I am begging, I am trying to organize my neighbors to reach out to the state, I know its not your fault, but all I am asking for is one bus. Please help.

My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would have to move to another home/dwelling where transit is available
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Please do NOT ELIMINATE the Silver line. It is necessary to keep! Many people rely on it to get to work and medical care and daily necessary transport.

It would be understandable to impose a fare increase if the quality/availability of services has increased, but from a wholistic standpoint, that is not the case. Although it is a relatively small increase, it is not a viable option until minimum wage increases.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I just personally wanna know what the point is in all the T construction and all the new busses and bus stop signs just for you to cut routes and reduce service? It seems like a giant waste of money to me. Also in Chicago it's 2N/A a week for a weekly unlimited pass and great service then I come back here and I pay 25 for garbage service. The customer service is always shitty..yins must be running a garbage company because that's what you're serving up.

I don't understand why we need a fare increase AND to cut over 40 bus routes..to me it seems like a way to try to offer less for more so YOU guys can save money and spend it on trash we don't need. You already give us trash service and it's just gotten worse and worse over the years with more and more people cut off from public transit. It's already next to impossible to get places in a timely manner and completely impossible to get certain places at all now you wanna make it even more inaccessible.

OPPOSE: 31 BRIDGEVILLE (Major Reduction), 36 BANKSVILLE (Elim.), 38 GREEN TREE (Elim.), 41 BOWER HILL (Elim.), G2 WEST BUSWAY (Major Reduction), G31 BRIDGEVILLE FLYER (Elim.),
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
While not affecting me personally, elimination of the 41 would prohibit access to St. Clair Hospital on Bower Hill Road.
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Eliminating the 41, 36, 38 and G31 would create chaos for the G2 on the West Busway. All of the people who ride these routes would need to use the Woodville and Carnegie Park and Ride locations. Woodville would be the access to the 31 Bridgeville, which is slated for a Major Reduction. The Carnegie Park and Ride would also be overcrowded for the G2 option. The G2 articulated buses are already over-crowded, sometimes Standing Room Only, before they leave downtown during peak afternoon hours. There are approximately 5N/A riders (yes, I counted one day) who disembark from the 38 during outbound peak hours at Carriage Park Apartments.
Also, having the 28X only run from Carnegie to Airport has it's own potential issues. First, more people on the G2 to transfer at Carnegie, and second, what's to stop people from parking at Carnegie overnight or long term for free? The lot is unattended. Currently, Quaker State Construction is using the lot for employee parking, and there are carpools from the lot as well. All of these issues should have been considered before causing panic and hostility toward PRT.

Thousands of residents in our area rely on public transit every day to commute to work, access education, and reach essential services. If adequate funding is not approved, these individuals will lose critical access to reliable transportation, creating significant hardships for families across our area.
Moreover, the ripple effects of this decision will be devastating for our local economy. Thousands of jobs (both transit-related and those dependent on the system) are at risk. Our public transit not only provides direct employment but also supports local businesses and sustains economic growth by enabling residents to connect to opportunities across the region.

the cuts take away all of the buses in my local area. i'd soley have to rely on the red line which is not ideal at all for my job, social life, personal life, and beyond. walking to my redline stop in bad weather is not ideal, especially with the bad knee i have. the buses close to the street take that fear off the table. i've been a transit user since i was 16, i'm 26 now. if these cuts happen, not only would i need to consider moving (which is not ideal in this economy) but at this point moving to a different city with better transport. i don't want to do that. i love this city. please consider how many people use these buses and trolleys you are planning to cut. think of the people for once.

This would tragic for communities across pittsburgh and also efforts to revitalize downtown. How are people supposed to take transit home after a show or a game if it ends at 11pm?? I took the bus home after the opera just last week and it did not get out till after 1N/A:3N/A. How are ppl supposed to get to and from their jobs? So many vast changes is going to really negatively affect a lot of people AND the economy in Pittsburgh. I currently have 3 busses within walking distances and you want to eliminate two of them and greatly reduce the third one, which will greatly effect me negatively. The increase in price is not that big of a deal, but the severe cutting or elimination of the busses for most* places is going to be incredibly harmful, which will force a lot of people to lose their jobs and then may have instability in finding a new one close and keeping their housing and getting food on the table. You should Everything possible to keep this from happening. PRT is not great now, so what you are proposing would be devastating. I hope you put all this into serious consideration before stating you want to slash PRT soo much.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I rely on the 93, 58, and 65 to go to work, school, access healthcare, and other neighborhoods. The elimination of the 58 and 65 leaves me with one route, which will be reduced. It already comes once ever half an hour. It makes it really difficult to leave my neighborhood and get back when necessary. My commute is already 45 mins to work. These cuts are detrimental to the Hazelwood/Greenfield neighborhoods which are highly residential and have lots of students and workers trying to get to around. I believe it will be detrimental to my community, and lead to further problems due to transit accessibility.
For example when I need to get to Oakland for classes, I take the 58 or 93 or 65. Leaving just the 93 will make it crowded and difficult to make sure I make it to class on time.
I am also worried about the prevalence of drunk driving when all these busses stop running after 11 pm. Currently people can rely on the busses to get home, and I'm worried about an increase of drunk drivers when there is no bus available to safely get home after 11.

Before cutting services, changes should be made to the schedule. For instance, in the afternoon, the 1 Freeport gets in Sharpsburg at 3:56 and then 4:31. The 91 Butler Street get in Sharpsburg at 3:52 and 4:N/A4. The schedule can be adjusted so that the wait time is not so great for busses going through Sharpsburg.

Public transit is a necessity, slashing it will cripple our freedom of mobility and freedom of opportunity. I will lose hours travelling to the airport, university. I will no longer be able to go out late at night. I will no longer be free to go shopping any where not in walking distance, knowing I have a reliable way to get home. Women and children will be standing for hours in bus stops in uncertain areas due to unreliable schedules, and almost certainly crime will increase. I would sooner leave Pittsburgh than stagnate here in a city so hostile to its own residents.

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would have to move to another home/dwelling where transit is available
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
There is an immediate danger to my and my loved ones mobility, health, and freedom by these cuts.
Please indicate if you oppose or support the proposed fare increases:
OPPOSE the proposed fare increases
Fare increase impacts (bus and rail):
I would have to make decisions about whether to pay for transit or other essential expenses
I would take less public transit trips
Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
Aside from the face that public transit should be free, this rate hike in addition to the cuts will only put more cars on the already congested roads.

If PRT hadn't made the decision to 'invest' in the 'rapid transit' from Oakland to Downtown, I might have a different perspective regarding the financial impact of reduced state funding. However, the transit time from Oakland to town is already pretty quick and such an endeavor was/is financial waste. I also wonder about cost of living increases and pay raises especially for the upper echelon administration. I understand the need for belt tightening, but so frequently that translates to the common person paying more or doing without.

Why is parking so cheap in Pgh? It is often cheaper for me to drive and park than take a bus. Pgh can't increase ridership when there is a cheaper and more convenient alternative. Pgh needs a comprehensive plan that includes parking, bike lanes, etc.

Please protect the 41 bus from Downtown to Kane Boulevard. I take that bus twice a day, five days a week to get to work, weekends to see shows downtown, and for grocery shopping purposes. I do not know what I would do without the 41 from Downtown, I specifically moved to Pittsburgh for the transit, and got a house in Dormont for the purpose of being near the bus as I am unable to drive due to disability. I am a full time employee and I genuinely don't know how I will be able to get to work and keep my job. I know I am not alone in this, as my bus usually has at least ten people on it at 8:36 in the morning. I am very blessed to have had two years of being able to get to work at 9, and I would like to be able to live in Pittsburgh in the future, but I am unsure how to make that work without a transit system. The 41 from Downtown is a hospital line bus, and I frequently see people using it for that reason.

If the fare increases allow the 41 bus from Downtown to keep running, I am in support of them. I do not want to have to spend the money to relocate, and my only other option would be putting more than I spend in rent into a car service such as Uber, which would further add to rush hour traffic.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
A lot of people in Monroeville, Penn hills, and Murrysville are middle class citizens who can't afford the gas prices and parking prices it would take to get to work each day. The bus system helps these people greatly. Perhaps you could simply lessen the amount of times the bus comes, if it is that much of a problem. Also, Pittsburgh was once known as one of the most polluted cities in the US, if not the world. Since those days we have come a long way, but eliminating these busing routes (especially with these places being 13-15 miles away) will increase the total carbon emissions as people will be forced to drive to get to their jobs. My mom will have to find a new job closer to home that pays less than the jobs in Pittsburgh, as she cannot drive and pay for parking every single day. I am a university student, so I do not have this option. I do not know how I will get to school if this takes place. Tell our senators that the expenses of gas will hurt the middle class, which will cause them to buy less, which will harm the economy. Some senators are just concerned about the roads and infrastructure, but compromises can be made on both sides! You can fix the roads/buildings while also keeping public transit, but it's not easy. However not easy does not equal impossible.

Sharing what I sent them: So what routes are you NOT changing/eliminating?
I am shocked by the proposed change to services to our area! I am lucky to even have a seat on the 31 during "peak hours" ... PPS students have to take this route ... it also serves multiple park-n-rides...makes NO logical sense ESPECIALLY when consideringthe changes to G2 and eliminatingG31. It seems as though these decisions are being made frivolously. Your inability to manage your funds is NOT reason to make life EVEN harder for those who already suffer to live in this county due to astronomically high tax rates.

The Route I take is the Ross Flyer N/A1 which originates from the Ross Park and Ride. This route would be eliminated under your plan. I find it curious that last year your solicitor went before the Ross Township Commissioners to obtain a one-year extension of the variance granted on 5/22/2N/A23 in order to build a parking garage at the Park and Ride located at 5326 Perry Hight way (ZHB-7-23). At that time surely your financial problems existed and you knew about them. Did the State or Federal government give you money to build the parking garage? For around 6 months a construction trailer and port-a-john sat at the Park and Ride and nothing was built. If you were given money for the project and repurposed it for some other use its seems insulting to then shut the Park and Ride down and the Ross Flyer with it! If the state / and or federal government gave you money for this you really ought to give it back. Otherwise this seems to be a fraud.

I understand that more money is needed to support PRT. One means to get funding is to raise fares. I do not find the new fares unreasonable. I think PRT should implement a plan to regularly increase fare prices with inflation, to avoid big spikes in fare prices.

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to get to school, daycare, or childcare
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would have to move to another home/dwelling where transit is available
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Cutting some of the most heavily-utilized routes (re: commuter) seems short-sighted if the budget is short. Considering the amount of people who ride those versus the other services, I am not certain I see the logic in many of these changes aside from punishing those who dependent on public transit.

The community has a responsibility to take care of our most vulnerable populations. Treating port authority as a business that needs to make money rather than a service is short-sighted. Funds that are/should be earmarked to help disabled and older Pennsylvanians should be used to bolster the shortage, instead of making cuts.

Again, this is not a business, but a service. I am having a difficult time understanding where the shortages are coming from when the new CEO's salary is as high as it is (and bonuses) and also sports a poor track record concerning transit. If her focus is to make transit profitable (as it seems), then she is an exceedingly poor fit for our area and lacks understanding of why transit is important.

My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I am writing to express my concerns regarding the proposed service cuts, particularly the elimination of the Silver Line. While I understand the financial challenges PRT faces, I believe this proposal disproportionately harms communities that rely on public transit as a lifeline for accessing jobs, schools, healthcare, and other essential services.
The Silver Line serves neighborhoods that have depended on trolley service for over a century. Eliminating this line would sever critical connections for residents in these areas, leaving them without viable alternatives. This decision would not only disrupt daily commutes but also exacerbate economic and social inequities in our region.
I recognize that the Blue Line is currently the most popular route; however, this is largely due to the fact that the Red Line takes longer to reach downtown. If the service schedules and timetables were optimized to reduce travel times, the Red Line could effectively serve many of the same riders. Instead of cutting the Silver Line, I urge PRT to consider retaining the Red and Silver Lines while discontinuing the Blue Line if a line must be discontinued, which overlaps significantly with the Red Line and serves many of the same neighborhoods.
By focusing on the Red and Silver Lines, PRT can maintain coverage for all current neighborhoods without redundancy. For example, riders needing to travel from South Hills Village to Boggs could transfer from the Red Line to the Silver Line at Washington Junction, ensuring seamless connectivity. This approach preserves access for all communities currently served by the light rail system while optimizing resources.
This alternative strategy would demonstrate PRT's commitment to equitable transit solutions that prioritize the needs of all riders, particularly those in neighborhoods that would otherwise be left disconnected by the proposed cuts.
I urge the board to reconsider the proposed cuts and explore alternatives that minimize harm to our communities. Public transit is not just a service; it is a lifeline that connects people to opportunities and sustains the vitality of our region.
Thank you for your time and consideration.

CANNOT GET TO THE AIRPORT FOR EARLY MORNING FLIGHT / CANNOT TRAVEL LATE NIGHT
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
- 28X cut is ridiculous, can no longer rely on public transit for early morning flights (before 7am), like I'm broke is why I'm riding public transit you think I can afford otherwise?
- No service after 11pm is ridiculous for college student, and what happen if I'm accidentally in another place past 11pm? Walk two hours home? Be stranded there until the next morning?
- Optimize existing routes for efficiency first, before cutting anything. For example 58 59 needs great optimization, too many deviation from routes and loop around.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Have you had an outside source come in and audit this companies finances? Why bother with a big rebrand of port authority if that costs money and you're already doing poorly? This reeks of needing an external audit and actual budgeting instead of cutting off routes that are necessary for citizens to live, work, and travel. This should not fall on us, this falls on the executives and the city, you have to make it work with the routes you have already. Maybe cutting off one route if its not utilized a lot is fine, but this amount is ridiculous. Its a clear cry for attention or a sign that you need to pivot your business model instead of just giving up on half the city.
I used to live right next to a trolley stop, my family members have worked for your company, Port Authority has been a part of my life as long as I've been alive. I could see them running from my house and hear them every 1N/A minutes. I have NEVER been ashamed to have ties to this company, but now I can't help but feel like I've been let down immensely.

Hundreds of people rely on PRT to get into the city for work. Cutting these fares leaves these individuals with no way into the city except driving. The cheapest lot near my building is $13 a day. It's disgusting that this would force individuals to choose between a new job or paying double/triple to get to work. And that's the people with reliable cars! When my car was facing a $2,5N/AN/A repair, public transit is the only reason I got to work. You want more people in the city and then turn around and make it harder for people to come in.

Government spends more taxpayer money than it takes in and we are headed toward bankruptcy. Unless we raise taxes, cuts must be made across the board. There will always be a constituency that will predict dire consequences but, put simply, PRT needs to figure out how to pay for itself.
I also object to the way the survey question is intentionally manipulative. No one "supports" service reduction but, if that was PRT determines is the best way to balance its budget than so be it.

These increases are minimal and should likely be even higher to reduce service cuts and put PRT more on a path to self-sufficiency as it will not be able to depend on taxpayer-funded subsidies when the country goes bankrupt.

I do not have a car OR a drivers license. The neighborhood I live in also already has very limited parking with most people parking up all the streets! If all the south hills bus lines are cut, what happens when the red line inevitably breaks down or there's an accident? How will I get home? 1N/AN/A People will all be calling loved ones or using ride share and flooding downtown with more traffic. If the cuts happen I will have to move to a smaller more expensive apartment in a less safe neighborhood, and I'm happy and content here.

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
I think the fare increase is fine if this pay is being distributed to increase the bus drivers and train operators pay. These people put up with a TON of idiotic people every single day, and they should be paid accordingly. I would NOT be ok with this going into a raise for someone who just increased their GIANT yearly salary, god knows I'll never see money like that or have the option to choose my own pay. But this money needs to go towards finishing these huge projects, and the people who are doing the majority of the work, the drivers. I can afford a little extra out of my pocket for them.

Our community depends on bus and rail service, and Pittsburgh as a whole will suffer from these reductions. My friends will need to choose between their homes or their jobs because they're losing their only method of transportation. Ridership will drop, the PRT will take in less in fares, and the budget will drop again if we continue to react this way to deficits.

Bus and light rail service and fares

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Hello,
I am a resident of Carnegie, PA and I am a regular user of the PRT, especially the G2, 28X, and 31 busses. I understand that there are thankfully no changes planned on the G2 at the moment, but I also do see that there are to be significant reductions to the 28X and 31.
Right away, I see several key risks and problems that arise in the case of these reductions:
1. Lack of access to downtown and nearby communities for myself and others for whom bus service is essential.
2. Higher Cost of travel due to increased car dependency in the area. I would much rather pay a slightly higher bus fare than for a $3N/A uber to the doctor's office!
3. Increased traffic: Removing one 28x every hour equates to 4N/A-5N/A more cars on 376. Halving service on the 31 does the same, not just on the Parkway, but also on an already terribly congested Route 5N/A! As a resident of Carnegie where traffic is already bad enough on weekday rush hours, I can't even imagine how bad it would get once bus service is halved.
4. Health Risk: Increased car dependency leads to less people walking to the bus and visiting local business.
5. White Elephant: The West Busway was an over $32N/A million project. It already is underutilized with busses only coming once every 15-2N/A minutes between the G2 and 28X. Why let this crucial piece of infrastructure go to waste?
6. Drunk and Reckless Driving: Steeler and Pitt games are already a nightmare when it comes to traffic and present plenty of risk for drunk and reckless driving as it is. Taking away transit from locals skyrockets that risk. Rides hares are not an option as they gauge ($6N/A-$1N/AN/A is common) and just add more traffic to the roads. Left with no alternative, people with resort to driving "with just a little buzz" and will justify it due to the lack of options.
Working on this survey has been a great reflection on how much I use the busses myself, and it breaks my heart seeing all these routes facing the chopping block. Pittsburgh has one of the best transit systems in the country, especially for a city of its size (Not to mention one of the cleanest!). Cutting service doesn't just present frustration for me and my friends on a late Friday night- it actively harms the people whose livelihoods depend on transit; harms to communities whose businesses rely on foot traffic and employees who need transit to get to work; and harms the general well-being and public health of the entire area. This harm, coupled with a continued stream of cash into local roads and highways sets a disgusting precedent in the Pittsburgh area that your livelihood means nothing unless you have a car and can drive from your car dependent suburb and pay for your absurdly high parking price or ride share home.
And this is just the busses!! The Pittsburgh Light Rail (T) is better than the rapid transit systems of most cities double and triple its size! Do we not realize how lucky Pittsburgh is to have this!?
I am rooting for the PRT to work this out and I am a firm believer they will. Wishing you the best of luck and I will happily support the PRT and its funding goals wherever necessary.
-Joe

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Many members of the greater Pittsburgh area community rely on the public transportation available in order to access their place of employment and be able to support themselves and their family. A large number of the proposed service reductions include completely removing public transportation for regions, leaving those without reliable personal transportation stranded without any means of transportation. This has a massive negative affect on these communities, as many would have to leave or be left with little opportunity. Additionally, this greatly negatively impacts the locations where these people used to be able to work as they will see a significant reduction in workforce.
Public transportation has always been a hallmark of a well functioning and thriving community. Without access to public transportation it will be much more difficulty for Pittsburgh to grow, additionally these reductions will make the city much less attractive as a location for young people and new businesses to move to. These cuts I believe will have an outsized impact on Pittsburgh's growth and future as a growing city, and will cause significant decline in the prosperity of the city.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
As a mental health professional, any cuts to our current public transportation services will be detrimental to the individuals I serve in Allegheny County. The population that I work with are individuals with a chronic and persistent mental illness, most likely on some type of SSI or SSDI, or at an income level that does not allow them the luxury of owning a vehicle. All cuts to the area in which I work will not just hinder, but devastate my population. These are individuals who rely on PRT for every mental health appointment they have, which include those appointments that prescribe psychiatric medication. If an individual who takes psychiatric medication is not accurately monitored or misses appointments with their psychiatrist, they will not be able to receive their live-saving medications. Cutting the bus service in Allegheny County will literally cause the individuals I serve to have their physical and mental health endangered. This is unacceptable to me, a tax-payer who has worked in the mental health industry for 27 years, primarily in the Allegheny County area. Although I am capable of empathizing with budget cuts that many deem necessary, cutting public transportation in this area is incredibly devasting to more than just the mental health population that I serve. It is devastating and, in fact, discriminating, to those in Allegheny County who have less money than their wealthier counterparts who can afford a car, gas, insurance and vehicle maintenance. I can assure you that I will be contacting my state legislator to voice my very valid concerns.

An individual who has Supplemental Security Income (SSI) makes, at most, $967 a month, per the research that is currently available to me as of this date. That is $11, 604 per year. Based on your data, purchasing an annual pass would lessen their yearly income to $10,432.50. I feel that this information is comment enough in order to justify my feelings that an increase in fares is not financially feasible to many individuals who ride your public transportation and, in turn, pay all of PRT's employee salaries.

I do not have a car and do not drive and Pittsburgh is already a backwards place for public transportation, and PRT has mismanaged us for ages under any of its names. The 88 is the only route down Penn Ave to the children's hospital and downtown, it is full of people going to work every morning and coming home each afternoon. Halving the frequency would cause major disruption to so many people. Cutting the silver line and reducing the T is also terrible. It would increase drunk driving after sporting events, and hurt the student population as well. The same applies for no busses after 11pm.

I live in Friendship, and I absolutely rely on lines such as the 87 and 88, so it would be incredibly difficult to deal with doubled wait times. No service after 11pm will have a terrible impact on commuter students like me. In addition, the complete removal of service to areas like Mt. Washington, Brookline, Greentree, etc., as well as the Silver Line cut, is appalling and vile, considering how many people I know personally commute downtown or to Oakland from those neighborhoods.
My partner is vision impaired and physically cannot drive a vehicle to school or work. We were planning on settling down in Pittsburgh but will be forced to move if these cuts are approved for next year.
I love my city, and I would give anything to stay here. Please do whatever you can to make sure these cuts don't go through. This will have permanent, devastating consequences for the quality of life of Pittsburghers everywhere.

Bus and light rail service and fares

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would have to move to another home/dwelling where transit is available
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Cutting both the P16 and P67 is unacceptable. I have used the former for my daily commute for years, and the latter is the only alternative. Although I am fortunate enough to own a car, many people aren't, and this is taking away much needed transit from my neighborhood (Blackridge) which has seen similar draconian cuts over the past two decades. Not having a viable transportation system will continue to exacerbate the brain drain from this region and this state overall. Why should I, as a taxpayer, stay here when my tax dollars aren't being used to build up the infrastructure of public transit in our city—one of the mainstays of any modern city? I'm not sure how the NFL draft next year is even going to work with these cuts, which will further congest the streets. Not having a real public transit system will drive other events away from our region, which will hurt businesses and tax revenue. I ask that the state provides enough money for Pittsburgh to live up to its moniker as a "livable city."

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I rely on the bus to get to work, the grocery store, and social things when I cannot take my bike. I do not have a car. While I have an e-bike and I am equipped to use it, I work as a social worker at UPMC Magee and many of my patients rely solely on the bus to receive prenatal care, and it would be devastating to have the bus not be accessible to them to be able to get to medical appointments, WIC appts, the grocery store, etc.

How can you leave a community like Millvale without bus service? I have TWO jobs and I ride the bus to both jobs. If I lose my bus, then I can't get to work. It's unacceptable for you to eliminate the 2 Mount Royal....especially when the "bus line redesign" had FOUR buses going through Millvale! You go from possibly providing 4 bus routes through Millvale to ZERO? Where is the logic behind that? Do NOT take away the 2 Mount Royal!!!

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The Greenfield bus always comes under the guillotine when you propose changes. Please stop threatening to completely eliminate bus service to my portion of Greenfield (above Hazelwood Avenue, down to Greenfield Avenue and Second Avenue).
I use this bus to get to and from work at the University of Pittsburgh, four days a week at a minimum. While I have alternatives to taking the bus, other people in my immediate neighborhood are not as fortunate. A number of elderly people live in my neighborhood and depend on the bus to get to shopping, medical appointments, and other necessary and social meetings. These people are not physically capable of walking 3/4 of a mile or more from a main bus line to get home with purchases, etc., particularly when you consider Pittsburgh's hilly landscape. Additionally, many families live in my neighborhood, meaning that any number of middle school, high school, and young college students depend on the bus to get to and from school.
I myself am considered an "older" adult, just a few years from retirement age. And while I could certainly make that 3/4 mile walk from a main bus line twice a day, or even walk the 2+ miles to and from the University of Pittsburgh to continue working, weather conditions will not always make that pleasant, safe, or even a possibility at times.

I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The proposed changes will be absolutely devastating to Allegheny County - to its residents and to the economy. There are thousands of people who rely on public transit to get to work daily. Traffic will increase exponentially if these people have to drive, provided they even have a car, which many do not. My husband and I have been able to happily own one car for over 15 years now because he can take the bus into downtown to get to work. Who will help us buy a second car? Where will people park? There's already a parking shortage. Which is why many people drive in from other counties and use the Park and Ride lots. What about them? They might have to get a different job. And what about our most vulnerable population of seniors and people will disabilities who cannot drive? How will they get to things like essential medical appointments? DUIs will also increase, as many people who rely on public transit to go to various events around the city and county will have to drive instead. Some people may choose to not even come, which will result in a massive impact to our local economy which will also impact the State as well. I'd also like to mention that we truly love public transit, and often plan fun days by which bus or T we can take somewhere new. Driving sucks, public transit makes it a fun adventure and inspires us to go to new places. This will impact our decisions to go places which will also affect the economy. I can guarantee we will not be alone in those decisions. What about kids who take public transit to get to and from school? Are they supposed to walk many miles instead? That is incredibly unsafe. Please save our public transit. I do not understand why so many other cities and counties of similar populations are able to successfully run theirs, some of which are entirely free to ride! But somehow ours keeps nearly failing. I will support a fare increase if it means saving our current routes. I live in Greenfield and the 58 is one of the proposed routes to be eliminated, leaving on the 61s which run way up on Murray Ave and are often too full to get a seat. These proposed cuts absolutely cannot happen.

I rely on PRT every day to get to my job in Downtown from Forest Hills. I don't drive because of seizures and have to rely on the bus. Taking an Uber/Lyft everyday isn't just expensive, but it's not as reliable. By cutting these routes, you'd be cutting the entire eastern suburb from easy access to downtown.

This would GREATLY affect me. I take the G3 Moon Flyer, I live out that way. There is no other busses that I can take that would be flexible. the 21 takes over an hour to get to town, and only runs every 2 hours. You would need to make that bus come more often. The only other bus that is close is the 28X the airport bus where there is NO WHERE to park. You can't park at IKEA anymore in Robinson, and all the Robinson stops have no parking risk of towing on them. If you are going to cut the Moon bus then you need to make a park n ride, or somewhere for people to park for the 28X. The next closest bus is the g2 in Carnegie, which is an extra 2N/A-minute drive. Thats extra gasoline on your vehicles, more wear and tear and more people in the Carnegie Park n ride that is not big enough to hold all of Moon G3 riders. The G3 is normally full too, with them using bigger busses now but you still want to cut it, and force people to get up and leave 2 hours early to take the 21 or PAY to park at the airport, while also paying to ride the bus. I will have to think about quitting my job if this happens.

Maybe instead of increasing the bus fare, decrease the number of reduced or free rates for example when I went to Pitt, I got a free bus pass with my student ID, maybe take that away or make it reduced. When I transferred to Duquesne my bus fare was less instead of free. Increasing the rate to ride the bus is just going to hurt people like me who are already low income and can barely pay their bills as it is.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The public transit in this city is already rough. These changes would make it barely usable and push even more people to have to drive and park in this city with bad traffic and parking as it is.
Personally, I would have to consider finding a new job, as I work downtown and have limited bus access as it is from my neighborhood (Swisshelm Park, I typically take the P71).
I could understand these changes if "back to office" mandates were not slowly being implemented by many companies.

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
The fare increase is not much for me personally and I could manage if I had to. It is more an issue that the fare increase in combination with significant reduction in routes and bus frequency for many lines would seem impractical.

Everybody will always complain that price increases are not manageable, but if we have to pay more money and spend even longer trying to get to our destinations or back home (e.g., I would have approximately 30-45 minutes added to my one-way commute and have to pay more for it), is a lose-lose situation.

I use the Red Line to get to my job downtown and would be greatly impacted by service cuts. I would need to significantly adjust my schedule and/or drive to work downtown, where parking is already at a premium and would be much more expensive, impacting my budget.
I would also be greatly affected by the cuts to the 39 and 41 bus lines that serve Brookline and the surrounding area as traffic would increase and I would have no public transit alternative to the T.

Proposed cuts from North Hills and suburbs basically eliminates all bus routes. I ride the O1 for work in the city. Alternative busses would be the O12 and 8. These 2 busses are twice as long time wise to reach downtown. The O1 only operates in Morning and late afternoon. Currently the 28X has a stop at my university (CMU). Under the proposal, it would require two transfers to get on the 28X. This would greatly increase travel time to and from the airport, potentially making it impossible to take early morning (when departing) or late night (when arriving) flights.
Also, I frequently use the bus after 11 PM to eat dinner at restaurants. While I can walk to some restaurants, I do not feel safe doing so at night, and I rely on the bus service to transport me safely to and from my residence.

I strongly oppose the proposed budget cuts to Pittsburgh's bus system. These cuts would greatly increase my travel time, and I am very centrally located in Pittsburgh. I cannot imagine the types of inequities these cuts would create for those with few alternatives. These reductions are completely devastating for so many groups of people from so many areas; they cut off essential access to jobs, healthcare, and daily necessities. Public transit is such a lifeline, and these reductions would disproportionately impact those who use it the most. I urge decision-makers to reconsider and prioritize funding for the public transit system.

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
My main interaction with PRT is on the West Busway and I mainly catch the G2, G3, or G31 into town. Eliminating the G3 and G31 in their entirety would leave only the G2 going into town in the mornings. Between this and the increase in wait times for the G2, my options for using public transportation to get to my place of employment downtown would be greatly limited. With just one bus line accessing downtown in the mornings on the West Busway, my options for buses would go from 4-8 buses to just one or two in the morning. This would severely limit the schedule flexibility I have for my job and would likely cause me to drive in more often than I do now. I chose my current place of residence because of the West Busway and my ability to catch a number of buses into town. I chose this location over others because I did not want to be limited by buses or trolleys that ran infrequently. Now I will face that same limitation despite the fact that the Busways were created to facilitate faster and more accessible transportation into and out of the city.
Additionally, though I mainly use the West Busway, I and many people I know often catch or rely on the buses that serve the South Hills. Cutting the 36, 38, 39, and 41 lines would pretty much remove all options for public transportation in the South Hills. The T is unreliable at best and does not serve as ideal transportation when I or someone I know would have to drive to a T stop to catch the T into town when before they could walk down their street to catch the bus. This would be highly detrimental to those in the South Hills that are unable to drive to a T stop or relied on the buses to access the city.

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
I have no problem with paying more money to ensure that my service remains as is. In fact, I would be happy to pay more than the $6 it would cost if the fares were increased to ensure that services wouldn't be cut. I would be fine with paying $3.50 or more to ensure that no bus lines are cut.

The greater Pittsburgh region's current transit system is already an uncoordinated and ill prepared, failing system. To make these significant changes to an already poorly equipped infrastructure would be damaging to the region and community members. I would encourage people running PRT to attempt to utilize the transportation system they are paid to maintain to understand how challenging and poor it currently is, in addition to attempt to travel with these proposed changes.

with prices rising significantly, people just can't find "another job". If I work 2 jobs just to make ends meet, now you are risking me not being able to get to work or to the grocery store. Not only that but if I can't get to work, then I can't pay rent and since finding somewhere affordable to live, will cause me to be possibly homeless. I want to work and catching the bus is my only way to get around. If I can't catch the bus, then I can't afford a ride share every day of the week. Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I live with my mom in Carnegie 151N/A6, but I also visit and stay with my dad in West Mifflin 15122. I've been a regular rider of Pittsburgh Regional Transit since 2N/A19 when I started going to school at the University of Pittsburgh, and now I continue to rely on PRT to get to and from work. When I'm at home with my mom, I take a total of four buses every weekday to get to work. I take a G2 downtown and then transfer to a 61 or 71 and get off uptown at Mercy Hospital. In the afternoon, I take a 61 or 71 downtown and then transfer to a G2 or G31 to return home to Carnegie. The proposed service reductions would increase the travel time of my commute from my current job downtown to Carnegie and reduce my flexibility. Instead of having two options during my evening commute, the G2 and G31, I would have to rely solely on the G2. The G2 is often crowded in the evenings, and I fear with the elimination of the G31 and increased wait times this overcrowding will only increase. It is not uncommon to get on the G2 downtown during rush hour to full seats and standing passengers filling up the aisle from the front to the back of the bus. The G31 helps to break up this crowd by providing an alternate option for passengers traveling to Carnegie and is an essential resource for those traveling to Bridgeville.
I would be unable to stay with my dad if the proposed service reductions are enacted due to the elimination of the 52L. The 52L allows me to travel from home to work and vice versa. From West Mifflin I take a 52L downtown and then transfer to a 61 or 71 and get off uptown at Mercy Hospital, and then do the reverse in the afternoon. With the elimination of the 52L the closest possible bus route I could take to get to work on time is the 59, which is a 23-minute walk from my home along busy roads with no sidewalks. Not to mention I would have to wake up a whole hour earlier in the morning to accommodate for its schedule and the one mile walk at the crack of dawn. This would not only be unsuitable for me, but also unsafe. Due to the void of public transportation these service reductions would create, I would no longer be able to stay with my dad as I would not have a safe and reliable means of public transportation to get to work from his house, effectively cutting me off from half of my family. This is not an option for me. If these proposed changes go into effect, I will be seeking other means of travel to complete my daily essentials of traveling to work and visiting family thereby rescinding my ridership to Pittsburgh Regional Transit. The service reductions propose too much threat to my livelihood to continue relying on Pittsburgh Regional Transit.

As a resident of Shadyside, my partner and I heavily rely on the bus to get us to work, shopping destinations, and other activities. We are a one car household and we chose to live in this neighborhood because of how accessible the bus routes are to us here. Over the last few years, I have used the bus to commute to work weekly. These services are a necessity for my household and so many others around me. PRT should be focused on ways to expand service rather than reduce services.

While I am happy to pay the increased fair compared to the $20 a day parking garage fees, my main concern is for those in the community who already have trouble paying the current fare. If the fare increase will help improve service or keep service running as is, I am happy to pay a little more, but I worry about accessibility for the entire community who rely on public transit and might not be able to afford the increase.

I live in Presidential Arms apartments, and already have limited bus service, but it works with my schedule. I don't drive, and my husband also works. Losing bus service would mean I wouldn't be able to get to my job, which I love. Also, I work with a disadvantaged population who relies on the busses to get to and from work and appointments, and would be stranded without transportation. Public Transportation is necessary for a thriving community and we need more routes, not fewer. Cutting bus service would not only mean loss of income and health for those with no other options, but also increased traffic, pollution, and road fatalities due to more cars being on the roads. Please reconsider, and do not proceed with these cuts.

Cutting so many lines would cause such a catastrophic impact. My family, in particular, would need to find new childcare which is already too expensive. We would have to find an alternative way to access the city from Moon Twp. Driving and parking daily is too expensive. Bus and light rail service and fares

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would have to move to another home/dwelling where transit is available
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I live in the south hills where you are proposing cutting all transit services. I have no other transportation, have medical issues and I would not be able to work. I would lose my home an my job, and my home of 3N/A+ years. Therefore I would not be able to pay taxes to support this STUPID IDEA!!! Why is it the south hills area is being cut why not the city areas? It appears that you are cutting transit to the middle income/moderate income areas. I need transportation for work , medical appointments and food shopping. Will whoever made this riduclous decision be my new transportation? I do not want to be homeless and this is what will happen if this riduclous idea occurrs. I do not believe that you all will care what is sent into you by this form. I have no faith in the PRT executives that made this stupid decision. When I am waiting for my bus after work at Smithfield and Fort Pitt Blvd there are 6 carrick buses that go by before my Y47 curry bus comes. The 6 carrick buses are mostly empty. Why don't you cut some of those buses? Perhaps someone should take over the bus service in Allegheny County/privatize it. I do not think it would be worse than the mismanagement it is today. Why don't the executives take a paycut to help out your riders. Quit giving free bus passes out. Everyone should pay for their trip. BOTTOM LINE, DO NOT CUT THE BUS SERVICE IN THE SOUTH HILLS!!!!

The proposed service reductions will cut off entire communities. Not everyone can afford a car. Bus and rail lines, even "under performing" ones, need to be viewed as a public service to facilitate economic growth, not a way to make money. Tax the major businesses and institutions to pay for it.

I take the Silver Line from Library Station to Gateway Station 2-3 times weekly to get to work. It allows me to avoid driving commute and paying high downtown parking fees. Extra gas costs and parking fees would surely add inconvenience to my life from a logistics and financial standpoint. This service reduces road congestion and gives suburban individuals opportunities to walk to their stations that are in proximity to their homes. Forcing people to drive 2N/A+ minutes to Blue Line's garage complicates the process and still requires us to sit in road traffic. At the end of the day, our 2N/A minute drive could be even greater depending on rush hour traffic. Making access to this service more complicated will only deter people from using it altogether. It has already been complicated with shuttle services running from Washington Junction to Library after 6 pm - which is far too early for many people who work office jobs. Please think about the seamless-ness of the service being offered and how that can disturb rider interest.

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
This is much higher than other metropolitan centers. It wouldn't greatly affect me, but I'm sure many others see this as another barrier to usage.

While the fair increases for my family will be tough, I worry about those in a worse situation than myself. i also work in the non-profit sector and see many clients who rely on public transportation who would be greatly affected by this. As a non-profit, we budget to assist with providing fares for those without means and this would greatly affect our budget as well.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I'm so sad about these proposed cuts. So many people rely on the bus, and having functional transit is important to our city. I am personally mainly a bike rider, but appreciate being able to put my bike on the bus to facilitate farther trips, either for timing or to get to places that may be treacherous to ride. It is already difficult for me to make a trip completely on the bus because of the schedules of routes to some parts of town, but the bike-bus combo has been useful so often. I worry that reducing so many routes and the hours available will make the whole system less reliable and useful, and reduce ridership and therefore bring in less money to keep it available at all.

Pittsburgh is a car-heavy region where the reliance on cars is rising higher than other, similar sized cities throughout the country, made even more glaring by the severe lack of public transit infrastructure. It makes sense that with the topographical challenges of the region that subways and light rail are challenging (the T is a joke) so the reliance on buses makes sense and is helpful to riders. The proposed service cuts would not only limit ridership and potentially turn riders away from PRT, but will make the ridership experience far worse, also potentially forcing riders away.
I rode the P1 to downtown for work every day. That bus is always crowded but reliable, more than could be said for many other routes. I was also a rider of the 54C and 54D, which were not reliable and already provided limited flexibility in availability. The proposed cuts would only make these problems worse and hurt the people who live and work around the public transit system.
Please leverage your government relations team to get more money from the State's budget and/or the federal Dept of Transportation.

I work for a social service non-profit that helps house homeless and at-risk individuals in Allegheny/Westmoreland counties. This service reduction and fare increase will negatively impact every single individual I work with on a daily basis. These individuals use the busses and the T to get to and from work and home. They rely on these services to make it possible for them to remain employed and housed, and already struggle to afford to pay for bus fares as it is. The reduction in services will impact the most low-income and vulnerable communities in our county. The people who have to rely on public transportation to get to and from work every day will be left without reliable transportation and will be forced to either walk, spend egregious amounts of money on a rideshare service, or lose their jobs because they have no other mode of transportation. This will directly cause individuals to not be able to pay their rent or utilities, and will cause more people in Allegheny County to become homeless because they are unable to get to and from work every day.

I wouldn't be able to get to my place of work -- St. Margarets from Bellevue where I live.
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Cutting service at 11:N/AN/A pm isn't a good idea. Alot of riders get off at 11:N/AN/A pm and must take two or three buses to get home.
Please indicate if you oppose or support the proposed fare increases:

Fare increase impacts (bus and rail):
I would have to make decisions about whether to pay for transit or other essential expenses
Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
This increase would cause a hardship on a lot of folks using the Port Authority system. Most could probably absorb the price increase, but other necessities such as food and utilities would be impaced.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
It's ridculous to cut routes and then to increase fair prices. Riders have dealing for months with delays due to construction projects and now you're just getting rid of service all together! The south hills is virtually losing almost all service! What a shame. The 39 Brookline bus is always full when I ride it and I can't believe this will be cut. Not everyone lives by Mcneilly, South Bank or Potomac to take the T and not everyone is able to physically get to those destinations. People depend on public transit to get to work. Now there will be more traffic and more accidents with inexperienced and anxiety filled drivers on the road. Plus people can't afford the enormous amount it is to pay for a lease to park downtown.
I can't believe for a region that is about to host the NFL draft, that they are taking away transportation to help people get to downtown and the north shore to help boost the economy. I prefer to take public transit downtown because it's easier and convenient and if I will no longer have access, then I will no longer be spending my money downtown or on the north shore.
Pittsburgh is the second largest city in this state and a shame Harrisburg is not giving PRT the correct funding to reflect that.
Maybe if public transit was more accessible and more frequent then more people would take it.
What about expanding the T to the strip district, or to Oakland. Make buses to the north hills run more and have reliable service on the weekends.
Public Transportation is a citizen right, not a privilege and it's a shame that PRT will now have barriers to entry for individuals to be able to ride.
This will affect people not wanting to work downtown and affect the economy of downtown that is still recovering from the pandemic.
What about Pittsburgh Public School children that take the bus to CAPA or Sci Tech? What will happen for them? Will PPS be able to provide them buses to take them to school?
Cutting service has too many implications that will only separate our city, instead of bringing it together.

Eliminating bus connections to Mt. Lebanon is highly detrimental to the community and the current road infrastructure. You will be increasing the cost of living by forcing people to buy cars, thus increasing congestion and pollution, as well as reducing affordability of both the City and the suburbs. This will make Pittsburgh as a whole much less desirable to live.

I would have to move out of state. I live here because there is a transit system. I do not drive at all. It is my only way to get around. I would have to quit my job, move, find new doctors. It would up route my entire life- I might as well move. Not to mention the price is already higher then most systems. Others cost only 2N/A dollars per week. Ours is 25. They want to cut most of the busses and raise the price? To what end? Make us all move away? Make it so we can't work or go to school or see doctors or buy groceries? Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
the 67/69 buses are already extremely overcrowded at peak times. It is absolutely packed to the brim and it is honestly quite unbearable. They are also notriously delayed and unreliable, with both buses showing up within 5 minutes of each other, and nothing else showing up for the next 1-2 hours. Removing the 69 will only make this problem worse - the bus can physically not hold anymore people, and it will be preventing a major population from being able to travel. The fix in this case is to increase the number of buses or to make them come on time, not reduce.
The 64 is the only way to directly reach shadyside and lawrenceville from squirrel hill. This is a major route that many people take to get to jobs and to be able to be in more parts of the city. it is already heavily unreliable on the weekends, only showing up every hour. again, the fix is to increase the number of buses, not reduce. the 64 is also an extremely safe way to get home late at night. taking this away will be harmful.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
My family is one of the many Pittsburgh households that lives mostly car-free, opting to use PRT services, walk, and bicycle to get around the city. The availability and accessibility of these services is one of the major reasons why we decided to live in Pittsburgh. If public transit continues to weaken, it will heavily weigh in our decision whether to remain here or to move to a more transit-friendly city. Many young professionals in my social circle (late 2N/As - mid 3N/As) have the same outlook - we contribute to the tax base, value public transit highly, and are generally quite mobile both professionally and personally. Although I understand the many reasons, I am saddened to see PRT forced to enter a "doom spiral" that will likely lead to reduced ridership and financial resources mutually reinforcing each other in the years to come. I have also worked in social services and know that this reduction will have a truly perverse, catastrophic impact on our most vulnerable families and elderly people, many of whom both cannot afford to live in wealthier areas of the city and also rely on PRT services for basic daily activities.

Public transit is essential to the common good in our region. Although I am fortunate to have alternative means of transportation should these reductions go into effect, I am deeply concerned about the people these proposed reductions hurt the most--the elderly, the disabled, and those without alternatives to get to work, doctors appointments, and elsewhere.

These fare increases are far too small. Get serious and put in real increases. All year fares should be $1,900. All day should be at least $12.00. A seven day pass should be $32.00. The 31 day pass should be a $120.00 minimum. Look at the price of vehicles, fuel and parking. Get real about increases. Your drivers are making a fortune and the cost of a bus has doubled.

It seems time to live with the bed that you have made. While you are announcing your death spiral I am also hearing advertisements to hire more drivers on the radio, so apparently you do not take the cuts you are proposing seriously. In the past decade you have walked away from a 2 zone fare system, which would have better supported longer and low density routes, embarked on an unnecessary and confusing rebranding, and fired drivers for expressing the personal freedoms. Based on your poor business decisions for the last few years perhaps its time to live within your means and rebuild your service incrementally in a cost efficient and fiscally responsible environment.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I am a social worker who treats people who are primarily disabled and low income. Most of my clients use the bus to get to my office in Oakland. My clients live all over Allegheny County and beyond, over bridges and through tunnels. Their access to a car is extremely limited, most without a driver's license. Their main supports, including family and friends, are often limited too, so they are unable to rely on many other people except themselves to get to appointments via a bus. They have already been telling me how worried they are about their routes being cut. Their access to medical care will be hindered. I am very concerned about these service route cuts. These cuts make for a smaller city, one that is certainly not "the most livable". Pittsburgh should be expanding access, not eliminating it.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Many of my clients would not be able to access mental health services, as they rely on these buses to transport them to and from therapy. These clients would need to utilize ACCESS. Using ACCESS would require them to call in advance, and there are a lot of clients who are not capable of doing this. All bus services from my area would be eliminated. I'm most concerned about route 41. I'm a senior citizen. If I wish to travel to senior activities at PITT this is the bus I would take downtown. The 41 going in the opposite direction passes the JCC South Hills. This JCC hosts many free activities for seniors. Many seniors go to the JCC to maintain their health. Elimination will hurt seniors, JCC and community. All these cuts are a bad idea. Ask Elon Musk for money. He has plenty.

I am an occasional transit user, but have long wanted to use it more. Unfortunately, the current service is inadequate for that to be a realistic option. It is difficult to get anywhere quickly and the frequency is nearly always a consideration. These proposed cuts would have my usage down to nothing. I have other options, but feel for those who rely on it. If you want to have a viable system that people want to pay for and use, you have to do exponentially better, not 35% worse. More cuts mean less riders and it'll be a vicious cycle until transit is all but dead.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
reducing service will only lead to a lower usage of transit, making it less reliable, and so ridership will only further decrease, leading to a continuing snowball. we just spent months, and millions, to improve the T lines, to reduce service would mean this was wasted.
cutting transit will only harm those who are most venerable. I have a car, I can adapt. not everyone can. and those are the people who will be locked out even more by these changes. the people we are meant to serve.
not only that, but these changes mean I drive more, and others do, we are only worsening traffic on our roads, and dumping ever more greenhouse gasses into our city. we have come so far to have cleaner air, don't ruin it.
I am not from this city, but I am proud to live here. we can be better.
Also, I know you, reading this, are not the one to direct my ire at. so I hope you have a good day. I hope that this makes your day somewhat better, to read this, but I hope most of all we keep moving forward into a better world.

My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Both the P1N/A and 1 are vital for travel from the AK valley to downtown. Without these routes we will be forced to travel by car only

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
Rather than increasing fares, which impact the elderly and less fortunate, a greater focus should be placed on working equipment within the bus that can accept both cash and app at all times. May times this equipment doesn't work and the bus driver will let people get on for free. If you can afford it, you can't ride. If the equipment isn't working, a new bus needs swapped in.

Why make the customers suffer because the higher ups can't do their jobs managing the company?
Shouldn't this turn into an audit of who in the company is making such detrimental impacts that the transit cannot sustain itself?
While I respect this is a public entity, why is it so dependent on outside funding? This level of incompetence should result in the higher ups being eliminated.
Why is the CEO salary so high when the only thing that's happened since the change over was a name change (PAT to PRT)? And even that was a huge mess!
And that's an ongoing issue with riders and labeling busses and other things like the garages.

There needs to be an audit of what this company is doing with the monies they've been getting. This is a giant embezzlement scheme that needs exposed.

With ongoing work to light rail as well as general unreliable service, eliminating bus service to the Mount Lebanon area is detrimental to people who rely on public transit for timely and affordable commutes. Bus service supports cancellations and delays to light rail routes and elimination would not only affect those that regularly take the bus but also those that may be left stranded or with lengthy delays due to the frequent issues with light rail

I am someone who has used public transit since 2N/A18 after I graduated high school. The proposed cuts would cut off so many folk from work and the city this raising traffic and the accidents and Uber fairs cus not everyone owns or afford the cars. I have one car. My partner uses it. I don't drive. Cutting out lines from communities like Brookline, greenfield, and the prospect flyer and curry flyer is detrimental. Greenfield is a community in flux of the old generation and the new. Many old folks use the bus in the day cus they can't walk far or something. Brookline is another community where they need the bus for town. Then the curry and prospect flyers go through two apartment communities that are lower income and high immigrant population. Many use that bus to go grocery shopping and many also use those buses to get to ccac south campus. On top of those, being that these are ones I take or have taken cus I've either lived there, have family, or needed it for class... You're cutting off other communities that only have one bus for there, thus making it hard for everyone. I will not be going into the conundrum that is the redesign project at this moment. You do not realize how much this is going to screw over the Pittsburgh area. Putting this here as well, I wouldn't care if I paid 3 bucks for a pass if you weren't cutting this many lines. Where are my taxes going?

Pittsburgh already has a serious lack in pertinent transportation infrastructure which strongly disadvantages lower income families, people with disabilities, and every community in the city. This shortfall could be avoided by increasing taxes on the wealthiest earners and companies in Pittsburgh and directing that money towards transportation. I work with unhoused and underemployed folks in this city who heavily rely on buses for transportation and they are already struggling with the current routes. Please do not make any cuts to public transportation. Please. So many people need this resource.

The fare increases may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
Most of the people I work with cannot afford bus fare and rely on free fares either from substance use treatment centers or our program. Most people who rely on the buses for transportation would be choosing transportation over their necessities like food or electricity bills. And the programs that exist for these things are not sufficient either. Please do not increase the bus fares. It will make buses far more inaccessible to people who need them, people will lose their employment and return to homelessness. 25 cents per fare is significant, especially for people who are already struggling to get by.

Moving away from critical infratructure for people who need it will disadvantage everyone and benefit none. The people who rely on Access are people who have no other means to get around and are already struggling to use public transit. People in wheelchairs can't get up and down the steep hills to bus stops, people with chronic pain don't have the ability to travel further to transportation. This change will actively create harm against people who need help.

Other comments (ACCESS fare increases):
This is critical and necessary infrastructure which many people rely on. People receiving SSI get about 950/month for all their bills and utilities. We know medicaid and medicare are experiencing budget cuts, so their coverage for ACCESS could diminish as well. Someone making under 1000/month cannot afford increased fares to their multiple medical appointments each month with other increased costs like medicine copays, provider copays, increased bus far, inflation, rising food costs, etc. Please do not increase these fares.

If they eliminate the 39 brookline bus service I will have no way to get to work or to the doctor. I do not drive and never have. I live in the Mt. Washington/Allentown/Beltzhoover neighborhood. Although I now work from home and do not frequently utilize the PRT as much as I have in the past, I do know that many of my neighbors use the bus and light rail for daily trips - both for work and pleasure. The walkability of Pittsburgh is already abysmal - if major cuts were to be made to the already minimal routes, how will the population of citizens without cars or drivers licenses get around? How will they get to work? How will they visit family? How will they enjoy the restaurants and events that this city prides itself on? How will they access the city government buildings to even speak in person on these very issues? Kids and teens use PRT to get to school, young adults who moved here to attend college use it to safely get to and from the bar, workers use it to get to their jobs. It is, frankly, shocking that we are even considering cuts to routes when we're already behind other major U.S. cities in terms of availability of public transport.

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The 53L being removed would be a major detriment to Munhall. There would no longer be a one seat ride from this section of Munhall to Downtown. Instead, we would have to transfer via the 57 or 61C. Given the weak bus schedule of the 53L already, I take the P1 (which is a 1N/A minute drive from my house) at least 3x/week, 5 in the winter because of the temperatures/weather. I would also suggest with the 53L to less routes go through The Waterfront. This takes time away from people getting to and from work.
Regarding the routes I oppose changing, I will provide clarity here:
2 -- Shaler and Hampton lose access
4 -- Troy Hill and Reserve lose access
12 -- Timing would be a concern if O12 is eliminated
14 -- Most of northwest Pittsburgh loses transit access 19L -- Same as 14.
2N/A -- Most of Kennedy would lose access. I would recommend rerouting this to make it less confusing.
28X -- Most college students use this to go to the Airport. This could result in people taking 3 buses to go to the airport (a University line bus, the G2, then 28X).
29 -- North Fayette would lose access.
36 -- Banksville would lose access. The Potomac and Dormont Junction Park and Rides are options for residents, but this would require the lots to be expanded.
38 -- Greentree Road would lose access and Scott Township would not be properly served. I recommend only having one branch of this route.
39 -- Brookline would lose quality access. They would have to rely on South Busway, and this is inefficient if there is only 1 South Busway route remaining.
4N/A -- The incline is not fully operational. Many Mt. Washington residents do not live close to the incline anyway.
41 -- Scott Township access issue from 38. This could also prevent crowding on the Red Line if kept.
44 -- North Baldwin loses all transit access. There are no safe areas to park nearby.
52L -- Same concerns as 53L. Mostly with car access in Whitaker.
56 -- Crowding concerns. If the 53L is reduced, people in munhall may drive to Mifflin + Interboro, then take the bus from there. Also, Muldowney Park and Ride is not large enough to hold cars.
58 -- Greenfield would cause the 61C and 61D to be crowded. Not all residents can walk to Murray Avenue safely either. I would recommend removing Oakland from this route.
64 -- This bus is always used. I would not recommend removing overnight service.
69 -- Riders need as many one seat options to town as possible.
G2 -- This bus needs to not be reduced.
G3 -- The flyer route from RMU needs to remain. I would recommend having the same routing throughout the day.
G31 -- Same concerns as G3, but with the G31 applied.
O1 -- This would make the Ross Park and Ride unsafe and unuseful. Riders should not have to walk to Perry Highway to catch a bus.
O12 -- This would make it unreliable for North Hills residents to commute Downtown. I also recommend having a consistent route throughout the day.
P7 -- I also take this bus if there are days I do not want to surround myself with the P1 crowds.
P12 -- Plum would lose access. This bus is also always full.
P16 -- Penn hills is a large area, and a flyer is needed. I recommend having less branches.
P17 -- I would recommend having this route only go to Downtown and not merging it with the 79.
P67 -- Riders need quick access from the eastern suburbs. The 67 would take too long for Monroeville riders. Can the 67 use the Monroeville Park and Ride?
P69 -- Riders in Turtle Creek, Pitcairn, Wilmerding, and Forest Hills would lose one seat rides to Downtown.
P76 -- Same concerns as P69, with the municipalities being Forest Hills, East McKeesport, North Versailles, and White Oak.
Y46 -- If one South Busway route remains, provide an increase in service.
Y47 -- Most Baldwin and Whitehall riders would lose access. While they can drive to Washington Junction, will they get a parking spot?
Y49 -- same as above.
Silver Line -- South Park would lose access.
Red Line -- Crowding would occur because of reduction in length.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Since the majority of offices reopened for in person work after COVID, the quality of service on the light rail lines has drastically decreased. At least 2 out of the 3 days I commute, I experience delays which impact my getting to the office on time and picking up my children from daycare. Increasing the fares for subpar service seems to be counter productive. My employer requires me to come into the office but I also cannot afford the parking garage fees downtown. If the light rail eliminates the silver line, that will increase the number of riders on the cars and will increase the amount of time I have to wait for a car to arrive. With the proposed cuts to service after 11 pm, I hope this does not apply for events. Many times I will ride the T to and from sporting events and concerts, which are mainly in the evening and end after 11.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The 28X line proposed cuts are terrible. It will not go to Pitt? So many Pitt students use 28X to get to the airport. In fact, it's so crowded that you should add another bus during holiday rush times because literally so many of us use it. If you cut it, the travel time by bus will be like 2+ hours. If I have a flight at 5, youre asking me to get up at 1 AM. That sounds crazy, right? What would previously be a 3-4 hour flight anxiety would become 5-6 hours of simply worrying about getting to the airport, not even considering delays or some other messed up stuff at the airport. No way does this go thru and then i have to pay 8N/A+ dollars for an uber to the airport which could have been $N/A for the 28X.

The service reductions are going to hurt our community. Those without access to essentials like groceries, medical services, and social hubs will be forced to either pay for ride-sharing (which is much more expensive and has its own issues) OR they will be isolated and lacking the basics. The fares are already high enough. Raising them higher will discourage those of a lower income from using services...likely the riders who need public transit the most. We need to allocate funds in a way that benefits society in the long run. We are not focusing on an effective, long-term solution - just band-aids.

I was relieved to see the only bus that services my neighborhood (Polish Hill 54D) was not eliminated as the service changes proposed last year had slated it for total elimination. That said, major reductions in the 54D route would have twice the impact on bus times as the 54 is split between Polish Hill and Lawrenceville--if its only every other 54 that comes thru Polish Hill, eliminating service times by, say, 15 minutes for each bus would translate into an extra 1/2 hour if you wanted to leave or come back to Polish Hill. As I said, I'm glad it wasn't entirely eliminated, but if reductions must happen, consider making minor changes as opposed to major, in part to avoid this inequitable hit to Polish Hill.

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
If the 41 and 36 bus routes were eliminated I would have no option but to take the red line to work in town; this is less convenient, but if it came with regular, ideal frequency (every 12 minutes is reasonable) and accurate tracking, then the red line could be an option for me and maybe some others who take those buses. But paired with a red line reduction, this would be VERY disruptive. I appreciate and value public transit, which allows my family to be a one car family and to avoid contributing to road congestion and having the cost of more than one vehicle. The inevitable road congestion that these changes will create is bad for road infrastructure wear and tear, the quality of life of people who would be sitting in loads of traffic, and for the environment. We should be moving toward a future with more public transit, not less. I should add that this is my personal situation, which would be greatly disrupted. But for many, these cuts would have a much worse effect, including job loss, inability to navigate childcare, make it to appointments and more; for those that solely rely on public transit to get around, these changes could be devastating.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
You CANNOT take ALL bus service away from Brookline. It is a very large neighborhood and a lot of people, me included, will not be able to get to or from Brookline easily. There are people you will be stranding in their homes! You have to keep the 39 in at least some capacity. I think it's messed up how a lot of the cuts affect the south hills, too. If you're gonna make cuts at least make it equal between all areas. East end doesn't need 3 buses that go to the same place, all of them run like every 5 minutes too. Balance it out a little bit.

How are you gonna be one of the highest costing fares in the country and need to scale service back so much? No one wants to pay that much for no service! I'd love to know what executive salaries are, considering we aren't even that large of a city and other cities get by on much less. You guys should be externally audited.

The proposed cuts will not only directly impact riders directly, it will also harm local businesses and destinations in an already struggling economy.
Investment in PRT is as much of an economic investment as investment in automobile infrastructure, arguably each dollar invested in PRT returns a higher yield than automobile infrastructure.

I lead a community nonprofit organization that serve people with very limited income and this service cut will greatly affect their travel to and from work. Many of them work second shift meaning they need to get home around mid night. The proposed service cut is going to add hardships to those who are already facing significant hardships in life.
Thus, I am opposing the service cuts and or reductions.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
There are already not enough buses operating near CHP. Reducing service to any areas near hospitals or doctor's offices will make access to healthcare harder for people without other forms of transportation. I do not drive because of a health condition and although the routes I typically catch are only impacted by minor changes, this limits my mobility should I wish to travel around town and it limits where I can live or where I can work if I need to move. I had an opportunity to accept a major job opportunity at an office in Moon township and had to turn down the job because there are no direct lines that access the facility. This means that if there are more changes, I will have to limit my search range for job opportunities, which limits my economic mobility. I have many friends and family members that refuse to patron the city proper, particularly areas with limited parking because of lack of public transportation. If you make changes to routes going downtown you will hurt the economy. You will increase traffic in an area that has limited parking, increase air pollution due to more vehicles being on the road and you will see less people agreeing to work downtown, which is already declining. I think this is an opportunity to consider a rebrand for PTR similar to that of MTA and other public transit systems. Pittsburgh has stigmatized public transportation as a mode of transportation for the less fortunate, which isn't entirely true. All people should be encouraged to use public transit and it should be looked at as a way to support the community. Lean into young professionals, progressive people, etc., and make riding trendy again. Consider increasing routes during major events to encourage people to use the bus rather than driving a car. Talk about the cost savings and positive environmental impact ridership provides. Also, more people need to understand how those living with disabilities and the elderly are impacted. I never considered how decreased transport can impact quality of life for these people until I saw a presentation by a person using a wheelchair. Please, please don't make these major cuts.

As a founding member of the Rachel Carson EcoVillage that is being developed in McCandless Township we are focused on living in an environmentally sustainable and even regenerative way. We are introducing people from across the nation to the possibility of moving to the Pittsburgh area and are highlighting the benefits of decreasing their reliance on cars. Reducing and eliminating bus routes in this area will have a negative impact on our EcoVillage. We have members who don't drive and those who can't drive. Their ability to get around will be impeded by these proposed changes.

I moved to my neighborhood and bought my house specifically due to its location near South Hills Junction and the transit rich access. The devastating service cuts would make Pittsburgh such a less desirable city to live in. One of the benefits Pittsburgh has of a city its size is the access to adequate transit service and alternative transportation options. Taking that away would turn off so many people.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The impact to my daily commute would be severe. The increase time I would spend waiting for a bus would affect my work schedule. Limiting the number of buses that run on my route, the 91, would also cause for crowding of buses, and the buses I consistently take are already fairly full.

Cutting service in the north side is a huge mistake! Losing access to the Manchester bus lines would further isolate the neighborhood and cause difficulties to many of the families and persons living there.
It is already quite difficult to navigate leaving the area without a car and the financial impact on the population there is greatly underestimated.
Additionally, with talk of closing the Manchester schools, cutting bus lines would further impact education, travel times, family support, etc.
It is a huge Mistake to cut vital services down here and it feels like a half baked reasoning , especially when trying justify building a north side expansion.

Why would you continue to give more money when drivers have been for years, but now increasingly allowing more bums, violent drug addicts, etc ride for free? You think drivers are going to fight the sympathetic or impatient riders as they wait for the for the driver to attempt de-boarding free-loading jerks?
Yet you continue to deny that they are a big component to the problem. So you raise the fares & cut the service the following year, and less people will pay, including more riders & creeps realizing that all they have to do is refuse pay [or claim they can't] so that the deficits continue. The endless fare hikes & route cuts will never cease.

Although I do have a license, I love public transit. I use it basically every day to get to my office, I take it to go to the grocery store, I take it to go to the Dr, I take it to the children's center where I volunteer, I take it to church, etc.
Accessible, frequent, and affordable public transit is vital to a working class city like Pittsburgh (where I was born and raised). My mother took the incline and then the T to the law office she worked at when I was a kid. Public transit is and always has been a vital part of my life and it would be a shame if my tax dollars were to not go to services I care about.

We as in bus riders are already struggling to find places to live within the bus way. we need the opposite of reducing buses and to add more. too many buses are late for hours with no answer as to when one will come affecting our jobs. and tht would mean we woudnt even be able to pay the increased prices if we lose our jobs to being late al the time.

it cost Everyone who primarily uses bus transit $100 A MONTH for bus fare alone. that is already alot for most. yet you want to increase fare. i understander the transit is i guess broke but increasing fare is not going to help anyone.

The SLVR Line Light Rail is the primary source of transportation for those who live in Library, S. Park, and Bethel. For some populations it is the ONLY source of transportation to get to their jobs in Downtown Pgh and the surrounding areas. Entirely eliminating this service would create massive negative consequences for a large working population. Please do not eliminate entirely. Please consider reduced service times or just running to Washington Junction instead.

your library service for after rush hour shold be reduced to every hour instead of every half hour, would cut down on cost and still have service for those that need transportation. watch empty rail cars all evening long. raise the fares for the people that use service as they are saving money from parking in downtown. let them pay instead of getting money from taxes and the state for their service, george berger at keokist2gmail.com or 4123939478

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I am writing to express my deep concern regarding the proposed service reductions and fare increases outlined to address the projected $1N/AN/A million budget deficit. As a daily commuter on the Silver Line, these changes will significantly impact my ability to travel to work and navigate our city efficiently. The elimination of the Silver Line, which serves approximately 4N/AN/A riders regularly, will force me to rely on my personal vehicle. While I recognize that I am fortunate to have a car, the additional cost of parking downtown—approximately $1,5N/AN/A per year at a $15-per-day lot—will be a major financial burden. The increased demand for parking downtown, coupled with the substantial parking fees, will impose a financial strain on my budget and contribute to greater traffic congestion and environmental pollution.
More critically, these service cuts will disproportionately affect our community's most vulnerable populations. Individuals with disabilities who depend on the ACCESS paratransit service face a 62% reduction in service and a 2N/A% fare increase, severely limiting their mobility and independence. Residents living below the poverty line, who rely on affordable public transportation for employment, healthcare, and daily necessities, will find themselves further marginalized by these reductions. While I may be able to absorb the financial burden of losing my transit option, I also speak for those who will lose their jobs, healthcare access, and daily stability as a result of these cuts.

I urge you to reconsider these drastic measures and explore alternative solutions that do not compromise the accessibility and affordability of public transportation. Public transit is a lifeline for many in our community, and preserving its integrity is essential for the well-being and prosperity of all Pittsburgh residents. These cuts will create a vicious cycle- where budget cuts drop ridership, which necessitates more budget cuts, and so on and so forth until we end up with a city that has become nothing but a shell of itself, having abandoned its most vulnerable people.
Thank you for your attention to this critical matter.

It is so imperative that these lines remain, so that I, my loved ones, and the others that I care for in my community will still be able to get to the places they need to be (work, groceries, doctors, etc) without the use of a car. Service change impacts (bus and rail):
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to get to school, daycare, or childcare
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
With no access to a car, I bought a home in an area where I could get around either walking or bussing. This change will make everything from getting groceries to getting my children to all their activities so much harder and we will have to illiminate many opportunities that they now have such a sports and music. A 1N/A minute bus ride to the grocery store will now be a 45 minute walk with many hills and sometimes no sidewalks which makes getting groceries for a family nearly impossible. I understand the funding is not there at this point to keep everything running and that I am lucky to still be in walking range of the Red line. But seeing as it is also being reduced I am incredibly worried that it will be chopped next. If that happens my family would be completely cut off from leaving our community for services we need.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Pittsburgh's public transit system is already strained and struggles to meet the needs of the community as is. Further cuts and fare increases will only make this worse. The proposed cuts and fare increases will disproportionally affect marginalized groups living in areas with already strained publicly available and accessible infrastructure. This is one more domino in the already falling patten of the erosion of the middle class and push towards lowering standards of life for all but the rich and wealthy. We need to secure state funding and prevent these changes at the cost of further damaging those in need of these resources. Finally, in a time of immense need of reliance and improvement of publicly accessible transit, for the purposes of lower our shared consumption of fossil fuels, these changes would be moving us in the wrong direction for future generations who needs to breath our air and live on this rapidly warming planet.

I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
My bus route (the 14 Ohio Valley) is one of the ones being proposed to be eliminated. As a visually impaired individual, this bus route is the reason I can participate in society. I take it to work daily, to doctor's appointments, to shopping, to running races, to concerts and shows. Losing this route would mean potentially losing my job if I can't find a place within a 3N/A-35 minute walk to my job before the cuts were implemented.
Learning to drive isn't an option for me, so I am in an extremely vulnerable position should these cuts take place. I only live 3 miles each way from my job, and while that is a walkable and run-able distance, I can't do that twice a day, five days a week. I could ride a bike, but given my vision challenges, I don't feel comfortable or safe doing so. I would be forced to consider that as an option if I wanted to maintain employment. I shouldn't have to go through unnecessary risk in order to access my job.

Fare increase impacts (bus and rail):
I won't like it, but I'd pay the higher fare if it meant my bus wouldn't get eliminated. But if my bus does get eliminated, I won't have a bus on which to pay the fare.
Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
The fare increases would be annoying, but as someone on one the routes that would get eliminated (14 OV), I would pay the fare increase if it meant having bus service.

These proposed service changes will have a negative impact on the health, well being, vitality and safety of Allegheny County residents. Individuals, especially those in vulnerable populations (children, elderly, those with mental/physical disabilities) will lose critical access to healthcare, education and job opportunities because they will not be able to access these necessities. Individuals, especially those in vulnerable populations (children, elderly, those with mental/physical disabilities) will lose critical access to healthcare, education and job opportunities. This proposed fare increase on ACCESS users is criminal essentially, as many who use this service do not have the additional income to support fare increases and by forcing individuals to pay more, PRT will bankrupt community members.

Getting rid of the O1 bus that services the Perryville park n rides makes no sense whatsoever!
You are basically eliminiating most of the bus services that supports the North Hills. I am not riding the 12 that stops every 5 seconds along McKnight Road. I don't know where I could legally and safely park my car to catch the 12, except at the old Showcase cinamas, and that adds at least minutes driving each way to my commute, not to mention a longer bus ride.

Bus and light rail service and fares

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Cuts to service impact us all - even those who don't ride the bus. Imagine the increase in traffic with less buses. It's no question that these cuts will impact people and communities facing barriers, making it even harder for people to access food, health care, employment, school and more.
Please indicate if you oppose or support the proposed fare increases:

Fare increase impacts (bus and rail):
The fare increases may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
Fair increases will disproportionately impact people with low wage work, seniors and people with disabilities.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Our commuter route (19L) has already been moved recently due to the university line project, and our bus has been much more crowded as a result. The proposal would completely eliminate the 19L and force everyone onto the already overcrowded 13 and 16 buses - which the proposal indicates MAJOR reductions will be made for both. Those buses will run less frequently, even though they are already nearly if not completely full during rush hour, and the routes take significantly longer meaning people will be forced to change their work hours or find another way into the city. I'm not opposed to a small fare increase, but to drastically change/ completely eliminate all of the routes serving an area 1N/A minutes from downtown and literally adjacent to city limits is just wrong. Add onto that that all of the North Hills flyers are also slated for complete elimination, meaning there will be no options to utilize any of the park and rides. It makes me angry to see many areas on this list being completely cut off from public transit, when there are more than 8 routes (and the new university line) running through Oakland - which will only see "minor reductions" per the proposal.

OPPOSE: 28X AIRPORT FLYER (Major Reduction), 58 GREENFIELD (Elim.),

The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I am surprised that PRT is proposing to eliminate the 58 route, given the amount of pushback already generated by the Bus Line Redesign proposal to cut service through Greenfield.
I would also suggest not changing the 28X if possible. Reducing 28X service will reduce travelers' choices for flights they can take. If there are any airport staff who use the bus to commute, they could also be adversely affected.
Finally, although I do not like the idea of reduced service hours for the 61s, 64, and 71s---as someone who uses these lines, I do think this reduced hours for them is a better choice than cutting other routes in order to keep 61s, etc., running longer hours.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I greatly oppose the decision to reduce bus lines. This negatively affects many low income residents as well as those that simply do not have a car. Keeping Pittsburgh's regional transit is a matter of access for those with disabilities, elderly folks that may not be able to drive, low income residents, and families that may only have one car. These budget cuts will cause residents to leave the city, causing a bigger financial loss than the money you will save by decreasing access to the bus system.

We have no other options of transportation up here besides the bcta but they don't stop here because we are Allegheny county and also would have to cross a highway that has accidents on it DAILY.

With the proposed changes I would no longer have a direct route to and from home and school (I am a graduate student). This is especially concerning with the loss of service after 11pm since many of my classes end at 9:3N/A or 1N/Apm and transferring between multiple buses would take longer. Service change impacts (bus and rail):

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I am not a resident of Pittsburgh, rather from Baltimore, Maryland, but I do see consistent problem with many transit agencies doing "blind" service cuts when some of the problems is the over-reliance of having lines duplicating in certain high-capacity areas while a drastic decline of ridership in others are because of frequency & reliability issues.
One way to address these issues - even though the agency is facing a need to reduce service - is to minimize the over-use of equipment and resources in order to maximize coverage.
I am a transit enthusiast with the keen interest of the day-to-day operations of different agencies. I am not sure if this would help, but it would give the agency an opportunity to make the necessary service cuts whilst providing the coverage to the communities being impacted a chance to lose service entirely. Below, I created a map with what could be done and the very least can be an alternative to address these issues instead of just cutting service on a whim. I take a bus from the Park n Ride on Perrysville Avenue (O1) and I understand it will be completely eliminated if the proposed cuts go thru. I would not have a bus available to get to work downtown, I would have to drive in and pay to park FIVE DAYS A WEEK and that is too expensive for me. Another concern is where do you expect everyone to park in town if we all are forced to drive downtown and park? Also, traffic will be a NIGHTMARE if everyone who currently takes a bus is forced to drive in, not to mention the increase in air pollution. Not everyone who lives in the suburbs of Pittsburgh have cars to drive in or money to pay to park daily. WE NEED OUR BUSES!! If anything, keep park-n-ride buses they are the lifeline to getting a large number of people to work.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
So many folks in and around Pittsburgh rely on PRT to get to where they need to every day. I've met folks on the bus going to hospitals, school, jobs who wouldn't be able to make it there without PRT. I take four busses nearly every day, two to work and two to get home. In the mornings, I take a very packed G3 into downtown and then one of the busses to get to Oakland where I will still need to walk at least a block or so to get to my office because of all of the construction. In the evenings, I take the bus into downtown and take the G3 back to the University Boulevard Park n Ride to get home.
My busses are always full going in and out of the city. When I first heard about these cuts, I couldn't help but wonder if some of the folks proposing them had never taken the busses before. Now I am lucky, I could drive in and out of the city every day, spend a stupid amount of money on parking, and contribute to the city's ever growing traffic problem. I take public transit because I do get to save that money, I don't contribute to the traffic, and I get to just enjoy my commutes with my coffee and audiobooks. I am lucky, but not everyone is. Most mornings, I take the bus with a mother and her young child into the city so the mom can get to work and the daughter can go to school. They can't afford a car, they can't afford the parking fees in the city. Their only chance to get to and from work and school is the bus that the mother has to pay for the both of them. What about the other folks around in similar situations to them? How are grandparents who live alone and can't drive supposed to get to doctor appointments? How are people who finally caught a break and found a job that will one day pay them well supposed to get to that job if they can't afford a car yet? How are the college kids supposed to get to classes or the grocery store? How are the drunk Steelers fans supposed to get home from the stadium safely after celebrating?
I get that there are going to have to be cuts somewhere. It is unavoidable in our current climate, and that is honestly awful. But don't take away from those who are already hanging on by threads. Don't take away from those that cannot afford their lives through any other means. Put some teams together and actually take some of these bus routes, and then try to take new routes based on your proposed plans. Talk to folks on the morning commutes, curse the traffic on the return home, celebrate with the fans after a win, count down the moments you have to get to an appointment. Try to essentially live the life of someone who relies on these services. I'm sure there can be some cuts from other places, or some minor cuts might still be made to PRT, but these proposals are taking it way too far. Especially with Pittsburgh hosting the draft here soon, without our public transit, we're going to have much worse problems.
I hope you actually take the time to read this. I still have hope that Pittsburgh is a great city, but it can't be great without support.

Reducing routes would greatly impact groups that rely on these services for access to jobs, healthcare, education, and essential services. In addition to the damage it would do to our most vulnerable citizens it would greatly increase traffic in a city that can barely handle the current traffic load.

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
These service changes would impact all in our community whether they personally use public transportation or not. The effect on those who rely on public transportation as their only means of transportation would be catastrophic.

Enough of the cuts to low income neighborhoods. I didn't have any difficulty with the survey, but I have family that relies on PRT for transportation, and they already have an hour wait between busses, and walk to get to the nearest stop just to be able to catch the bus.
Instead of having accordian busses, maybe cut the times that you use those and use smaller, less expensive ones. You are going to hurt the many lower income families that are already suffering.

The plan is to eliminate most or all of the buses from the North Hills. I currently rely on the N/A1 Ross Flyer to get to and from work. The plan is to eliminate this route completely leaving me no other option to get to work other than driving. I can see maybe cutting back a little but to totally eliminate? Not acceptable. PLEASE DO NOT ELIMINATE THE N/A1 ROSS FLYER, a lot of people depend on this bus to get to and from work and to and from other things. This would leave all of us in the North Hills without public transportation so again PLEASE DO NOT ELIMINATE THE N/A1 ROSS FLYER. Thank you.

I understand the need to make changes if the funding does not come through, however, to cut both the P1N/A and change the route of the 1 would have a huge impact on Natrona Heights, Tarentum and Brackenridge residents. The Tarentum Park & Ride would be the only option for residents of the most northeastern cities of Allegheny County. Moving the location to New Kensington makes no sense and it is not a safe area to leave your unattended car for 8 hours a day.

It makes no sense and is completely unfair to leave the northeast area of the county without any services. The county has no problem taking our taxes, but we receive very little in the way of services. Removing our access to downtown Pittsburgh in unacceptable.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I currently commute from Erie to the Ross Park and Ride Lot and then take the Ross Flyer into the city, which saves me an enormous amount on parking downtown. I am planning to move to Pittsburgh in the next month and had hoped to find somewhere near the Ross Lot as well. I would be very disappointed to lose this option and would need to find an alternate way of traveling, which may increase my travel time or force me to leave earlier or get home later (and I'm currently already on the road or at work 12 hours a day). I hope that PRT will consider other options before cutting services. I may not lose my job, but I am sure there are other people that cannot afford to find a new place to live or a new job if their transit option disappears.

I am not as disappointed in the rate increase, but I am sure there are people for whom even a small increase will cut into their already small paychecks. Our country is currently struggling through a financial crisis and the cost of everything has skyrocketed. It's disappointing that the cost of mass transit tickets will be going up too.

My sister and her husband live in Pittsburgh and do not drive. My sister has a chronic illness and relies on public transportation to go to her doctor's appointments and have a decent quality of life. But making these reductions in service, her life is greatly impacted along with many communities in the Pittsburgh area. I work for a nonprofit organization in Pittsburgh. While I have a reliable mode of transportation, many whom I work with do not. They rely on the bus to get to work on a daily basis. We also work with many agencies who service the lower income population. They also rely on public transit to use services across Pittsburgh. By cutting routes and raising fares, this will affect the lower class even more.

I do not agree with removing the flyer bus routes from the north hills. Working people will no longer have access to get into town in a reasonable time anymore. Removing these routes is unacceptable. I have no problem paying a bit more to take the bis but to discontinue all of the north hills flyer buses is horrible . I will either have to find a new job or paring town for hundreds of dollars more a month.

The former PAT and now PRT having been draining and wasting tax dollars for decades. Terrible management has resulted in millions of overspending. The state begs the Feds, then the PRT begs the state and with few questions the tax dollars show up with little accounting. Many times I see busses running with no passengers. After Pirate and Steeler games I see the T line not collecting fares outside the free zone. Why? The state says if you use it you should pay such as gas tax and tolls on roads. So why is the fare so low that does not support the operation. If people do not use it they should not be required to pay for it. Let the cuts take place. The PRT is nothing more than advanced welfare.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
Many of my friends, neighbors, and coworkers depend on the bus system to get around: to the store, work, visiting each other, medical appointments, etc., because they don't have a car. The neighborhoods they live in are walkable and they can meet most of their needs that way, but eliminating routes entirely or cutting bus frequency by 1/3 or more would greatly impact them. Many of them would need to buy cars, and if the rest of the community needs to do the same, it will greatly increase traffic and reduce parking availability even more than it already is.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
This is not the direction growing communities should be in. We should be looking to expand transit access, not limit it. The economic disruptions from this will lessen the tax base in Allegheny county due to decreasing access to jobs and sources of wealth generation, and then effect of less money for the state due to a lessened tax base will effect all the rural counties (that the state senators who oppose this represent) that require subsidies from the highly taxed regions that are urban in the state. It creates a vicious cycle that will only lead to more economic hardships for the region that will not inspire growth to allow Pittsburgh to be a better city in the future.

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
This is going to make me think twice before spending now $3 to simply hop on a bus. Outrageous fees considering how cheap fares are throughout the rest of the country.

HOWEVER, more important than raising fares and something that would be more impactful is stopping the fare evasion problem that PRT faces and fails to recognize. On the light rail system, fare evasion probably occurs on 1/4 rides. This is outright insane. Why do people who follow the rules have to pay, and people who decide they don't want to don't? You would close a few million dollars of your 100+ million gap by simply having operators enforce fare payments better. The bus is not much better with about 1/10 riders getting on and either saying they can't pay, don't have cash, or some other lame excuse. This is money coming out of PRTs pockets. And to any executive that doesn't think that this is an issue, I ask the question, when was the last time that you rode transit? See it for yourself, show up to a bus stop in plainclothes and count the amount of times you witness on a trip that folks simply avoid the fare either due to PRT employees not enforcing it or just simple fare evasion. PRT, you need to do better with this, it would be more effective to limit fare evasion than raise fares.

These changes will have a tremendous impact on students wh o rely on PRT as transportation to school.
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
The reduction and eliminations seem to capricious and arbitrary. The G2 is already overcrowded often leaving people at stops in the evening. Reducing options to get into neighborhoods will cause further overcrowding, and cause dangerous situations, least of which will be conflict with riders and drivers. If these proposed cuts go into effect, it will further the negative impacts already affecting Pittsburgh and the region.

My family has been able to operate with one vehicle thanks to ease of using the P1N/A and P17 to quickly get to work. I can take the 28x round trip from my home to the airport, saving time and an extra trip for my wife to take me. These cuts will put PRT further into an extinction spiral where lack of funding necessitates cuts in service leading to less ridership and funding necessitating further cuts.

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
In the past, I have had to rely on both the T and buses to get into the city for work. At my current company I end up driving into the office, but it's very likely that I will work downtown again some day. Cutbacks are going to hurt many people who rely on public transportation on a daily basis, and any degradation of service is going to lead to less people using the service, which likely leads to more cuts, etc. I am afraid this reduction in service is creating a death spiral that will continue to erode the usefulness of our public transportation to the point it is hardly viable at all.
Even nowadays I rely on the T any time I go into the city for events and entertainment like concerts. The loss of T lines and the early ending of service means I will not be able to take the T home, and that is actually a dealbreaker for me. I will not go into the city to spend money on entertainment if there is no reliable way to get home via public transportation.

I feel as though here in the Mon Valley we have seen so many cuts already and what others fell to recognize is the area is home to alot of people, seniors, children and others that have no other means of transportation. This is NOT a wealthy area nor do we have any other options when it comes to transportation. I feel the focus shouldn't be taken out on the people who truly depend and need the transportation to make it.

I take the red line from Potomac Station to 1st Ave. and back every day for work. I also take the T to South Hills village. Sometimes, I take bus 36 if the T is down. Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
These proposed changes are absolutely ridiculous and show how out of touch the state government is with the Pittsburgh community and working class people. I used to live in Carrick and the 51L was essential to quicker, more frequent transportation. Even with both the 51 and 51L, wait times can be long and buses are crowded and uncomfortable. Eliminating the 51L, and MANY other routes, will severely hurt lower income communities. EVERYONE, but especially low income communities, needs better access to transportation to get better paying jobs, contribute to the city's economy, and have better quality of life. These cuts are absolutely horrendous for many many Pittsburghers and will absolutely lead to people moving (if they CAN) out of the city, leaving us worse off. These jobs and routes are essential. People in Carrick or Greentree need to be able to work at the Casino on the North Shore and have a route home after 11pm! The North Shore and Downtown do not have enough parking space for events to accommodate completely losing the Silver Line or not having people be able to commute home after 11pm. Concerts, events, nightlife, jobs, personal development, healthcare - these areas will all be effected by these changes. It's an embarrassment for our fares to be some of the highest in the country and have such an abysmal route system.

A reduction in public transit service is never the solution to uplift any community. While I understand budget restraints and city ordinance are complicated, anything that would reduce service or bar access to transit is a net negative for the Pittsburgh community as a whole.

While the change in fare does not drastically affect my life, I know it will affect the lives of my community members. Many of whom are taking public transit to save money to begin with. Other comments (ACCESS fare increases):
People who typically rely on these kinds of services are often living in poverty due to poor government subsidies or an inability to sustain work because many employers are not accommodating to disability. Statistically, people with disabilities are more likely to live under the poverty line, and reducing their access to the world via affordable, reliable public transit, cuts them off from living lives.

Please save Public Transit it is the lifeline to working people in the City of Pittsburgh. People are FINALLY returning to the City to work after Covid and if PRT eliminates all these services it will cripple downtown again. We need public transportation to keep our city operating, to help with overcrowding our roadways with cars with only one driver, and to help keep air pollution down. If buses are eliminated, where do you expect everyone to park??? Please do not eliminate service to our suburbs - keep our Park-n-Rides, keep our buses! If you eliminate all the routes you propose why even have a bus company - you are not servicing the mass, even with a rate increase you will still be in a hole - no riders, no money.

I rely on PRT to get to and from my multiple jobs, and I may have to reduce my working hours to make it to my next job on time if the buses are coming less often. This would greatly impact me and my finances, as I don't have access to a car during most working hours.

I live in Troy Hill, which is currently served by the #4 bus, which is under consideration to completely cut under the new proposal. Troy Hill is a food desert and almost completely lacks many other essential services (e.g. pharmacy, health care, retail stores, green spaces) within walking distance, so the #4 bus is an essential lifeline for many residents, especially older residents who don't have cars or cannot drive. Personally, I take the #4 bus to work downtown several times a week. If the bus route was eliminated, it would make it very difficult to get to work as my husband and I share a car, and he does not have another transportation option.

OPPOSE the proposed fare increases
Fare increase impacts (bus and rail):
I would take less public transit trips

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
Pittsburgh has one of the highest bus fares in the country (https://pheabs.com/guides/the-price-of-a-bus-fare-in-every-major-city-in-the-united-states/), as high as New York and more expensive than many other major cities. Yet, our bus system is far less robust than most of these cities. It's already too expensive for what it is. If the bus fare increased, I would explore other options for transport and likely take far fewer trips. I fear that other people would do the same. Ultimately, I think this would become a slippery slope where higher fares would lead to fewer people taking the bus, and overall less revenue, leading to additional fare hikes. Please do not increase the fare.

I feel as though instead of reductions maybe the name change of the busing system wasn't necessary, the rewrapping of the buses wasn't necessary, the busway downtown wasn't necessary, maybe the new ceo doesn't need a raise. There were definitely funds that were spent frivolously. Also, certain bus routes that are at risk of being eliminated are in areas where people are in more need of service like the y49 and the y46. Certain neighborhoods will be affected because their are people who work past 11pm. I frequent the 51 and it is always busy why are we making cuts to that route?

Many of my family members rely on Public transit. Our city already has less successful transit that other places and cutting the services would be detrimental. It will further marginalize communities who already are restricted in their access to resources. Even cutting back frequency is an issue. I see busses in Oakland having to pass by people all the time because they are too full for more passengers. This cannot be the best solution.

The main bus that I need to get to work would still run (but less frequently) but any bus I might use to go somewhere other than work would be cut, forcing me to not even have the option of public transit for anything else. And I am one of the lucky ones! So many people who work at UPMC in Oakland will have no way to get to work, and I am sure this is true for other hospitals and essential service-providers throughout the region. I have no idea how people are supposed to get to Oakland without adequate bussing, because even if everyone could suddenly afford a car, the traffic would be horrific, and there are not even enough parking places for everyone. This would destroy the city we love! Pittsburgh already has a very limited public transit system, and to cut it as much as is proposed would all but dismantle it. These cuts will have a disproportionate effect on people who are already struggling to make ends meet.

Removing entire transit routes from the South Hills is insane. You are sentencing people to change their jobs or rely on cars or Uber for transit, which is an astronomically higher cost or outright prohibitive. Not everyone can drive or afford a car, and not everyone has access to get to a T/light rail station. This proposal is an absolute death knell for people of certain demographics to get to work.

PRT is the only transportation funded by Allegheny County. Westmoreland, Beaver and New Castle have services maybe you should look at their game plan to see how to run a company!!! Also, I think you need to look at management and make the cuts there instead of in the service and to the Drivers that you will also be effecting.
You spent how much money in the rebranding of the name (big deal) it is still the same shady company as it was when it was know as Port Authority of Allegheny County.. Did you have to spend all that money on a name change?
In the North Hills you are cutting most service. What do you think because we live in this area that we can afford to drive into Pittsburgh and Pay outrageous parking fees. Business are finally getting people back in the office and now you are going to cut service. This will help to justify the WFH issue that the City is trying to stop. If you can't provide transportation into the City how are people suppose to get to work or if you cut service how are employees suppose to get to work on time. Some folks do not have flex time, they have to punch a time clock and the company is not flexible to them being late or having a different start time.
And then you want a fare increase along with cutting service.... You have to be kidding paying more for less service.
You also spend how much money for the Perrysville Park n Ride if you eliminate that route who is going to park there... folks are not going to take the 8 bus, that takes forever to get into town and no way is everyone going to fit on the bus, especially since you only provide the small bus instead of the "bendy" busses.
I ride the N/A1 Ross flyer, you need to keep that bus and the N/A12 Mcknight Flyer. You can not merge them together that is an entirety to big of zone to combine into one route.
I hope this is just a scare tactic you are using to get Funding but remember you are playing with people's lives, you have them stressed out already trying to figure out how to get back and forth to work when most already have enough to worry about.
A fare change, I don't think folks would be upset with a slight increase in fare if you keep the service and don't eliminate routes. But if you eliminate routes and cut service No you should not raise the fare because look at all the supposed money you are saving there.

I hope that you can mend your ways, PRT is a valuable service that people depend on to get to work and School. You have to start from within first - cut the fat internally - I'm sure there is a lot of "dead wood" just sitting around in Upper Management . The Drivers, back office and mechanics those are your front line people and deserve a company that they can be proud to work for. And No 1 are your riders that stuck through bus strike in the 1990's was it - through Covid they had your back then ..... you should have ours NOW!!!

OPPOSE all proposed service reductions
Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to get to my current job, training location, or will have to find a new job
I would no longer be able to access medical care locations
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
These proposed cuts are APPALLING. So many people would be concretely harmed by these cuts. Our city, state, and country should be heavily investing in improving public transit, not slashing it to make us more and more dependent on cars, which many people cannot afford and which are dangerous, polluting, and negatively affect the overall city atmosphere. PRT's services are absolutely vital (and are already inadequate!) and should be expanded, not reduced.

Please do not get rid of bus #4. The Troy hill bus
If you need to cut rides and make it run in the morning and after work and that's it. Fine
But taking it away completely will have people stranded.
I wouldn't be opposed to combining the #4 and the #7 bus. The Troy hill and spring garden bus. But getting ride of both buses will be horrible

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
My son is a Pittsburgh Public school student, and this would greatly affect his commute to and from school in which he would no longer be able to stay with family during my work hours because the bus in those areas would be taken away. This is a huge barrier for these students who use public transportation on a daily basis and it is unacceptable when our school district doesn't provide their own transportation.

The fare increases may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
Increasing fares and elimination of bus/light rail routes would be detrimental to Golden Triangle businesses (restaurants theaters sports venues) that rely on employees that use the PRT as a primary means of transportation; the core white-collar PRT may be less impacted as they could utilize parking options or ride sharing as an alternative. Pgh. Metro non-corporate businesses have struggled back post Covid regarding attaching people to view the city as viable place to reside, dine, attend a sports event, theater etc. so the proposed cut backs could severely alter that landscape.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
These changes will greatly impact the ability of the community to get to - and from - work places; integral ones, such as the Postal Plant on the Northside, rely heavily on PRT to accommodate their staffing. The most recent round of changes to routes 13, 15, 16, and 17 have all negatively affected the USPS ability to do their job effectively and the proposed changes would be even worse. In an economy and age when it's very clear that our values are not vested in public interest, please do not give in and stand on that side. There are solutions to the funding problem, but further cuts, which lessens ridership which then naturally spirals into further cuts and additional lessened ridership is NOT the answer.

Fare increase impacts (bus and rail):
I would not be able to afford the increased fares

Other comments (bus and rail fare increases):
It would behoove the PRT to instead of increasing costs in a blanket manner, to instead consider working out more partnerships with local businesses and colleges to garner funding. CMU, PITT, the USPS, Target Corp - all are places that could be tapped and negotiated with (or negotiated with further) for the betterment of the greater Pittsburgh community.

Reducing the ADA accessible area(s) will literally kill people, this is not acceptable. If funding is that dire, sell some of the military surplus our ridiculously bloated police force has and use the funds for something actually useful to humanity, like this.

Other comments (ACCESS fare increases):
Raising costs on an already beleaguered group on a fixed income - an income that is being reduced by the current government administration - seems criminal. Elderly folx and those that rely on ACCESS for transport are already having a difficult time determining which necessities they will be able to afford - or go without - on a monthly basis; raising costs will be a crushing blow that is quite likely to cause a large number of preventable deaths. Slow, horrible deaths that should not be conscionable by anyone with morals or empathy.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
I strongly oppose the proposed service reductions in Pittsburgh. At this point in time we should be investing in public transportation to increase efficiency and encourage greater rider usage, rather than cutting routes and increasing fares. A large number of the Pittsburgh community relies on bus and rail service to get to work, grocery stores, school, doctor's offices, and other essential locations. Cutting funding for these systems will increase the socioeconomic gap Pittsburgh already experiences firsthand and make it more difficult for community members who may not have a car. I experienced this firsthand living downtown without a car. I personally have heavily relied on the bus to reach a grocery store when I was a student, as there is no grocery store downtown, and I did not have the funds available for a car or to pay for an uber. Leaving people without their main source of transportation that is already unreliable and inconsistent is unacceptable. In addition, buses are already reaching rider capacity due to the inconsistency with routes. Buses not coming and buses coming late have led to serious congestion within the vehicle itself. Removing routes will only make buses more congested and less of an enjoyable experience for riders. Cutting service for bus and rail lines is going to make our roads more dangerous as well. The difference between 25 people in a bus and 25 people driving independent cars to work is massive and has a noticeable impact on traffic patterns and commute time for the people of Pittsburgh. The more cars on the road, the more traffic there will be, and the greater the likelihood for accidents to take place on already congested roads. Additionally, the PRT bus system advertises itself as a safe method of transportation for community members who enjoy consuming alcohol at any of our local breweries or bar establishments. Without access to a safe ride home via bus or light rail, people may choose to drive themselves home after consuming alcohol. This puts all other community members at risk of accidents due to drunk drivers who had previously relied on the bus routes but now have no other option than to drive themselves home. This proposed service change is preposterous and abhorrent. It will further drive a stake between the socioeconomic groups of Pittsburgh and make our roads even less safe than they are now. I STRONGLY oppose this change and urge the state to protect public transportation funding.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
As I live in Brookline in a location currently well-served by both the 39 and the 41 bus routes, the loss of not one but both of those routes would be a devastating development for my husband and me. One of the most important reasons for our post-retirement move to Pittsburgh from New Hampshire was the ability to take transit and safely maintain our mobility in our retirement. All of that has now been thrown into question.
On the other side of the coin: the new Southern Beltway in suburban/exurban Pittsburgh had a $1 billion construction price tag, even though it now serves fewer than 1N/A,N/AN/AN/A drivers per day (PGH City Paper, 3/25/25). PRT, which serves over 1N/A times that number daily, is begging the state for $117 million. It's difficult to wrap my head around the stark disparity of those numbers. Transit -- and urban dwellers -- seem to be afterthoughts at best.
Neither highways nor transit ever make a profit; transportation costs money, period. But the language used around state-level "subsidy" for transit, compared to routine highway funding via the gas tax, is very unfortunate. State-level spending on highways and roads is often called "maintenance," "expansion," "investment," or just "funding." Meanwhile, transit funding is frequently called a "subsidy." Language is powerful, so we should be more aware of how it's used with regard to transit.

Cutting back on transit services will greatly impact myself and community members. I take two buses to work and my first one is proposed to be cut completely. I live outside the city and need a reliable bus to take me downtown to catch the next bus. IF cut, my travel time will increase GREATLY. I cannot afford a car, so the bus is my only option. This is the reality for a lot of people in the Pittsburgh community. People need to get to work and school. ALSO, cutting back on services will cause the buses to be extremely crowded and slow down trips. The transit system should be improving, not decreasing. Increased bus usage decreases traffic by reducing the amount of cars on the road. This is what our city needs!!

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
The changes may not impact me but will impact my community and/or loved ones
Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
This is overall not the greatest resolution despite hands being tied due to funding. The residents of Pittsburgh and surrounding areas depend on public transportation for a variety of reasons. Reducing and cutting routes could significantly impact these areas and those that live there. My boyfriend takes the incline and a bus or two busses from mt Washington to get to school at Pitt every day. Cutting the 4N/A/43 routes would prevent him from getting to school everyday.

Other comments (bus and rail service reductions):
It's incredibly disheartening to think about the thousands of people who would be unable to get to work, school, medical care, etc. based on these proposed changes. I would be unable to get to work without the O1. I'm unable to afford a car currently and rely on my partner to drop me off at the park n ride so I can get to work in East Liberty (I also take the P1.) I know hundreds of people who take the O1 that would need to find different transportation and be subject to spending thousands of dollars a year on parking downtown and throughout the city. It's a shame to see folks in the suburbs unable to access the city center. I can only imagine how this affects those on a fixed income who heavily rely on public transportation. It's sad, in a city where public transit is already not up to par as it should be.

Cutting bus lines is the last thing Pittsburgh needs, as the public transit in the city is already lacking. This would be devastating to so many people in the Pittsburgh community. I don't live in Pittsburgh anymore, but two of my sisters do, and they both rely on the buses to get to work. These cuts would affect so many people's ability to live and work. Please reconsider.

Please do not eliminate bus 41. I purchased my current home specifically because there is a bus stop 5 mins away so I can go to work. Without bus 41, I wouldn't be able to go to work and I see many seniors take this bus to do their grocery shopping and go to work as well. There are kind disabled men taking this bus as well, without it, it would be hard for them to commute. There is also St. Clair Hospital on this bus line, without this bus, patients without a car will be affected greatly.
Pleas don't eliminate this bus line.

There is only one bus that runs to my neighborhood which is proposed to be cut entirely. I would be completely cut off from getting to and from my job and doctor in downtown without an alternate mode of transportation, which is not an option for me at the moment. This would also completely cut us off from surrounding neighborhoods. Troy Hill is literallly a giant hill and steps are not a viable option for most residents to get to the next closest bus. Totally eliminating service to an entire community is irresponsible and cruel. It leaves many people with no options. If the don't or can't drive or have a family member they can impose on, they have to depend on a service such as Uber which costs much more than a bus and can cause a financial harship. Reducing service makes things difficult, but it can be dealt with.

Service change impacts (bus and rail):
My travel time would greatly increase
I would lose flexibility with my travel times and/or would need to change my schedule to accommodate these changes
I would no longer be able to get to key destinations such as shopping, entertainment, social activities, and religious activities
I would have to switch to another mode of travel
